HUNTER VS. CROWE.—This is a seduction case. The plaintiff, John Hunter, is a farmer residing in the township of Dummer, and the defendant is Taylor Crowe, a farmer residing in the same township.

The plaintiff's statement is that in or about the month of December, 1890, the defendant debauched and carnally knew Catherine Hunter, then being the daughter and servant of the plaintiff, whereby the said Catharine Hunter became pregnant with child.

In consequence thereof the plaintiff was deprived of the services of the said Catharine Hunter for a long time and incurred expense in nursing and taking care of her.

The plaintiff claims:—(1) $2,000 damages; (2) The costs of this suit.

The statement of defence is:—The defendant denies the allegations contained in the 2nd and the 3rd paragraphs of the plaintiff's statement of claims.

The defendant says he is not guilty.

The defendant says that Catherine Hunter, in paragraph 2 of plaintiff's statement of claim mentioned, is not the daughter and is not and never was the servant of the said plaintiff.

Mr. E. B. Stone is plaintiff's solicitor; Messrs. Stratton & Hall are retained for the defence.

CROSBY VS. ENGLISH.—Action entered by J. W. Crosby, Peterborough, against Catherine and Samuel English, Omemee, for the return of one Mendelssohn piano or its value, and for damages for detaining the same. Hatton & Wood for plaintiff; Mr. Burnham, Q. C., for defendants.

At the George street church Sunday night Rev. J. H. Locke made references to the recent deaths of three prominent members of the congregation—Mrs. Chas. Wynne, Mrs. Robinson Rutherford and Rev. Geo. H. Davis.

Rev. Robt. Johnston, B. A., pastor of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, was on Wednesday last, married in St James' Methodist church, Montreal, to Miss Mary Dawson, formerly a teacher in the Girls' High School of that city.

Removing to Detroit.

Dr. E. C. Crevier, V.S., has decided to remove to Detroit, Mich., for the purpose of practising his profession in Detroit and Windsor. He has turned over his practice here to Mr. L. Desserres, a capable and pushing young "vet" who has been with Dr. Crevier for some time and has now the business at his finger's ends. During the nine years he has lived in Peterborough, Dr. Crevier has gained more than local renown as a veterinary surgeon, his success in treating afflicted horseflesh having been most marked. Large-hearted, genial and obliging, Dr. Crevier was personally well liked, and his professional abilities will doubtless find the extended field of operation and wider range of usefulness in their new sphere of action, which they are deserving of. Many in Peterborough will regret to see Dr. Crevier leave town, but they will hope he may have even greater success in Detroit and Windsor than has attended his labours here. He will remove to his new home about the end of this month.

The Great Quintette Club Concert.

There can be no better music be heard in America than that given by the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, which will appear in the Opera House on Oct. 16th. Read what the American press says:—

From the rendition of the first number to the grand finale, the audience was held captive by the music produced, and the completion of each number was the signal for loud applause—Missoula (Mont.) Missoulian.

It was not only the best concert we have had this season, but one that will be difficult to excel. The playing of the Quintette is characteritized by smoothness and finish,—in a word, perfection—Rochester (N.Y.) Post.

My wife and self had dandruff and lots of it, accompanied by almost continual itching of the scalp. Anti-Dandruff entirely relieved us from both annoyances and we think it the best preparation known to clean out Dandruff, tone the hair and act as a dressing without giving an unnatural appearance.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,373.94
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,590.15
Increase over 1889	2,368,585.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078.87
Increase over 1889	325,938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.63

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

Net Surplus, 31st Dec., 1881, (five years)	$64,894 07

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

ANOTHER GREAT LONDON STRIKE THREATENED.

A Lion Tamer in Wombell's Menagerie Badly Mangled—A King at the Point of Death—Many Lives Lost by the Wreck of a British Steamer.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—The Government has offered 10,000 florins as a reward for the discovery of the person or persons who attempted to destroy the train carrying the Emperor by placing dynamite at the Rosenthal bridge. There is no trace of the authors of the outrage.

TOLD IN THE CONFESSIONAL.

Facts Which a French Priest is Fined for Refusing to Disclose.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The Judge Instruction issued an attachment against a woman as witness in a case against a private individual. The woman claimed to be the wife of a man named Paul Calvados. The Curate of Pontfarcy was questioned by the justice on the confidences that the woman had made to him; but the priest, entrenching himself behind the secrets of the confessional, refused to answer.

The judge intervened, but could not overcome the priest, whose resistance was founded on the assertion that he would lose—and with good reason—the confidence of his parishioners from the moment when they supposed he would violate the secrets which had been given him by virtue of his office.

The judge condemned the curate to a fine of 100 francs, which is the maximum penalty allowed by the law against a defaulting witness.

A LION TAMER'S FATE.

Frightful Scene in Wombwell's Menagerie at Sutton, Eng.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—At Sutton, a lion tamer named Orenza, in Wombwell's Menagerie, was nearly killed in the presence of the audience. He was putting the largest lion of the collection through its performance, when the brute attacked him and fastened its teeth in the tamer's side. A fearful struggle ensued.

Some of the assistants rushed to Orenza's aid with pitchforks and red hot irons, but it was some time before the lion was made to relax his hold and his unfortunate victim was able to drag himself out of the den with his right thigh laid open by the brute.

This is the fifth time Orenza has been attacked and injured by this lion.

KILLED BY THE FAT BOY.

He Moved From One Side of the Vehicle to the Other, Falling on a Girl.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The caravan of Travelling Showman Newell was proceeding along the Oxford road at Uxbridge this morning when its chief ornament, a fat boy, aged 15, weight 420 pounds, inconsiderately moved from the centre to the side of the vehicle, which consequently capsized. The fat boy fell upon Georgiana Newell, aged 8, and remained there until extricated by half a dozen strong men, engineered by a couple of experts in weight lifting.

Poor little Georgiana was found to be dead, life having been crushed out of her frail form by the fat boy. The coroner's inquest returned a verdict of accidental death.

POURED HOT LEAD IN HIS EAR.

A French Woman Who Has Studied Shakespeare's Murders.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—A large crowd was assembled yesterday at the Eleventh Cour Correctionnelle in anticipation of the trial of the woman Lombard. Mme. Lombard endeavored to get rid of her husband by pouring lead in his ear while he was sleeping. The effort of the woman to bring Shakespeare's famous murder into real life occurred several weeks ago, since which time she has been studying the immortal bard in jail while her husband has been damning him in the hospital. To the intense disappointment of the enormous crowd the court postponed the consideration of the case until the 10th of the month.

Gilbert in a New Role.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—W. S. Gilbert, the famous librettist, came before the public in an unusual capacity the other day when he appeared as a magistrate in the Edgeware Petty Sessions, and heard the case of a girl who had escaped from an industrial school, complaining of ill treatment that was served up to her in a variety of ways. Mr. Gilbert was dressed in the costume of a country squire, wearing a loose plaid shooting coat, light drab breeches and gaiters. He acted with great gravity, and seemed to feel the legal importance of the situation, showing a familiarity with the requirements of the position that some of the jocular ascribed to his long rehearsals of "Trial by Jury."

Shakespearian Relics.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, Oct. 6.—Some relics of Shakespeare, said to have been heretofore unknown to the general public, have just been [illegible]. The relics consist of a jug and [illegible]. The jug has a metal lid and the cane is of malacca wood, just such a stick as was customarily carried in the days of Elizabeth. The articles come from Gloucester, where they have been preserved in the family of a Mr. Fletcher.

"Bunny" to Be Married.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Society circles are deeply interested by the announcement of the approaching marriage of Lord Arlington to Miss Evelyn Leigh, daughter of the late Blundell Leigh. His Lordship enjoys the distinction of having the special favor of the Prince and Princess of Wales. On his estate he has an enormous farm, where every animal and bird is white.

The Bear Licked Her Hand.

KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Celina Ledeux, who escaped from the asylum on Sept. 15, was discovered at Trenton. She was in an exhausted condition and her limbs and feet were badly swollen. She slept in the woods. Two nights before she was found she was awakened by something licking her hand. She says it was a bear and she thought her last hour had come, but the bear quietly walked away without molesting her. She subsisted almost entirely on apples found along the road, and her appearance gave evidence of severe exposure and privation.

AN ALGOMA MYSTERY.

A CASE RESEMBLING THE BENWELL MURDER.

An Indian Discovers the Remains of a Well-Dressed Man Who Had Been Shot Down and the Body Secreted in a Thick Scrub.

LITTLE CURRENT, Algoma, Oct. 6.—A few days ago an Indian who was out shooting landed on an island at the mouth of the Missisauga River and crept across a point in order to get within range of some ducks. When about 70 yards from shore he was considerably startled by suddenly coming upon the dead body of a man, which lay on its back in the scrub with arms extended, and the dried and blackened face with its eyeless sockets turned in mute appeal to the pitiless sky.

The authorities were notified and a constable dispatched to the spot and the body removed to the C.P.R. doctor's office at Algoma Mills.

Whoever the man was, he was well dressed and evidently came to his death by foul means. On the left temple was the mark of a blow apparently inflicted by an ax; and there was a bullet hole in the back of the head. No hat could be found. The body lay in such thick scrub that a path had to be chopped out before it could be removed, and from its condition had evidently been lying there all summer. It was too high above the lake to have been cast there by the waters, and it is supposed that the man was murdered and the body taken there and carried or dragged into the bush. A boat turned upside down was found lying on the shore below where he lay.

No direct evidence as to the identity of the body or the perpetrators of the crime has as yet been obtained, but there is a clue. Last spring a camping party of three men, with a complete outfit, arrived at Blind River on the second boat, and stayed about Missisauga for two or three weeks, going frequently during that time to Edward Sayers' store to buy supplies. They then disappeared, going no one seems to know whither, but two of the same party were afterwards seen camped by an Indian, but the third was missing.

The supposition is that the two made away with the third man. The Ontario Government will doubtless at once take action.

HE NEVER SAID IT.

Hon. A. S. Hardy Says There Is No Truth In The Mail's Fish Story.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 6.—The Toronto Mail publishes an interview which a correspondent of that journal had with ex-Governor Kellogg of Louisiana, who had been spending the summer months in Canada in the pleasant pastime of fishing. The ex-Governor is credited with saying: "I spent a good deal of time with Mr. Hardy. He is a man of broad and progressive views, and is heartily in favor of a union between Canada and this country."

An Expositor representative saw Hon. Mr. Hardy this morning. The hon. gentleman is naturally indignant at the statement imputed to ex-Governor Kellogg. They were both fishing in the same lake, Mr. Hardy says, but that was about the extent of their fraternization. "Ex-Governor Kellogg talked at great length and with great warmth on the subject of annexation, and the old fellow seems to have given my name to his own words. There is not a word of truth in the remark imputed to me, there is no foundation for it whatever, and I am anxious to take every means to give it an unqualified contradiction."

Mr. Hardy seemed much annoyed at the unwarranted use of his name in this connection.

THE CHICAGO SUICIDE.

She Was the Divorced Wife of Prof. Loemans of Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Seavey, who killed herself in a Chicago park Sunday, was well known in this city, having resided here for several years prior to going to Chicago. At that time she was married to Prof. Loemans, but about 1884 they separated. Mrs. Loemans retained Carscallen & Cahill at that time and endeavored to secure a divorce on the ground of cruel treatment, but the Canadian law being too cumbersome she went west to Chicago and got a divorce, after which she assumed her former name of Seavey. The son mentioned in the dispatch is Julian R. Seavey, the well known artist, who had classes here from 1882 to 1886, when he went to London to take charge of the art department of Hellmuth Ladies' College, and in June last he was appointed also professor of fine arts in Alma College, St. Thomas. Prof. Loemans was also an artist and had a studio here for several years and is now in Montreal. He was an Italian.

Mrs. Seavey was a very high strung, excitable lady, and in her youth had evidently been very beautiful. Her trouble with her husband preyed upon her mind, and even before leaving Hamilton it was feared that she might attempt to take her life. While staying at the Royal Hotel she kept a revolver under her pillow, much to the alarm of the servants there. She was an educated and refined lady, and despite her peculiarities of temperament had many friends here who will be shocked to hear of her tragic end.

Boulanger's Famous Black Charger.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 5.—The funeral of the late General Boulanger Saturday was a noisy affair. An immense crowd collected around the late residence of the deceased at the hour for the starting of the procession. The police were unable to keep the mob in order and the gendarmes were called to their assistance. A number of arrests were made. The coffin was buried under the numerous floral offerings. Hundreds of wreaths with their tri-colored ribbons and flags were sent from France by the late General's admirers.

The funeral was witnessed by fully 100,000 people. High prices were easily obtained for places from which the procession could be advantageously witnessed. The crowd resembled nothing so much as the throng which gathers in Paris when there is to be a guillotining. The people laughed and chatted gaily, joking freely about the career of the dead General.

MIXED UP IN THE LATEST LONDON SCANDAL.

An Actress Commits Suicide by Taking Carbolic Acid—Coroner Refuses Access To the Depositions Taken and The Inquest.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Considerable interest is still being taken in the case of Lydia Miller, or Manton, the chorus girl of the Gaiety Theatre who recently committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. At the inquiry Saturday Lord Charles Montagu, brother of the Duke of Manchester, testified to having been on very intimate terms with the deceased and had been late on keeping an appointment to luncheon on the day of her death. This failure to keep the appointment is said to have greatly annoyed the girl.

Since the inquest efforts have been made by the newspapers to ascertain the high personage, understood to be Prince Albert Victor, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, who also is said to have been on intimate relations with the girl. The coroner refuses access to the depositions taken, and it is stated the members of the coroner's jury were called upon to sign a blank paper instead of the usual record of the proceedings.

The girl lived in great style, had a large quantity of diamonds and used to drive to the Gaiety Theatre in the smartest of dog carts with a "tiger" behind her.

The St. James Gazette, The Globe and other papers denounce the coroner's secrecy.

$120,000 for Raphael's "Borgia."

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Baron Alphonse de Rothschild has just purchased Raphael's portrait of Cæsar Borgia for the sum of £24,000 ($120,000). It used to hang in the Borghese Gallery, Rome.

This sale has been rendered possible by the repeal of a law which makes it an offence to sell any of the works of the great masters. The present head of the Borghese family is, however, head and ears in debt, and the law was repealed in order that the inestimable art treasures of the Borghese palace might be coined into foreign gold. This is only the first of a series of such sales, for other masterpieces of the Borghese and other collections will be offered for sale. The committee of the Chicago fair will endeavor to secure some famous ones as fair attractions.

The Oldest Triplets.

MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 6.—A paragraph has been going the rounds claiming for Winchester, Indiana, the distinction of having the oldest triplets living in the world. The Winchester triplets were born in 1857 and are consequently 34 years of age. Thomas Brown, a Moncton butcher, is one of a family which boasts triplets, two males and one female, all living at 36 years of age. They were born at Hampton, Kings county, the Finance Minister's constituency, in September, 1855.

Canadian Oyster Culture.

MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 6.—Mr. Hatton of Montreal has leased a part of Baie du Vin and the river of the same name for the purpose of engaging in oyster culture on a large scale. He has chartered the Miramichi pilot schooner Empress for one month at $250 to fetch seed oysters from Malpeque, Prince Edward Island, one of the best fishing grounds in the country. The oysters have become almost extinct in sections of the Baie du Vin as the result of overfishing and carelessness.

This Fire Cost Four Lives.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A fire in a five-story brick tenement house at the corner of Hudson and Dominick-streets to-day caused the death of Mrs. Annie Murphy, aged 32; Miss Katie Dunn, aged 22: a dressmaker who boarded with Mrs. Murphy; Josephine Ryan, 5 years old, of Washington, D.C., and Martin D. Toohey, 11 years old, Mrs. Murphy's son by her first husband.

When officers searched the body of Senor Hernandez, whose head was almost severed from his body, they found in one of the pockets of his clothes a letter written by Garcia addressed to the civil authorities of Quivican. Garcia's letter says: "Hernandez has been my friend since boyhood. I killed him because he tried to deliver me to the guards. I have never before killed a woman, but I killed his wife because she induced him to betray me. I hurt only those who hurt me."

Mendez was a well-known resident of Caibarien and held the position of Commandante of Militia.

His execution took place at 7 o'clock in the morning. All approach to the part of the castle where he was to be shot except to the officials was rigorously prohibited. Mendez made a will yesterday, in which he leaves $60,000 to be divided among his 12 children. The condemned man petitioned the officials to allow him to be shot without being blindfolded, as is usual in an execution of this kind, and his request was granted.

ARTESIAN WELLS AND TWINS.

Remarkable State of Things in the Little Town of Ardmore, Pa.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—A curiously interesting physiological fact in the economy of creative forces for anthropologists to investigate is the connection between artesian wells and twins.

That this connection exists seems to be a fact indisputably proven, or else figures lie and facts have no significance. The unreasoning man will cry out, "A mere coincidence." The reasoning will cry out, "Wonderful!"

Now here are facts. Let them speak for themselves. At Ardmore, Montgomery County, Pa., is an artesian well. It was bored four years ago. The inhabitants wanted a better supply of water. Soon there was an epidemic of twins. It was something queer, wonderful, startling. It was found there was no help for it. Newly married couples were sure victims. The epidemic took such a hold indeed that it became compulsory, as a precaution against one of the prospective dual offspring being left out in the cold, to give duplicate orders in advance for baby clothing.

Old married couples, who long before had abandoned all ideas of succession to their names and fortune, were obliged to order double-seated baby carriages.

The only fear is that if this sort of thing continues and the population goes on increasing at the present rate it will be necessary soon to take in Philadelphia as an annex.

DARING FITZSIMMONS.

The Brockville Murderer Said to Have Been in a Deserted Mine.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 6.—Murderer F. C. Fitzsimmons is reported to be in hiding in an abandoned coal pit about 10 miles from Pittsburg, on the Washington pike. It is said a woman has been seen in a coal pit for about a week. One of the people living in the neighborhood saw the inhabitant of the deserted mine. The man's disguise was said to have been clumsy. Detectives, it is said, are watching the supposed hiding-place of Fitzsimmons. In this place a murderer named Meyers eluded the police for many weeks about 10 years ago.

A report was investigated by the Pittsburg police yesterday that Fitzsimmons purchased a necktie and a wig and false whiskers in two down-town Pittsburg stores.

Winnipeg's Sensation.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—Church circles have been startled by the arrest of James Chisholm, a prominent member of the Congregational body here. A week ago he was engaged, as has been his custom for years, ushering church-goers in their seats. To-night he is pacing a felon's cell. He is charged with ruining girls under fourteen years. Chisholm is owner of a barb wire manufactory here, and is thought to be worth considerable money. It is said that the police know at least half a dozen girls who have lost their virtue through this man. A Pinkerton detective from Chicago assisted Chief of Police McRae in gathering evidence upon which the warrant was issued.

Chisholm's trial was opened to-day and will be continued to-morrow. Commitment is certain. Chisholm is an extensive manufacturer here, member of the Board of Trade, president of the Citizens' band and one of the pillars of the Congregational Church. A second information was laid against him to-night and other parents may take criminal proceedings.

Virtue in the Canteen.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The annual report of Surgeon-General Sutherland contains an interesting paragraph in regard to the canteen system. He says: "The cases of treatment of alcoholism numbered 40.73 per thousand for the army as against 41.43 in 1889 and 56.68, the average during the previous decade. A remarkable change has taken place in the habits of men as to society since the establishment of the canteen. Signs of intoxication are rarely seen and the guard houses are without occupants."

A Bicyclist's Queer Experience.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Mr. G. P. Mills had a remarkable experience in his record-breaking bicycle ride from Land's End to John O'Groat's. He fell fast asleep when only four miles from his journey's end, and, in spite of all efforts, he could not be awakened for seven hours. It was originally stated that he had beaten his own record by 21 hours. This, however, is not correct, as the right time has now been shown to be 16¼ hours.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT
TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

RAILWAY DIFFICULTIES.

Whistling, Blockading, Fast Running and Crossing Gates.

These Matters Will be Handled by the Street and Bridge Committee—The Statement re Edison Works Expenditure not Yet Ready—A Health Resort Somewhere up North—Regular Session of the Town Council.

At the council meeting Monday night Mayor Stevenson presided, the councillors present being Messrs. Dennistoun, Kendry, Langford, Moore, Dawson, Hall, Kelly, Bradburn, Winch, Cahill and Davidson.

A communication was read from the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Co., petitioning for the use of a portion of Water street immediately adjoining their foundry, for the erection of a temporary building, 16 feet wide, for two years, to accommodate the present increase in their business. A letter was read from Messrs. Denne and English, residents on Water street, offering no objection. The request was granted, though Mr. Moore argued that it was a mistake. Mr. Davidson explained that within the two years the company would put up a permanent building, which they had not time to do now on account of the pressure of business. At Mr. Hall's suggestion the resolution granting the request was amended by adding "on condition that Mr. Hamilton give an undertaking to remove the structure at the end of the two years."

Messrs. Bean & Blanchard's application for better lighting of Water street, especially in front of the Business College, was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, it being remarked that under the new arrangement with the Electric Light Company Water street would be better lighted.

Mrs. George J. Scollie sent in a claim for damages for injuries sustained by her in a runaway accident on Sept. 18th, caused by her horse being frightened by a locomotive on Bethune street, which resulted in her being thrown against the sidewalk and injured so she was under the doctor's care. The communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

Col. H. M. Francis, representing the Edison General Electric Co., wrote calling the attention of the council to the unsafe condition of the corner of Park and Townsend streets on account of the open drain there.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

Mr. Thos. Tait, General Superintendent C.P.R., asked the council if it proposed to carry out the agreement regarding the Edison sidings.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

WHERE IS THIS HAVEN OF HEALTH?

ACCOUNTS PAID.

Mr. DAVIDSON presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of the following accounts:—

Geo. D. Mitchell & Son	$ 8 50
Review Printing Co	18 51
Water Co.	10 00
Cox & Davis	3 75
R. Gibbs	2 00
G.N.W. Tel. Co.	0 50

Mr. DAVIDSON stated that the above were the only accounts which had come before the committee, though there were a number more which had been presented at the last meeting of the council. For some reason they had not been placed before the committee, and he thought there was just ground for complaint of the clerk's inattention to business in this regard. He asked why the remainder of the accounts were not placed before the committee.

The clerk replied that the accounts were all in his book and he did not know why they were not put before the committee.

MR DAVIDSON read from the files of the EXAMINER the complete list of accounts presented at the last regular meeting, and moved that the balance not included in the above report be paid when certified to. This resolution and the report were adopted.

MR MOORE said that in other matters beside this, the clerk had failed in his duty so much that it had become intolerable, and the council could not bear with it much longer.

PARK STREET DRAIN.

Mr. Cahill brought up the motion which he had presented at the last council meeting as a notice of motion, instructing the Street Inspector to build a drain on Park street from Townsend street to Sherbrooke street. Mr. Cahill urged the necessity of the work and the importance of doing it before the cold weather began. Some of the ratepayer to be benefitted were willing to assist, if it was necessary, but other similar works in town had been paid out of the general fund and they asked that the expense of this work be borne by the town as a whole.

Mr. MOORE said that before any new work was begun that already undertaken by the town should be completed. Mr. Moore referred to the open drain on Aylmer street where the little boy was drowned last spring. Mr. Moore said he was told this Park Street drain would cost $2,000 instead of $1,000, as was stated it would cost.

Mr. DAWSON thought the persons to be benefitted by this drain should give some assistance in having the work done.

Mr. Cahill's resolution was lost.

MUST PAY HIS MEN.

Mr. DAWSON referred to the complaint entered against Mr. Drury, contractor for a town drain, that he had not paid his men, and moved that no more money be given Mr. Drury on the contract until he pays his men.

Mr. CAHILL said he did not think a resolution was necessary, as the matter had been talked over and this plan of action already decided on.

THE RAILWAY NUISANCES.

Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the clerk notify the C.P. R'y and G.T. R'y companies that the excessive and unnecessary whistling engines must be discontinued, and if this request is not acceded to, that the Chief of Police prosecute the roads under the bylaw in this behalf.

Mr. BRADBURN said it was high time som action was taken with reference to the gate at the railway crossings, as well as the whistling.

Mr. HALL said he would move, if the Mayor had gained no information on the subject at Ottawa, that the whole railway difficulty be left in the hands of the Street and Bridge Committee. Mr. Hall also complained of the blocking of the crossings by cars, and rapid running on the streets.

Mr. KENDRY said he did not think there was any more whistling done here than in other towns, but Mr. Dawson said while sitting in church Sunday mornings it often happened that no one could hear a word for a minute or two on account of locomotive whistling.

Mr. MOORE said he was often awakened at night by the screeching of whistles. The blocking of streets referred to by Mr. Hall was also contrary to orders. He thought this resolution was in the right direction.

Mr. HALL said if we prosecuted the railways for a high rate of speed in town be thought the railway companies would be brought to put up the gates themselves.

There was some further discussion, the councillors being of the opinion that the whistling was the work of conductors and engineers contrary to the orders.

Mayor STEVENSON said the Grand Trunk authorities has agreed to put gates on certain crossings, but the town wanted the gates put elsewhere, so nothing was done.

Mr. KENDRY and Mr. HALL thought it better to approach the railway companies in a more friendly spirit, but the resolution was carried.

ELECTRIC LIGHT AGREEMENT.

Mr. CAHILL introduced a by-law authorizing the corporation to enter into an agreement with the Light and Power Co., which was given a first reading.

Mr. CAHILL moved, seconded by Mr. WINCH,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to clean out the drain on Park street and build a culvert on Sherbrooke street.—Carried.

THE CARTERS' STAND.

Mr. MOORE asked why no action had been taken with reference to the application made by the parties doing business in the locality, to have the carters' stand at the corner of Hunter and George streets removed.

Mr. LANGFORD said the committee had investigated and found the persons who signed the petition did not object to a few carters, but to the great number of them that congregate at this corner, so the committee thought it better to take no action at all this year. They paid a license and had to be found a place somewhere.

MORE RAILWAY MATTERS.

Mr. LANGFORD moved, seconded by Mr. MOORE,—That the G.T.R. be allowed to place a siding on Bethune street, between Rink and Perry street, according to plan submitted.

This resolution was not adopted.

Mr. HALL moved that the matter of railway gates and blockading of streets be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.—Carried.

STATEMENT RE EDISON CO.

Mr. BRADBURN enquired of the chairman of the Finance Committee if the statement of the expenditure in connection with the Edison Works was yet made out. He understood Mr. Davidson agreed at a meeting some time ago to have it ready for the next meeting.

Mr. DAVIDSON said the resolution asking for the estimates was simply a notice of motion and had never been passed. The resolution asked the clerk to bring down the figures, and he (Mr. Davidson) did not agree to do the clerk's and treasurer's work.

Mr. MOORE stated that what was said was that as soon as the drain was finished, and the figures completed by the treasurer, Mr. Davidson would bring them in.

The resolution above mentioned was then adopted, calling upon the Treasurer to bring down the statement, the Treasurer being the proper party to make out the figures.

A MONEY BY-LAW.

Mr. MOORE said another matter would have to be faced, and that was that a bylaw would have to be passed providing for the raising of $15,000, which the corporation was short on the Edison Company's expenditure. The bylaw, he held, should be presented to the ratepayers at once.

Mr. DAVIDSON said it would be better to wait until the statement was made out in full, so that they might know just how much was wanted.

The Mayor said the school money bylaw would also have to be passed, and it could be advertized at the same time as the one mentioned by Mr. Moore.

The council then adjourned.

ZOLA IN A COAL MINE.

THE FRENCH NOVELIST LOOKING FOR FACTS UNDERGROUND.

The Charming Author Chats of His Methods—He Disclaims the Title of Poet—Proud of the Fact That He Has Stuck for Twenty Years to One Theory.

TRAVELLING from Cologne to Paris shortly after passing Liege, you see for hours, and extending for miles beyond the French frontier, nothing but a level, bleak, woodless land, with the peculiar shaped, huge mounds of slack that can be found in every coal region. Here and there the traveller catches a glimpse of blazing furnaces, smelting ovens and glass blowers at work. Everywhere are heaps of irregular buildings, high chimneys and human beings, besmeared with coal dust, pulling hutches on iron tracks.

I had stopped at Monston to visit one of the coal mines. After looking at the panting engine going at high pressure, with its enormous driving rod plying up and down, and the rapid whirling about of colossal wheels more that six yards in diameter, I entered the office, and showing my card of admission, one of the viewers, a military looking man, led me to a wardrobe to change my costume before the descent.

"Is anybody else going down?" I inquired.

"Yes, another gentleman and two ladies," was the answer.

THE UNKNOWN COMPANIONS.

Then we started on our journey. Now and then our guide explained something of interest, and I noticed the elderly gentleman making notes or looking up some observations in his book with a mien of approval. Suddenly the thought occurred to me that Emile Zola was about to write a book on the life of coal miners.

Here the guide remarked: "I believe the gentleman is writing something about"—pointing to the book. The gentleman nodded with a faint smile. I no longer entertained any doubt that it was Zola.

"Pardon me, but are you perhaps Emile Zola?"

IDENTIFIED.

A pause ensued. I no longer hoped for an answer, when he said abruptly,

"Yes, I am Emile Zola!"

The English ladies, who did not speak French, began to whisper and look very attentively at the author.

"I have read all your books," softly whispered one of the ladies, half bashful, half proud.

"Of course," was the short answer.

"Is this your first visit to a mine?" I asked.

"No, but I hope my last."

"It must be very interesting to you?"

"It is hard labor, sir."

I looked at him in astonishment. He condescended to explain his meaning to me in abrupt sentences.

"Is it true that you never think out a plot?"

"I study the milieu; everything which is connected with the subject I treat."

"And then?"

"Then I write the first chapter, rewrite it again and again until it suits me, and the second, and so on. Naturally I always have a forethought of what is to come, but I do not make a sketch of the plot like many other writers."

Having arrived at the end of the gallery we dismounted and stretched our cramped limbs, but not to advantage, as I knocked my head, and the lady who had spoken to Zola stumbled over one of the tracks.

LABORERS UNDER GROUND.

A barefooted collier, stripped to the waist, was at work with his pick undercutting a coal seam. We watched him. After a while he took a hammer and drove oaken wedges into the top of a seam, then breaking away with the pick the portion which had been "holed," as it is technically called.

A young, homely girl in trousers, canvas jacket and a blue handkerchief tied around her hair, loaded the trucks with the blocks. Our guide explained the details of a collier's work in every particular. Zola seemed to have promised him a liberal tip. He found us all attentive listeners. Zola continually looked about with a dull, searching stare through his eyeglasses, now and then jotting down a few words. He seldom questioned. In spite of his crustiness there was a certain bashfulness about him. He seemed as if he wished to ask for information but did not venture to do so.

At last the task was done! Zola had seen enough, and we ascended the shaft from where we had started. I saluted the ladies, who were completely exhausted and will probably remember the trip for their whole life. Zola wiped his forehead and then we exchanged our dresses.

"What do you consider your masterpiece?"

"What am I proudest of? That I have stuck for twenty years to one theory. Show me another writer who has done the same?"

A Rope Rug.

Procure one yard of straw matting (or any kind of carpeting). Bind each end with some suitable material. Now have ready 5 lbs of one inch rope; cut this into lengths of 12 inches, fold together and tie about one inch from the end with some pretty bright ribbon; cardinal is much used. Now take a needle and thread and sew your rope loops around the matting. Let the long untied ends hang over for fringe. When you get them all sewed on, ravel the rope out up to where it is tied and sewed to the matting. Put it in one corner of your sitting room or parlor, place an easel on it, and upon it a picture, and you will have something both pretty and effective.

Missing Links.

One reason why some people are not so wicked as others is because they have not so good a chance.

Real reform never has a brass band attachment.

Daring to the End.

GRAVENHURST, Oct. 5. The remains of S. J. Dixon, who was drowned in Wood Lake, Muskoka, while attempting to swim across on Friday last, was recovered at 2.08 yesterday by H. E. King of Gravenhurst, one of a party who were dragging the lake for the remains of the unfortunate man. The lake is over a mile wide at this point and Dixon had succeeded in reaching within 100 yards of the other shore, when young Tribe, who was on shore saw Dixon [illegible] in the water and immediately [illegible] his assistance with a boat, but only reached within five feet of him when Dixon sank in 15 feet of water to rise no more. The body was recovered within 30 feet of the spot pointed out by young Tribe. The body was perfectly nude and shows no signs of any special effort or struggle. The body will arrive in Toronto in charge of Undertaker Stone and James Dixon, brother of deceased, on the 4 o'clock train to-morrow morning.

The Farmer's Platform.

Patrons of Industry Adopt a Number of "Planks" by Large Majorities.

The Grand Association of the Patrons of Industry met in London last week. Six hundred delegates attended. Peterborough county was represented by Messrs. W. H. Brethour and Robt. Tadhope.

The grand secretary reported that a platform, provisionally adopted at Chatham on March 10, had been submitted to 303 subordinate associations with the following result, the figures after each plank signifying the number of associations favorable, and the balance being either opposed or undecided:—

1. Maintenance of British connection; 297.
2. The reservation of public lands for the actual settlers; 303.
3. Purity of administration and absolute independence of Parliament; 299.
4. Rigid economy in every department of the public service; 303.
5. Simplification of the laws and a general reduction in machinery of Government; 303.
6. The abolition of the Canadian Senate; 288.
7. The abolition of the Grand Jury; 226.
8. A system of civil service reform that will give each county power to appoint its own county officials, except county judges; 281.
9. Tariff for revenue only, and so adjusted as to fall as far as possible upon the luxuries, and not upon the necessaries of life; 301.
10. Reciprocal trade on fair and equitable terms between Canada and the United States; 294.
11. Effectual legislation that will protect labor, and the results of labor, from those combinations and monopolies which unduly enhance the price of the articles produced by such combinations or monopolies; 299.
12. Prohibition of the bonusing of railways by Government grants, as contrary to the public interests; 288.
13. The formation of a loan and investment society in connection with the order for the purpose of negotiating loans on farm property at reduced rates of interest; 288.
14. Preparation of the Dominion and Provincial voters' lists by the municipal officers; 296.
15. Conformity of electoral districts for both Dominion and Provincial representation to county boundaries as constituted for municipal purposes; 292.

O! woman, lovely woman, why will you suffer so,
Why bear such pain and anguish, and agony of woe?
Why don't you seek the remedy—the one that's all the go?

"All the go," because it makes the pains go. As an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nervine, for debilitated and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has no equal. It improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels melancholy and nervousness, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. Don't be put off with some worthless compound, easily, but dishonestly, recommended to be "just as good," that the dealer may make more profit. "Favorite Prescription" is incomparable.

It is a Very Sad Thing

To see young and beautiful people die when they might just as well live and enjoy health and strength. Many who suffer with coughs, colds and lung troubles, leading to consumption, imagine there is no hope for them, when in reality there is every hope if Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is taken regularly. Spread the news everywhere that this great emulsion will make flesh and blood, cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and lung troubles tending to consumption. In big bottles, 50c. and $1. Henry G. James.

Henry G. James, of Winnipeg, Man., writes: "For several years I was troubled with pimples and irritations of the skin. After other remedies failed I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and since then I have been quite free from my complaint. B. B. B. will always occupy a place in my house."

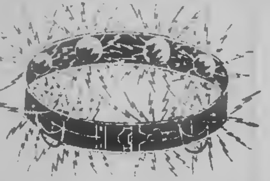
Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

An Oddfellows' Funeral.

Funeral of the Late William Smith Under Oddfellows Auspices.

The remains of the late Wm. A. Smith were interred in Little Lake cemetery Monday afternoon with all the honors that Oddfellows could pay a deceased brother. Not only Oddfellows, but his fellow-employes of the Wm. Hamilton Works, and a large concourse of citizens generally, participated in the burial ceremonies. The funeral cortege was an imposing one and testified to the high esteem in which the deceased young man was held by the entire community.

Leaving the family residence in Ashburnham, the procession wound its way through town to the cemetery, the 57th Battalion band leading and playing the Dead March in Saul while passing along the business portions of the streets. Following the band came the employees of the Wm. Hamilton Works, on foot, to the number of about fifty; then over seventy Oddfellows belonging to Peterborough lodge, No. 111 (of which deceased was a member) and Osonabee lodge, No. 13; then the Canton of Patriarchs Militant in full uniform. Between the last files of the chevaliers came the hearse; beside the casket contained in it lay the chapeau and sword of the deceased, for the late Mr. Smith was an advanced and enthusiastic Oddfellow, and the tallest amongst the plumed Patriarchs Militant. Six members of the Canton acted as bearers.

Behind the Oddfellows followed a long line of carriages, making one of the largest funeral processions ever seen here.

At the grave the beautiful Oddfellows' burial service took place, conducted by Capt. Jos. Mills, of the Canton, and Bros. J. Mulligan and A. J. Johnston, respectively Noble Grand and Chaplain of Peterborough lodge.

Upon returning to town the Oddfellows assembled at Peterborough lodge room and the following expressive resolution was adopted:—

Moved by Bro. D. Spence, seconded by Bro. A. Macfarlane, P.G.:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our late Brother William A. Smith after a severe illness, borne with Christian fortitude and patient resignation, therefore be it

Resolved that we, the members of this Lodge extend our heartfelt and fraternal sympathy to the bereaved family of late Bro. Smith on the occasion of the great loss they have been called upon to sustain by the death of a beloved son and brother; and we pray that an All Wise Providence may mitigate their sorrow by granting unto them the consolation of His divine grace in this the hour of their sad bereavement.

Resolved, that we also place on record our deep sense of the great loss we as a lodge have sustained by the death of Bro. Smith, who as a zealous member and efficient officer, took an active interest in everything pertaining to its welfare and prosperity.

Resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of the deceased.

And the Boston Evening Transcript remarks:—"Though individually soloists of the highest talent, when they play together each sinks his identity, and seems only to be a necessary part of a perfect machine; and their playing is certainly as near perfection as we can hope to hear."

Presbyterian Sunday School Convention.

Opening Meeting in St. Paul's Church—Address by Rev. Jno. McEwan, Lakefield.

There was a fair attendance of the public last night in St. Paul's School room, for the opening meeting of the Sunday School Convention held under the auspices of the Presbytery of Peterborough. Of this audience, adies comprised at least nine-tenths.

After singing and prayer, conducted by Rev. E. F. Torrance, Rev. John McEwan, Lakefield, the veteran Sunday School worker and Endeavour Society enthusiast, delivered a thoughtful address upon the subject of "Church work and Modern Life."

He began by saying that the Presbytery of Peterborough in appointing these Conventions, had in view the best interests of the church. He was pleased to see so large an attendance of Sunday School workers and also so many members of the Christian Endeavour Society, members who might be justly regarded as the offspring of the Sunday School. Every Christian, no matter how humble, is God's fellow-worker, and a recognition of this fact ennobled and dignified the most menial toil. The weakness of church membership was the failure to recognize the duty of each one to work for others as well as themselves. Modern life was spoken of in contrast with mediæval life, whose principles were still at work in this Province, and particularly in the Province of Quebec. "Modern Life" was defined; it was born of the political revolt of the sixteenth century against the papacy and of the attendant literary revival. A glowing tribute was paid the work and memory of the men who led the reformation movement, whose work had raised and elevated humanity. The seventeenth century brought conflict and difference of opinion which led to divisions in the churches, but out of all this came the Westminster confession of faith and the blessings the practice of that creed brought to the world. The eighteenth century brought a revived church, and the first born of the revived church was the modern Sunday school, which passed through four stages. The money stage, involving paid Sunday school teachers; the second stage was the devotion of teachers for the work's sake; the third the planting of the Sunday school on this continent, and the fourth the co-operative stage, involving conventions, etc. The immense development of industrial enterprise and scientific discovery were movements which made it necessary in all this rush for Christians to swim with the stream, and hence the necessity of the activity of Christian work in modern life. With Jesus Christ came the importance of individual life and individual responsibility—in consonance with the words, "I lay down my life for the sheep," this principle underlying all the modern forms of Christian activity. Helpfulness was the highest attribute of humanity, as well as the universal necessity. The importance of Christians being helpful to each other was insisted on, and that was the reason the Presbytery of Peterborough inaugurated the conventions.

Rev. Mr. TORRANCE took up the subject of "Higher Religious Instruction." He pointed out the necessity of Presbyterians being versed in the distinctive doctrines and history of the church, and he suggested that by economy of time, time could be found for the study of these important subjects. He then outlined the scheme of Higher Religious Instruction, and Rev. Mr. McEwen showed how this scheme could be made to assist, and not embarrass, Sunday school work.

A spirited discussion of the topics arising out of this followed.

One of Life's Burdens.

The medical practitioner of Canada will tell you that one of the most prevalent and most common ailments of the present day is Indigestion. There are few individuals who have not experienced it oftener than once in their lives. Indigestion is an ailment that develops other serious and dangerous troubles, unless it is attended to with promptness. The ordinary Indigestion arises, for the most part, from overloading the stomach with food; or it may result from partaking too freely of wine, spirits or other intoxicating liquors.

Confirmed or chronic Indigestion may depend on debility or want of tone of the stomach, or it may be caused by the lining or mucous membrane of this organ being in a state of irritation or chronic inflammation.

One of the most common causes of Indigestion is not masticating the food we eat properly. Another cause is habitual inattention to diet, both as regards the quality and quantity of food, and irregularity in the times of eating.

Indigestion may result from other causes, such as insufficient exercise and impure air. Besides these there are numberless other causes which, in a greater or less degree, exercise their baneful influence upon this vital and all important function of our natures.

It is well known to the thousands who suffer from indigestion, that hundreds of remedies are offered for the cure of this distressing complaint. In almost every case these remedies are worthless, and are prepared by parties whose sole aim is pecuniary greed and gain. Very few of these vile nostrums give even temporary relief.

Physicians, themselves, have various formulæ and medicines for the cure of Indigestion; in fact there are not two who agree upon the same form of treatment.

There is, however, one great remedy which is specially adapted for the cure of this terrible ailment, and to-day we find medical men recommending it with confidence; we refer to Paine's Celery Compound. The most obstinate cases of chronic indigestion yield quickly to the mighty powers of this grand preparation.

Within the last year scores of men and women who had suffered for years, and whom the doctors could not cure, were restored to perfect health and digestive vigor through the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and their written testimonials are held as solid proofs of wonderful cures.

In ordinary cases of Indigestion one bottle will very often effect a cure. Try it, reader, and suffer no longer from this horrid and soul-depressing malady, which of itself is enough to make life miserable and unendurable.

Personal.

The Rev. Father Rudkins, Rector of St. Peter's, is recovering after a week's severe illness. His many friends will be greatly pleased to learn this intelligence.

Rev. Jos. Locke, pastor of the George street Methodist church, left town last night en route to Washington, D.S., to attend the grand Ecumenical Methodist council, which will attract the prominent Methodist divines of four continents and remain in session about three weeks.

Mr. Leitch, of the firm of Leitch & Co., Hamilton, has been in town a day or two superintending the erection of the hydraulic elevator in Mr. R. Fair's dry goods establishment.

Mr. Frank Matthews has returned from a five weeks' trip to the Pacific Coast. He saw a number of Peterborough boys on both sides of the border, and reports that all appear to be doing well.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Oct. 6.

Matthew Wynn, the stabber of Walter Kerr, was brought before the Magistrate, and further remanded pending the patient's recovery. Kerr is now in the Nicholls Hospital, and is progressing satisfactorily. His recovery is now considered certain.

Three boys, Joseph Martin, Geo. Brown, and Joseph Ranger, were accused of damaging the property of Timothy Cairns, Sherbrooke street, on Sunday, Oct. 4. The evidence showed that the first named alone was responsible, he having thrown stones and broken a number of windows in the pottery, besides conducting himself badly in other respects. Martin was fined $2.

Richard Armstrong, an old resident of Ashburnham, was taken in by the police last night for raising a disturbance in a hotel. Richard Cœur de Lion was not half the fighter Richard Armstrong was. After the latter was imprisoned he went wild with rage, tore up his feather bed (i.e., the plank bench), loosened the cell door on its hinges and shouted out curses at the top of his lungs. This morning he was quite tame, and paid his fine of $2 with meek submission.

SOME COUNTY CASES.

At the court house this morning P.M. Edmison held a session. Robt. A. Gardner, of Dummer, Charged Samuel Newall with assault committed in Norwood on Sept. 22. This case arose out of a previous one. Newall, learning that Gardner had been taking further legal steps, promised to "give him something worth taking the law on him for," and gave the plaintiff a beating. Newall was arested yesterday by Constable Cochrane, and this morning fined $2 and costs—in all $17.65.

P. M. Edmison Monday afternoon went to Havelock to assist Mr. Matthieson, J.P., in the dispensing of justice. A charge of drunk and disorderly was settled, at the request of the plaintiff, by the defendant paying costs incurred. An assault case, Varty vs. King, was dismissed with costs, it being shown that Varty was himself the assailant, and Noah King, who is a quiet, respectable farmer, had simply acted in self defence.

Baseball Challenge.

The EXAMINER is requested to publish a challenge from the Edison baseball club to the Peterborough club for a game next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock for the championship of the town. The secretary will please communicate with the Edison club.

Purify importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. Your This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. Blood It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

SUMMARY VENGEANCE.

Particulars of the Murder at Cape Breton—A Guilty Liason's Outcome.

SYDNEY, C.B., Oct. 6.—Particulars of the murder near Judique, Inverness, are to the effect that a few years ago a man named Fortune, who was a married man, left his home for the United States, leaving his wife behind. During Fortune's absence McMaster became very intimate with Fortune's wife, so much so that when Fortune returned home the other day he found his wife enciente. After promising to forgive her, the woman returned to her home and met her husband, who showed extreme kindness to his wife, and learned from the woman's own lips the name of the man who had become so criminally intimate with her. Fortune at once determined on revenge, and meeting McMaster informed him that he had to battle for his life. A terrible struggle followed, resulting in McMaster receiving a blow from Fortune's fist, from the effects of which he died the following day.

FUNERAL FATALITIES.

One Man Killed and Several Others Fatally Injured.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 5.—A series of frightful accidents occurred in the funeral procession at Altoona to-day, in which one man was killed outright, four other persons fatally injured and a score of people bruised and fractured. A procession of 40 carriages was following the remains of Nicholas Holstreet from the church to the cemetery, located some distance out of town. While the procession was winding down a hill a team in the rear, frightened at a steam threshing machine, started to run. The road was narrow and the runaway horses ran into and upset a dozen of carriages in front of them, breaking six of them into splinters and scattering the occupants broadcast. A panic ensued, as the other teams ran away. Men and women jumped out from the carriages, only to be trampled on by runaway teams.

"SAMUEL OF POSEN."

Belief That He is Being Made the Victim of San Francisco Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 6.—The examination of Maurice B. Curtis, charged with the murder of Officer Grant, was continued in the Police Court this afternoon.

The feeling is becoming very general that Curtis is innocent and is the victim of a police conspiracy. The attorneys for Curtis state that when the proper time arrives they will have no difficulty in showing "Samuel of Posen" to be innocent of killing the policeman.

CABINET RECONSTRUCTION.

The Names of Messrs. Meredith, Kirkpatrick and White are Being Mentioned.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—An Ottawa special to The World says: "Talk of cabinet reconstruction is taking on more definite shape. Mr. Meredith's name is freely mentioned. He will be taken in if he will accept, and there is no intimation received here that he will not make the sacrifice. Any opposition to him will come from some men now in the House who think their chances of cabinet preferement will be injured by Mr. Meredith going over their heads. Ex-Speaker Kirkpatrick's is another name prominently mentioned, though against him there is alleged his C.P.R. directorship. He would resign this, of course, if he went in, but there would then be two ex-directors of that road in the cabinet, one of them Premier. Clarke Wallace might be chosen and represent the Toronto district. White is another man entitled to a seat. If it is true that Dr. Montague is going out to the Pacific coast it is not unlikely that he may take root in a western constituency, and if he does he will certainly be a Cabinet favorite.

The vacancies the new men will fill will be those of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hector Langevin and any resignations of present members that may be placed in Mr. Abbott's hands. Mr. Carling will certainly not ask to be kept in the Government if the Premier has another man to bring forward. Frank Smith is also like-minded.

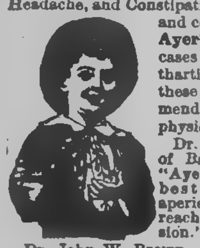
In regard to Quebec's representation nothing very definite can be said. Perhaps, in view of the Premier being from that province, that Mr. Chapleau and Sir Adolphe Caron will still be his colleagues, the French Conservatives will not press for a successor of their race to Sir Hector Langevin."

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.



Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

We will sell our Goods at Prices never before dreamed of.

ATTEMPTED WIFE MURDER AND SUICIDE NEAR BELLEVILLE

Mr. McKay Wins His Libel Suit—The Strathroy Homicide—Destructive Fire at Ottawa—A Blaze at Seaforth—A Tilsonburg Divorce Suit

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 7.—The neighborhood of Green Bush, in the township of Limerick, was thrown into a great excitement over the awful tragedy that took place there about 9 o'clock Sunday, the 4th inst.

A man by the name of John Holstone fired a shot from a revolver at his wife. The ball entered her side under the arm, inflicting a severe wound. The man, supposing she was dead, ran out of the house, placed the revolver to his mouth and shot himself, killing himself instantly. The woman is still alive. The cause of the trouble between the pair was family brawls.

STRATHROY, Oct. 7.—The inquest into the cause of the death of the old man Upton, whose skull was fractured by striking a spittoon in Fitzpatrick's hotel, has resulted in the remanding of William Wilson, with whom he was scuffling, for trial on a charge of manslaughter. The evidence of the doctors showed that deceased died from a wound over the right ear, and there were also injuries on other parts of his body.

SLANDERED BY A BROTHER

For Being Called a Perjurer a Man Asks $5000 Damages

BRANTFORD, Oct. 7.—At the Assizes today the suit of Weaver v. Ramey was called. Plaintiff asks $5000 damages on account of defendant having at a meeting of the Lodge of Patrons of Industry in Beverley stated that Weaver had committed perjury by telling a lie in a case connected with the trading of a horse with one Jesse Ash. The accusation of telling a lie constitutes the perjury complained of. The judge remarked that it was a great pity that the time of a high court and a jury should be occupied by the hearing of such cases of foolish gossip evidently among friends and neighbors. He asked if it were not possible to get parties to arrange their differences out of court. Both counsel expressed themselves quite willing, but when the preliminaries were mentioned it at once became apparent that neither party was prepared to take backwater and the case proceeded.

In the cross-examination of Mr. Bowman, secretary of the Patrons' Lodge, the latter was asked if it was not the business of the lodge, according to the constitution, to expel persons guilty of the offence referred to in the letter. Mr. Bowman said that if the matter had come to them first they would have considered it, but as it came from lawyers it was not the lodge's business to interfere, a remark which created some laughter, in which the court joined.

BIG FIRE AT OTTAWA.

Baskerville Bros.' Warehouse and Other Buildings on Byward Market Gutted

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—One of the most disastrous fires Ottawa has been visited by recently broke out at the rear of Mrs. Garrett Brock's premises on Byward Market Square about 12.30 this afternoon. The fire originated in a sort of kitchen attached to the rear of Mrs. Brock's fruit and poultry store, one of a row of frame structures facing the market square. These were destroyed, together with the stone warehouse of Baskerville Bros., wholesale grocers, at the rear. In the frame extension of the latter 300 barrels of sugar and a quantity of imported spirits had been placed this morning and added fuel to the flames. The total loss will reach $31,500. Baskerville Bros.' loss on stock and damage to building is $20,000, covered by insurance in the Lancashire, Guardian, Etna, Royal and Scottish Union. Mrs. Brock's loss is $2000, with some insurance. Daniel Doyle's loss $3000; P. McEvoy, grocer, loss $4000, with $2000 insurance; Kenneth McDonald, agricultural implement dealer, $500.

THE CHURCH STRIKES BACK.

Montreal Presbytery Does not Relish Mr. Chapleau's Speech

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The Montreal Presbytery at a special meeting yesterday denounced Mr. Chapleau for his attack on the Protestant clergy and adopted a resolution condemning the prevailing corruption and the failure of Parliament to punish the guilty, and calling upon the electors to express their condemnation at the polls at the earliest opportunity.

They Ate Quail Out of Season.

WINDSOR, Oct. 6.—Last week a big banquet was given by the elite of the town of Amherstburg to the retiring United States Consul, Judge Turner. A magnificent bill of fare was prepared, and among the dainties served to the guests were some fine quail. That the quail season had not opened did not trouble the feasters, but they have now been reminded. The fine for having quail in possession out of season is not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each bird.

HAMILTON, Oct. 7.—Frederick Brand, a laborer on the double tracking on the G.T.R., near Bronté, was struck by a passing train, and the front of the locomotive inflicted an ugly gash on his forehead and his back was also badly bruised.

At Port Credit yesterday Thomas Hill, brakeman, was on his train shunting cars at the siding. A sudden lurch threw him off and he sustained a comminuted fracture of the bone of the left arm, between the elbow and shoulder. His head was also badly bruised and cut.

AT THE POINT OF DEATH.

Serious Political Complications Likely to Follow when Hawaii's Queen Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cala., Oct. 7.—The steamer Belgic, which arrived Sunday, brings news that Queen Lilliuokalani, the new ruler of Hawaii, who succeeded to the throne upon the death of Kalakaua, is at the point of death. The queen has been advised of the worst, has made her will and is prepared for the final summons. The death of the queen will bring about a serious political complication, and already an effort is being made to secure control of the islands in the interest of England.

VESSEL BLOWN TO PIECES OFF A SCOTTISH SEAPORT.

The Entire Crew Believed to Have Perished—Death of the Leader of the British House of Commons—Speculation as to His Successor.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A vessel which was today standing off Newburgh, a seaport village 10 miles from Aberdeen, was seen to be on fire. The flames spread rapidly to all parts of the ship and after a time an explosion was heard and the vessel was blown to fragments. Charred pieces of the wreckage are strewn along the shore, and among the parts of the unfortunate vessel which floated ashore is the name board containing the word "Wave." The fate of the crew is unknown, but it is feared that all hands have been lost.

LEFT $10,000,000.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Right Hon. William Henry Smith died yesterday afternoon.

The death of Mr. Smith, who was universally popular, has caused the most profound regret in Conservative and other circles. Mr. Smith, who was one of the representative business men of England, is popularly reputed to have a fortune of about $10,000,000. Mr. Smith made favorable progress towards recovery until yesterday, when he became worse and suffered a great deal of pain owing to a recurrence of gout. Towards evening he recovered and his condition was so favorable that his attending physicians left Walmer Castle, near Deal, the official residence of the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, where Mr. Smith has been seeking to regain his health since his appointment as successor to the late Earl Granville and returned to London. This morning Mr. Smith's condition became critical and he died at 3 p.m.

The Right Honorable Arthur J. Balfour, M.P. for East Manchester and Chief Secretary for Ireland, will succeed the late Mr. Smith as Conservative leader in the House of Commons, if the influence of the powerful Carlton Club and the opinion of the Conservative party as a whole rules in the decision to be made by Lord Salisbury. On the other hand, if the negotiations now pending for a reconstruction of the Cabinet based on the absorption of the Liberal Unionists are effected the Right Honorable George J. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will claim the leadership.

An intimate friend of Mr. Goschen informed the Associated Press correspondent that Lord Salisbury during a critical period in the history of the coalition between the Conservatives and the Liberal Unionists gave a written assurance that Mr. Goschen should have the leadership of the Conservative party in the House of Commons in the event when a possibility owing to Mr. Smith's state of health and the rumor that he was about to be raised to the peerage) on [illegible] of the First Lord of the Treasury from that position.

Mr. Gladstone has wired a message of condolence to the relatives of Mr. Smith.

The Liberals have decided to contest the Parliamentary seat for the Strand made vacant by the death of Mr. Smith.

[The Right Hon. William Henry Smith, D.C.L., M.P., P.C., D.L., was born in London, June 24, 1825. He sat for Westminster from 1868 to 1885, when he was returned for the Strand. He has been Financial Secretary, First Lord of the Admiralty and Secretary of State for War. In 1886 he was appointed Chief Secretary for Ireland. He was afterwards First Lord of the Treasury and leader of the House of Commons. One of the latest honors to which he was elected was that of successor to the late Earl Granville as Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports with residence at Walmer Castle. He has several times refused a peerage in the interests of his party, but would in all probability have been elevated to the Upper House before the meeting of another Parliamentary session.]

King Karl of Wurtemburg

STUTTGART, Oct. 7.—The King of Wurtemburg died yesterday. He had been ill for some time.

[King Charles was born March 6, 1823, and acceded to the throne June 25, 1864, upon the death of William I. He belonged to the dynasty founded about A.D. 1200 by Ulric, Count of Wurtemburg, whose possessions included only the districts bordering on the Neckar and extending to the Black Forest.]

According to The St. James' Gazette there has been danger recently that the Americans who gained such influence at the court of Wurtemberg some time ago would resume their sway, in which case it is understood the King would have been forced to abdicate had not Queen Olga undertaken to prevent a recurrence of the scandals. The King since that time, according to the St. James' Gazette, has been practically a prisoner in his apartments, as it was feared he would escape from Stuttgart and go to Paris.

Italy's Commerce

ROME, Oct. 7.—The foreign commerce of Italy for the eight months ending Aug. 31 shows that the imports exceeded the exports by 192,000,000 lire ($38,400,000), while for the same period of 1890 they were $66,000,000 in excess. During the same period the customs receipts declined 23,000,000 lire, due in a large part to the decreased imports of cereals, which were 230,000 tons less than in 1890.

Found Dead in Bed

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Mr. Andrew Easton, a bachelor farmer residing on the 10th concession of Blenheim, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. He last week disposed by auction a large flock of sheep, being compelled through failing health to get rid of them; but no one suspected that the end was so near. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. Deceased was 68 years of age.

A Duelist Jailed for Life

HIWASSEE, Ga., Oct. 6.—John B. Wood, who shot and killed Alexander S. Brown in a duel last May, was yesterday convicted of murder. The jury recommended him to the mercy of the court. Wood was sentenced to life imprisonment.

A BREEZY BUDGET RESPECTING NOTABLES.

The Queen's Regard for Lord Methuen—Duties on Art Treasures—Mr. Gladstone and Disestablishment—The Salvation Army's Projected Building

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Queen entertained great regard for the late Lord Methuen, not only on account of his long connection with the Household—for he was Lord-in-Waiting for 18 years—but also because he was a great favorite with the Prince Consort. When the Queen heard that Lord Methuen was dying she herself wrote him a long and touching letter of sympathy.

Last week was one of narrow escapes for Continental royalty. To say nothing of the attempts on the life of the Emperor of Austria, his daughter-in-law, Grand Duchess Stephanie, had an awkward fall from her horse at Karwin, and a similar mischance befel the little infant of Spain at Madrid. The Crown Princess of Spain is worse and in the doctors' opinion her protracted stay in the south of France must be abandoned in favor of another visit to Egypt, where they advise her to remain till April or May of next year.

I hear that Franz von Lenbach is painting a full length portrait of the King of Saxony for Emperor William, who is believed to have directed the appointment of King Albert as Regent of Prussia in the event of his own demise before his eldest son comes of age.

The Duke of Sutherland has been seriously ill at Dunrobin, though he is now reported to be somewhat better. He is thought to have strained his heart while deer-stalking.

One of the most important cases which will come before the Court of Session during the approaching sittings will be that of the claim of the Crown against the Duke of Hamilton for £30,000 in respect of Government duties upon the value of the art treasures of Hamilton Palace, which were sold a few years ago. This case will be heard by the Inner House, and is certain to be carried to the House of Lords.

Mr. Gladstone on Thursday morning and afternoon posed as a High Churchman at Trinity College, Glenalmond, of which he was one of the original founders. He took up a parable on behalf of the clergy, whom he enthusiastically eulogized, and then rushed off to Newcastle to take part in a gathering of his Radical followers, where the disestablishment of the Church of Wales was one of the chief items.

Another fine Rembrandt has just been purchased for the Royal Gallery at the Hague. It is signed, and is dated 1657, and is believed to be a portrait of the painter's mother, Adriaen Harmentzoon.

Much indignation and annoyance are being felt and expressed in the city at the mere suggestion that the Salvation Army is desirous of acquiring one of the largest vacant sites on the Thames Embankment, near the Temple, for the erection of stupendous and colossal headquarters and assembly halls.

In connection with the fuss about the Treves Holy Coat, the curious fact has just been discovered that all the robes of the cardinals have been supplied to the Vatican for more than two centuries by a Protestant firm at Bartscheid, near Aachen, which has always enjoyed a monopoly in the manufacture of cloth of this particular color and quality.

I hear from Chatham, apropos of the arrival of the Benbow at that port to pay off, that the three ships cursed with the impotent monstrosities, 110-ton guns, are to be kept in future strictly in reserve so that their tender and wry-necked ordnance shall not be prematurely worn out in time of peace by firing reduced charges at long intervals.

Police Protect Dillon and O'Brien.

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—Messrs. Dillon, O'Brien and Healy addressed a meeting at Thurles to-day. Some hostility was manifested towards the gentlemen referred to, and they had to be protected by a force of 300 police. The speakers declared they had finally abandoned making any further appeals to Mr. Parnell to help the evicted tenants.

"Free Trade in Religion."

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Edward White Benson, D.D., to-day opened the Church Congress at Rhyle. The Archbishop in his opening address said such meetings would be the means of drawing bodies of Christians together and of promoting mutual justice, love and charity.

The Bishop of Manchester defended the maintenance of the establishment and endowment of the church in Wales, and declared that "free trade in religion was not suited to the disposition and circumstances of mankind."

The International Bank of Berlin has acquired the business of the Handelsgesellschaft for 42,000,000 marks.

A hospital and 15 houses were destroyed by a fire which broke out in the city of Santander, Italy.

Sheriff Caston and a bartender were found murdered in Hughes' saloon at Arthur City, Texas, yesterday, both men being shot in the back.

The Alpine Club is building a hut for signal purposes on the peak of Monte Rosa at an altitude of nearly 15,000 feet. The hut has the highest site of any building in the world.

A fire which broke out at an early hour yesterday morning on Mark Brown's wharf, Tooley street, London, brought 20 fire engines to the scene and was subdued after the flames had burned out a big four-story warehouse filled with colonial produce, including tea, tallow and cinnamon. The glare of the conflagration illuminated half of London.

Advices from Massowah say that the forces of Generals Efula and Mangasera have made successfully a combined attack on the forces of Debed, the third aspirant to the throne. The battle was fought near Ambajramica. Debed was killed and his army totally routed.

A band of brigands yesterday made a desperate attempt to wreck and rob a passenger train passing along a desolate portion of the Haidar Pachatamdt Railroad. The engineer discovered that the brigands had torn up the rails and so damaged the road bed that had the train not been stopped in time an accident would surely have happened.

A New State For the Union

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—N. O. Murphy, acting governor of Arizona Territory, in his annual report recommends that Arizona be admitted into the Union as a state.

A Tilsonburg Divorce Case.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—Mrs. H. A. Harrison of Tilsonburg gives notice of application to the Senate next session for the annulment of her marriage with Henry Arley Harrison, until recently operator in the employ of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company in this city, on the grounds of desertion and bigamy. It will be remembered that Harrison a few weeks ago was married to an Ottawa young lady, who discovered, when it was too late, that her supposed husband was a married man. Harrison has skipped to the States, and now his first wife is seeking to be freed from her connection with so worthless a fellow.

Extraordinary Love Matches

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The news from the west that Col. Forsyth, formerly of Gen. Sheridan's staff, has just succeeded in winning the hand of the daughter of his old friend, Dr. Dallas Bache of this city, also in the military service, and that Miss Forsyth, the colonel's daughter, has become engaged to Dr. Bache, has caused great surprise here. Each of the men is 60 years of age, and each is a widower. Neither of the young women is much over 20 years of age. It was at one of the military forts near Omaha where these gallant heroes fell victim and surrendered. Each was accompanied by his family, and here it was that each wooed the other's daughter.

PARNELL IS STUBBORN.

He Refuses to Allow a Committee to Distribute the Paris Money.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—John Dillon, M.P., has published the correspondence which has been going on between Mr. Parnell and himself, in which the latter proposes that Mr. Parnell should appoint two of his supporters, and that Justin McCarthy appoint two of his friends, the four appointees to form a committee to distribute the Paris fund to the evicted tenants. The correspondence shows that Mr. Parnell refuses to agree to the appointment of such a committee, insisting that he himself must consider the claims of the evicted tenants in connection with Mr. McCarthy.

AN OLD SWISS LAW REVIVED

To Prevent a Jesuit from Preaching in a Catholic Canton.

BERNE, Oct. 7.—There is some friction between the federal and the cantonal authorities in Fribourg in regard to the preaching of Jesuits in that city. The canton of Fribourg is largely Catholic and though there is a federal law against the exercise of priestly functions by Jesuits in Switzerland, it has long been treated as a dead letter, the authorities of the Catholic cantons permitting the Jesuits practically complete liberty of speech and action. Recently the Jesuit Father Weck has been attracting large crowds by his eloquence at Fribourg. The attention of the federal bureau of justice became attracted, and the old law forbidding such exhortations was called to the notice of the local authorities. Weck thereupon produced a document signed by the chief of the Jesuits, notifying him that he was absolved from his vows. He claimed to have left the order, and the cantonal authorities were satisfied with this statement; but the federal officials retorted with a copy of the vows taken by all Jesuits, showing that Weck had bound himself to the order until death. The cantonal government still refuses to act, and the dispute grows warmer and may lead to serious complications.

THE ENTOMBED MINERS.

Digging for the Bodies in the Richardson Colliery.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 7.—Double shifts of men have been at work since Saturday night trying to find the six miners who were entombed by a fall of coal in the Richardson Colliery. At a late hour to-night the air current was established, and it is thought that the men will be reached early to-morrow morning. It is believed that the miners were suffocated if they were not burned to death.

When the accident occurred the force of the concussion caused a rush of gas and air that killed Valentine Mack outright, injured several others and raised a cloud of dust out of the mouth of the slope, 500 yards from the scene of the accident. Mack's body was hurled down the gangway and against a pillar of coal 30 yards away. Nearly every bone in his body was broken. The injured are: Inside Supt. Kelly of Martinsville, badly bruised on the left side, Michael Grant of Thomaston, skull crushed and cannot live; James F. Brennan of Taylorsville, back hurt and internally injured; Thomas Conville of Coal Castle, head cut and badly bruised; George Orf, bruised, but not badly hurt.

JUMPED FOR THEIR LIVES.

Thrilling Scene at a Tenement House Fire in Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—A three-story tenement house at 70 Nashua-street caught fire last night, and a family of four persons, living on the upper floor, were so frightened that they threw bedding to the sidewalk and then jumped after it. Daniel Kelly, 33 years old, was slightly hurt; his wife, Hannah, had several ribs and a leg broken, while two children, Eliza, aged 8, and John, aged 10, were terribly injured and will probably die. Captain Ryan of steamer 39 fell downstairs, receiving severe injuries.

Parental Opposition Drives a Pair of Lovers to Self-Slaughter.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—A merchant named Richard Engel of Hagelstrasse, this city, courted and won the daughter of Privy Councillor Loche, but when he asked for the daughter's hand he was met with a contemptuous refusal. Engel retired heartbroken from the interview and wandered disconsolately through the streets. As he was passing Muhlenstrasse he was attracted by a crowd in the quay, and drawing near he saw men dragging from the river the corpse of a young girl. Something about the dress and figure seemed familiar. He darted forward, and the terrible suspicion that subsequently formed in his mind was confirmed—the body was that of his sweetheart. On learning of her father's decision she had rushed from the house and thrown herself in the Spree. Engel was crazed by grief. He followed the corpse to the house of the privy councillor, and entering with the bearers he drew a pistol and shot himself dead, his body falling beside that of his beloved in the presence of the horror-stricken father of the girl.

The Quebec Commission Sworn In.

QUEBEC, Oct. 7.—The Royal Commission held its first sitting to-day, but the proceedings seemed rather informal and amounted to nothing more than the reading of the commission appointing the judges.

Mr. Pacaud was the first man there. He was dressed in a short, dark blue coat, buttoned up, with the tip of his white handkerchief peeping out of the breast pocket; a pair of light grey, striped pants and drab felt. Mr. Mercier occupied a seat at the front table, with Mr. Beique and Colonel Amyot, and seemed in excellent humor.

The proceedings consisted of the reading of the appointment from a large official paper bearing a big green seal and the reading of the oath, after which Mr. Beique arose and announced that he and Col. Amyot represented the Government, and asked that a number of witnesses be subpœnaed.

Fire in Yale University.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 6.—A fire in the attic of East Divinity Hall, Yale University, to-night damaged the building to the extent of $10,000. The fire was caused by a defective flue. About 60 of the theological students, who roomed in the building, suffer a loss of from $100 to $250 each.

Russia Should be Trampled Upon

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Herr Bebel, a prominent member of the Socialist party, delivered a violent speech to-day, in which he declared that Russia should be trampled to the ground at all costs. Everybody should contribute to the victory of the German flag and drive Russia out of Europe. Russia, he declared, ought to be revolutionized, both externally and internally, in order to eliminate the perpetual menace of war. Herr Bebel also declared that Poland should be made an independent state.

Chancellor von Caprivi has given orders that prosecutions be begun against Socialist workmen for attacking him at a public meeting.

The Famine in Poland

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—The famine in Poland is growing worse. Workmen paraded the streets of Zawirke yesterday and looted baker shops and other places where eatables were obtained. Troops were summoned and fired upon the mob, killing one workman and wounding several others.

We show a good all wool 44 inches wide at 40 cents, finer qualities at 50, 60 and 70 cents. At 75c. 90c. and $1.00, we show a special make of German Henrietta Cloths in blue and jet black, having the combined qualities of being bright in finish, fine quality and heavy weight. We feel we cannot speak too confidently of this line, as we believe there is not a better cloth brought into Canada and offered for sale.

In all wool Crape Cloths we show both the fine and coarse twill; also something new and pretty in polka dot Crape Cloth. We also show the new things in fast black Serges, Cheviot and Camels-hair Cloths.

Dress goods having been going out rapidly, we have now a table of remnants, in lengths suitable for Children, marked regardless of original price.

Cold weather is coming. We are showing an attractive stock of Infants' and Childrens' Hoods, etc.

Shawls are new in Design and so pretty this year. Should call and examine our stock.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

The Centreville Exhibition.

The Usual Success—Good Exhibits—Good Races—The Prize List.

The annual exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society was held at Centreville on Monday and Tuesday, and was a very gratifying success. There was a good attendance of visitors, and a fine lot of exhibits. Cattle and sheep were well represented, as well as poultry and swine. There was, of course, a good show of horses. There were a large number of most excellent samples of grain, and roots and vegetables were up to the mark. There was also a very good display of fruits, especially of apples. The ladies' work was well represented, and some fine art specimens were shown. Altogether the exhibition was a success. A report of the races will be found on the local page. Following is

His Work Was Appreciated.

ROSENEATH, Ont., Oct. 3.—Mr. E. E. Fairchild, a divinity student of Wycliffe College, has been ministering to the congregation of St. James' church, Alnwick township, during the past summer with great success. He has made his home at the residence of Mr. John Coyle in this village. A few evenings ago some fifty members of the congregation arrived at Mr. Coyle's, the ladies bringing baskets of good things, and after partaking of refreshments, Mr. James McEldenborough and Mr. Francis Nichol, on behalf of the congregation, presented the devout and talented young man with a purse containing $50 accompanied by an address, which gave expression to the regret felt at his departure, and testified to the great good accomplished in the neighbourhood through his ministrations in holy things. Mr. Fairchild was deeply moved at the expressions of kindness and replied feelingly. He thanked the ladies of St. James' congregation for their kind address and generous gift. He said he came amongst them a few short months ago an entire stranger, but had never met with such kind friends. No matter where he went he was treated with kindness and hospitality, their doors being thrown wide open to receive him, and what had been accomplished for their good had not been through his weak efforts, but through their kind assistance and the blessing of God, which he hoped would be poured out more in the future, and, though he might never again have the privilege of visiting them, he would ever cherish a fond remembrance of them in his heart.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"THE LADIES, GOD BLESS 'EM."

The Wine-and-Women Song in "The School for Scandal."

Here's to the maiden of bashful fifteen,
Here's to the widow of fifty;
Here's to the flaunting extravagant queen,
And here's to the housewife that's thrifty.
Let the toast pass
Drink to the lass
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

Here's to the charmer whose dimples we prize;
Now to the maid who has none, sir;
Here's to the girl with a pair of blue eyes,
And here's to the nymph with but one, sirs.
Let the toast pass
Drink to the lass
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

Here's to the maid with a bosom of snow,
Now to her that's as brown as a berry;
Here's to the wife with face full of woe,
And now to the damsel that's merry.
Let the toast pass
Drink to the lass
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

For let 'em be clumsy or let 'em be slim,
Young or ancient, I care not a feather,
So fill a pint bumper quite up to the brim,
So fill up your glasses, nay, fill to the brim,
And let us e'en toast them together
Let the toast pass
Drink to the lass—
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

—Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

Not A Kicker.

"I'm rather particular about my celery," he remarked to a waiter who took his order at a Dearborn street restaurant. "Bring me only the small stalks, and see that they are perfectly bleached." "Yes, sir." "And see that there are no specks in the potatoes. I won't touch a potato that has a speck in it. I'm rather particular about my potatoes." "Yes, sir." "When you bring me the broiled fish see that it has the skin and fat all removed. Don't bring me any except the upper part of the body. Cut away all the tail." "All right, sir." "Hold on a moment. I'm rather particular about my bread. I don't want any of this cigar-shaped bread with a thick crust, either. Bring me square bread, in thin slices, cut from the middle of the loaf." The waiter went back and returned in due time with a tray full of eatables, which he unloaded on the table.

"Take back this potato," said the guest, "and bring me one that has no specks. I've got no time to dig the specks out of potatoes. I told you about that."

The potato was changed, and the waiter asked him if everything was right now. "No," he answered. "This bread is not cut from the middle of the loaf. Take it away and bring me what I ordered." The bread was accordingly changed.

"All right now?" inquired the waiter. "No! You've got some celery here that isn't properly bleached. Bring me the kind I ordered. And hold on! There is a piece of skin on this fish. Take it back. I told you I was particular about my fish." The celery and fish were removed and brought back in a few minutes with the objectionable features eliminated. "Is it all right now?" asked the waiter. "I guess it will do," growled the guest, as he began to eat, "but if I was a kicker I'd kick about this fork and spoon. They don't exactly match."—Chicago Tribune.

The Cocoa Plant.

The cocoa plant is an evergreen indigenous to tropical America, although now grown in Asia and Africa. The foliage is mostly confined to the ends of the branches; the flowers are small, and thickly clustered on the old wood of the branches and trunk. The fruit or pod is of an elongated pear shape, 5 to 10 inches long, and golden or reddish when ripe. The seeds or beans vary from 25 to 40, closely packed in tiers, of an almond shape and size, and enveloped in an acidulous pulp, something like a broad bean. Each tree yields four to six pounds per season, but 15 to 20 pounds have been known. Great care is taken in gathering not to injure the prospective crop by damaging the young bud at the base of the pod stem. After picking, the pods are taken to the "sweating-house," where fermentation sets in. This done, the beans are picked, divided into small heaps, rubbed with red earth, and placed on a tray to dry. On reaching this country the beans are roasted and the husks removed, leaving what is known as cocoa nibs. The nibs are ground; if intended for cocoa powder, the mill is kept cool; if for chocolate or soluble cocoa, it is heated; this causes the fat to melt, forming paste, when, if it is desired to remove any of the fat, as for soluble cocoa, it is pressed out through fine cloth. The best roasted Trinidad nibs contain over 50 per cent. fat; the addition of starch lowers the percentage of fat by lowering the quantity of cocoa; it produces a mucilaginous liquid which holds the finely divided cocoa in suspension, causing the uninitiated to think it is dissolved. For soluble cocoas, about half the fat is removed, and the solubility of the remainder is in some cases further increased by the addition of an alkali.

Is Playing Dominoes Gambling?

BRANTFORD, Oct. 6.—W. H. Thuerson was charged at the Police Court this morning with allowing gambling on his premises, the Bingham House, on Sept. 10.

Philip Butler made the complaint. He swore that on Thursday, Sept. 10, he went into the hotel with three other men. They played dominoes for the whisky and a quarter of a dollar a corner. They played for an hour.

Lawyer Heyd asked His Worship if he held playing dominoes an unlawful game. He wished to point out that guessing at beans in a bottle had been held lawful.

The Magistrate: That would require mechanical skill.

Mr. Heyd: Dominoes is a game of skill.

The Magistrate: It goes according to the kind of a hand you hold.

The case was enlarged until Friday.

Private Hospital Burned

ORILLIA, Oct. 6.—The extensive brick premises owned by Dr. W. F. Shaw on the Coldwater road were burned Sunday morning. It was designed for use as a private hospital for surgical cases and the fitting and furnishing was only just completed. Loss about $4500; insurance small. Origin of fire attributed to incendiarism.

Died in the Lodge Room

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Brother P. H. Neild, a machinist, who resides at 45 Bathurst street, came down to visit St. John's Lodge No. 75 and to see a friend of his admitted to the craft. After sitting for 20 minutes or half an hour he rose from his seat and staggered across the room. He was assisted outside, where he sat for a few minutes, and suddenly expired.

Workingmen Denounce the Federation.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—At a meeting of workingmen in Hyde Park to-day the Liberal Federation was denounced for suppressing free speech, neglecting the workingmen and giving precedence to Ireland, and resolutions were adopted declaring that the Liberal party is unworthy of confidence and that a labor league should be formed, in order to secure labor representatives in Parliament. The meeting was attended by several thousand workingmen. Bernard Shaw presided.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The News says: Mr. Gladstone's warning to the Peers is likely to exert a wholesome influence on them. They will probably throw Lord Salisbury overboard, as they did before, when the ship labored and threatened to founder.

A Charleston Carpenter Who Is Wanted

ORANGEVILLE, Oct. 3.—A few months ago the circulation of a number of counterfeit bank bills in this vicinity was reported. Two-dollar Dominion of Canada legal tenders were "raised" by means of pen and ink to represent a ten dollar bill on the "Hamilton Bank." The work was rather clumsily executed, but several of the bills, nevertheless, found their way into circulation and finally got into the hands of local bank officials. The matter was reported to the Attorney General's office at Toronto and Provincial Detective Joseph Rogers was sent up to investigate.

He spent a few days on the case and then swore out a warrant for one Oliver Welsh of Charleston. Accompanied by County Constable Hubbard the detective left Orangeville with the expectation of capturing their man in bed at Charleston, but when they got there the bird had flown; nor has any trace of him since been found. Welsh is a carpenter by trade and a married man. He was addicted to liquor, and for some time past it has been a mystery to the residents of Charleston how he managed to support his family. He is said to have a young daughter who is quite expert at drawing, and it is suspected that her services were called into requisition in the "raising" of the notes. This, however, is only a matter of supposition. Meanwhile, Detective Rogers is after Welsh with both feet.

Hunters on the Trail.

The deer-hunting season opens on the 15th, but two parties of sportsmen have already left town in order to get in a week's fishing before it becomes lawful to chase the fleet-footed deer. Yesterday afternoon Mr. T. Fitzgerald's party, consisting of himself and Messrs. R. M Roy and J D. Collins, started for Ketchecum Lake. This morning at daybreak a large party consisting of Messrs. S. Ray, A. Blade, G. M. Roger, J. Stanger and R. H. Smith, started for Gull Lake and vicinity. Next week they will be joined by Messrs. Thos. Rutherford, Wm. Snowden, Geo. Fitzgerald and S. Clegg. On Monday Mr. Harry Winch will take a party northward.

Stole His Grandmother's Money.

It's a bad boy who will steal from his grandmother. Tommy Tully, an eighteen year old youth, was arraigned before the police magistrate this morning on two charges of theft. Tully's parent's are deed, and he has been living with an aunt on Donegal street. He could never be controlled and has, therefore, got into bad habits. The lad worked at various occupations, but never stayed long in one place. He was accused of stealing $30 from his grandmother, who lives at the corner of McDonel and Donegal streets, on or about the first of July last; also of the theft of fifty cents from Mr. John Sawers last Saturday. To the latter charge he pleaded not guilty, and guilty to the first. Electing to be disposed of summarily, the prisoner was remanded till Monday for sentence.

Sabbath School Institute.

The Sabbath School Institute was continued in St. Paul's church Tuesday afternoon and evening before fair audiences. The programme was carried out as announced, and there was very little discussion, the main addresses occupying the time. Our space is so crowded we cannot give any report of the proceedings further than a mere outline of the programme. In the afternoon Rev. Jno. McEwan spoke on the subject of "The English Bible and the International system of Lessons," and a conference on primary class work was conducted principally between Rev. Messrs. Jno. McEwan and A. McWilliams. In the evening Rev. Mr. McEwan gave another address on "The spirit and process of teaching", which was followed by a conference on Teacher Training led by Mr. Jas. A Hall. The meetings were not as well attended as they should have been. There was much helpful information for the guidance of Sunday School teachers to be learned at the Institute and those who were present were fully repaid for their trouble.

Last Night's Complimentary Concert.

A Gratifying Success—A Good Programme—Pronounced one of the Best Amateur Concerts.

The complimentary concert given to Miss Louise Yokome last night in Bradburn's Opera House was a great success in every way. There was a large attendance of the first citizens of the town, and the programme presented was of high merit, especially under the adverse conditions which came in at the last moment.

Before the concert began Mr. Claxton, the director, made a few preliminary remarks. He felt gratified to see so large, respectable and intelligent an audience present to encourage the young artist, Miss Yokome, who was having so favorable an introduction to the public. It would also be very gratifying to her father, who is taking such pains in developing the unusual talent of his daughter. He spoke of the re-arrangement of the programme at the last moment, and asked the sympathy of the audience, saying that if it came short of expectations, he would, if spared, give a concert of chaste music during the coming winter at a moderate cost, if he had to make up the deficiency, if any, himself.

The first number on the programme was the introductory overture by that excellent musical organization the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra, "L'Italiani in Algieri," which was rendered with much taste, the balance and ensemble being excellent. This was followed by Mrs. W. J. Morrow's rendition of Rubenstein's "Valse Caprice" which, in its brilliancy and vigour suggested Mrs. Scott-Siddons reading "How Rubenstein played the piano." A companion piece to this was her second selection, Chopin's Impromptu, Opus 29, which was capitally handled, the techincal difficulties being overcome with pleasing facility. En passant it may be mentioned that the average concert goer who has not practical knowledge, does not comprehend the weary days or even years of tedious and fatiguing practice, represented by even a short piano or violin selection of classical merit. Miss Strickland opened the vocal part of the programme with Watson's charming song "Yellow Roses," to which she responded with another charming selection. Her second number "Margarita by Lohr, was another treat to the audience, which signified its approval by demanding a repetition which was gracefully given. Miss Strickland made her first appearance before a Peterborough audience last night and scored a great success. She uses her rich mezzo-soprano voice with good taste and judgment and her success last night is a credit to both herself and her instructor Dr. Davies, whose accompaniments contributed in no small degree to the excellent effect of her singing.

The next number was a violin solo by Miss Louise Yokome—De Beriot's 100th composition, "Fantaisie de Ballet," and the young musical debutante acquitted herself with surprising credit. Her tone was full, round and strong, dispelling the idea, as far as she is concerned, at least, that a lady has not strength to give a hall-filling tone; her technique was facile and effective, and her general execution of a high order. Her musical memory was remarked, which enabled her without an error to perform a long, difficult selection with the involved tempo of the accompaniment. She was heartily applauded and recalled, when she give an arrrangement of "The Sprig of Shillelagh," with the rollicking abandon and vim the selection demanded. Miss Yokome should be judged by her first number, for her second was interrupted by the relaxing of her E string, which involved new fingering in most intricate passages, placing her at a great disadvantage, and marring her execution, which was marked by fine taste and delicacy in the passages where her strings were on their good behaviour. Her playing was much assisted by the capital accompaniments given by Mrs. Dann. Mr. Knowles, a very promising baritone appeared to excellent advantage, though suffering from a cold, in the song "Out on the Deep." He developed much power and taste in the presentation of this number, his lower notes being particularly pleasant and effective. He well earned the hearty recall given him by singing in equally good style F. Bevan's "The Girl he left Behind." His second number "Yesterday, to-day and Forever" with violin obligato by Miss Yokome, was sung in a manner to win hearty applause and a recall, to which he responded with a bow. Mr. Knowles has a fine bass voice, which he has well in hand, and if it receives the development by training it deserves, he will take high rank with the best amateur singers. Miss M. Trengloss Stevenson, of London, fully justified the high expectations of the audience. Her first song was "Star of My Heart," with violin obligato by Mr. W. E Leech, which captured the audience and provoked a very hearty recall, to which she charmingly responded. Her singing of "Who'll Buy my Flowers" was a beautiful bit of artistic work. Her intonation was correct, and her taste and judgment co-operated in giving delightful effect to her full, clear, mezzo-soprano voice, with its even range of register. She was enthusiastically applauded, and gave new delight with another delightful song. Miss Stevenson deserves to take high rank in her profession and will always have a hearty welcome in Peterborough. The very pleasing programme was closed with the favorite duet, "Life's Dream is O'er," by Miss Stevenson and Mr. Knowles, and it was, in excellence of execution, characteristic of the rest of the preceding numbers. Mr. Knowles deserves especial credit, taking his part excellently as he did, at a very brief notice. Miss Clarke, organist of St. Andrews', who commendably took Mr. Knowles and Miss Stevenson's accompaniment and at the last moment, also acquitted herself effectively. The piano used on this occasion was a Williams, kindly loaned by Mr. J. W. Crosby.

Many express the opinion that this was one of the best amateur concerts given in the town.

If you are suffering from a feeling of constant tiredness, the result of mental worry or over work, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will promptly cure you. Give them a trial.

New Laundry.

Mr. James Graham, late of the Persian Steam Laundry, is establishing the City Laundry, and is now soliciting orders for work, which he guarantees will be satisfactorily performed. Mr. Graham is supplying himself with the necessary equipment, and will locate permanently in the centre of the town. Meanwhile work is being taken and finished, Mr. Graham being in a position to fill orders to the satisfaction of all.

THE SCHOOLS' CONDITION.

Inspector Tilley's Third Annual Report.

Work Performed and Suggested Improvements—After the Truant Boys—A Business Branch.

At the regular meeting of the School Board Tuesday evening there were present Mr. Chairman Wrighton and Trustees Jas. Stevenson, Jas. McKee, H. Denne, T. E Bradburn, W. G. Ferguson, Peter Hamilton, Jas Kendry, J. J. McBain and D. W. Dumble.

After the the minutes were read and adopted a communication was read from the Department of Education enquiring what the board intended doing with regard to carrying out the improvements called for in the inspector's last report upon the Collegiate Institute building.—Received.

Another letter was read from the department expressing satisfaction with the alterations made in the Institute building, but pointing out that it was necessary to have the High School ground separated from the Public School and the gymnasium transferred from Public School premises to the Institute.—Received.

A letter was read from Dr. Tilley stating that he had found the closets at the West Ward School in an unhealthy condition.—Received.

Mr. Ketcham, musical instructor, asked the board to purchase some new music charts at a cost of about $50.—Received.

The Superintending Engineer reported the steam boiler to be in a fair condition.—Received.

Mr. H. B. Meharry, insurance agent, asked for a share of the fire risks in the gift of the School Board.—Received.

Mr. J. C. Smythe asked for an increase of $100 a year in his salary.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. John Stirling, late principal of the South Ward School, sent in a communication giving his opinion regarding the manner in which the promotion examinations were conducted, suggesting that it was not satisfactory.

A BUSINESS BRANCH.

DR. TILLEY, in a letter read before the Board, said there was a matter not referred to in his report, which he presented in this form. It was a suggestion to set apart a room for the teaching of book-keeping to advanced pupils in the Public Schools, who leave school before they complete their education, for the purpose of fitting them for a business career.—Received.

A number of letters accepting positions on the teaching staff were read and received.

A circular was read containing a notice of meeting of the Provincial Association of High and Public School trustees, which is to be held in Toronto, Nov. 10th.—Received.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

The following report was read:—

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education, Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith submit for your consideration my third annual report on the condition of your Public Schools for the year ending the 30th day of June, 1891.

ACCOMMODATION.

Your Public School accommodation remains as at the time of my last report, but it is gratifying to know that the small building at the Central is to be remodelled, enlarged and fitted up with the Smead-Dowd system of heating and ventilation. It is to be hoped that this will enable the Board to abandon the most objectionable of the basement rooms at the Central as class-rooms. With the exception of the ventilation and the lighting of some of the rooms of the present Institute building, and some defects in the West Ward School, your public school accommodation will be very good indeed.

FURNITURE AND SURROUNDINGS.

The furniture in many of the rooms is new and excellent, but some of the junior rooms are still supplied with seats and desks quite unsuited to the age of the pupils attending them. I feel sure, however, from the intelligent interest taken by the Board in all that pertains to the comfort and well-being of the little one attending our schools, that this will be made right as soon as the Board can see its way clear to do so. The new furniture of a year or two ago has been well taken care of by the teachers of the various rooms, and is now, in most instances, as free from stain or scratch as when first placed in the rooms. Many teachers take a commendable pride in keeping their rooms neat and tidy, and show excellent taste in decorating the windows with flowers, and the blackboards with neatly executed borders, mottoes, etc. The text-book side of education, by which the child mind is stored with useful knowledge, and the child led to concentrate thought, to close application, and to a judicious disposal of time, is certainly very important, but it is not the whole of education. That which tends more directly to character building must not be allowed a secondary place. So much of the plastic period of child life is spent in the school room under the teacher and away from influences, that parents who contribute so freely to provide schools and to pay teachers, have a right to expect that every influence of the school room shall tend to develop the moral and the æsthetic equally with the intellectual faculties of those whose interests are so dear to them.

SCHOOL WORK.—Although badly broken into by sickness, the work of your schools during the year has been quite satisfactory in most of the grades, and in some grades exceptionally good. The confidential remarks on the individual rooms, and the reports on the promotion examinations which are enclosed with this report, render further comments on the work here unnecessary.

The results of the promotion examinations from the Junior IV, and some of the Senior III classes, were disappointing, but as these rooms were not as much crowded as some of the others were during the past term, the light promotions from them will tend to equalize the attendance in the different rooms, and will make unnecessary the formation of another Entrance Class at the beginning of next term. To keep in touch with the annual entrance examinations it will be necessary to make the promotions throughout the Public Schools mainly at midsummer. It will be necessary, however, to have an examination at Christmas for the promotion of a few of the best pupils from each room. I would suggest that the honor certificates earned at the examinations just completed, with those that may be earned at Christmas, be awarded to the winners of them some time during the first half of next year, say at Easter. I shall submit to the Board for approval, before the end of this year, a form of honor certificate to be awarded to the successful candidates who take honor standing. At the midsummer examinations in future the whole class in each room will be expected to write. It will then be in place to make such comparisons on the percentages of pass candidates as may be deemed best, but as only such pupils as the teacher selected wrote at this examination, no such comparisons should be made. A set of the questions used at the promotion examinations accompanies this report.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
W. E. TILLEY,
Inspector of Schools.

Peterborough, Aug. 4, 1891.

MORE LIGHT IN THE SCHOOLS.

MR. STEVENSON said that the original plans for the new school building showed several windows on the east side, but the building as erected showed a dead wall from the eastern elevation. On motion of Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. McBain, the architect was instructed to place two windows in the east side of the north east room.

THE JANITORS' DUTIES.

Mr. PETER HAMILTON enquired whose duty it was to clean out the ink wells in the schools. His little girls came home the other day with their clothes dirtied, and they said they had been cleaning out their ink wells.

The janitors were given to understand, by resolution, that they were expected to do this work.

A BUSINESS BRANCH.

Mr. DUMBLE, speaking to Dr. Tilley's letter regarding the teaching of book-keeping in the schools, said he thought it was a good suggestion, and it could be carried out by opening two rooms of the same grade as Mr. Smyth's to this branch. Mr. Dumble said he would give notice of motion embodying his ideas on this subject, to be presented at the next meeting.

A NEW TEACHER.

Mr. HAMILTON moved, seconded by Mr. FERGUSON,—That the Committee on Appointments be authorized to take the necessary steps to procure a Modern Languages master for the Collegiate Institute, duties to begin January 1st.—Carried.

TRUANT BOYS.

Mr. WM. BRUNDRETTE, station master of the G.T.R., said there were a very large number of boys continually loitering around the station and the streets, and it was our duty to see that these boys were compelled to attend school. He understood a truant officer had been appointed, but it was apparent that no attention was being paid to these boys, who were either truants or were not going to school because the parents did not send them.

Mr. BRADBURN said the truant officer (Mr. Rundle) could not be expected to hunt up truants unless his attention was called to the fact that certain boys were truants.

A desultory discussion followed concerning the duties of truant officers and parents.

Mr. DUMBLE said the class of boys Mr. Brundrette complained of was those whose parents did not send them to school at all. The only way to get at them was to have a truant officer hunt them out on the streets, get their parents' names and prosecute the parents for not sending their children to school.

Mr. BRADBURN proposed that the policemen be appointed truant officers. Dr. Tilley stated that the new school law conferred the rights of truant officers upon all policemen.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Mr. Fessenden, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, suggested that commencement exercises be held some time during this term, say when the new school building was opened, when the diplomas, Nicholls Scholarship and Mr. J. Hampden Burnham's medal might be distributed, addresses made by trustees, exercises held by the pupils, and so on.

The suggestion was considered a good one, and the Principal was authorized to proceed with the necessary arrangements.

BAD DRINKING WATER.

Mr. WALKEY, principal, called the attention of the Board to the fact that the water at the North Ward School was bad.

Mr. KENDRY and Mr. DENNE said the same thing, and the Property Committee was authorized to take steps to have the water works put in.

The Board then adjourned, and immediately met again in Committee of the Whole to consider the private portion of Dr. Tilley's report.

When you need a good, safe laxative, ask your druggist for a box of Ayer's Pills, and you will find that they give perfect satisfaction. For indigestion, torpid liver, and sick headache there is nothing superior. Leading physicians recommend them.

Court Will Open at ten in the Morning.

The Fall Assize Court opens to-morrow at ten o'clock before Chief Justice Armour. His Lordship will reach here from Cobourg at 8:30 a.m. and court will begin at ten o'clock sharp. The juror's summons call for their attendance at 10 a.m. on court day, but in past years it has not been customary for court to open until 1 p.m. Jurors will please note the change in this case and be on hand at the appointed hour.

Housekeeping.

The housekeeper, who is on her feet from morn till night, and who has so many things to worry and perplex her, will be better able to perform the duties which devolve upon her, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Superior Medicine. It quickens the appetite aids digestion, imparts the vigor of health to the weak and nerveless, cures others, will cure you. 1d83-1w41

The Bachelor's Ball.

The young bachelors of Peterborough held a successful hop in the new Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Tuesday evening. About fifty couples "tripped the light fantastic" to the excellent music supplied by Butcher's orchestra of five pieces, Mr. James Coughlin being master of ceremonies. The hall presented a beautiful appearance, being decorated by flags and bunting, the work of Mr. J. J. Turner. An excellent supper was spread in the old Town Hall by Mr. L. Potvin. Dancing was kept up until an early hour, and everything was conducted in an excellent and orderly manner, which reflects the greatest credit on the committee of management, Messrs. M. Costello, J. Johnston, F. Reid and W. Martin.

PARNELL IS DEAD.

The Great Irish Leader Dies Suddenly.

Expires in His Wife's Arms—Death Came the Result of a Chill—Parnell had been Ill for Nearly a Week.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Charles Stewart Parnell, the famous Irishman, died at his house in Brighton last night. His death is said to have been indirectly due to a chill he caught last week and which at first was not regard as being of a serious nature. Mr. Parnell however, became worse and a physician was call in with the result that the patient was ordered to take his bed. This was on Friday last and from that time and finally succumbed at eleven o'clock last night. The exact nature of the disease which caused the death of the Irish leader is not made known at present. From the day he took to his bed, however, the state of Mr. Parnell's health had been such as to necessitate the constant attendance of two physicians; but in spite of their incessant and untiring efforts to prolong or save life, Mr. Parnell gradually sank lower and lower, until he who is entirely prostrated by the shock experienced through her husband's death. It is believed that Parnell's death will result in the reunion of all the members of the Nationalist Party, not only in Ireland but also in the United States.

MR. PARNELL LOST STRENGTH

One of Parnell's Opponents Dead.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 7th.—Coupled with the announcement this morning that Parnell had died last night, was the news that Sir John Pope Hennessy, who in December of last year contested the North Kilkenny election backed by Mr. Parnell's opponents, and defeated the Parnellite candidate, Vincent Scully, by 1,147 votes, was also dead.

Two Brave Young Men.

Presented With Handsome Tokens of Recognition of Their Courage.

Monday was a red letter day for the Indian village of Hiawatha, when one of the young men of the village, Robt. Cowe, was presented with a silver medal of the Royal Humane Society of England, and Richard Doris received a handsome testimonial from the people of that vicinity. These were the young men who played a heroic part in the Rice Lake tragedy of June last. A brief account of the accident appeared in these columns, wherein it was stated that a party of eleven persons left Bawdley in a sailing skiff for their camp down the lake. A squall struck the boat which capsized. Mr. Robt. Foote and his two daughters were drowned. Robert Cowe, one of the occupants of the boat, bravely assisted the others in keeping afloat at the risk of his own life, and Mr. Cragge also acted courageously. However, Cowe's conduct was said to be most marked, it being chiefly owing to his exertions that no more lives were lost. Richard Doris saw the accident from the shore, and in spite of the storm which was raging he pluckily rowed to their rescue and brought the whole party ashore.

Mr. Thackery interested Mr. John Burnham, M.P. in the case, and a silver medal of the Royal Humane Society was procured for Cowe. Meanwhile others had taken an interest in the matter and sufficient money was subscribed to present Doris and Cowe each with a silver watch, suitably engraved. The presentation was made by John Burnham, M.P., who, during the address said he would use his best efforts to procure a medal for Doris. The presentation took place in the Hiawatha church. Chief Paudash, the venerable chief of the tribe, presided, and said a few words. Addresses were also given by Rev. Mr. Cragge, Dr. Shaw and T. Thompson,

The ladies entertained the visitors at tea after the proceedings were over.

Personal.

On the occasion of his visit to Port Hope last Sunday, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was presented with an address by the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of that town.

Mr. Emile Fontaine, director of the Ingres-Coutellier School of Languages branch in Peterborough, has arrived in town to take charge for the winter. He will open an office at once and receive pupils.

Mr. Arthur Amys, of the Bank of Toronto has been temporarily moved to the London branch, his position here being taken by Mr. Alf. Roper, of London. The change is made in order that Mr. Roper may be near his mother, who is very ill. Mr. Amys was in the bank here for three years and made many friends in town.

Sued for Assault.

Patrick C. Crowley, the Otonabee farmer who assaulted Bailiff Chas. Stapleton last June while the latter was discharging his duties, was this morning fined $20 and costs by P. M. Edmison, and commanded to pay the doctors bill incurred, $5 more, with the option of three months in gaol. The money was paid. Crowley pleaded guilty to the charge but made an explanation of his conduct. He said the mortgagees of his goods and chattels told him they had been legally advised that he could hold his property and resist any attempt to carry it off. So when Mr. Stapleton came to distrain for interest on another mortgage he undertook to prevent the seizure of his goods by beating the bailiff with the iron lynch-pin of a waggon. While the explanation was a reasonable one, it could not condone Crowley's conduct, and he was accordingly fined. It is a serious offence in the eyes of the law to offer resistance to an officer who is performing his duties.

Another Landmark Removed.

By the death of Mr. Jas. B. Dunn the town loses one of its oldest citizens. Mr. Dunn was a native of County Tipperary, Ireland, and came to this country 50 years ago, settling in Peterborough when it was a mere village. Mr. Dunn died at the ripe old age of 82 years, leaving a family of four sons and three daughters, all of adult age, to mourn his loss. Deceased was quite a prominent man in Peterborough in his younger days, and, though he could not be expected to live much longer in the natural course of things, his death will be sad enough to his family and many old friends. The funeral takes place from the residence, Simcoe street, Thursday morning at nine o'clock, proceeding to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the R. C. cemetery.

The Royal Templars' Concert.

The weekly concert in the Royal Templars' hall was, as usual, quite a success. Masters Percy and Lister Owens, who are very talented musicians considering their youth, opened with an instrumental duet, which was unanimously encored. Miss Ella Owens, who is ever a favorite with the music loving public, rendered a touching solo with feeling and pathos. Miss Sanderson then gave a reading, the perfect diction and realistic rendering of which were listened to with wrapt attention, after which addresses were delivered by Messrs. Hill and Clarke. Miss Clarke closed with an instrumental solo, ably closing a most pleasant evening. The ladies provide coffee and cakes next Tuesday in addition to the usual programme. No charge.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. P[illegible]OLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine Without Avail—Gave Himself up to die.

Good Wife Suggests Cuticura Remedies—Used Them 7 Months, and is Entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1862-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience.

NEW MILITARY STATIONS PROPOSED FOR CANADA.

Increased Numbers of Imperial Troops A Supposed Murder Mystery Near Brockville Investigated By Government Detectives- Dies Suddenly While [illegible]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The rumor [illegible] received here that the Government intends to increase the number of Imperial troops at Halifax and establish permanent military stations at Quebec and Esquimalt, on the Pacific coast. It was reported here that the step was in contemplation for two purposes, one to protect the new military highway, the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the other to provide British officers with experience in the Canadian climate.

There is no talk of this step being contemplated in the hope of suppressing the annexationist feeling, for it is not believed in England that any general feeling in favor of annexation exists in Canada.

Sir Edward Watkin [illegible] the establishment of military stations along the line of the C.P.R. some years since, but it was then felt by the Government to be unwise both in the interests of Canada and the Empire to take the step suggested. As to the present rumor I cannot find any officials willing to confirm it.

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

Lizzie Higgins Was Not Murdered But Left Her Employment Voluntarily

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Government Detective John Murray returned Wednesday from Brockville, where he has been investigating the facts in connection with the mysterious disappearance of a young woman whom rumor [illegible] had been murdered.

Mr. James Burgess, manager of the Fairknowe Home, Brockville, some time since brought out a batch of young Scotch girls from Glasgow. Among the number was a 16-year-old girl named Lizzie Higgins. On the 29th of June last she was placed with a respectable farmer near Culloden, named Wilson Anderson.

On the 12th of August about 6.30 p.m. she left Anderson's, stating that she intended going to the village to make some purchases at the stores. From that time no trace of her could be discovered although the strictest investigation was instituted by Mr. Burgess and others. As there were a number of suspicious characters working in a quarry in the vicinity foul play was suspected and the Government was asked to investigate.

Detective Murray visited the scene on Saturday, and in a three days investigation succeeded in establishing the fact that the girl had left of her own accord and was in good health. The officer learned that the girl was driven to Cardinal by a butcher named Sullivan, to whom she stated that she was going to prayer meeting. She failed to attend either church or the stores to make her purchases, but next morning she was seen by a young girl [illegible] Railway. A few hours later she crossed the St. Lawrence, where she was seen by a Mrs. Sellars. Pursuing these clues Detective Murray learned that she was employed with a family up the river. Being a free agent, no effort will be made to bring her back. The girl had announced her intention of leaving Anderson's about a fortnight before her disappearance to a Mr. Barber.

Weaver Gets $200 A Seduction Case Rattan v G T R Non-suited.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 8.—The case of Edwin Weaver v. Daniel Ramey, an action brought for $5000 on a charge of slander, was finished yesterday. The plaintiff got a verdict for $200.

Rattan v. G.T.R. was an action for $5000 for the killing of the plaintiff's son at Paris. The judge dismissed the case without letting it go to the jury.

This morning the seduction case came up for hearing and lasted about two hours. The action was styled David Stewart v. George Davidson and was for $1000 damages. The plaintiff is a night watchman and the defendant a knitter in one of the mills. In the month of October last the defendant seduced the plaintiff's daughter, Mary Stewart, aged 42 years, thereby depriving the plaintiff of her services, and putting him to medical and other expenses for which he claimed damages. The defendant denied that he seduced the woman and all knowledge of the affair. The jury after being out a short time brought in a verdict of $400 for the plaintiff.

A slander case, Griffin v. Weaver, is being heard. The defendant circulated reports to the effect that the plaintiff and one Griffin had stolen his syrup, [illegible] his sugar pans and broken his dippers, for which slanderous statement the plaintiff, Emerson Ramey, is suing for $2000.

In the case of Michael Judge, charged with criminally assaulting one [illegible] Cronk, the jury returned a verdict of guilty without retiring. Judge was sentenced to 23 months in the Central Prison.

Pelly Returns to Canada.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A few weeks ago a tourist among the mountains along the Canadian Pacific Railroad met young Pelly, who figured in the famous Birchall murder case in Canada. After the Birchall trial he went to England, but soon returned and has been engaged in an executive capacity during the building of the railroad between Calgary and Edmonton. When the tourists met him in the Selkirk Mountains he was on his way to Vancouver for a vacation.

Another Gift to McGill.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—It is announced that McGill University is the recipient of another handsome gift. Mr. Peter Redpath has announced that it is his intention to erect a library building capable of holding 200,000 books and to cost $100,000. The site for the building has been granted by Mr. Molson.

Muldoon's Trial Postponed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 8.—Muldoon, McKibbon and Abe Abrahams were before the United States Commissioners to-day, but their trial was put over a week. Muldoon's wife, who hastened here when she received word of his arrest, has returned to Toronto.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE HON W H SMITH

He Enjoins that No Visitors Are to See His Dead Body Gendarmes Killed by Poachers Complications Arising Out of the Arrest of Two Executioners

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—All classes of citizens here, following the example of the Czar, who has decided that no court balls are to be given during the coming season, and that the money usually spent for this purpose shall be devoted to the relief of the sufferers by the famine in this country, have resolved to abandon all entertainments during the winter and to contribute the money thus saved to the fund for alleviating the distress of the famishing people. Workmen have decided to give a proportion of their humble wages, and even children will offer their little savings. Collections are to be taken up on every feast day in all the churches. The stream of relief is coming through wide channels, but the system of distribution, it is asserted, is defective.

FIGHT WITH POACHERS

They Kill Three Gendarmes and Wound Many Others.

GHENT, Oct. 8.—Last night the burgomaster of Godveerdeghen, having reason to expect the incursion of a number of large poachers, who he understood intended making a battue on his estate, obtained the assistance of a body of gendarmes to protect his property.

While these latter were having supper in the burgomaster's house a terrible fusilade suddenly burst upon them, shots raining through the windows of the rooms where the gendarmes were seated, three of them being mortally wounded, and many others were slightly injured.

A Berlin shoemaker, one Wenzel, has five wives living. He has been given three years for bigamy.

TURKS AS BRIGANDS.

Railroad Robbers Necessitate Military Escorts on Trains

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 8.—Brigands have completely paralyzed railroad traffic in this country. The companies have united in a general demand for military protection, in default of which they threaten to cease operations.

The Sultan has therefore decided that troops accompany every train in regions where the robbers abound.

A band of brigands yesterday, in spite of the recent diplomatic action of Germany and France and of the efforts of the Porte to suppress brigandage, made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to wreck and rob a passenger train.

The Greek robber chief Anathasius is supposed to have engineered the scheme.

Escorts of Zaptiehs are, it is understood, to accompany trains passing through the most dangerous districts, and the local authorities have been strongly impressed with the necessity of immediately putting an end to such occurrences.

ARREST OF EXECUTIONERS.

A Blunder Which Gave an Algerine Criminal a 24 Hours' Respite

ORAN, Algeria, Oct. 8.—The State Executioneer arrived here on Monday night, accompanied by two assistants, coming with the purpose of preparing for the execution of a native criminal, who was to have been guillotined this morning. The legal and altogether necessary coming of this official gave rise to a humorous and inconvenient incident that amuses the people to-day very much.

When the executioner and his attendants reached here they went to the leading hotel, but, fearing if they were known that they would be annoyed by curiosity seekers and undesirable callers they declined to give their names to the proprietors of the hotel. This very naturally aroused the suspicions of the hotel man, and closely watching his three visitors he discovered that one of them had a German accent and other peculiarities that seemed detrimental to the State, and so he at once came to the conclusion that the men were German spies, and he quickly reported this to the police.

A detective was immediately put on the trail of the strangers and he followed them during all of last evening, until he had seen sufficient of their actions to strengthen his belief in the story that had been told him and warrant him in arresting them, which he promptly did and conducted them to the police station.

YELLOW FEVER VICTIMS.

The British Governor of Honduras Loses Wife and Secretary.

LOUISIANA, La., Oct. 8.—Sir Alfred Maloney, the new Governor of British Honduras, is called upon to bear a heavy burden of grief because through lack of proper advice he reached his post during the sickly summer season. A few weeks ago his wife died and advices received last night announce the death of William Edgar Saunders, his private secretary.

After Lady Maloney's death Mr. Saunders left Belize and went to Punta Gorda, but yellow fever followed him and he fell a victim after four days' illness. Mr. Saunders was an English barrister, 38 years old, and the son of the magistrate of the Thames Police Court, who died last year.

STARVATION'S TALE.

Further Reports from Famine-Stricken Russia—Entire Villages Deserted.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Cable advices from Russia received at the Jewish colony here say the entire states are being deserted on account of the famine. So great is the distress that people have been driven to pillaging each other, first setting fire to villages and then robbing the inhabitants. By the united charities of the Government and people a biscuit a day is allowed every individual in the famine district. The distress is a greater menace to the Government than all the efforts of the Nihilists. The famine may cause a revolution where love of liberty has failed.

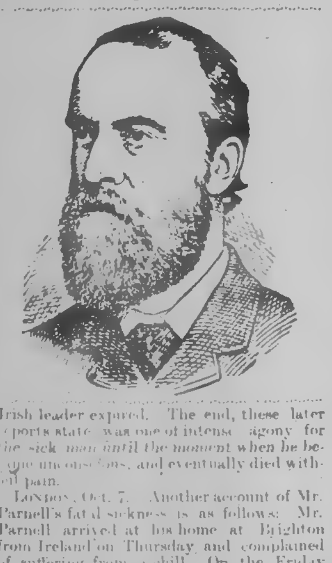
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The officers of the Imperial Guard have decided not to drink champagne at regimental banquets but to contribute the money which would have been so spent to the peasants of the famine stricken districts.

THE DEATH OF PARNELL.

HAD BEEN SUFFERING FROM AN ATTACK OF RHEUMATISM.

Interviews With McCarthy, Michael Davitt and Others—The Dead Man's Failings Forgotten in the Universal Sorrow Caused by His Death.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Parnell, Mrs. Parnell's stepdaughter and the servants, according to the latest accounts of the death of Mr. Parnell, were the only occupants of the house in Walsingham-terrace when the Irish leader expired. The end, these later reports state, was one of intense agony for the sick man until the moment when he became unconscious, and eventually died without pain.



LONDON, Oct. 7.—Another account of Mr. Parnell's fatal sickness is as follows: Mr. Parnell arrived at his home at Brighton from Ireland on Thursday and complained of suffering from a chill. On the Friday following he was unable to leave his bed and his regular physician was summoned. He seems to have considered Mr. Parnell's illness to have been of a serious nature, for he sent for another physician, with whom he held a long consultation.

This consultation was resumed Sunday, when Mr. Parnell was found to be in great pain and apparently growing weaker every hour. His sickness was pronounced to be an attack of acute rheumatism, and every attention was paid to the sufferer. He was carefully and untiringly nursed by his wife, who hardly left his bedside from the moment her husband's illness was pronounced serious. Mr. Parnell, in spite of the care and attention which he received, did not seem to rally from the rheumatic attack and grew weaker and weaker. Several hours before his death Mr. Parnell became unconscious and so remained until he died.

Owing to the suddenness of the Irish leader's illness and the belief of his wife and of the attending physicians that he would recover no friends or relations of his family or that of Mrs. Parnell were present at Mr. Parnell's bedside when he died. Mrs. Parnell and the physicians were alone in attendance.

HIS AGED MOTHER.

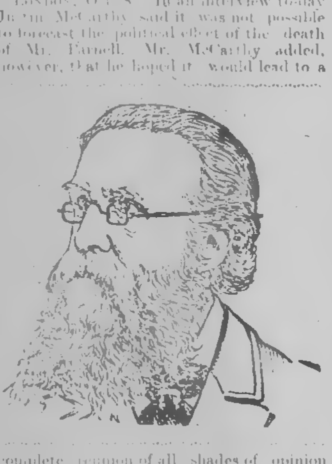
How the News of Her Son's Death Affected Mrs. Parnell.

BORDENTOWN, N.J., Oct. 8.—When Mrs. Delia S. Parnell was informed of the death of her son, Charles Stewart Parnell, she fell from her chair to the floor shrieking and groaning. "Oh, my son, my Charles, they have killed you!" she moaned. She became hysterical, and it was some time before she was sufficiently composed to receive the particulars of her son's death. She is 76 years old and quite feeble and her grief was heartrending. She is now suffering from hysterics. She hopes that the body will be embalmed so that she can see it laid away in the grave.

WHAT MR. MCCARTHY THINKS.

A Complete Reunion of all Shades of Politics Among Irishmen.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—In an interview to-day Justin McCarthy said it was not possible to forecast the political effect of the death of Mr. Parnell. Mr. McCarthy added, however, that he hoped it would lead to a complete reunion of all shades of opinion among Irishmen in general and in the Irish Parliamentary party in particular. Certainly he said it would not hinder the progress of autonomy, or in other words of the movement for the self-government of Ireland.



Mr. McCarthy said he believed all feeling of hostility to Mr. Parnell, of hostility between individual members of the Irish Parliamentary party would be swallowed up and completely disappear in the feeling of genuine and universal regret which was experienced among Irishmen at the death of Mr. Parnell.

"Three weeks ago," Mr. McCarthy continued, "we had a long and friendly conference. This conference took place at my house at Chelsea and we mutually agreed to draw a part of the Paris fund from the bankers in the French capital in order to defray the expenses of registering which were incurred before the split in the party.

"Before the divorce proceedings," said Mr. McCarthy, "I was a close friend of Mr. Parnell, whom I admired intensely. Mr. Parnell consulted me in regard to the lamentable manifesto and I used all efforts in endeavoring to prevent him from issuing it to the public. My idea in trying to prevent him from so doing was that the issuance of the manifesto would make his further leadership of the Irish party an utter impossibility."

It was evident Mr. McCarthy and the members of his party were deeply affected at Mr. Parnell's death and that all feeling of animosity to the great Irish leader had sunk beneath the flood of sorrow caused by his sudden and untimely death.

Continuing, Mr. McCarthy said that those who followed Mr. Parnell's leadership until the last moment had done so purely out of a spirit of personal devotion to the Irish leader, adding: "With the removal of his personality our separation as a party ceases. Home Rule does not depend any longer upon any one man. Mr. Parnell himself carried it to that point. His work, so far as it depended upon himself alone, was done. The cause stands now beyond the reach of danger of any kind."

THE NEWS IN DUBLIN.

The Divorce Troubles of the Dead Man Forgotten in the Universal Sorrow.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—The general feeling in the leading political clubs in both Great Britain and Ireland is that the death of Charles Stewart Parnell will heal the breach which has so long existed in the ranks of the Irish Parliamentary party. There was great excitement in the city when the report of Parnell's death spread among the masses. One of the results was a great rush for the various newspaper offices in endeavors to get a confirmation of the startling information.

The offices of the National League were fairly besieged with an excited concourse of warm-hearted Irishmen, who had forgotten all about the divorce troubles of Parnell in their desire to express sympathy with the great leader of the Irish people, who had fought so many battles for them in behalf of Home Rule. Many a tear-stained face was seen among the crowds as the good qualities of the dead man were referred to and when his efforts in the cause of Irish independence were mentioned.

Prominent Parnellites who have been interviewed upon the subject of Parnell's demise declare it will not affect their position, and that they intend to continue independent opposition to the party which has fought against their leader.

The members of Parliament and others who remained followers of Mr. Parnell in spite of everything at a meeting to-day appointed Pierce Mahoney and John Redmond a committee to proceed to Brighton to-night in order to be of all the assistance possible in making the arrangements for the funeral of Mr. Parnell.

The corporation of Dublin has been summoned to a meeting for to-morrow, at which sympathy with Mrs. Parnell will be expressed and a call will be issued for a public funeral.

MICHAEL DAVITT.

Parnell's Death Will Put an End to Unhappy Dissensions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Michael Davitt regards either Sexton or Dillon as the successor of Mr. Parnell as the official head of the Irish movement. One very important effect of Mr. Parnell's death, Mr. Davitt thought, would be the release of the $200,000 of Irish funds now tied up in the hands of Paris bankers. A part of this money would be devoted, he said, undoubtedly toward the aid of evicted tenants and the remainder used by the Irish parliamentary party for the expenses of the general election.

"My opinion about Parnell," said Mr. Davitt, "now, is one of unmixed sorrow at his sudden death. The occasion demands the expression of deep regret that he should have been cut off at a comparatively early age. We should remember only the good work which he performed for Ireland in a career of usefulness and distinction for his country. His recent unhappy conduct will, I am sure, be forgotten by a grateful people. It was a sad episode in his political life, which will not linger in the memory of Ireland side by side with his great services. His death will put an end to the unhappy dissensions by which the Irish movement has been torn during the last 12 months. Those who followed Mr. Parnell in his warfare against the majority of the Irish party did so in the majority of cases out of a feeling of personal loyalty to a man who has commanded their fealty through the stormiest period of the Land League and Home Rule fights and not from any feeling that he was right in his struggle with those whom duty and patriotism compelled to depose him from the leadership. Now that his lips are sealed in the silence of death, I feel that our ranks will be closed up again and we will have a solid movement for Irish national self-government.

"Mr. Parnell's successor in the leadership will be a secondary consideration. Justin McCarthy did not desire the post, which was forced upon him. He would gladly have given it up at any time since if his doing so could have put an end to dissension. Now that a sad event terminates the domestic quarrel within the party Mr. McCarthy will doubtless demand a release. We have done with one-man power in the Irish National movement forever. The leader of the future will be democratic, not aristocratic. He must be the mouthpiece and not the master of the movement for Home Rule. If McCarthy consents to continue it will, in my opinion, be the most prudent policy to pursue. He has never uttered a word in the recent controversy which could give offence to one of Mr. Parnell's followers. He is a man of conciliatory manners, and as the fight for Home Rule is now nearing a successful close such a man will fulfil all the necessary qualifications of Parliamentary leadership. But whether the future leader be McCarthy, Sexton or Dillon it does not matter very much now that the Irish race are about to be reunited. That unity will make even brighter and more hopeful still the already bright prospects of Home Rule."

Notes.

It is believed that Parnell's death will result in the reunion of all the members of the Nationalist party, not only in Ireland, but in the United States.

At the meeting of the National Federation at Dublin yesterday David Sheehy, M.P., submitted a motion that the meeting should adjourn in consequence of the death of Mr. Parnell. The motion was adopted.

A news agency states that among his complicated private affairs Mr. Parnell left unsettled the question of custody of his wife's younger children. "It is no secret," says the same authority, "that Mr. Parnell claimed to be the father of the two youngest children of Mrs. O'Shea.

The Pope Insecure in Rome.

ROME, Oct. 8.—The Pope has instructed the papal nuncios abroad to present an identical note to the governments to which they are accredited on the recent disorders in Rome. This note will hold that these disorders are evidence of the insecurity of the papal position in Rome.

DANGER FOR THE WHEAT CROP.

The Wet Weather Injuring it in the Shock –Much Alarm Felt.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 8.—The alarming conditions of the wheat crop in North Dakota, caused by the failure of the farmers promptly to thresh their grain, is causing much uneasiness in grain circles. The continued wet weather is having a damaging effect on the grain still in shock, which, in many localities, amounts to nearly one-half of the entire yield. The damage is by no means confined to any one locality, but extends over nearly the entire State. The largest amount of damage has been done in the Red River Valley, where it is feared all the wheat still in shock will be not only damaged but completely ruined.

A Toronto Fire.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Fire last evening occasioned $5000 damage to Peuchen's paint works on Eastern avenue.

No Truth in It.

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—On Sept. 28 several papers published a story to the effect that Dr. W. F. Metcalf, a physician living in West Fort street, Detroit, had deserted his wife, a young woman formerly [illegible] Knox of Belleville, Ont., to whom he had only been married a short time, and had taken up his residence with the widow of Dr. Tiffany. There is not the slightest truth in the story.

A 500 lb Bear.

LINDSAY, Oct. 3.—William Halladay of Head Lake succeeded in trapping one of the largest bears ever seen in this locality. The animal's weight was 500 lbs. and his hide measured 6 feet 6 inches and 4 feet 10 inches in width. The animal had been doing considerable damage among sheep.

The Riots and the Next Papal Conclave

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The Moniteur says that owing to the recent exhibition of popular feeling aroused in Rome by the offensive act of a French pilgrim who recently visited the tomb of the late King Victor Emanuel in the Pantheon, the questions of the Pope leaving Rome and holding the next papal conclave abroad have been re-opened.

The Wapping Trouble.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The labor troubles at Wapping continued to-day. The lightermen have joined in the block and are greatly assisting in stopping work. The wharf owners are supported by the shipping federation and they contend that they will win in the long run.

Renounced the Throne.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—It is reported that the heir to the crown of Roumania has renounced the throne and insists on marrying Mademoiselle Vacarescu. The king has invited to the capital the youngest son of Leopold of Hohenzollern with the idea of making him the heir to the throne.

Numerous Crafts Lost.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—A violent storm occurred off the coast to-day. Despatches from Brest report the loss of numerous small craft with several lives.

King William II.

STUTTGART, Oct. 7.—The new king, William II, presided at a Cabinet council held here to-day. In all the streets of this city the people have draped their houses with mourning emblems as a mark of sorrow for the death of the late king.

Just as Good.

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS

Attracted great attention and furnished excellent sport. The judges were Messrs. C. Nixon, Port Hope, A. P. Morgan and H. C. Winch, Peterborough, and W. O'Brien, Millbrook:

Named race—Entries, Dr. Fishers "Little Vic," J. Perrin's "Canada Southern," J. Fisher's, Sr, "Flora," James Bullied's "McGinty." The first heat took first place and held it to the wire.

The second heat "Canada Southern" started with the lead but "Vic" got her nose ahead at the half mile, "McGinty" and "Flora" meanwhile having a little supplementary race in the rear, "Flora" forged to the front and "down went McGinty to the bottom of the list."

The third heat brought Canada Southern to the front and Vic losing her feet and falling behind the field but she came in second to Canada Southern, McGinty being a fair third.

The fourth heat "Little Vic stole first place from Canada Southern, Flora third, and McGinty still at the bottom.

This is the summary:

Little Vic	1	1	2	1
Canada Southern	2	2	1	2
Flora	4	3	4	3
McGinty	3	4	3	4

For the 2.40 trot there were entered R Croft's Billy C., Cobourg; Wm. Croft's Hazel Mac, and Bert Thompson's Indian Billy, Peterborough. The first heat Billy C took the lead and held his place to the home stretch on the second half, when the horses evened up, but Billy C broke and Hazel Mac got first place, Indian Billy second, and Billy C behind.

The second heat.—Billy C led at the start, with Hazel Mac close at hand, but Indian Billy won the heat, with Hazel Mac a good second, and Billy C third

The third heat.—Indian Billy led to the first half, when Hazel Mac, trotting grandly, shot to first place, winning the heat, with Indian Billy a good second, and Billy C a good third.

The last heat "Indian Billy" led out with "Hazel" after him, and "Billy C" third. But he took second place, and there was a game race for the rest of the heat. "Billy C" while in the lead, broke, and the little Indian took the heat and the race, with "Hazel" second and "Billy C" third. This is the summary:

B Thompson's "Indian Billy"	1	1	2	1
W. Croft's "Hazel Mac"	2	2	1	2
R. Croft's "Billy C"	3	3	3	3

The running race comprised two game heats, between M. Connor's "Vista" and R. Haw's "Vic," who won the race, but not without working for it.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Femp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

The Cheese Market.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board Tuesday the September and October makes of 49 factories were boarded. Liverpool was quoted at 46s. The highest offer made, 10c. by Mr. Bird, was refused, and the board adjourned for a week. Several factorymen expressed their intention of selling their cheese in the meantime. Before bidding began there was some discussion concerning Westwood, Ormonde and Bobcaygeon factories, which were not represented and it was reported had sold off the board, contrary to rules. Mr. Cluxton moved, seconded by Mr. Bird, that the rule imposing a fine of $20 upon factories selling off the board without permission, be enforced in this case, and the factories erased from the board. The resolution did not appear to meet with favor and the matter was dropped.

It was omitted to mention in our last report that the President replied to some complaints made regarding a previous meeting. It was claimed that the President delayed so long in calling off a bid for the whole Board that an advance was made on selections in which Keene factory and one or two others got a sixteenth better, while the rest of the Board subsequently had to accept a lower figure than had been offered for the Board. It was hinted Mr. Drummond was looking to the interests of his particular factory rather than to the Board as a whole. Mr. Drummond stated that he had waited as he did because Mr. Cluxton, the buyer, had asked him to wait while he considered making a better offer. In view of Mr. Cluxton's request he could not have done otherwise. This explanation was satisfactory to the salesmen. Mr. Drummond has never before been suspected of partiality in his dealings with the Board, and his honorable conduct was fully vindicated in this connection.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Newspaper Wins.

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—The suit of Wadel-Ward against Mr. E. McKay, publisher of The Ridgetown Plaindealer, for libel, reached a conclusion yesterday at the assizes and resulted in a verdict for defendant, the jury finding that the doctor-lecturer had sustained no loss and was entitled to no damages. During his cross-examination the Doctor admitted that he had borrowed money from Principal Grant and Rev. Mr. McGillivray, which he had failed to repay. Mr. McKay is to be congratulated on the outcome of the trial, the more so from the fact that he repeatedly apologized and explained that the paragraph was published without malice. Apologies were not salve sufficient to cure the doctor's lacerated feelings, however, and he pressed the suit with the result stated.

An Old Church Burned.

SEAFORTH, Ont., Oct. 7.—The old Baptist Church, which has been used as a cooper shop of late years and more recently occupied with lumber and egg cases for D. D. Wilson, was destroyed by fire at 12.30 to-night. Loss unknown, insurance $1000. Supposed cause incendiarism.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

THE LATE CHARLES STEWART PARNELL.

The announcement of the death of the great champion of the Irish cause, caused great surprise on account of there being no premonition of such an event. A remarkable feature associated with his death is the sudden death at about the same time of other prominent men. Balmacede the South American revolutionist came to a sudden and violent death. Boulanger, the erratic French agitator, ended his own career a day or two ago, W. H. Smith, the tradesman leader of the Tory party in the House of Commons, went out on the same tide that carried away Parnell and John Pope Hennessy the recent opponent of Parnell's leadership in Carlow entered the next world with the great Irish leader. It is a great pity that so gifted a man, so eminently fitted to lead men, so brilliant and solid a parliamentarian, should have blighted his career by a moral obliquity that alienated the loyalty of the great body of the people to whose interests he has devoted so many years of brilliant and arduous effort. But he is not the only great man who has yielded to the wiles of a pretty woman, and, in the infatuation of the moment, compromised a cause that affected the highest interests of a nation; and, whatever condemnation may visit his guilt, history will still inscribe his name on the roll of great patriots, as a man of pure, unselfish motives, fighting manfully the battles of an oppressed people, with no greater hope of reward than the triumph of the cause he had at heart. His memory will be enshrined in the hearts of the Irish people for all time to come, as one of the patriotic band, who have fought their battles and striven for the triumph of their rights. One greatly to be desired good may come out of Parnell's death at this time, in the unification of the warring factions of the Home Rule party, which recent events have created.

A New York Wedding

The New York Sun of October 1st contains a hymeneal announcement which will be read with interest here, the bridegroom, Mr. Edward Moise, having been a former resident of Peterborough. He will be remembered best in Peterborough through his connection with the Auburn Woolen Mills. He left Peterborough about ten years ago. Following is the wedding paragraph:—A quiet wedding, with a very pretty choral service, took place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Transfiguration, in East Twenty-ninth street, near Fifth avenue. The bride was Miss Clara Lyon, the daughter of Mrs. Catharine Lyon, who formerly resided in Seventh avenue, Prospect Heights, Brooklyn, and the bridegroom Mr. Edward Moyse, of Marcellus, N. Y. The bride, a tall, handsome brunette, was led to the altar and given away by her brother, Mr. Charles Lyon. She wore a beautiful reception gown of white corded silk and a small white bonnet trimmed with white ostrich tips. Instead of a bouquet, she carried an ivory-bound prayer book, from which the marriage service was read by the Rev. George Clarke Houghton of Holy Trinity church, Hoboken, a nephew of the rector of the Church of the Transfiguration. Miss Bessie Mead was the maid of honor. Her dress was of white cloth and embroidered chiffon, and a large white cloth hat, trimmed with white plums, completed the costume. Mr. William E. Paton of Sherbrooke, Canada, attended the bridegoom as best man, and Messrs. William P. Howe and James Emmons of this city were the ushers.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the new home of the bride's mother, 13 East Thirty-second street. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Luke K. Lockwood, Miss Lookwood, Mr. Arthur T. Sullivan, Mr. Theodore Vail, Mr. Howard Randolph, Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Andrew Paton of Sherbrooke, Canada; Mrs. W. F. Myron of St. Paul, Minn.; Miss Winifred Moyse of Marcellus, and Miss Lockwood of Riverside, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Moyse will pass their honeymoon in the west.

Married on the Fly.

The Calgary Tribune says:—The solemnization of a marriage at 4 o'clock in the morning is calculated to arouse in the imaginative mind ideas of a romantic flight from home on the part of the bride, pursued by the infuriated parent, and the final triumph of the eloping lovers. The marriage which was celebrated this morning by Rev. Mr. Dean, while it was by no means devoid of all elements of romance, had, however, none of the thrilling features attending it which of old preceded a flight to Gretna Green. Some years ago the fact of a young lady making a railway journey of two thousand miles to meet and wed the man of her choice would have excited no little interest on the part of the community. These occurrences, however, are now less rare, and are taken pretty much as a matter of course. When Mr. Dean was asked, then, to await the arrival of the express this morning and fasten the nuptial knot between Miss Ruth Mitchell, of Warkworth, Ont., and Mr. E. S. Mix, he readily complied, but felt no greater interest than if a young couple from Sheep Creek had run into town to ask him to make them man and wife. The train was an hour late in arriving, but the young lady was aboard, and the ceremony was at once performed.

When you need a good, safe laxative, ask your druggist for a box of Ayer's Pills, and you will find that they give perfect satisfaction. For indigestion, torpid liver, and sick headache there is nothing superior. Leading physicians recommend them.

A Port Hope Wedding.

The following paragraph will be interesting reading for the many friends of the young lady here. The Port Hope Guide says:—At an early hour this (Wednesday) morning St. Mary's Church was filled with the beauty and fashion of Port Hope, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Elyth Lynch, neice of Rev. M. Lynch, to W. A. Fitzpatrick, Esq., of Chillicothe, Missouri. The ceremony was conducted by Father Lynch. Mr. Thomas Kelly, of Peterborough, an old friend of the family, gave the bride away. Mr. John Ryan assisted the groom; Miss Ellen Delaney, of Peterborough, performed the same service for the bride. The bride looked most lovely, arrayed in blue silk, an elegant bridal veil, and a profusion of orange blossoms; the bridesmaid was arrayed in a gown of pink nun's veiling and also looked charming. The bridal presents were numerous, elegant, valuable and useful. After the wedding breakfast at the parsonage, the happy couple left by the limited express for their future home in Missouri, amid showers of rice and with the best wishes of the numerous friends of the bride for their future happiness.

Cold School Children.

The reconstruction of the new central school building has deranged the heating apparatus that furnished the heat to the larger building, and the Smead-Dowd system for the new building is not yet in working order. Consequently the pupils and teachers in both buildings in this cold, raw weather do not pursue their studies under conditions favourable to study or, indeed, to health. The temporary use of stoves seems to be warranted, in order to obviate the injurious results that may arise from sitting in a damp chilly atmosphere. The sudden change in the weather may find some children without warm underclothing, a circumstance that emphasises the demand for some heat in the school rooms. Apart from the danger of taking serious colds, children shivering in their seats are not in a condition to either keep order or profit from the instruction imparted, however well presented.

The Cheapest and the Best.

"Indigenous Bitters" are the cheapest Bitters which have ever been offered to the public, because instead of buying a preparation all ready put up, one can buy the ingredients for making them at the market price. For instance, with a box of three bitters which cost 25 cents, you can make three or four bottles similar to those which sell for one dollar; therefore with the package which you would pay for one bottle you can make twelve or fifteen bottles.

THE JUDGE'S CHARGE.

HIS LORDSHIP in addressing the Grand Jury informed them of their duties concerning the single criminal case which had been sent up for trial, and their examination of the county gaol.

A SEDUCTION CASE.

The first case called was Hunter vs. Crowe, an action for seduction, in which John Hunter, of Dummer, brought action against Taylor Crowe, a young man of the same township, to recover $2,000 damages for the seduction of the plaintiff's daughter, the plaintiff claiming that a child was born on 22nd August of which defendant was the father.

Mr. E. B. Stone, for the prosecution; Mr. W. R. Riddel and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the defence.

John Hunter, the plaintiff, a man 70 years of age, testified he had lived in Dummer township for about 50 years. He had a family of eight children, of whom Catharine, the girl said to have been seduced was one. His family was intimate with the family of the defendant, there being intermarriages and frequent visits between them. His daughter Catharine had always lived with him. A short time ago Catharine gave birth to a child. A doctor's bill of $15 was incurred, and besides the girl was unable to attend to the household duties she performed when she was well, and he was saddled with the support of the child.

Cross-examined by Mr. Riddell, witness said he did not know anything about this case until the writ had been issued. His daughter did not tell him until afterwards of her intimacy with Crowe. It was his daughter and his son-in-law Moore who took the first action. This was not the first time his daughter had a child. She had another child now 7 years of age. His daughter was 28 years of age and Crowe about 22. Witness never heard any one say anything against the character of his daughter. He had never seen her with Crowe.

To MR. STONE—At the time the writ was issued I was sick with a stroke of paralysis.

CATHERINE HUNTER, the young woman in the case, was the next witness. Miss Hunter is a not unprepossessing looking young woman, 28 years of age. She appeared to feel her position keenly, and kept her face partially concealed by the shade of her broad rimmed hat and handkerchief, and swore that Taylor Crowe was the father of the child she bore on Aug. 22nd. When evidences of her trouble became apparent to her, she told Crowe of it, and he said it would easily be got rid of by taking medicine. He gave her medicine to take but took only a very little of it. She said Crowe brought her medicine on three occasions and told her she must take it, and that if he were her he would commit suicide before he would bear the disgrace. He told her the contents of the bottles were secret. She took a little bit, but as it had the effect of giving her symptoms of convulsions she took no more.

Cross-examined by Mr. Riddell, witness said she had a previous child by John Darling. She kept company with Darling for three years, with frequent intimacies. She was 21 years old when she had her first child, and had first improper relation with Darling when she was 18 years old. Since that period she was with no one until she was 26 year old, when one night she was stopping at a neighbors house, Crow came to her bedroom. She did not invite him, she said, nor did she send him away. In her cross-examination witness admitted having invited him up to her room in her own house, and to having frequently met him at Stony Lake and other places. A young man named Ed. Simley worked at her fathers places, in October or the beginning of November, but she denied having had any criminal intimacy with him.

Witness denied having had any intercourse with any other men. The action in this case was first taken by her brother-in-law Moore, with whom also she denied any criminal intimacy. She did not have any intimacy with Crowe after the 1st of December. It was several weeks after this he gave her the medicine.

To Mr. Stone, witness denied having said she had told Crowe to take off his boots before he came up stairs to her room so as to make no noise. Witness said the meetings with Crowe were at his instigation.

To Mr. Riddell, witness said she did not observe whether Crowe had his boots on or not.

DR. GOLDSMITH gave evidence as to the attendance upon the girl after the birth, and thought there was nothing unusual in a woman having a child on the 22nd of August who as a result of cohabitation either the first of December previous or the beginning of November.

FRANK DARLING gave evidence as to the circumstance of Taylor Crowe going home with Miss Hunter on the night of the first of December last year.

To Mr. Riddell, witness said Miss Hunter had not a reputation for chastity. He had seen her kind of forcing herself on Crowe coming out of church and other places. She would catch him by the arm and force her presence on him.

To Mr. Stone, witness repeated his statement that the girl bore a loose reputation in the neighbourhood, but could not recollect the names of any persons who had given her the reputation.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

EDWIN SMILEY, the young man referred to before as having worked for Mr. Hunter, said he had been intimate with Miss Hunter about the end of October or beginning of November last year. His version of the circumstances was that Miss Hunter came in to him and forced her affections on him. Witnesses' evidence was not shaken on cross-examination.

JOHN DARLING, of Dummer, said there was lots of talk about Miss Hunter's reputation, some for and some against her.

TAYLOR CROWE, the defendant, denied having had connection with Miss Hunter on the night of the 1st of December last. The last time they were intimate was on the night of October 16th, the night of the Norwood fair. Witness said he had not been with her for a year and a half previously since the time when they were at Stony Lake in 1889. After that he went away to the Cavalry school at Quebec. Their improper relations first began about four years ago at the neighbor's house mentioned in the girl's evidence, and was repeated several times. He was eighteen years old at the time. On the night of December 1st he saw her home, but it was bitter cold, and they did not stop by the roadside as the girl stated. As to the medicine, he said he got the medicine from a drug store in Peterborough, because she asked him to get a prescription filled, and took it to her. He did not learn of her pregnancy until March. Witness denied Miss Hunter's allegations concerning the medicine, and said she did not tax him with being father of the child.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stone witness said that Miss Hunter rather seduced him.

After counsel had addressed the jury, His Lordship charged them, saying that the word seduction did not exactly convey the meaning of this action. If the jury was satisfied there was sexual intercourse between the defendant and the plaintiff's daughter, that that sexual intercourse produced pregnancy, and that pregnancy resulted in the birth of a child, then there was cause for damages for actual loss and expense incurred and humiliation suffered. The law gives the girl's father the right of action. His Lordship briefly reviewed the evidence and the jury was dismissed.

In about an hour the jury returned with a verdict in favor of the defendant. His Lordship, however, deprived the defendant of costs.

A CASE SETTLED.

The case of Crosby vs. English, an action to recover a piano or price thereof, was settled, judgment being entered by consent for plaintiff without costs. Hatton & Wood for plaintiff; Jno. Burnham, Q.C., for defendant.

The Grand Jury returned true bills against Wm. Hull, charged with the burglary of Mr. R. C. Thompson's premises and with the larceny of a gold watch. The prisoner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Advertising Creditors.

Judge Rose Gives His Opinion on Collecting Agencies.

Justice Rose has just delivered judgment in an interesting case, Green vs. Minnes, tried before him without a jury at Kingston. The plaintiffs, John Green and wife, complained that the defendants published a certain advertisement headed "Accounts for Sale by the Canada Collecting Company," in which advertisement appeared the names of several persons, among others the plaintiff, Mrs. Green, in the following words:—"Mrs. J. Green, Princess street, dry goods bill, $59.35." The defendants, Burns & Minnes, were the alleged creditors of Mrs. Green, and the other defendant was the manager of the collecting company. It was alleged by the plaintiffs that the defendants falsely and maliciously printed and published and caused to be posted up and exhibited in conspicuous places in Kingston certain printed placards or bills containing the libellous statement referred to. Mrs. Green's husband was made a plaintiff complaining that the publication respecting his wife was one tending to degrade and disgrace him.

The learned judge finds as a fact that Mrs. Green was indebted to Minnes & Burns in part of the sum named, viz., $24 33. He then remarks as follows:—

I have no doubt that the publication of the advertisement was calculated to bring Mrs. Green into financial discredit, and that it was, in fact, a representation that she was indebted to the defendants, and that she was either unwilling or unable to pay, because, I think no one seeing the advertisement would doubt that the creditor had exhausted all means of recovering payment before seeking to advertise the account for sale. . . . Finding the facts in this case as a jury and bringing to bear such knowledge as I may deem to be common knowledge, I think that seeing such an advertisement would convey to my mind the meaning that the person named in it was indebted; that the creditor had been unable to obtain payment of the debt; and that he was willing to sell the claim to any one who might, as a matter of speculation, be willing to try his chances of making the collection. I think it rather implies that the debtor is able to pay but is unwilling. . . . . I think that the plaintiff, Mrs. Green, cannot complain if any one, reading the document, should have taken the meaning that I have suggested, because such meaning is supported by the facts . . . . . . I think neither the motive of the creditor nor that of the debtor may be inquired into in such an action as the present; that the only inquiry I have to make is whether the indebtedness existed and whether the creditor was exercising a legal right in advertising the claim for sale. I am of the opinion that an indebtedness, in fact existed, although possibly not to the amount claimed, and that the creditors had a perfect right in law to advertise that claim for sale, although their motive for doing so was to coerce the debtor into paying a claim which otherwise the creditors were unable to realize. I am at a loss to understand how the advertising of the claim could be to this particular debtor a means of coercion. The threat to advertise might be, but when the advertisement was once issued and posted up, then the injury was done and the motive to pay was removed. · · · Finding, as I do, that the plaintiff, Mrs. Green, has no cause of action, I have not to consider the somewhat novel claim on the part of the husband, that he is damified because the account was advertised as being due by Mrs. J. Green. · · · The action must be dismissed with costs.

Mr. R. S. Wright, of Kingston, representing the Canada Collecting Co., is in town for the purpose of establishing a Peterborough agency.

Conscience!

An Important Object to Cultivate—Avoid Those Who Have no Moral Principle!

We should at all times endeavor to cultivate conscience. It is an important object in every department and stage of moral education. The strength of this principle, as an active element of character, differs greatly in different individuals. Conscience is a conviction that certain actions are right and others wrong, the sense of duty, moral principle.

The need of a proper cultivation of conscience is apparent to us every day. At this time we will merely mention two classes of men who need a certain cultivation of conscience—a training that will enable them to distinguish right from wrong.

The compounders of certain patent medicines and nostrums, which are given to the public as cures for all diseases that flesh is heir to, are men void of conscience, principle or morality. They deserve severe censure and condemnation, as their remedies, in every case, aggravate disease and suffering.

Then we have a certain class of men who advocate the continuance of the obsolete and condemned methods of cure. Many of them have been educated in the old ruts of medical knowledge, and have not the courage to cast old formulæ aside.

These people should be shunned by the nervous, weak, sleepless, rheumatic and dyspeptic. Such sufferers have found that advanced science has given them a preparation that cures, a remedy that is unfailing in good results. The Christian world looks on and wonders; and all good people have blessed the day that gave them Paine's Celery Compound. Many worthy people have considered the cures miraculous, and have become amazed at the grand efficacy of this wondrous medicine. Try Paine's Celery Compound, poor sufferer, and find the desire of your heart—new life, strength, robustness, happiness and long life.

A Most Attractive Sale.

Some people, whenever they see the advertisement of a bargain, mark down or reduction sale, at once look upon it as a humbug. They may be perfectly correct in some cases, but when you stop and consider that sometimes the aforesaid advertisement is signed with the name of a firm that has the confidence of the public and enjoys a reputation for honesty and fair dealing, you must realize that the firm could not afford to advertise that they were prepared to sell first class goods at a reduction unless they really intended to do so. This is the identical case with Mr. J. J. Sheehy. Since October 1st his store has been crowded every day. People have read his advertisement, examined his stock, purchased large parcels and received the promised reduction of 5 per cent. discount on every parcel amounting to or over $1. New goods are being opened up every day, the latest arrivals being Irish linens, mantle cloths and a beautiful selection of sealettes. The public are invited to inspect Mr. Sheehy's windows on Saturday night next. dw

The Greatest Quintette Club.

The Albany (N. Y.) Evening Journal thus refers to the Mendelssohn Quintette Club. It appears in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday evening 16th:—"The members of this old organization are not only complete masters of the instruments they play, but render their selections with a harmony of action almost perfect. The club was received with great enthusiasm by music lovers, who insisted on many encores. In the solo numbers the skill of the artists was effectively displayed." Those who desire to hear the the best music that ever visited the town, will make no engagement that will interfere with attendance at this concert.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

LEDA LAMONTAGNE CONVICTED OF ARSON

Mining Convention at Sault Ste. Marie—Officers Elected and a Platform Adopted—A Long List of Accidents in Various Ontario Towns

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Oct. 9.—The mining convention held here yesterday and to-day was a very large and representative meeting, all important mining points being represented. The Ontario mining and timber policy was fully discussed and party lines abolished [illegible]. The utmost harmony marked the deliberations of the convention.

Resolutions were adopted praying for a repeal of the royalty and other clauses in the act, which it was urged is proving so fatally against the mining interests of the country.

Denunciations from all sides were heard from pioneers of the mining development against any and all laws passed having incorporated therein any clauses of a restrictive tendency.

An association to be known as the Provincial Mining Association of Ontario was formed with the following provisional officers:

President—James Conmee.
First Vice-President—James Stobie.
Second Vice-President—Capt. J. S. Shews.
Secretary—John McKay.
Treasurer—Duncan Bole.

The board of directors include Arthur Harvey, W. Hamilton Merritt, John Taylor, E. E. Morris and H. W. Darling of Toronto.

Numerous letters and answers were read by the secretary. 90 per cent. were in the affirmative to most of the questions. About 7 per cent. were in favor of creating Algoma into a new province as the best solution of the difficulty. These resolutions were passed:

No royalty.

No export duty on nickel, pig and minerals.

For actual settlers and explorers, price of all mineral lands $2 per acre.

Local Crown Lands agents only to sell mining lands, and their salary to be partly by way of commission [illegible].

Land grants be made to colonization railways similar to that given by Dominion Government, and land or money grant to district roads.

A liberal appropriation to be made to secure a mining display at the Chicago World's Fair.

The new province question, after full discussion, was deferred until next meeting of convention.

HE LACKED THE NERVE

After Viewing the Suicide's Jumping Place He Recanted.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 9.—Agent Vandenberg of the American Express was startled to-day by a stranger who wanted to express his watch and money home to Louisville, Ky. The attention of Chief of Police Dana was called to the man, and after a little watching he was arrested. He said his name was Shannon, that he lived in Louisville, and that he had come to Niagara Falls to drown himself by jumping from Prospect Point.

Upon arrival he had been driven to Prospect Park, but when he viewed the popular jumping off place his nerve failed him. He returned up-town and drank several cocktails to brace his nerve, and was on his way to kill himself when arrested.

The Wolfestown Murder Case Recalled

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 9.—Leda Lamontagne, indicted for criminal arson, was to-day found guilty and recommended to the mercy of the court. The case has been in progress for some days and daily throngs of eager spectators crowded in the court room to follow the proceedings and see this notorious woman who for the third time was placed before a tribunal in connection with the Wolfestown tragedy. After being first tried as an accomplice of her brother, Remi Lamontagne, in the murder of her husband, Napoleon Michel, and acquitted in October, 1888, she immediately went to the United States, where she remained until last summer, when she was re-arrested and extradited for the crime upon which she is now undergoing her trial. Her persistent refusal last October to testify against her brother brought upon her condemnation to one year's imprisonment, which she served in toto in the Sherbrooke prison, in spite of her lawyer's appeals and efforts to move the American Government to sympathy for his client and save her from prosecution. The fair prisoner seems to be in excellent physical condition. Her counsel were Messrs. L. E. Panneton of Sherbrooke and F. X. Lemieux of Quebec, the same who secured her acquittal upon the charge of being an accomplice in the murder and again exerted their skill and eloquence to save her brother from the gallows.

Lawyer Crickmore May Be Alive

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—Edward Hanrahan, just back from Toronto, claims to have seen in that city Crickmore, the lawyer who nine months ago suddenly disappeared from here, leaving a fine library and other effects and a large number of debts. Later a badly decomposed body was found on the lake shore near Toledo and identified as Crickmore's remains, but this does not shake Hanrahan's confidence in his judgment, and the matter will be investigated.

Gave up its Dead

SARNIA, Oct. 9.—The body of a man was washed ashore on the bank of the river St. Clair, about a mile and a half above Port Lambton. In the pocket was a two-bladed Rogers knife, marked on the handle "J. Moore." The body is supposed to be that of the mate of the schooner Keilage.

A DETROIT HOLOCAUST.

A SCORE OF EMPLOYES IN A SHOWER OF FLAMING TAR.

One Man Burned to Death and Many Others Seriously Injured, Some Fatally—The Money Loss Will Reach Fully One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—The south wing of Parker, Webb & Co.'s packing house, Twentieth street and Michigan Central Railroad, was destroyed by fire this afternoon. Damages will reach $100,000.

Fire originated in the paint room in the third story. A cask of mixture used in smearing over meat barrels suddenly exploded, scattering blazing tar all over the room. Naphtha constitutes a large portion of the mixture, and the fire spread with such rapidity that the occupants of the upper floor had to run for their lives. About 150 men and boys were employed in the building. Most of the injured were in the room where the explosion occurred and were burned by flaming tar. Insurance aggregates $95,000.

The Dead.

JOSEPH KEEFE, aged 21, roasted to a crisp.

The Injured.

THOMAS BURK, aged 40, had his leg fractured and arms badly burned.

THOMAS BURK, aged 38, frightfully burned about hands and breast, arm dislocated, condition critical.

ARCHIE DUNCAN, aged 65, face burned to a crisp.

FREDERICK COLLINS, aged 28, burned about shoulders.

THE PEACH TRADE.

Millions of Baskets Shipped From Delaware Peninsula

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct 9.—From July 17 to Sept. 24, when solid car peach shipments over the Delaware Railroad began and ended, 5351 carloads were shipped. Allowing 600 baskets to each car the shipments were 3,210,600 baskets. In addition 2,000,000 baskets were shipped by other routes from the Peninsula. One million baskets were used in Delaware and allowed to rot in the orchards, thus making the 1891 Peninsula peach yield 6,210,600 baskets. An estimate of the growers' profits is $1,552,650, 25 cents per basket.

The Loss of the Steamer Wolviston

ST. JOHN'S, N.F., Oct. 8.—The following details of the loss of the steamer Wolviston have been obtained from a member of the crew: After four days out, the steamship leaked badly. The pumps were going at full speed, but the water kept gaining. On September 19 the vessel began to settle. At daylight on Tuesday the captain ordered the crew to leave the steamer, and the lifeboats were launched. The first boat, with the captain and 12 hands, were lowered without a mishap. The other boat, however, was struck by a heavy sea and filled. The nine men in her jumped into the sea. The men bailed for their lives, and after awhile were able to get the boat in fair shape. They soon lost sight of the steamship, and then parted company with the captain's boat. After 24 hours the boat capsized and threw all the men into the sea. She was righted, however, and all got aboard again. Soon after we sighted the Arctic, which brought us to Harbor Grace. Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the captain's boat. The Wolviston sailed from Bristol, Eng., on Sept. 11 for New York. She was commanded by Captain [illegible].

Died from Vaccination

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 9.—An 8-year-old girl, daughter of a widow named Bristow, who lately arrived here from England, was vaccinated on the steamer on the passage out and has just died from the effects of the operation. The doctor asserts that the vaccine poisoned the child's arm, developing erysipelas, which extended to the throat and finally resulted in death.

Fatal Runaway

KINCARDINE, Oct. 9.—John McLean, lot 23, 7th con. Huron, in company with Don. McDonald, was driving over to the 9th con. In crossing the railway track at Ripley the king bolt broke and McLean was thrown violently forward on his abdomen across the dashboard. Inflammation set in and he died two days after.

The Russian Famine

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—The Gazette of this city says the sum of 20,000,000 roubles has already been expended by the Government in buying seed corn for the peasants of the famine-stricken districts, and that 100,000,000 roubles will be required to furnish the starving peasantry with bread.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 9.—It is semi-officially announced here that the Government has no intention of prohibiting the exportation of wheat, of which Russia is still in a position to send 200,000,000 poods abroad.

A Calf Killing Record.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 8.—In a butchering contest for $500 a side, Herman Doernberger to-day killed and dressed two calves in 6 minutes and 25 seconds. This breaks the record. About $6000 changed hands on the result. John A. Born was Doernberger's opponent, and his time was 8 minutes 2 1-2 seconds.

Banged Against the Ceiling

GALT, Oct. 8.—James N. Miller, foreman in the Victoria Wheel Works here, was engaged working at a revolving shaft when the machinery was in motion. His coat got caught and his body was instantly jerked around the shaft, striking with great force against the joists overhead. Fortunately after one revolution the coat tore, which freed him, and he fell to the floor. Several ribs were broken and his body otherwise badly bruised.

Died While Shingling a Roof

BRUSSELS, Oct. 8.—Archibald McDougall, aged 69, was shingling a roof when he became suddenly ill and two minutes later was dead.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

A PUBLIC FUNERAL DECIDED UPON FOR PARNELL.

Strange Revelations Respecting His Superstitions, His Eccentricities and His Love Affairs—Jilted by an American Woman Many Years Ago

LONDON, Oct. 9.—James O'Kelly, M.P. for Roscommon, called upon Mrs. Parnell and was admitted to see the body of Mr. Parnell. Mr. O'Kelly declared that the aspect of the corpse suggested that death had resulted from natural causes, and had come without any violent pain.

A despatch from Brighton says: The doctor's certificate, which has just been fyled, states that Mr. Parnell's death was caused by rheumatic fever, resulting in excessive temperature and failure of the heart.

The delegation from the members of Parliament who followed the lead of Mr. Parnell to the last arrived at Brighton this afternoon. After receiving the doctor's certificate giving definitely the cause of Mr. Parnell's death, they adopted a resolution expressing the deepest sorrow at the sudden and unexpected death of their chief, and heartfelt sympathy with Mrs. Parnell.

Joseph Chamberlain, when interviewed regarding Parnell's death, said it might influence the Government to go to the country on the present legislation, but it was more likely that the Government will endeavor to pass the Irish Government bill, with a fair prospect that it could be done if the Opposition would adopt the same attitude towards this bill as they had done towards the English local election measure, but it would be, he thought, late in 1892 before the measure could become law.

The members of the McCarthyite party anticipate no difficulty in obtaining early control of the Paris fund. As far as known Parnell did not leave a will or a political declaration. He had no perception of the gravity of his illness or any consciousness of the approach of death.

Among the reminiscences of Parnell published to-day is a contribution from Thomas Power O'Connor, M.P. for the Scotland division of Liverpool, who says he heard while in America that during his visit Mr. Parnell paid to the United States the Irish leader met at Newport one of the reigning belles of the season, that he fell in love with and proposed marriage to her and was conditionally accepted. But either the lady was fickle, or marriage to a foreigner was hateful to her American parents and she married another. Parnell felt the blow most acutely. Mr. O'Connor cites one instance of Mr. Parnell's conscious self-revelation when he said: "You knew I was jilted. The lady's marriage has been unhappy—she has been separated from her husband for some years."

Continuing Mr. O'Connor says: Mr. Parnell was always dreadfully nervous when he had to speak. Those behind him could see his hands, which he usually held behind his back, clinched with such force that the nails dug into the palms of his hands. He never spoke in public if he could possibly avoid it and never because he had an idea that people wanted to hear him.

Mr. O'Connor says Parnell was eminently superstitious, even in the most trivial matters. He would refuse to remain in a room if three candles were burning within it, which he regarded as being peculiarly unlucky. When the freedom of the city of Dublin was conferred upon him he particularly requested that the lining of the casket in which the parchment was to be placed and handed to him should not be green, but purple. Purple was his favorite color and he considered it very auspicious.

Mr. Parnell did not discuss with his political associates the domestic event which proved the final shipwreck of a life of power; but from the hour when it came he was a changed man. He used, previous to that time, to be most accessible. He lived in somewhat poor lodgings and was always apparently quite indifferent to the nature of his personal surroundings. When not in these lodgings he was to be found at a house where he often spent his evenings with his colleagues in Parliament or at a restaurant they were in the habit of frequenting. But from the opening of the period of his unhappy passion all was changed in Mr. Parnell's surroundings and mode of life.

In this connection Mr. O'Connor says: [illegible] that on the day when [illegible] chosen to risk all his ad[illegible] on an important point in [illegible] to the proceedings in Parliament of the Irish members, I met [illegible] close to the Westminster Palace [illegible] for the first time in my experience [illegible] when he was excited and irritable. He [illegible] telegram with fierce vehemence, [illegible] at the same time some strong and [illegible] observations. Altogether [illegible] different from the equable, [illegible] easy-going man he had been [illegible]. From that time his relations with his colleagues were altered. For two or three years he continued to gain flesh and his lithe form became stout and almost unwieldy. His walk lost its elasticity. Then came another transformation. He suddenly lost flesh and became terribly thin and ghastly pale. He used to disappear for days at a time and then would drag himself to the House with glassy eyes, [illegible] face and tottering [illegible] the picture of coming death. A stern silence was, however, maintained between him and his colleagues in relation to these incidents. As a rule he would speak, when he felt the inclination, to one of them, who he had just before denounced as a coward and a traitor, as if absolutely nothing had occurred to disturb the pleasant relations existing between them. I met him accidentally for the first time after my return from America. After a handshake, I asked how he was. His reply was: 'Oh, perfectly well; much better than you are.' Those were the last words exchanged between us, who had been close friends for 15 years."

BRIGHTON, Oct. 9.—Nothing in Parnell's tempestuous life is more mysterious than his tragic death. Mr. Parnell returned to Brighton from Dublin Thursday night. Excepting a more than usually severe attack of his old enemy, rheumatism, he did not complain of feeling ill. He sat up very late writing his associates in Ireland, arranging for future speeches before Parliament meets.

It is no secret that he was very much worried at the turn events had taken in Ireland within a few weeks. In the first place, the Governing Committee of the Irish party, which for years had never made one move without Parnell's authority, met in Dublin three weeks ago and absolutely ignored him. They even adopted resolutions hostile to him and to the policy he had pursued while he was their leader. Another thing that worried Mr. Parnell was that the united and untiring efforts of the priests were undoubtedly succeeding in making his meetings small and unenthusiastic in many towns. His influence was weakened from day to day until it had almost disappeared. Even in Dublin, his greatest stronghold, hundreds of his followers seceded when The Freeman's Journal threw down the gauntlet and said that the personal success of Parnell no longer meant success for the Home Rule cause. In Wicklow, Parnell's native county, and in East Wicklow, where his estates are, he was, of course, supreme. The disintegration which has been going on all over Ireland had not reached Wicklow.

But despite these discouragements Mr. Parnell was not seriously ill when he left Ireland last week. True, his rheumatism bothered him much. At Creggs, last Sunday week, he limped badly and carried his arm in a sling. He said in his speech that his appearance was in defiance of his doctor's orders. This was Parnell's last appearance in public.

By Friday morning Mr. Parnell seemed to have recovered from the exertions of his Irish trip, though he complained of a slight cold caught on the journey across the Channel. He arose at his usual time on Friday, reading with the keenest interest the attitude taken by the Liberal Convention at Newcastle in reference to home rule. Towards evening his rheumatic pains became more acute, and he was obliged to go to bed. He never got up again.

On Saturday morning he was not able to rise, but Mrs. Parnell read Gladstone's great speech to him in bed. He dictated a statement for United Ireland, the only Irish paper which has stood by him personally since The Freeman's Journal changed colors.

During Saturday night the pain increased so Parnell could not sleep, but he lived so far out of Brighton that he refused to allow his wife to send a servant for a doctor. Sunday morning Mr. Jowers was summoned. There are two of them in Brighton, father and son, who combine their practice and work together. The father was first summoned and he called in his son. They neither of them saw anything in Mr. Parnell's condition to excite alarm. They advised him to remain in bed and not expose himself to cold.

On Monday and Tuesday both Jowers senior and Jowers junior visited Mr. Parnell, but if they discovered death hovering near his bedside they failed to mention it. If on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Parnell had the slightest suspicion that her husband would not live throughout the night there are at least a dozen relatives of her own and his whom she would surely have notified, to say nothing of his political adherents, but none of these people knew even that Parnell was seriously ill.

Mrs. Parnell will leave the details of the funeral to them. She idolized her husband and is so utterly crushed by his sudden death that she is almost incapable of thought or action. Since her husband died there has been no one in the house with her except her daughter, who has stuck to her through all her troubles, and her servants. When the relatives arrive and take practical hold of matters demanding immediate attention we shall probably get more details.

It is impossible to find out what happened Tuesday night. Mr. Jowers says deathbed scenes are confidential and he refuses to say anything until Mrs. Parnell tells him to. When asked if Mrs. Parnell expressly requested him not to say anything he declined to answer. This much is certain: When Mr. Jowers went to Walsingham Terrace about 10 o'clock Tuesday night Mr. Parnell was in bed groaning with agony. He had been unconscious for some time. When Jowers left the house, soon after midnight, Mr. Parnell was stretched out in his room a corpse. There was plenty of time to get this important news in London and New York Wednesday morning newspapers, but Jowers went home to bed.

Mr. Parnell seems to have collapsed suddenly. One report says that his death was immediately due to congestion of the lungs, brought on by a severe cold caught while returning from Ireland. If the facts were known it was doubtless due to a complication of diseases, all aggravated by the severe exposure to which Mr. Parnell has submitted himself in this fight. For years he has not been a really strong man. He has suffered from organic troubles which would have made most men shrink from unusual exertion, but he has gone through his campaign like a thoroughbred and he has died like a thoroughbred, suddenly and without exhibiting any signs of decaying powers.

Parnell's house is in the loneliest part of Brighton. Properly speaking, it is in the village of Aldrington, though it comes within the official jurisdiction of West Brighton. Parnell's bedroom is within a few feet of the sea. It leads out on the balcony with double windows, so that Parnell could, when he wished, sit there within the sound of the sea and get the full benefit of the sun. He had a writing desk fitted up in this balcony.

There has been a heavy storm in the English Channel for two days. To-night the surf is so heavy that the spray dashes over the roadway in front of Parnell's house and mingles with the driving rain which is beating against his balcony windows. It is a dismal and gloomy place for a man to die in, who but a few months ago was Ireland's idol, and for whom the greater part of a nation is now in tears. Nothing could better illustrate the mysterious seclusion of Parnell's private life than the isolated place in which he died. There are no watchers at his bedside to-night but his wretched heartbroken widow, who knows in her soul that Ireland will never forgive her.

Death seems to have smoothed out the rugged lines of trouble in Parnell's face. His face in its rigid repose looks strong and lifelike, more like the Parnell of six years ago than the Parnell who battled in committee room 15. The body rests on an old-fashioned four-post bedstead, covered with a white counterpane. His brown hair and beard look almost coal black. His face is slightly distorted by intense suffering. As we enter the room O'Kelly bows his head and makes the sign of the cross, then bursts into sobs, kneels by the bedside of his old leader and prays silently for several minutes. Mrs. Parnell stands in the doorway, crying as though her heart would break. After the brief visit is over, as we pass into the street, O'Kelly says: "I am convinced Parnell died a peaceful and almost painless death."

It has been decided that the funeral ceremonies of the late Mr. Parnell will be held at the cemetery at Glasneauve Sunday next. The body will arrive in Dublin Sunday morning and will be taken in state to the city hall, and from there the funeral will proceed.

After deliberation the medical authorities have decided to forego the proposed post mortem examination.

MEETING OF THE CABINET.

But the Question of Reconstruction Was Not Discussed

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—A meeting of the Cabinet was called for 3 o'clock yesterday. It is stated that no questions of reconstruction of the Cabinet will receive consideration until all the members are assembled. Several are out of town.

The report is gaining strength that the office of Superintendent of the Printing Bureau, vacated by Senecal, and Queen's Printer, from which Lt.-Col. Brown Chamberlin will likely retire to accept superannuation, will be consolidated and offered to Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, M.P. It is said Mr. Mackintosh is about tired of newspaper and political struggles and would be well satisfied to retire from the city representation.

It is said that Dr. Ferguson, ex-M.P. for Welland, who arrived in the city this morning, is an applicant for one of the vacant portfolios in the Cabinet.

On Trial For Arson.

SHERBROOKE, Oct. 8.—Leda Lamontagne is on trial to-day on a charge of arson. It will be remembered that her husband was murdered in July, 1888, and the house set on fire. She was tried for the crime and acquitted in October, but her brother Remi was found guilty and hanged on Dec. 14. Meantime Leda fled to the United States, but was extradited, and refusing to give evidence against her brother was committed for contempt. She is now being tried for arson, since the indictment for murder failed.

Where Is Dunn?

TILSONBURG, Oct. 8.—Enquiry is being made for a young Englishman named William Dunn, who left his home, one mile west of Corinth, on June 30. He is a very strange acting young man and looks kind of sideways. He is 23 years of age, stands 5 feet 6 inches, has dark hair and eyes. He is very religious.

Travelers to Affiliate.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—H. Bedlington of Toronto, representing the Commercial Travelers' Association of Canada, met representatives of the Northwest Association here to-night and submitted a scheme for affiliation of the two associations. After full discussion the representatives decided to recommend acceptance of the offer.

What Does it Mean?

"100 doses one dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

Mount Pleasant.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A short time ago Messrs. James Smith, William Smith and Thos. Newman were tempting the "finny tribe" in the quiet waters of Pigeon river and were successful in capturing a number of good specimens.

Master David Best returned to his duties at Queen's College last Saturday.

Mr James McIndoo spent a week's holidays in the eastern metropolis. Jim expresses himself as well pleased with the romantic beauty and entrancing amusements of Montreal.

A large number of our villagers went to the fall fair in Millbrook, and to say that they were amply repaid for their trip is language none too forcible. The weather was in her best form, the crowd was large and good-natured, the exhibits were of good grade and numerous, and, we understand, financially, as well as otherwise, the East Durham and Cavan show was a grand success.

Mrs. Geo. Workman, of Toronto, is making calls in town. She is the guest of Mr. Isaiah Best.

Mr. C. R. Courtney and an Omemee contingent, spent a few days down Pigeon river, and Charlie says they had a pleasant sojourn and got some fish.

Miss Adams, of Omemee, was visiting in town last week.

Wesley Elliott, station master at Mount Albert, was spending a few days of last week at his home here.

There were a few cases of sand and also of milk fever reported around town, but we are pleased to say there has been no spread of the malady, and those who were afflicted are convalescent again.

Fruit is an excellent yield this year. Grapes, plums, pears and apples have yielded so enormously that prices fall very low.

Mr. Wm. Smith is camping on the shores of Pigeon river.

Preaching in the Presbyterian church will begin at 6 30 in the evenings instead of 6. The pastor gave an excellent discourse last Sabbath on "Visions and Angels."

The villagers were startled by the sad intelligence of the sudden death of Mrs. Robt. Thexton in Winnipeg. She left here last spring for that western city looking the picture of health and strength, but it appears some inherent trouble assumed fatal proportions and resulted in her melancholy death. Expressions of sorrow are heard from many lips. The body, we heard, was interred in Winnipeg.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The township of Otonabee Agricultural Society's Exhibition will be held in the Agricultural Hall and grounds on Thursday and Friday Oct. 8th and 9th, when a large amount in prizes will be awarded to the successful exhibitors. Andrew Nelson, Pres.; [illegible] Reid, Sec.

A small party of young folks, consisting of Dr Harrison's Sunday School class and a few others, members of the Methodist Sunday School, held a picnic on Quinn's Point on Saturday last, and spent a very pleasant time in sailing, playing games, etc., returning home in the evening, well satisfied with the day's outing.

There is quite an exciting time here just now, the cause being that some two of the trustees want to dispense with Mr. Mark's services as Principal of the Keene Public School, although two thirds of the ratepayers show their willingness to keep Mr. Mark by signing a petition to that effect. Mr Mark has been Principal of the Keene School for some years and during that time has done all in his power to instruct the pupils under his care, and has been very successful. What the trustees have against Mr. Mark nobody seems to know.

A lamp post has been put up in front of the Methodist church, which adds greatly to the convenience of the people coming out of the church in the evening. A few more of them put along the streets would add much to the attraction of our village.

We are glad to see Mr. John Kindred, sr., who has been seriously ill, able to be out among us again.

Mr. Geo. English, who has been seriously ill, is recovering very slowly.

Mrs. Sheppard, of Bobcaygeon, is visiting her uncle Mr. George Read.

Shocking Accident.

A Man Blown up by Dualine and is Terribly Injured.

Mr. Wm. Fleming, of Campbellford, was the victim of a shocking accident on Thursday morning last, which will disfigure him for life.

He and Mr. John Pettifer were engaged in blasting a well with dualine on the premises of the latter, near the English church. Mr. Fleming is an experienced hand at blasting, but the last shot he fired nearly cost him his life. The charge was placed in the well at a depth of about eight feet, and the opening covered over with old pieces of timber. The fuse was lighted, but the dualine seemed slower than usual in exploding, and Mr. Fleming rather thoughtlessly walked over and looked down the well. At that moment the shot went off with a tremendous report, and he was thrown about thirty feet away. Mr. Pettifer saw him fall and ran to his assistance, and carried him into the house, and a message was at once sent for medical aid, to which two doctors quickly responded. Upon examination it was found that his forehead was torn from one side to the other and into one eye, while a piece of wire about an inch long had penetrated the bone at the back of the eye, and the gaping wound was full of sand and gravel. The wire was pulled out, and the eye being punctured and sunken, it will be necessary to remove it. The other eye was injured, but not so much to deprive the poor man of his sight. Mr. Fleming was also bruised in several places on his body, and the mystery is how he escaped instant death. The place was covered with blood which flowed from his wounds. It is supposed that he was struck by the cardboard that inclosed the dualine, and the wire that was wound around the cardboard. His case seemed a hopeless one, but his condition is somewhat improved, yet if spared he will be nearly blind, and will probably be disabled for life.—Campbellford Herald.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Mrs. George Rendle.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

ATE THE BOY.

A Hoosier Lad Killed and Partly Devoured By Swine.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 7.—A son of Robert Kirk, aged 6 years, was yesterday almost devoured by hogs. He had accompanied a brother into the yard to feed the stock, and while the elder brother went to the barn the youngster tried to catch a pig. The mother of the pig leaped at him and fastened her tusks in the back of his neck, dragging him to the ground. Presently several hogs out of the drove rushed at the child and began to devour him. They tore his clothing into shreds and all the flesh from his cheeks, arms and legs, lacerating his left side in a horrible manner. He died an hour after his rescue.

A Breeze in a Canadian Synod.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 8.—There was a lively session of the Presbyterian Synod of the Maritime Provinces here yesterday. The Rev. Isaac Baird complained that he had been most unfairly dealt with by the Presbytery of Miramichi, and that what the Presbytery declared to be frivolous and vexatious charges have been entertained against him after his resignation had been accepted. The Rev. Neil McKay created a sensation by declaring that Mr. Baird had been impertinent to the committee and attempted to bulldoze the Presbytery, and that Baird's statements to the Synod were devoid of truth. Vigorous protests were made against Mr. McKay's language, and the matter will come up later. The next question to ruffle the meeting was the appointment of a fourth professor to Pine Hill Theological College a year hence, and the subjects that he should teach. The Rev. Anderson Rogers declared that while students were stuffed with the dead languages, he knew of graduates of the college who did not know who was the author of "Romeo and Juliet." McGregor McKay suggested that a professor of commonsense was more needed in the college than anything else. The question was finally sent down to the Presbyteries.

Killed in Switzerland.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 8.—Word has been received in the city from London, Eng., announcing the accidental death last week of Mr. Sydney Pocock, secretary-treasurer of the Beadle Nursery Company of this city. Mr. Pocock had large sums of money invested in this locality and was practically the owner of the Beadle Nursery property. He was prominent in church work in the city. Mr. Pocock, who had been in failing health for some time past, left on June 25 for a trip to the Old Country, and when last heard from by friends in this city intended leaving for Switzerland.

Some years ago while the deceased was boating with his brother on a small lake in one of the Swiss cantons the boat was struck by lightning. Sydney's brother was instantly killed and he himself was stunned, but afterwards recovered.

A Letter From Mrs Birchall.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 8.—A letter from Mrs. Birchall has just been received by a friend of hers in town. She is still in England and has not the slightest intention of coming to Canada to endeavor to secure her husband's body or for any other purpose. She does not complain of her own health and says that of her sister, Mrs. West-Jones, is very good. She writes that she is much annoyed at the unwarranted use some newspapers are making of her name. She feels especially hurt over the report circulated some time ago to the effect that she had married again, and says that she wishes the papers would leave her name alone. Notwithstanding the awful tragedy that must be associated in her mind with this place she has still some kindly remembrances of Woodstock.

COLD WEATHER PROMISED.

Weather Prophet Foster, Who Is Often Right, Says So.

ST. JOSEPH, Oct. 6.—Weather Prophet Foster, who has happened to be right in many of his weather predictions at long range, says: "A storm wave may be expected about Oct. 8, with hail and severe gales, and within one or two days following it killing frosts will visit most localities of latitude 36, with a strong probability of frosts much further south. Hurricanes will develop great force on the North Atlantic at this time.

"We may confidently expect a very cold, severe and stormy winter setting in quite early. Saturn will pass its equinox the last of October, and to that influence I attribute the great increase of storms."

LOOKS LIKE THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. and Mrs J. G. Blaine, Jr., Each Want Their Child.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7.—A special from Sioux Falls says: The answer in the famous divorce suit of Marie Nevins Blaine against James G. Blaine, jr., was served upon Mrs. Blaine to-day. She asks for a decree of divorce and custody of the child and for suitable alimony. Mr. Blaine in his reply denies that he deserted his wife, but claims she deserted him. He pleads poverty and urges that he has an income of but $2000 a year, which will cease the 1st of December next. He makes a plea for the custody of the child. There will probably be a hard fight for the child, who resembles his grandfather.

BARKENTINE AND CREW LOST.

Twenty Men and the Captain's Wife and Baby Went Down.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A despatch was received here yesterday from St. John, New Brunswick, saying that during the recent stormy spell the British barkentine Minnie G. Elkin had been wrecked and her crew lost. The wrecked vessel was a barkentine ship of 429 tons burden. She left St. John Harbor on Aug. 19 under command of Captain Bolt, bound for Dundalk. The crew consisted of 20 men including the officers. The captain's wife and baby were also on board.

Chinamen Between Two Fires.

BUFFALO, Oct. 8.—Wun Pung and Woo Pee, two Celestials who had fallen foul of the Chinese Exclusion Act by smuggling themselves over from Canada, got into a strange predicament here to-day. For several hours they were carried back and forth on the Niagara River, both Canada and the United States refusing to receive them. The cases in the exclusion law trouble came about through the decision of Judge [illegible] of the United States District Court here on Saturday that, in spite of President Harrison's opinion in the San Quong case last week, the country whence these Chinamen came was not China, but Canada. Thus [illegible] Celestials, two of them with Canadian papers, were taken from jail by the United States marshal and put on the ferry boat for Canada. The customs officer at Fort Erie refused to receive the two, having no entrance papers. When [illegible] brought them back the United States officials claiming that they had been deported refused to let them land here, so they went back and forth till an order was [illegible] for a deputy to bring them back [illegible] report the case back to the United States District Attorney. [illegible] produced [illegible] Canadian entrance [illegible] captain of the [illegible] Canada.

"Save who can!" was the frantic cry of Napoleon to his army at Waterloo. Save health and strength while you can, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is advice that applies to all, both young and old. Don't wait until disease fastens on you; begin at once.

O! woman, lovely woman, why will you suffer so,
Why bear such pain and anguish, and agony of woe?
Why don't you seek the remedy—the one that's all the go?

"All the go," because it makes the pains go. As an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nervine, for debilitated and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has no equal. It improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels melancholy and nervousness, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. Don't be put off with some worthless compound, easily, but dishonestly, recommended to be "just as good," that the dealer may make more profit. "Favorite Prescription" is incomparable.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

Peterborough Ruling, No. 279.

There was a large turn out of the charter members of Peterborough Ruling, No. 279, Fraternal Mystic Circle last evening. Possibly never was the Foresters hall, Simcoe st., occupied by a more enthusiastic and representative class of our citizens than assembled to assist in the closing ceremonies in connection with closing this charter, which in the future is a regularly constituted ruling, with all powers and privileges as such. The Supreme Deputy Bro. J. A. McMurty, Toronto, was again present with the brethren, and assisted in initiating into the mysteries of the order the following gentlemen Messrs A. C. Weir, Edward Somers, W. H Holland, T. H Martin, R A Stom, H. W. Stock, Geo. Swan, H. T. Everett and J. W. Moore, thus closing the charter with forty eight names of our townsmen as charter members. Speeches were delivered by many of the more eloquent members of the order, and a good time in general was spent by all assembled. The Supreme Deputy as representative of the Supreme Ruling in the name of the Supreme Ruler, then declared the subordinate Ruling No. 279 charter closed, and in a neat speech congratulated the officers and members on having such a large list of representative gentlemen of the town down as its charter members, which augurs well that in the near future this ruling will take no second place on the roll of Supreme Ruling. It was then moved and resolved that the thanks of this Ruling are due and hereby tendered to Bro. J. A. McMurty, Supreme Deputy, for his indefatigable efforts in bringing this Ruling to such a successful closing of its charter, and as a slight token of esteem this resolution take a more tangable form and that Bro. J. A. McMurtry be presented by this Ruling with a gold headed cane, suitably engraved and presented to him by the members of the Peterborough Ruling, No. 279. After which the Ruling closed to meet again in the same hall on Thursday evening, the 22nd inst, and in the meantime any person desirous of joining this ruling can get full particulars and application forms at the store of Bro. W. H. Meredith, the worthy recorder.—[COM.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Fish Story (Rather Breezy.)

A correspondent writes:—One of our esteemed citizens has returned from Stony Lake, and gives an account of his exploit with a large maskalonge which he succeeded in landing after some considerable trouble. His fish-ship was a whopper:—Length, 5 ft. 6 in.; weight, 26 lbs. 4 oz. The fish drew his captor 4½ miles before he succeeded in landing him, and it was only landed after capsizing the canoe and giving its captor a cold immersion. Next! N.B.—This was his own make of bait.

The Ring Returned.

An uncomfortable thing sometimes is a conscience, especially to a person engaged in unlawful pursuits. The thief who stole a diamond ring from the residence of Mr. R. B. Landy, Brock street, did not long enjoy his spoil. The ring was taken nearly two weeks ago, but the other day it was returned in the orthodox way. The ring was enclosed in an envelope addressed to Mrs. Lundy, and dropped into the letter box belonging to the house. It is supposed the thief's conscience worried him, but it is also possible he was afraid to make any attempt to dispose of the ring from fear of his crime being detected. We will be charitable and give him the benefit of the doubt.

A Jolly Performance.

A huge tank filled with water, three feet deep, in which are swimmers and boats and other aquatic accessories, the whole representing the Fall River Line pier No. 28, North River, with a very good view of Jersey City in the distance, a particularly handsome scene of the lake at Central Park, and a correct view of the lunatic asylum, Blackwell's Island, N.Y., are the striking features of Edward J. Hassan's production "One of the Finest," which is the attraction at the Opera House here, Tuesday evening next The scenery carried is strikingly realistic, and shows the possibilities of stage mechanism. The piece is a comedy drama, filled with fun and excitement, and it is well presented by Mr. Edwin M. Ryan, as the jolly Dutch policeman, "John Mishler," and a clever company, who introduce music and specialties, and other entertaining features. The large advance sales for "One of the Finest" clearly indicate a most successful engagement in our city. 1d

Ordination and Induction.

On Tuesday afternoon, the ordination and induction services were held in the Presbyterian church, Havelock, when Mr. Hugh Brown was received as pastor of the church. Rev. Mr. Carmichael, of Norwood, acted as chairman. A very impressive sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. McWilliams, of Peterborough, who chose for his text "And I, when I be lifted up will draw all men unto me," after which Rev. Mr. Sutherland, of Warkworth, spoke on the polity of the church, followed by Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Hastings, who addressed the candidate for ordination on the duties of the pastor to his people, and Rev. Mr. Scott, of Campbellford, who addressed the people on their duties to their pastor and church. At the conclusion of the latter speech Mr. Brown was formally received into the church by the laying on of hands of the ministers present. The ordination service was followed by the anniversary tea meeting. A very sumptuous tea was served in the basement of the church, followed by addresses being delivered in the church. Mr. Anderson, of Norwood, being appointed chairman, the speakers were: Rev. Messrs. Sutherland, Rae, Thompson, Carmichael, McClure and Brown. The choir of the church gave several musical selections during the evening. Altogether it was a very enjoyable affair.

Wedding Bells.

Scully—Sullivan.

A correspondent writes:—A most pleasing hymeneal event took place at St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, on Tuesday morning, Oct. 6th, at nine o'clock mass. The bride, Miss Anna M., daughter of Mr. Patrick C. Sullivan, was united in marriage to Mr. Francis H. Scully, of Emily. The many friends and relatives of the contracting parties were the only ones present. The bride is an estimable young lady, who has numerous friends and acquaintances in Peterborough, while the groom is a prosperous farmer, well known throughout Victoria county. The bride was attired in electric blue, while her hat was trimmed with the same shade of ostrich tips. Miss Hettie Sullivan, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She was dressed in seal brown, embroidered with cord of same color. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. B. D. Scully. Rev. Father O'Connell officiated. A reception was tendered them at the home of the bride's parents at the close of the ceremony. The presents were costly and numerous, showing what respect the bride was held in by her numerous acquaintances. At five o'clock they departed for their new home in Emily, where the groom has a fine brick residence prepared for his charming young bride.

A Pretty Wedding.

A Grafton correspondent writes: On Wednesday, Sept. 29th, St. George's church here was the scene of a very fashionable wedding. The Rector, the Rev. Mr. Cooper, assisted by the Rev. Canon Cavidson, of Colborne, united in marriage Mr. Wm. Smith, of Chicago, and Miss Mary Rogers, eldest daughter of Col. R. Z Rogers, of the 40th Batt. The bridesmaids were Miss Emily Rogers sister of the bride, and Miss Ethel Rogers, of Peterborough. The groom was assisted by Mr. Smith of Chicago, and Mr. R Percy Rogers, of Grafton. At the wedding were present guests from Toronto, Peterborough, Cobourg and Colborne, the elite of those places. After partaking of a sumptuous repast at the residence of the bride's father, "Woodside," the happy young couple started on their westward tour. Mr. and Mrs. Smith carry with them the best wishes and kindest regards of all. It is needless to say that the wedding presents were both elegant and costly, and baffle all adequate description.

Opinions of the Canadian Press.

Those who suffer from dyspepsia, disorders of the stomach or liver, constipation, bile or wind on the stomach, are strongly recommended to make use of Dr Sey's Remedy A few doses of this celebrated medicine cannot fail to afford relief and a speedy cure. — Le Monde.

Natural, prompt, effective, for sick headache, foul stomach, and all liver troubles. Use McGale's Butternut Pills, they contain no mercury. Price 25 cents.

The Cheapest and the Best.

"Indigenous Bitters" are the cheapest Bitters which have ever been offered to the public, because instead of buying a preparation all ready put up, one can buy the ingredients for making them at the market price. For instance, with a box of these bitters which cost 25 cents, you can make three or four bottles similar to those which sell for one dollar; therefore with the money which you would pay for one bottle you can make twelve or fifteen bottles.

THE FALL ASSIZES.

A Day's Hard Work Does It All.

Full Report of the Gordon-Hazlitt Case—The Grand Jury's Presentment—Hull Not Guilty of Larceny.

Chief Justice Armour took the Bench at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and never left it until the whole docket had been cleared off. No adjournments were made for lunch, and about six o'clock the last case was disposed off. To-day the jurymen are being paid.

CIVIL CASES.

Gordon vs. Hazlitt, is reported at length below.

The Standard Agency Co. vs the Dickson Co. was postponed till next court in order to get in more evidence.

The suit of Dumble vs. Bradburn, a suit to recover $693 67, amounts of bills of costs in different matters, was for the present disposed of, it and all matters in dispute between the parties being by direction of His Lordship referred to the local Master in Chancery to report specially on the accounts, the question of costs and all other matters being reserved.

A CRIMINAL CASE.

Wm. Hull, accused of the larceny of a sum of money and a gold watch from the house of Mr. R. C. Thompson, corner of Bethune and McDonel streets, was tried and acquitted, several witnesses being brought forward to prove an alibi. Mr. Stone defended the prisoner; Mr. O'Leary, Q.C., Lindsay, conducted the case for the Crown.

GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT.

To His Lordship Chief Justice Armour:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP.

The Grand Jury of the County of Peterborough, at the sittings of the High Court of Justice, held on Thursday, 8th October, 1891, beg leave to report as follows:

1. They find a true bill in the case of the Queen vs. Wm. Hull, larceny.

2. They have inspected the gaol and premises and find the same kept in most excellent order. No complaints were made by any of the prisoners. We congratulate the county on having so few cases before us. We also recommend that some employment be furnished to able-bodied men.

HENRY DENNE,
Foreman.

Peterborough, Oct. 8th, 1891.

His Lordship in refering to a clause in the presentment of the grand jury, said that in these days the "walking delegates" would not allow prison work, even a stone could not be taken in a quarry and dressed by convicts who had to be maintained at the expense of honest men. This was a very one-sided arrangement but it was beyond his power to remedy it. Idleness was the chief cause of crime and it looked like folly to lock up criminals five or six years in idleness and expect them when they came out to take to honest labor. All he could do with the recommendation of the jury was to forward it to the proper authorities and they might or might not take action. His lordship said he was not a legislator nor a politician, thank God, and could only submit the recommendation. He discharged the grand jury.

An Interesting Suit.

Gordon vs. Hazlitt was an action brought by Mr. Clement Gordon against Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, for the recovery of $279.00, wages he claimed at $3 a day for 93 days' services in the Cox-Stevenson election of 1887, and $65 52 interest on same. Mr. C. W. Sawers for plaintiff; Mr. A. P. Poussette for defendant.

CLEMENT GORDON, the first witness, sworn, said:—In the fall of 1886 I came to Peterborough. Mr. Hazlitt, the defendant in the action, came to me in Toronto and asked me to help in the local election. I worked 31 days in the interest of Mr. Stratton, and Mr. Hazlitt paid me at the rate of $3 per day, $93. After Mr. Stratton's election I was asked by Mr. Hazlitt to stay in town and help in Mr. Cox's election, and to work among the French Canadians, of whom I was one, at the rate of $3 per day, this pay to continue till I got employment. I worked the best I could, and at the end of the election contest, Mr. Hazlitt offered me $100, but I declined to accept that for the reason that if I took that I should get no more—it would be the end of my claim. I, however, took $20 on account. I could not get employment, and asked Mr. Hazlitt for a consideration of my claim, and received a letter.

The letter was put in and read as follows:

PETERBOROUGH, May 26th.

MR. C. GORDON,

DEAR SIR—I have to apologise for neglecting to reply to your favor of 25th ult. When last I saw you I expected you to call again in short time, and never knew that you had left town till I received your letter from Longford. I am sorry you left without calling upon me as I expected, and I have no doubt your matter could have been amicably arranged, as I am sure you will only ask what is fair and I am equally satisfied that Mr. C. will not object to what is a reasonable settlement of your old affairs or any other just claim you may have. As regards my responsibility I think you will remember that your first bill was fully paid up, and your services in canvassing during Mr. C—'s campaign, if not paid, will be, as such expenses I believe are legitimate. However, if you will call on me the first time you are in town, we will talk the matter over, or if you will formulate your claim I will submit it to him and see what he thinks of the matter.

Yours respectfully
THOS GEO. HAZLITT.

Continuing witness said, I presented a statement to Mr. Hazlitt. I only came to Peterborough at Mr. Hazlitt's request. The reason I did not enter suit before was because I though Mr. Hazlitt held a note against me for $500 or $600, when it was the Dickson Company held the note. I claimed pay for three months and a half. Mr. Hazlitt was to pay me from the 1st of January till the 15th of April. My services were to be paid for from the day after Mr. Stratton's election till I got employment. Mr. Hazlitt was satisfied with the way I had performed my part of the agreement.

To Mr. POUSSETTE—I did not sue sooner because I thought Mr. Hazlitt held a note against me for a large amount. The "Mr. C," referred to in the letter produced, was Mr. Cox, who owed me money, and Mr. Hazlitt promised to see that that was paid, as well as my wages for the election work I had done. I was informed on March 8th, 1888, that the note was not held against me by Mr. Hazlitt. I was paid in full $93 for work performed in the local election. [A bill prepared by witness was produced, which showed that he claimed pay for only 22 days] Mr. Hazlitt came to Toronto to see me. There was no promise to pay for working in Mr. Stratton's election. Mr. Hazlitt paid me $3 per day for working during Mr. Stratton's election, and he wanted me to work for Mr. Cox at $2 50 per day. I refused, and he agreed to give me $3 per day till I got work. I had a permanent situation in Toronto at $2 50 per day. After the election I applied at the same place and did not get the situation. I tried without success to get work till the 15th of April. I tried to get work in town; I applied to Baptie, but it being the middle of winter, there was no work for a carpenter. I am sure I was to get $3 a day for canvassing for Mr. Cox. I got $20 from Mr. Hazlitt on account of my claim a day or two after the election. That was the only money I ever received on that transaction. I received $100 to pay expenses.

To Mr. SAWERS—It was not on account of this claim.

J. R. STRATTON, sworn, said he was the representative of West Peterborough in the Local Legislature; he was elected on December 28th, 1886. He understood Mr. Gordon was supporting him and Mr. Cox in the respective contests. Witness declined to express an opinion as to whether $3 per day was too much for such services or not.

THE DEFENCE.

Mr. POUSSETTE, before calling the witness for the defence, put an argument into court that, under section 100 of the Elections Act, a contract of this nature, for payments of any expenses relating to an election, even if legal, was void. His Lordship supported this contention.

Mr. T. G. HAZLITT was then called and sworn.

Mr. POUSSETTE—Do you remember Mr. Gordon working for you?

Mr. HAZLITT—I recollect Mr. Gordon working in the Cox-Stevenson contest.

Q.—How did it happen he was working in that contest?

A.—I was in Toronto and went to Mr. Gordon's boarding house at the time of Mr. Stratton's election to get him, and I was told then that Gordon had come to Peterborough. I subsequently met him in Peterborough and asked him to work for Mr. Stratton, which he did, and when the Stratton election was over I asked him to continue working for Mr. Cox and I would pay him $2 a day for doing so. He came to the office and I settled with him for his work in the Stratton election, and paid him $3 a day—$66 for twenty-two days' work. I believe it is not illegal to pay for canvassing.

Q—How did $3 a day come to be fixed for the Stratton election.

A.—He came to me after Mr. Stratton's election and said he was getting $3 a day in Toronto and I made no hesitation but paid him the wages he said he was getting, as we had no previous arrangement.

Q.—Then what was said about the Cox-Stevenson election.

A.—I asked him whether he could remain during the Cox-Stevenson election. I said I cannot pay you $3 a day, I will pay you $2 a day if you stop until the election is over, and he went on. He did not seem to hesitate about the matter at all.

Q.—Is $2 a day what you agreed to pay him?

A.—Yes, that is what I agreed to pay him and intended and would have paid him. That is, from the time of the Stratton election was over until the Cox Stevenson election was over. The Cox Stevenson election was the only time I ever agreed to pay him anything.

Q—When that election was over did you see Gordon?

A—Yes, I saw him. He was in my office after that and I gave him a check for $20.

Q.—Is that the only payment you made directly to him?

A.—On that account, yes.

Q.—He spoke of receiving $100.

A.—Yes, he got $100 to pay his legitimate expenses out of, the balance to apply upon his wages, but nothing was said about that when he got it. I understood he had no money to pay his running around expenses at the time. But I expected him to account for the $100 and I was anxious to have him come and settle the matter.

Q—Then he wrote to you when he went to Longford?

A—I got a letter from him from Longford, but I have not the letter now. I looked for it but cannot find it.

Q.—This is your reply to it? (Letter produced.)

A.—Yes. I cannot remember what was in the letter, but I suppose that reply had reference to its contents.

Q—There was some other claim Mr. Gordon said, you agreed to get settled for him?

A.—He had a claim against Mr. Cox. He had built some houses for Mr. Cox, and they had some misunderstanding about the affair. He gave me an order for $500, which Mr. Cox accepted and paid. At the time I wanted him to get his account settled, but he urged that he had lost so much through Mr. Cox, and was dissatisfied, and said Mr. Cox ought to pay him $50, and he was anxious to get my good offices. But I asked him to give me an order for $50 on Mr. Cox, and I would try to get it settled. He gave me the order, but it was not accepted and it was returned. I replied to him stating that Mr. Cox would not accept it. This account still remained open at the close of the election, and Gordon was still urging he ought to get that account settled, but he claimed a much larger amount then than at the time he gave me the order. I said to him, if you put your claim into an account I will speak to him about it. But I never agreed on Mr. Cox's account, or my own, to have it paid, or even said Mr. Cox would pay it further than that.

Q—That is the claim referred to in his letter?

A.—Yes. Mr. Gordon told me he could not give me particulars of the account.

Q.—So that claim was never settled?

A.—Not so far as I know.

Cross-examined by Mr. Sawers.

Mr. SAWERS—That has nothing to do with this case.

HIS LORDSHIP—That was simply explaining the letter.

Mr SAWERS—You swear you made an express contract with Mr. Gordon for $2 a day.

Mr. HAZLITT—Yes, I do.

Q.—When was that?

A—That was at the time I settled the other account. I wanted him to go immediately and work for Mr. Cox.

Q—What position do you hold?

A.—The same as I do now.

Q—What is that?

A—Well, if you ask me in what connection I will try to tell you.

Q.—Don't you spend large sums of money for every Liberal candidate who comes out?

A.—Indeed I do not. I very seldom spend any money in elections.

Q.—Why did you employ Mr. Gordon?

A.—I wanted to see Mr. Cox elected.

Q—You didn't object to his charge of $3 a day in the Stratton election.

A.—Not at all, because he was receiving $3 a day, and I did not expect to pay him less than he was getting at the time, and I paid him what he demanded because I had no previous agreement with him.

Q.—Did you expect this $100 to go on the previous arrangement?

A.—No, but I expected him to come to my office and give an account of it, and if there was a balance I would expect to apply it on his wages.

Q.—When was that $100 paid?

A.—It was when he was entering on his canvass.

Q.—Did you ask any other persons for accounts for money delivered in that election?

A.—No, he is the only one I think I gave any money to in that election. I am not given to handling any money at elections except my own. It's not boodle.

Q.—After the Cox-Stevenson election did you not offer him $100?

A—I did not.

Q.—You paid him $20

A.—I paid him $20 and asked him to give me his account.

Q—How was that $20 paid?

A.—By check (check produced.)

Q—When he wrote you from Longford he told you he had just got employment.

A.—I don't remember what his letter said.

Q—And you did not find fault with his account in the reply you wrote.

A.—Yes, I asked him to come up and make a settlement. I don't recollect his making any claim for wages up to the time.

Q.—Do you consider you owe him anything now?

A.—I would like to have his statement of account and look over the matter before I would swear I owe him anything or whether he owes me.

Q—Did you not expect that $100 was to be paid out over and above expenses.

A.—I didn't think anything about it. I expected him to use it for legitimate expenses.

A few other irrelevant questions followed and brought the case to a close.

His Lordship at once dismissed the case without costs.

Annual Matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association.

Cold, dark, windy weather is not conducive to good markmanship, but in spite of these drawbacks the annual matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association on Thursday were fairly successful. Besides the local experts present, there were a number of outside "cracks," two of whom are on this year's Bisley team.

Following were the scores, by which it will be seen that the local men held their own against the competion of the foreigners:

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Intense

Suffering

8 Years

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

TURKISH BRIGANDAGE.

FAMOUS ROBBER CHIEF'S ROMANTIC CAREER

A Greek Whose Courtesy to His Victims Makes Him the Claude Duval of the Orient and Whose Pillages Have Rendered Him a Millionaire.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 10. The Oriental Railway Company, as the result of brigand outbreaks, has demanded special guarantees from the Porte if it is to carry on its traffic, all the more as it is suggested that the Indian mail should take that route. Escorts of Zaptiehs are, it is understood, to accompany trains passing through the most dangerous districts, and the local authorities, where outrages upon the part of brigands have occurred, have been strongly impressed from a Turkish point of view with the necessity of immediately putting an end to such occurrences.

MM. Euher and Eugene de Raymond sub managers of the Ummoudja Eregli Vineyard Company, were captured early in August last by the brigands of Chief Athanasios, and were only released after the payment of a ransom of 5000 Turkish pounds. Later in the same month several Italian railroad officials were carried off by Chief Stojan Mohadpsn and others were murdered. Here again a ransom of $10,000 had to be paid for the release of the captured railroad officials.

On June 1 last the same band, that of Athanasios, placed obstructions across the railroad track near Tcherceskoi, derailed an express train and captured several German tourists, among them Herren ? and Geiger, Oscar Kolysch and Israel, a wealthy banker of Berlin. For their ransom $40,000 was paid. In his efforts to try and suppress brigandage the Sultan of Turkey on Sept. 26 issued an order forbidding peasants to carry arms similar to those used by the Turkish troops, and decreed that all suspected persons be examined, and if they are found to be foreigners they are to be expelled from the Turkish dominions.

The Sultan has also announced his intention of fining those knowing the whereabouts of brigands and refusing to inform against them, and offering rewards to those who capture brigands dead or alive.

A Greek Claude Duval.

Athanasios, the Greek brigand, who had been the most prominent in these collections of ransoms, is classed as being one of the most interesting of personages in the Turkish empire. He is said to derive a larger income from the railroads than do the shareholders of these companies. Athanasios is pictured as being a brigand of the old school, an Oriental Claude Duval, practising the traditions of robber courtesy, and building up a handsome fortune for himself at the expense of the Sultan's privy purse, for the demands of the foreign ambassadors for compensation for brigand outrages have been complied with from the fund.

Bandits in East Prussia.

BERLIN, Oct. 10. Bandits attacked a mail coach in the road near Mewe, East Prussia, night before last. They overpowered and stunned the driver and guard and were about binding them preparatory to rifling the contents of the mailbags when a driving party surprised them at their work. A conflict ensued between the newcomers and the outlaws, which resulted in the repulse of the latter and the release of the custodians of the mails. Distress caused by the shortage of the crops has increased lawlessness in the region where the affair occurred.

Out the Funeral Expense.

PICKERING, Oct. 10. The News says: The last remaining relic of the Rouge disaster has been removed from our township. We hear from good authority that the body of the unknown man has been stolen from its bed so kindly provided by our council. It seems that the Toronto School of Medicine has a claim upon all unclaimed human bodies, and such was the Rouge fellow, but we were not just prepared to give him away for nothing, after having paid for his burial. Then we have no evidence to show that he ever reached the above school, and if he did so, by whom was he presented? Grave robbers are at work in various parts of western Ontario, and we very much fear that this poor fellow has been in a like manner kidnapped. All we want, as a township, is to recover the funeral expenses.

Where is Peanut Charley?

HAMILTON, Oct. 9. Mrs. Hale is alarmed about the disappearance of her husband, Peanut Charley, who has not been seen since yesterday. He generally carries considerable money around with him, and it is feared that something may have happened to him. Recently Charley has not been right in his mind and his conduct has been very strange. Twice his wife has had him arrested on a charge of insanity.

A Handsome Gift.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10. It is reported on good authority that the Montreal General Hospital is about to receive a generous donation to its fund, the benefaction being made in the will of the late George Hamilton, son of the late Hon. John Hamilton, who died in Colorado recently. The bequest of Mr. Hamilton is the sum of $100,000 and the money is left at the disposal of the board managers to be employed in such manner as will best conduce to the promotion of the work of the hospital.

Swearing in of the Royal Commission.

QUEBEC, Oct. 6. The Royal Commission was sworn in this afternoon. It is known there will be no lawyer appointed officially to conduct the investigation, and the Government has been informed by Mr. Beique, batonnier of the Montreal bar, and Col. Amyot, M.P., that they will act as its representatives.

A Calgary Boodler.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6. The autumn term of the Supreme Court opened at Calgary yesterday. Charles L. Gouin, late Crown timber agent, pleaded guilty to embezzling $5558 of Government funds. Sentence was deferred. Gouin came from Three Rivers.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

WHO WILL BE THE NEW COMMON'S LEADER.

Russian Forgers Captured—Riots in Marseilles and Rio Janiero—Many People Killed in the Latter Place—Elopers Caught on Board the Teutonic.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—At no time since the break up of the Liberal party on Mr. Gladstone's introduction of the Home Rule bill have political circles been in such a state of ferment as now. The question of the succession to the House of Commons leadership made vacant by the death of William Henry Smith excites the hopes and fears of Conservatives and Liberals alike. Whether it will be Goschen or Balfour is still a mystery, while there is a possibility that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach may be the man.

WHAT SALISBURY DOESN'T SAY.

He Refuses to Name the Late Mr. Smith's Successor.

NICE, Oct. 10. A correspondent called to-day upon the Marquis of Salisbury at his villa at Beaulieu in order to obtain from him an expression of opinion as to his views on the aspect of affairs, both regarding the leadership of the Tory party in the House of Commons in consequence of the death of the Right Hon. W. H. Smith and the future of the Irish party through the death of Mr. Parnell.

Lord Salisbury desires me to say how inexpressibly shocked he is at the death of Mr. Smith and the great loss the country has sustained. It is too early to express any opinion as to his probable successor in the leadership. He has not decided anything with regard to his course in the future.

Lord Salisbury cannot express any opinion upon the political consequences of Mr. Parnell's death. He had the highest opinion of Mr. Parnell's intellectual qualities and abilities as a leader, but he prefers not to express any opinion as to the effect his death will have.

FRENCH MINISTERS MOBBED.

Gendarmes Charge the Rioters, But No Person Is Injured.

MARSEILLES, Oct. 10.—Ministers Guyot Roche and Rouver to-day were treated to a rather exciting experience. They left the prefecture in carriages escorted by the Hussars and a number of gendarmes. The streets were thronged with a sight-seeing, cheering multitude, but at several points along the route pronounced hissing and hooting were heard. This was epecially true in Canebiere quarter. While passing through the boulevard Liberte somebody hurled an open knife having a sharp blade with great force at the ministers. The weapon fortunately missed its mark, striking with considerable force, but handle foremost, an officer of the prefecture who was seated in the rear of the ministerial carriages.

The incident caused great excitement and the gendarmes immediately charged and dispersed the mob. They were not able, however, to discover the miscreant.

The ministers were afterwards entertained at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. M. Roche made a short speech on the subject of the customs tariff. He said that the Cabinet has resolved to make a vigorous defence before the Senate for the free entry of raw material which was necessary as a part of the national industry.

Riot in Rio Janeiro.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 10. Serious disturbances occurred here last night. They made their first appearance in the Italian theatre from some cause at present unknown, and the trouble soon spread to the adjacent streets. The police arrested many of the rioters, but finding themselves outnumbered a force of cavalry made several charges and dispersed the mob. When the streets were cleared and order restored it was found that several persons had been killed and many injured.

The health of President Fonseca has been in a precarious condition lately. To-day he is somewhat better, but he is still extremely weak. Intrigues are afloat regarding the succession to the presidency.

An Eruption Expected.

NAPLES, Oct. 10.—For the past few days Mt. Vesuvius has been unusually active, and an eruption is expected at any moment. A column of fire has been visible above the crater in the day time, and frequent rumbling, accompanied by slight tremors, shows that the internal forces are at work.

Two lives were lost and 21 houses destroyed by an incendiary fire at Furstenberg yesterday.

Dragged His Daughter From the Teutonic.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 10.—Rev. Bartley Ellis of Wigan, Lancashire, boarded the steamer Teutonic, from Liverpool to New York, here to-day, sought out among the passengers a young man and woman, who seemed dreadfully frightened and ashamed when confronted by him. No sooner did he catch sight of the young woman than he seized her violently by the arm, dragged her from her companion, at whose head he hurled a shower of abuse, and literally dragged her down the steamer's side and on board the tender. The girl was his daughter, Harriet Ellis, who had eloped with the young man, named Arthur Mottram. Mottram also landed amid the jeers of the passengers.

The Russian Famine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 10. The prices of food are rapidly rising throughout the empire. At Warsaw the cost of provisions has been doubled. The members of the Red Cross Society are raising a fund to relieve the distress of the famishing people. They are carrying on their operations in Odessa and all the large towns in the south, but are meeting with little response to their appeals for charity, owing to the utter stagnation of commerce which prevails throughout the country.

PARNELL'S OBSEQUIES.

A GREAT PUBLIC FUNERAL IN DUBLIN SUNDAY.

How the Irish People Will Demonstrate Their Affection for Their Late Leader—All the Public Houses to Be Closed—The Route of the Procession.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Messrs. Kenny, Harrington, Richard Power and Dalton paid a visit to Glasnevin and selected the site for Parnell's grave. It is situated upon an enclosed mound to the left of the mortuary chapel and is in a most attractive position. The grave will be dug in the centre of the mound and when a monument is erected over it will be conspicuous from all parts of the cemetery. This mound is at present filled with graves of the poor of the neighborhood who were buried there many years ago, but has not been used for burial purposes for some 40 years.

Thousands of persons are already flocking to Dublin to attend the funeral and an immense crowd is expected to be present on Sunday. All the public houses will be closed while the funeral ceremonies are in progress.

The procession will form at Kingstown where the mail boat from Holyhead will land the casket. From Kingstown the procession will march to the Town Hall, its different sections headed by bands of music with muffled drums.

The casket containing the remains of Mr. Parnell will be conveyed from Brighton to London Saturday morning. There will be no demonstration upon the arrival of the body in the city nor until the funeral car reaches Holyhead. At Holyhead all the Parnellite members of Parliament will meet on Saturday in time to be present at the depot when the funeral train arrives.

All the English Parliamentary colleagues of the late member for Cork city who are to be present at the interment at Glasnevin will there meet the Parnellite members of Parliament and will accompany the body to Ireland.

Ireland Mourns as a Nation.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10. Ireland as a nation is mourning her dead. The sable emblems of sorrow are already being displayed in all parts of the city. The City Hall is being prepared for the lying-in-state of the body, and it is safe to say the funeral of Mr. Parnell will be one of the great pageants in the recent history of Ireland.

Mrs. Parnell is being innundated with messages of condolence which are constantly arriving from all parts of the world. She has completely broken down and is now under medical treatment.

The city hall will be draped in black and a handsome balcony surrounded by strong railings will be erected in front of the O'Connell monument for the reception of the remains. The project of taking a cast of the features has been abandoned.

Parnell's Dying Words.

LONDON, Oct. 10. Dr. Gowers said yesterday that during Mr. Parnell's delirium, some hours before he died, he talked constantly of Ireland, and told what he would do for her if he lived. In a brief, lucid interval, just before his death, he said and they were almost his last words: "Let my love be conveyed to my colleagues and the Irish people."

Justin McCarthy last evening said no movement had yet been made by either section of the Irish party towards a reconciliation and nothing was likely to be done in that direction until after the funeral of Mr. Parnell had taken place. All the Nationalists would certainly attend the funeral of the former leader.

Earl Spencer, speaking at Grantham yesterday, said Parnell was a man of great ability, who served his country with the utmost assiduity. The Irish must be overpowered by the loss of their greatest leader since O'Connell.

Healyites Will Not Attend.

LONDON, Oct. 10. The following of Mr. Timothy Healy have decided not to attend the funeral of Parnell owing to the threats of personal violence which have been made against them if they put in an appearance during the obsequies at Glasnevin.

Mrs. Parnell's Condition.

BORDENTOWN, N.J., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Parnell, the mother of the late Irish leader, is gravely ill. She has been prostrated ever since the news was received of her son's death. It is feared that the blow has been too great for her and that her mind is unbalanced.

CAPT. O'SHEA TALKS.

He Tells What Parnell's Private Opinion Was of some of His Colleagues.

LONDON, Oct. 10. During an interview at his Brighton residence to-day Captain O'Shea declined to allude to personal matters. Regarding political issues he thought the death of Parnell was apparently a disadvantage to the Unionists, but ultimately it would be seen that it would not result in the reunion of the Irish Home Rulers. "The question," the Captain said, "is not in the hands of professional politicians. For some time the leaders had become a mutual admiration society. Healy will see a halo around the head of Sexton and the latter will discover that Healy is a great man. Healy really has immense ability, but the people will not accept him. At the last conversation but one that I ever had with Parnell he assented with obvious pleasure to my suggestion that among his political friends the falsest was Dillon, the lowest Healy and T. P. O'Connor, and the most contemptible Justin McCarthy."

"I have nothing to say about Parnell," continued the Captain. "It was in April, 1886, that I found him out for what he was politically. He was never a man of ideas. His was not an original mind, but he was the most skilful assimilator of others' ideas that I ever met."

Funeral of King Karl.

STUTTGART, Oct. 10. The funeral ceremonies of the late King of Wurtemburg took place at 10 o'clock. A memorial service was held in the marble room. The catafalque was surrounded by a handsome baldachin. The casket was placed in a richly draped funeral car and conveyed, followed by the mourning notabilities, to the old castle of the kings of Wurtemburg. Queen Charlotte, wife of the new King of Wurtemburg, and the royal princesses were present.

The Court chaplain preached the sermon and eulogized the noble qualities of the dead monarch. After these services the casket was lowered into the vault. As the casket disappeared an anthem echoed from the organ and a salvo of artillery shook the old castle to its foundations.

The Emperor of Germany arrived to attend the funeral of the late king. At the depot the Emperor was met by King William II., the Princess of Wurtemburg, Prince Henry of Prussia, and a number of distinguished generals.

The St. Lawrence Changes Hands.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8. An English syndicate is about to acquire the St. Lawrence Hall. The price named is half a million dollars, Mr. Henry Hogan, the present manager, to retain one-fifth interest and continue in his present position for three years. Another half million will be spent on improvements.

A Farmer Gone Mad.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9. William Somerville, jr., one of the most prominent farmers in the county, was brought in from Puce yesterday a raving maniac, and is now in Sandwich jail, where he will be kept until his removal to the insane asylum at London. Last summer Somerville had a severe attack of malarial fever, which left him a mental wreck.

BARRIE, Oct. 9.—Charles W. Bryant, 13-year-old adopted son of Mr. David Beath, while plowing in a field, stopped the team to fix the clevis bolt, when one of the horses kicked him in the abdomen, from the effects of which he died.

AN UNIQUE FESTIVAL.

Lavish Offerings to the Mighty Poo Chat and His Fellow-Deities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 9.—The great Ning Yung family, of whom it is said there is but one family in China older or more powerful, commenced its annual religious festival yesterday in honor of the mighty idol of the clan, Poo Chat. Not only do the Ning Yungs as a family honor and worship Poo Chat, but they also worship 37 other deities, who are believed to have more or less influence over the fortunes of the family. The joss-house recently opened by the Ning Yung Association in Waverly-place is the scene of the festival, which began to-night at 12 o'clock.

To-day every Ning Yung took to the joss-house an offering of clothing of some kind, and during the day wagons rattled through Chinatown collecting offerings of pork. At midnight the paper idols with their robes of silk and jewelry were burned, together with all the banners, the balloons, lanterns and the clothing contributed by the worshippers. It made a bonfire costing $3000 or more and thousands witnessed the event.

As soon as the last vestige of the offerings disappeared the Ning Yungs, having fasted for three days, fell upon the supply of pork collected from their friends and had a feast.

AN OLD MURDER REVIVED.

Wedding of the Wealthy Widow of Stephen Pettus Whom a Woman Killed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Herald states that Mrs. Mildred L. Pettus, the wealthy widow of Stephen Pettus, who was shot and killed by Mrs. Hannah Southworth, near Fulton Ferry, on Nov. 22, 1889, was married in Clarksville, Tenn., on Oct. 1, to Dr. Ross, United States navy, now stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. Pettus married her first husband in Clarksville and came to New York. Mr. Pettus made a fortune in connection with the elevated roads, and his home in Brooklyn was a favorite resort for Southern people. Mrs. Pettus was at the time an invalid, and in 1887 Mr. Pettus first met Mrs. Southworth, a Kentucky woman, who afterward killed him.

Mrs. Southworth charged that she had been betrayed by Pettus, and meeting him at Fulton Ferry she shot him dead. Mrs. Southworth's arrest for murder and her sickness and death before the case was called up for trial are matters of record.

Mr. Pettus' will, filed Nov. 29, 1889, left property worth $1,000,000 to his wife. After her husband's death Mrs. Pettus returned to her home and lived in a pretty villa near Clarksville. Dr. Ross was a constant visitor, and her marriage was not a surprise to their friends.

Mangled by a Cable Car.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 10.—The Carnival of the Priests of Pallas opened last night with a procession of illuminated floats. At the corner of Tenth and Main-streets, where thousands of people were gathered to witness the parade, a cable car became unmanageable and crushed through the crowd, injuring about 25 persons, six of them very severely. Those most seriously injured are: Sergt. George Burnett, Troop I, First Cavalry, from Fort Leavenworth; left side crushed and may die. James Marshall, a negro; sustained a fracture of the skull and will die.

Another Balloon Fatality.

GREENUP, Ills., Oct. 9.—Just as a balloon was ascending from the fair grounds yesterday afternoon Alexander Gordon, a country youth, became entangled in the ropes attached to the parachute and was carried up head hanging downward. In his struggles he caught the rope that releases the parachute and he and the aeronaut were thrown to the ground 80 feet below. The balloonist, William Kisser of Louisville, was killed and Gordon seriously injured.

He was nevertheless compelled to deposit as a bail 15,000 roubles to avoid arrest, pending an investigation.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

RECIPROCITY.

An American Opinion of Canada's Conduct.

Sir John Macdonald's Course Denounced as Reckless and Impudent—Canada Charged With Breach of Faith—Reciprocity Negotiations a Fraud on the Electorate—A Scathing Rebuke.

The New York Tribune of Friday last contains the following article. As the Tribune may be considered the organ of the Harrison Administration, its utterances are very significant :—

Canada has advanced toward her destiny with ruthless despatch since Sir John Macdonald cast the die last February and offered himself anew to the electorate. Parliament has now been prorogued, and the halt in events which this makes necessary may be conveniently employed in retrospection. Sir John Macdonald went to the people on a declaration which is now known to be utterly untruthful. Mr. Bond, of Newfoundland, had negotiated with Secretary Blaine a Treaty of Reciprocity, against the approval of which by the British Government, Canada vehemently protested on the ground that its operations would destroy her fisheries. At the same time Sir John Macdonald offered to join with Newfoundland in a reciprocity arrangement with the United States, and also to negotiate for the settlement of various other questions pending between the States and this colony. This suggestion was transmitted by the British Minister to Mr. Blaine, who replied that he would be glad to consider with Canada the matters proposed, but that this negotiation must be kept separate from that then pending with Newfoundland, and could not be proceeded with at all until by informal conferences with the Canadian representatives it was found that a satisfactory basis of negotiation could be arrived at. Meanwhile he desired that no public mention should be made of the projected conferences. Mr. Blaine's motive for this response is easily understood. He could not admit that the fishery interests of Canada and Newfoundland were identical. He had good reason to distrust the Canadian Premier's reciprocity offer. Sir John Macdonald had been consistently opposed to such a measure of free trade as the United States would be compelled to insist upon, and it was plainly in direct contradiction of his established policy. To concede it he would have to abandon all that he and his party stood for and accept as his own the platform of the Liberal Opposition. Mr Blaine did not believe that Sir John Macdonald would do this. It seemed much more likely that he was aiming to give such a shape to the negotiation as would inevitably cause its collapse, thereby furnishing himself with the argument for home use against his Liberal foes that fair reciprocity was impossible, since he had tried to get it and had failed. Mr. Blaine had no intention of allowing the United States to be thus made use of.

The event has proved that these suspicions were entirely just. He started in his tricky [illegible] by his Liberal enemies at all points, and knowing that the census was about to reveal how miserably his policy had failed, and convinced that the wholesale corruption of his Government could not escape the scrutiny of another session of Parliament, Sir John resolved upon a desperate expedient. His brilliant audacity and unscrupulousness were never displayed so clearly as in the steps he took to carry out his resolution. He brought the Governor-General into his service, and actually forced him to tell the people, as the occasion of dissolving Parliament, that Mr. Blaine had made proposals for a reciprocity treaty and for the settlement of all pending issues;—that a new election must be had so as to give Sir John the warrant to meet the American offers, and that immediate action was necessary because a new American Congress would assemble on March 4, at which time Canada must be ready to send commissioners to Washington! Reckless and impudent as these statements were, they served the purpose of their author. Weak with age, he threw himself into a furious campaign and forced the fighting at all points. As he had used the American Government in bringing about the contest, so he used it in exciting the fears and prejudices of the voters. His newspaper organs and his campaign orators fought for nothing so much as against America. Asking a commission to treat for amity and trade with America, they denounced the Americans and their system with an intensity of passion altogether incomprehensible, and they railed at amity and trade as treason to Great Britain. Sir John Macdonald won a ruinous victory. His parliamentary majority was reduced from 50 to 20, and before the echoes of the battle had ceased he was dead.

The task he left to his successors was far beyond their strength. They have issued from its primary stage deplorably weakened and disgraced, but the only wonder is that they have managed to issue at all. The parliamentary session began with a cynical pretence of carrying out the programme that had been the Government's excuse for springing an election in anticipation of the reapportionment under the new census, which they knew would be fatal to their hopes; but the pretence ended with the publication of a carefully edited portion of the correspondence between Mr. Blaine and the British Minister. The cloud that had been gathering during so many years about the head of Sir John Macdonald, but which he had contrived to elude or force back so long as he lived, then broke in savage force. Charges against the integrity of Ministers poured in upon Parliament, and their investigation revealed a corruption in the Governmental Departments which has no parallel except in the history of Tammany Hall. The ablest and oldest of Sir John's lieutenants was forced into disgraceful retirement. Two others, against whom much proof has already come out and more is impending, are under condemnation. A fourth, who was hung on the skirts of the exiled Sir Hector Langevin, is to follow his fallen fortunes. A fifth, beaten at the polls and saved by being elevated to the Senate, is to be elevated out of the cabinet and into a provincial governorship. A sixth is to be similarly got rid of. By this vacation shuffling, the Government hopes to clear away the worst of the Macdonald barnacles and to come before the next session of Parliament largely reinforced with new men, and determined to insist that the dead past shall be allowed to bury its dead. Meanwhile it will press its overtures upon President Harrison. Having broken faith with the American Government and misrepresented it to bring on an election, and having then covered the American people with denunciation to win the election, the Tory machine now appeals to the United States for a treaty which will save Canada from an organic revolution. The negotiation begun under Macdonald as a fraud on the electorate will be renewed under Abbott as his only chance to save Canadian Toryism and "loyalty."

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hoods's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes : "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

Aunty's Advice.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Warsaw.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Dummer council met in the town hall, Warsaw, on Saturday, Oct. 3rd, 1891. Present, A. R. Kidd, Reeve, E. Hawthorne, Deputy-Reeve, and councillors G. Payne and H. A. Moore. Minutes of the last meeting having been read and signed, the following business was disposed of: Moved, seconded and carried, that clerk be instructed to write to the assistant Commissioner of Crown Lands for a statement of the $50 township money expended on the Stony Lake road in the township of Dummer, in year 1891, as the Commissioner has refused to give a statement to the municipal council, and refers council to Government for a detailed statement. Moved, seconded and carried, that the following orders be paid: Jacob White, measuring timber for bridge, $1.00; Richard Batten, handling same for measurement, 50c; Jas McCracken, bal. for timber for bridge, $16.82. Collector's roll given to R. McCracken to collect taxes for the municipality of Dummer, after giving necessary bonds, etc.

Council adjourned to meet again on Saturday, Nov. 7th, 1891.

WARSAW BRIEFS.

Warsaw is starting a literary society under the able management of Rev. Mr. Lewis, and is going to be quite a grand success....B. Wasson's grist mill is running night and day at present, which is making quite a boom. ....Court Foresters met Tuesday evening, and was honored by some visitors from Peterborough, Norwood, and some of our members, who have just returned from Rainy River.

Pupils in Our Public Schools.

Are They All Fairly Treated?—A Neglected Class—Are Our School Trustees Aware of This?

It is not our intention at this time to unfairly condemn our public school system, nor is it our wish to harshly criticise the conduct or ability of our public school teachers, who for hours each day have the control of our children; but simply to show that at present there are thousands of school children in Canada who are almost neglected, and who do not receive the attention they deserve. This is owing to a want of tact on the part of the teacher, and a lack of thoroughly understanding human nature, qualities which every successful teacher should possess.

We find in every school a class of scholars known as "dullards," whose perceptions are deficient in rapidity, and whose mental powers are sluggish. Such pupils need especially the spur of encouragement, and should never be subjected to blame or derision on account of their slowness. Many teachers often greatly err in dealing with this class of pupils, applying to them such names as blockhead, dolt, numbskull and dunce. They are often neglected by the teacher, who naturally prefers to give attention to bright, precocious pupils who need but little instruction. Teachers and parents should remember that there are good reasons for the existence of this class of scholars. Many children inherit the deficiencies which constitute a "dullard"; others, owing to ailments, such as weak, nervous organisms and puny frames, are unable to cope with children of robust build and strong nerve organization.

It is the imperative duty of the teacher to whose care has been committed the educational training of such children, to watch with solicitous care the progress and condition of these pupils.

In the majority of cases it will be advisable to report to the parent periodically, and advise seasons of rest and recuperation.

Young children should at the same time receive more care and attention from their parents, that will conduce to their health and materially assist the teacher.

Parents should carefully attend to all the symptoms of nervousness exhibited by their children. Those twitchings and ugly writhing propensities should receive immediate attention. If your children are irritable, fretful and listless they are unhealthy. If they have headache, dizziness, chilliness, palpitation of the heart and general restlessness, they are in a fair way to develop St. Vitus' Dance. To remove these troubles, to strengthen your children's nerves, to build up the flesh, to make muscle, and give a clear brain, you must use that unfailing remedy Paine's Celery Compound. This course of treatment if faithfully pursued will certainly take your children out of the "dullard" class, and give to them a healthy brain action to actively pursue their studies with safety and pleasure.

Teachers, you have also a great responsibility in this matter. You can, in your own way, urge the use of Paine's Celery Compound which has done so much in Canada for members of your profession. Do not hold back the truth from those who need it.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

A Hack Horse's Holiday.

While the fire alarm was ringing last night Mr. R. Gibb's hack-horse caught the prevailing excitement and left the Commercial House at the top of its speed, running in the direction of the fire hall. The horse, with coupe attached, ran through the crowd in front of the fire hall without doing any injury and turned down Water street, but was stopped in front of the police station. The horse was cut about its legs and the vehicle was damaged somewhat.

Peterborough's Plum.

The last number of the Canadian Electrical News contains an illustrated description of the Edison works at Peterborough, in which it is stated that the works are in many respects similar to the vast shops at Schenectady, N.Y. The property consists of thirty acres of level ground, and the main building, 110 ft. wide, 272 feet long, with a gallery of 25 feet on each side, and a centre height of 60 ft., is said to be one of the finest machine shops in the province. Two other buildings, each 50 x 272 ft., are in course of erection, and plans for about a dozen additional buildings are already prepared. About 400 hands are already employed. A power station is also in course of construction, and is to have an engine and dynamo capacity of 1,000 h. p. Power is transmitted electrically by means of underground conductors, and an Edison motor drives each main line of shafting.... From all of which it is apparent, says the Lindsay Post, that Peterborough has a "plum."

A New Tailoring Establishment.

Next Wednesday Messrs. P. Simons & Co. will open a first class merchant-tailoring establishment at 416 George street. The new firm consists of Mr. Peter Simons and Mr. Hiram Lithgow. "Pete" Simons is the best known cutter in the district; for thirty years he has been at work with his shears, and it is safe to say there is no man in the Midland district who has cut and turned out more good fitting suits than he has. There is not a house in the county from Apsley to Bailieboro, where his name is not known and regarded as that of a first class cutter. He has a high reputation, and deserves, and in his new venture he will, do all in his power, to maintain the high reputation for first class work which has made him so popular for the past quarter of a century. Mr. Lithgow, the other member of the firm, has had a dozen years' experience of the clothing trade in a first class establishment, and will bring a large stock of experience and energy. The pair will make a strong team, and their many friends will wish them every success. What a talk there will be on every drive and in every lumber camp in the northern country, where both members of the firm are well known and highly thought of! When the firm open their doors next Wednesday with a fine stock of first class clothes, and "Pete's" familiar face behind the cutting table, that will doubtless be the beginning of a thrifty prosperous business.

Legal Erratum.

The case of Gordon vs. Haslitt, tried at the Assize Court on Thursday, was dismissed "with costs," which means that the costs of the suit are placed on the plaintiff. The report stated the case was dismissed without costs, while the opposite was the case.

Three of Eve's Sons.

Three young boys apparently inherit their remote maternal ancestor's fondness for apples, in consequence of which they have been "snaked" before P. M. Edmison this afternoon to answer a charge of purloining forbidden fruit from Mr. T. E. Bradburn's orchard at Moira Hall.

The Omemee Exhibition.

The exhibition at Omemee on Friday was a fine success. The show of stock was good, and the inside exhibit unusually so. The "exhibition building" was one of Turner & Son's largest exhibition tents, which was well suited to the purpose, and will be increasingly popular next year.

An Incipient Blaze.

An alarm of fire was sounded last night at eight o'clock, and the brigade was informed it came from Meldrum & Davidson's flour mill. The fire was really at the Dickson Co's mill. A hot journal began to blaze shortly after the mill shut down, but it was extinguished before any damage was done. The service of the brigade were not required.

Low Water.

On enquiring at the Light Company's office as to the cause of the present deficiency in the wares supplied by them, it is learned that the river is exceptionally low, and that till new machinery, capable of coping with the difficulty, is manufactured, which will be about the middle of the month, no relief, except a rise in the water, can be looked for.

The Great Musical Event.

So sterling and established is the reputation of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club that is to appear in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday night, Oct. 16th, that praise of its music is

To gild refined gold, to paint the lily,
To throw a perfume on the violet.

This club is incomparable. Reserved seat plan now open at the Peterborough Bookstore, the shop furthest south.

Police Court Pencillings.

In the police court this morning a man named Thos. Nelson, a native of Keene, was arraigned on a charge of drunkenness. Dismissed—first offence. A girl named Mary Alison, of Norwood, was remanded till Monday on a charge of vagrancy. She was arrested at the corner of King and Water streets by P. C. McGinty last night. She said she had been assaulted by a young fellow who ran away when the policeman appeared.

Lowland Stock Farm's Triumphs.

Four sets of judges at agricultural exhibitions have pronounced "General Arthur," the imported Clydesdale stallion, the pride of Lowland's, the best stock-getter in the district. During this season the gets of "General Arthur" have been exhibited at Peterborough, Bethany, Millbrook and Centreville, and have taken fifteen first prizes, three second prizes, and one third prize. That the opinions of expert judges, unknown to each other, should agree so exactly in their high estimate of the superiority of "General Arthur's" stock, is the most convincing proof that it is the best.

A Long Life of Single Blessedness.

A correspondent of the Cobourg World, referring to the Smith-Rogers wedding at Grafton, (of which we published an account yesterday) says:—"A remarkable feature of this happy event was the presence among the guests of Miss Greeley, the oldest living native resident of this county, who was born nearly 90 years ago. This venerable lady's intellect is undimmed by length of years. She was present at the church during the ceremony, and drove to Peterborough next day in the carriage of Mr. Rogers of that town. Her present residence is the township of Haldimand where she owns a farm."

The Amende Honorable.

A large portion of the public are aware that on Thursday evening an altercation between Mr. R. Fair and Dr. Stephenson, V.S., resulted in the latter's impulsive nature overcoming his temper and moving him to actions of which he, in his cooler moments, repented, in earnest of which he has sent the following letter:—

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 10th, 1891.

ROBERT FAIR, Esq., Peterborough.

DEAR SIR,—In thinking over the unfortunate occurrence which took place between us on Thursday evening, I feel that an apology is due to you. I deeply regret my hasty action and the inconvenience and annoyance you have been put to as a result, and sincerely trust that you will kindly be considerate enough to think no more about it.

The Cheapest and the Best.

"Indigenous Bitters" are the cheapest Bitters which have ever been offered to the public, because instead of buying a preparation all ready put up, one can buy the ingredients for making them at the market price. For instance, with a box of these bitters which cost 25 cents, you can make three or four bottles similar to those which sell for one dollar; therefore with the money which you would pay for one bottle you can make twelve or fifteen bottles.

Our Wicked Boarders.

The Criminals Who Passed Through Gaol Last Year—And What it Costs to Board Them.

The annual gaol statistics are not such dry reading as statistics are always supposed to be. A perusal of the following will repay the reader. Appended is a condensation of the annual report of the Peterborough county gaol, for the year ending Sept 30th, which Sheriff Hall has prepared for submission to the government.

During the year there were 152 prisoners committed to gaol, 134 males and 18 females. Four of the prisoners were boys under 16 years of age. Of these 152 prisoners 31 have been so committed more than three times, 14 have been committed just three times, 28 were in twice and 79 for the first time during last year.

Twelve were committed as lunatics. Eighty-eight were found guilty and sentenced, 45 were acquitted, and there were 3 awaiting trial on the 30th September.

Three prisoners went to Central prison, two to the Mercer Reformatory, three to the penitentiary, one to the Boys' Reformatory, and 79 completed their terms in gaol for various periods.

Of the number of prisoners committed the expense of maintenance of 16 was defrayed by the government, and of 136 by the municipalities.

The nationalities of the prisoners were divided as follows:—Canadian 85, English 19, Irish 33, Scotch 8, and United States 7.

In religion the prisoners professed as follows:—60 Roman Catholics, and 92 Protestants, as follows: 37 Church of England, 19 Presbyterian, 33 Methodist, and 3 of other denominations.

Sixty-three prisoners were married and 89 unmarried; of these, 10 women being married and 8 unmarried.

Twenty-four prisoners could neither read nor write; 61 were reported temperate and 91 intemperate. In the matter of temperance the females made a good showing, 14 of the total, 18, being stated as temperate.

The total expenditure for the year was as follows.—For food and supplies, $1,219 29; salaries, $1,350 00; total, $2,569.29.

The daily cost of each prisoner for rations was 12⅛ cents.

The greatest number of prisoners confined in gaol at any one time was 21; the lowest 9.

At the time of the making out of the report, Sept. 30th, there were 16 prisoners in gaol; of whom 3 were waiting trial, 4 were serving terms of less than two months and 9 terms of more than that period.

Following is a list of the offences for which prisoners were committed during the year:

Bread from Sawdust.

One of the Possibilities of the Near Future.

It reads like a joke to say that bread can be produced from sawdust, but propositions seemingly as absurd have before to-day turned out to be stern realities. The question is one in which lumbermen are interested, for they have the sawdust to sell and will hardly object to so large a market as one comprised of the bread-eaters of the whole civilized world. The problem is at present under investigation by the United States Department of Agriculture. This is the account given by a Washington correspondent:—Scientists are of the opinion that no good reason exists why this thing should not be entirely practicable. It is a well known fact familiar to all that starch is a substance extremely nutritious; in fact, it is nearly all nutriment. Well, starch and sawdust are the same thing. Sawdust, which is "cellulose," is of precisely the same chemical composition as starch. The two are expressed by the same chemical formula, C3 H 10 O5—that is, six parts of carbon, 10 of hydrogen and five parts of oxygen. These are the simple ingredients of either starch or sawdust. Scientific experimenters have been trying for a long time to find out a way to transform the one into the other. If they should succeed the discovery would be away ahead of the philosopher's stone in point of value. An inexhaustible source of food supply would at once be rendered available in the forests, in grass and even in straw and chaff. Hitherto chemistry has occupied itself almost wholly with taking things apart, in order to find out what they are made of; but now the science is directing its attention to putting elements together for the production of useful substances. Already it has succeeded in the artificial preparation of indigo, alizarin, and many other compounds. The aniline colors, obtained from coal tar and yet rivaling the most brilliant tints of the rainbow, are similarly produced. From coal tar in like manner are derived many valuable anti fever medicines and soporifics. The prospects of this new science of putting elements together seem infinite, and the era of bliss may yet dawn which has been prophesied by the illustrious naturalist, Frederick Cohn, who says that all struggles for existence among men arising from want of food will be done away with when chemistry shall have learned to make starch from carbonic acid and water. Plants grow by doing just that, and it may, therefore, be said that farmers have been engaged since time immemorial in this very chemical industry. It would scarcely be as surprising, then, if the farms of the country should be replaced at some time in the future by chemical laboratories.

"Save who can!" was the frantic cry of Napoleon to his army at Waterloo. Save health and strength while you can, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is advice that applies to all, both young and old. Don't wait until disease fastens on you; begin at once.

The Otonabee Agricultural Exhibition.

Highly Successful—Good Weather, Good Exhibits, Good Attendance, Good Management—The Prize List.

The annual exhibition of the Otonabee Agricultural Society was held at the grounds, Keene, on Thursday and Friday, and it was in all respects a very gratifying success. The number of exhibits was a little in excess of last year, and the excellent quality of the exhibits in almost every class was a noticeable feature. The interior department showed a splendid display of grain, wheat being especially well represented, and the roots and vegetables were of a superior character. Dairy products were also worthy of especial mention. The ladies came out strong in both fancy and useful handiwork. The immense exhibit of quilts portends a hard winter. There was a good show, though small in quantity, of fruits—a curiosity in this section being a fine lot of late peaches grown by Mr. Geo. Read, the obliging secretary of the society, upon a tree which was originally a plum, the plum having died and the peach tree springing up from the original stalk. There was a fine show of flowers, both cut and in pot. There was a good field of cattle, Durhams, Ayrshires, Holsteins and grades, and a fine show of horses, especially single drivers. The show of swine was very meagre, but there was a fine collection of short-wool sheep. Poultry was also sparingly but well represented. The attendance at the exhibition was good, the day being especially favourable. The directors are to be congratulated upon the fine success which attended the last exhibition of the society, one of the most successful of its over forty years of existence. For thirty one years of that time Mr. Geo. Read, secretary and treasurer, has held that position, and Messrs. Andrew Nelson and Alex. Gillespie have been members and exhibitors continuously since the inception of the exhibition, and Mr. Thos. Blezard, M. P. P., has been a continuous member and exhibitor since he was of eighteen years of age.

Market Mems.

A Large Market, Fine Produce and Good Prices.

The market square and building are all life and bustle every Saturday morning, and one wonders how the people got along with the old market house as they did. The new butter market, six times the size of the old one, has yet none too much accommodation for the crowd, and the extra space on the square caused by the removal of the old structure, is also filled up, until one cannot conceive where they found room previously. Peterborough market is evidently growing in popularity and importance.

To-day there was a great variety of produce offered. Inside, butter, eggs and fowl were the prevailing commodities. Butter sold mostly for 25c., eggs. 14c., chickens, 40 and 50c. a pair, ducks, 75c. a pair.

Apples and potatoes were offered in abundance at the farmers' waggons. There were few, if any, good eating apples, and cookers sold at 30 to 60c. a bag. Potatoes were uniform at 50c. Tomatoes sold at 40c. a bushel. Pears sold at two figures, a small variety going at 25c. a peck, and a better quality at 40c.

There was a surplus of vegetables. Cabbage, cauliflower, celery, melons, carrots, beets, etc., sold in five, eight and ten cents bunches, as they always do, according to size and quality.

A market gardener from Port Hope was on with a load of fine onions, which he sold at 25c. a peck. Onions were also offered at different waggons.

Two or three farmers were selling green corn at eight cents a dozen. This is very late in the season for green corn, but it looked fine.

The 9th Line Road

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In reading Mr. Kidd's evidence re investigation into expenditure of $100 county money I see that he attempts to explain his charge of $3.50 for going with Mr. McWilliams and myself to examine the road early in the summer and before work was commenced, by stating that I had charged for that day. I want it distinctly understood that I never charged nor received one cent in connection with that or any other road in the county. He also says that he only stated at one meeting that he had spent $200 township money, which is a so untrue, for he made that statement at every meeting up to and at the nomination and even when the auditor's report for Dummer for 1884 was produced at the nomination, showing Mr. Robb had expended that money. He would not give in and claimed the report was for another year. All the evidence produced was submitted to Mr. Pearse, Reeve of Norwood, who was chairman of the meeting, and after examining the papers he announced to the meeting that Mr. Robb had expended the $200, and Mr. Kidd had to acknowledge his statements were false.

Yours truly,
THOS BLEZARD.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine Without Avail—Gave Himself up to die.

I was in the war during 1862-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience. C. L. PEARSALL, 1 Fulton Fish Market, New York.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

SMITH AND PARNELL.

THE FUNERALS OF TWO NOTED MEN.

Victoria's Tribute to the Late Commons Leader His Obsequies Quietly Conducted Tens of Thousands Attend the Funeral of the Uncrowned King

LONDON, Oct. 12. The remains of Charles Stewart Parnell have been consigned to the tomb. At 2.15 Saturday the casket was carried from his late residence at Holyhead and placed in a hearse whence it was escorted by Parnell's colleagues to the station. Mrs. Parnell was unable to accompany the remains. At Brighton there was a terrific downpour of rain the whole afternoon. The train then started for Wellesden (the junction of the London & Northwestern Railway, with the roads from the east and south. A great crowd rushed towards the carriage in which the remains were deposited. As the doors were opened everyone reverently bared the head and stood with silent expectancy, apparently waiting for some leading Parnellite to speak. It was found, however, that time would not permit of any ceremony. It had been planned that when the coffin should be temporarily removed from the car some distinguished member of the league was to deliver an address, but all that it was possible to do was to uncover the coffin, which was lying in the case in which it had been placed for transit from Brighton, and to form a queue of the people who had assembled and allow them to pass in single file through the railway carriage. This was successfully carried out. Many persons in the line were moved to tears. Delegates from several branches of the London League placed wreaths upon the bier.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11. The scene at Holyhead when the cortege arrived at 1.55 o'clock yesterday was mournful in the extreme. Dozens of Parnell's close friends had come across from Kingstown to meet the body and burst into tears as they beheld the coffin. The remains were quickly placed aboard the steamer Ireland. The chief mourners who sat around the coffin in the cabin were Mr. Henry Parnell, who bears a striking resemblance to his late brother; Mrs. Dickinson, a sister, and Miss Dickinson, a niece of the deceased. With these was Miss Maude Gonne, who became famous for her stubbornness to the evictions in Donegal. She had traveled from Toulon to attend the funeral. All the Parnellites who had been at Brighton in attendance upon the body of their late chief were also aboard. The steamer arrived at Kingstown about 9 o'clock in the morning. Despite a fierce downpour of rain and raw wind that made it almost impossible to stand on the pier, thousands of people were waiting. A singular scene was then witnessed. As the coffin was removed from the box which had encased it the crowd rushed forward and seized the box, tearing it quickly in pieces for the purpose of obtaining fragments of the wood as relics.

In a few moments more Dublin was reached and a great throng greeted the coming of the body of their leader. The coffin was borne on the shoulders of six stalwart Irishmen to St. Nicholas Church, near the Law Courts, where the rector, Rev. Thomas Long, assisted by Rev. G. A Frye, rector of All Souls church, Manchester, read the service of the Church of Ireland. The more immediate friends and the relatives of the deceased completely filled the church; the throng of general mourners remaining meanwhile outside in the pouring rain. The brief service being over the procession was formed and the coffin escorted by numerous Irish societies and by many thousands of citizens, was conveyed to the city hall and placed upon a magnificent catafalque in the central hall, at the foot of the statue of the great O'Connell.

At the head of the coffin stood the colors of the Wicklow volunteers, organized by Mr. Parnell's father in 1779.

On the top of the coffin was an immense cross of flowers, inscribed with the names of the 31 party colleagues of Parnell.

The inclosure around the coffin was a mass of floral offerings of every shape and design and coming from Parnell's admirers in all parts of Ireland and England. Some of the masses of flowers bore revengeful mottos.

At 10 o'clock the arrangements were completed so that the crowd could be permitted to file past the coffin. A procession six deep moved past and the stream flowed uninterruptedly for three hours.

125,000 View the Body.

It is estimated that 125,000 passed the body. The Parnellite members of Parliament stood inside the barrier as a sort of body guard, Mr. Henry Campbell who had been Parnell's closest intimate for years standing at the foot of the coffin. At 1 o'clock the procession was stopped, though there seemed no end to the line of people passing the coffin.

Photographs of the lying in state show that the coffin was placed at the base of the O'Connell statue and on either side in bold relief are the statutes of Grattan and Lucas.

Conspicuous on the coffin were three wreaths from Mrs. Parnell, a cross, anchor and circle, with the inscriptions: "My own true love." "Best and truest friend. My husband, from his broken-hearted wife."

Inside this inscription was the following: "My dear love, my husband; from his heartbroken wife!" And still within this was the following: "My dear love, my husband, my king; from his heartbroken wife!" There were also two lovely little wreaths from Mrs. Parnell's daughters, with the words: "From little Clara and little Kitty to our dear mother's husband."

At a quarter to 3 the procession started, led by the executive of the leadership committee. Following came the bier, the coffin passed, almost hidden in flowers, drawn by six coal black horses, surrounded by the parliamentary colleagues of Mr. Parnell. As every head in the vast assemblage was uncovered. Mr. Parnell's favorite horse followed the bier. Then came a strong body of the Clanna-gaels, headed by James Stephens and John O'Leary. The Lord Mayor in state preceded by the city marshal and the sword and mace bearers were the next behind the family carriages. Then followed the representatives of corporations of the principal Irish towns, various trade societies, Foresters, Home Rulers, private carriages and citizens on foot.

The Clouds Roll By.

Just as the procession started the rain happily ceased, the sun broke through the clouds and shone brilliantly. All the windows and housetops along the line of march were packed with people. It was a great procession, surpassing in point of numbers anything of the kind ever witnessed in Dublin.

The processionists, numbering fully 40,000, formed into line six abreast, and wherever a gap in the procession permitted them to go the bands of music heading the different societies dropped in. Long strips of jaunting cars, private carriages and every sort of vehicle added length to the cortege.

All along the route to the cemetery tens of thousands lined the road. Owing to the dense throng which had gathered in Glasnevin Cemetery, considerable delay was experienced in gaining an entrance, and it was 6 o'clock before the coffin, which had been removed from the hearse at the gate, could be carried to the side of the grave.

The crush round about was terrible. Darkness had set in and the noise of shrieking women, the cries of children and the cries of men struggling amid the crush made inaudible the voices of the clergy reciting the ritual of the Church of England.

The clergymen were obliged to cut the service short, as the crowd broke into protecting circle and overwhelmed the main group. Some time after in the dead darkness when the crowd had thinned away the more intimate friends again grouped themselves around the grave, deposited wreaths thereon and took the last view of the coffin. The grave became heaped up with the masses of floral tributes, one of which was Miss O'Shea's, overlooked in the description given above. This bore the suggestive words: "In loving memory of mother's land."

To many scores of thousands the return to Dublin must have been a weary way. It was 7 o'clock when the mourners started to return to the city.

Dillon Insulted.

DUBLIN, Oct. 12. As John Dillon, member of Parliament for East Mayo, was passing down Sackville-street last evening he was met by a rough, who shouted: "You're a murderer!" Mr. Dillon managed to pass without further trouble, but 20 yards further on he was accosted by two other men, who approached him, saying in a threatening manner, "There's Dillon the murderer!" Mr. Dillon says the men had been drinking, but it is asserted the language used was the result of secret meetings of Parnellites.

THE LATE LEADER.

An Entire Absence of Display—Service in Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 12. The body of the Right Hon. William Henry Smith, late Conservative leader in the House of Commons, was removed Saturday from Walmer Castle near Deal, en route to Hambleton, near Henley, on the Thames, Oxfordshire. The casket was covered with wreaths of flowers, one being from the Queen. It was inscribed: "A mark of sincere regard and gratitude for devoted services to his sovereign and country, from Victoria."

Crowds waited outside the precincts of Westminster Abbey for an hour in the pouring rain to witness the arrival and departure of the celebrities who were present at the memorial service held there in honor of the late William Henry Smith. All the Royal family were represented by proxies. Almost every noted politician was present and a special section had been reserved for the diplomatic corps, who were all in attendance. Sir William Vernon Harcourt represented Mr. Gladstone, and Lord Cranborne represented Lord Salisbury. The service was a choral one, and was very impressive. The Dean of Westminster, the Very Rev. George G. Bradley officiated.

The train bearing the remains arrived at Henley-on-the-Thames during the afternoon. The casket was there placed in a plain two-horse hearse. Nine carriages, containing the family and immediate friends of the deceased, followed the hearse to Hambleden, where the remains were interred in Greenland's Cemetery, which was presented to the village by the dead man.

The Heslop Murder.

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—Ancaster people are very much dissatisfied with the lack of progress made in the Heslop murder case. It is now nine months since the aged treasurer of the township was foully murdered and there seems to have been no progress made towards the discovery of the murderers. The people of the township think that the Heslop case was serious enough to demand the undivided attention of one man until the murderer was captured or nothing more could be done with that end in view. Of course there may have been a good deal of work done and the detective may still be at work without the Ancaster people knowing of it.

Trainmen Killed.

POKEEPSIE, N.Y., Oct. 12. Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning a heavy freight train going north on the Hudson River Railway broke in two and was run into by another freight near Boorman's Bridge. George Munger, engineer of the way freight, was badly hurt, and Arthur Small, the fireman, was instantly killed. Daniel C. Rockwell, a brakesman in the way freight, was instantly killed. A brakesman on the heavy freight train was also killed. His name could not be ascertained.

LA GRANGE, Ind., Oct 10. A bad wreck is reported at Kendallville, the junction of the Lake Shore and Grand Rapids Railway. Several persons were hurt and a great deal of damage was done to cars and freight. All trains were delayed. It was a collision of passenger and freight trains.

Increased $82,000 in a Week.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company returned traffic earnings from Sept. [illegible] to Sept. [illegible], 1891, were $581,000; 1890, [illegible]; increase for 1891, $82,000.

Calgary's Mayor Dying.

CALGARY, Oct. 8.—Dr. Lafferty, Mayor of Calgary, was stricken with paralysis to-day and is very low.

A LIVERPOOL TRAGEDY.

A WHOLE FAMILY KILLED AS THE RESULT OF A FIRE.

Thomas Brown and His Infant Son Burned to Death—The Mother Throws Her Babe Out of the Window and It Is Dashed to Pieces and She Jumps After It and Is Fatally Hurt.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 12.—One Tom Brown living in the Toxteth district of this city last night upset an ignited parafine lamp. Both he and his infant son were burned to death. His wife terror-stricken at the flames frantically threw her baby through a window which was smashed to pieces on the pavement below. She then jumped through the window herself and though not killed outright is dying at the hospital.

RUSSIA'S TIDE OF CONQUEST.

It Is High Time for England to Unsheath Her Sword in Asia.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Standard publishes a communication in regard to the recent so-called aggressive action of Russia in Pamir, which says: "It is high time for England to unsheath her sword in Asia. The Russian tide of conquest, which has flowed steadily eastward for fifty years, must be sent sweeping back to the Caspian. Russia has boldly pushed on until she now stands at the very outposts of India."

The Standard, commenting upon this, says it has no liking for "scares" and that its purpose is "not to suggest alarm, but to force the necessity of firmness and vigilance," adding, there is no question of hostilities, but if it were possible to conceive a struggle for supremacy in Asia, it should be decided in Pamir. It would be an easy matter for our Indian authorities to pull down the Eagle, which in ill-timed chauvenism a Cossack commander hoisted in the wilderness. The game of "bounce" has so far been played with success, but there is a limit beyond which it cannot be pushed. The signal for retreat should be given when the Cabinet of St. James speaks clearly on the subject.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The election to-day in Buteshire, Scotland, for member of parliament resulted in the election of Mr. Murray (Conservative), who received 1335 votes, to 990 for Mr. McCulloch (Gladstonian). The previous incumbent was also a Conservative.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Richard C. Jebb, the famous Greek professor of Cambridge University, was to-day elected to Parliament by the Cambridge University constituency, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Postmaster-General, Mr. Raikes.

Gibraltar to Remain Isolated.

MADRID, Oct. 12.—The Epoch has an article opposing the proposed connecting of Gibraltar with the Spanish railway system. The writer declares it is the policy of Spain to isolate Gibraltar to the utmost.

The Austrian Budget

VIENNA, Oct. 12.—The minister of finance, Herr Steinbach, to-day presented the Austrian budget for 1892. The expenditures are estimated at 584,620,378 florins, an increase of 19,167,351 florins over the expenditures of 1891. The receipts are estimated at 585,238,262 florins, an increase of 16,862,741 florins over the receipts of 1891.

After Two Years' Struggle He Winds Up in Jail.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—At the Westminster Police Court, Leroy Nicholas, an organist and professional singer, claiming to be a native of the United States and the son of a clergyman, was charged with sending libelous and menacing letters to Miss MacIntyre, the singer. It was shown that for the past two years the prisoner had been deluging Miss MacIntyre with letters proposing marriage, and threatening to kill her unless she consented. The accused was committed for trial.

Crops in Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 12. The Times publishes a final estimate of the state of crops in Great Britain, and says it anticipates a bad yield and of indifferent quality. Much of the grain stacked is in such a condition as to necessitate great delay before it can be threshed. The real state of affairs, therefore, will not be known for a month. It is possible the harvest, as a whole, may not be worse than of recent years, but in many districts the crops will be the worst in 40 years, and the farmers will not be able, as they had feared, to recoup themselves for recent losses by abundant crops and increased prices.

A "Mountain of Misery."

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Senator Bannoff estimates that 32,000,000 peasants in Russia are now destitute and must be provided for in the next six months. It will require 320,000,000 pounds of grain to feed them. The Americans in this city have started a subscription list to relieve this mountain of misery. Prince Korsakoff, the head of a great family, lives on Koosewort bread as an example for his servants to follow during the national affliction.

Rioting in Rio Janeiro.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 12. The rioting which began at the Italian theatre Thursday evening continued during the night. The troops were called out and patrolled the city until morning. Throughout the night there was desultory fighting and a number of persons are said to have been killed. Further trouble is apprehended.

A Crank Fractured His Skull.

PETERBORO, Oct. 12.—James Tobin was the victim of a serious accident last evening, which occurred when the Golden Eye was coming up the river. Tobin had been rigging a heavy windlass for working the sawdust drag. A couple of men were turning the windlass when one of the cranks broke, and whizzing around with great force struck Tobin on the head, fracturing his skull.

She is Ruth Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Mrs. and Mr. Grover Cleveland decided yesterday to name their daughter Ruth, signifying "beauty."

"This was the name of Mrs. Cleveland's grandmother," said Mr. Cleveland, "and has always been liked by her."

Killed in a Peculiar Manner.

THAMESFORD, Ont., Oct. 12.—While seated in a wagon, William Presley attempted to drive under a log, suspended for the purpose of doing the pressing in the cider mill. He was holding a barrel on the load at the time, and leaned over to pass over, when his head was caught between the log and the barrel and crushed to a jelly.

Still Shipping Bullion.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Bullion to the amount of £150,000 was withdrawn from the Bank of England to-day for shipment to New York.

The Way of the Transgressor.

CALGARY, Oct. 9.—Justice McGuire delivered this morning on prisoners found guilty at the assizes. Shoults, burglary, got 10 years in Stony Mountain penitentiary; McDonnell, same offence, 10 years; Mrs. Gilfillan, burglary of White & Co.'s store, 5 years; Gouin, ex-crown timber agent, 1 year and 11 months for embezzlement of crown funds.

The Mercier Enquiry.

QUEBEC, Oct. 9.—The Royal Commission met again this morning, when John S. Hall, M.L.A., made a formal application on behalf of himself and Mr. Casgrain and William Cook to act as public prosecutors.

The commission then rose after the announcement that from Wednesday next they would sit daily from 10 to 4, adjourning from Saturday noon till Tuesday.

The New Postmaster-General Narrowly Escapes Defeat.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—In the election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons for Northeast Manchester, caused by the appointment of Rt. Hon. Sir James Fergusson, the present member for that division, to the Postmaster-Generalship, Sir James Fergusson (Conservative) received 4058 votes to 3868 cast for C. P. Scott, editor of The Manchester Guardian (Liberal). The vote at the previous election was Fergusson 3680, Scott 3353.

DIAMONDS IN HIS BEAK.

HOW MRS. YANCY'S PELICAN HELPED HER SMUGGLE GEMS

She Brings $30,000 Worth Into New York and Disappears—Chicago and New York Dealers Would Like to Find Her.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—In a certain diamond importing establishment in Chicago, whose name is not given for obvious reasons, there is consternation among its financial managers. This is the result of a recent financial venture in which the intent was to defraud Uncle Sam of his just dues on certain diamonds, and in which game the biter has been bitten. There was a woman in it also, and an importing firm in Maiden-lane, New York. Mrs. Olivia Yancy is a New York woman who changes her name with almost every dress, and who has eluded Custom House officers in nearly every Eastern port. She was a professional free-trader, long known to the authorities, and last Friday at the port of New York she made her master stroke. Mrs. Yancy in personal appearance is a striking woman dressed in widow's weeds, and with a form that many a more youthful woman might envy, for there is gray in Mrs. Yancy's hair. Early in the spring of 1890 she landed in New York, and she attracted attention. By her side was a diminutive Mongolian attendant who held a light gold chain, to which was attached a gray pelican. Pelicans were not down on the tariff lists, and the customs officers let him pass. Since this time she and the bird Zip, with its great pouched beak, have been passengers on other steamers, and at no time have they been questioned.

Last Friday, just before the steamer landed, the servant brought the bird into his mistress' stateroom. When he was led from the steamer he seemed to have broken out with a virulent form of mumps. The customs officers allowed them to pass, and they were all bundled into carriages. Here Zip was relieved of one of the costliest meals ever stowed away in the pouch of a pelican. There was $30,000 in it, in bright, sparkling diamonds. Here all traces of Mrs. Yancy, alias more than a dozen other attractive widows, were lost. It was this disappearance that caused the story to leak out. Within 12 hours the police in half a hundred cities were requested to look out for her on complaint of one of the big diamond importing houses of New York. The jewels which Mrs. Yancy took with her are a portion of the order of the Chicago house, made through the Maiden-lane firm. Mrs. Yancy was the agent of this firm.

By the terms of contract, the Chicago house advanced $10,000 on the diamonds, agreeing to pay the remaining $20,000 on delivery. But the Maiden-lane firm can't deliver until it finds Mrs. Yancy. The Chicago house is tired of waiting for Mrs. Yancy, and will be quite satisfied to get back its advanced payment. It is safe to say that if Mrs. Yancy appears in Chicago, with or without her pelican, she is likely to meet an emissary of the police who will recognize her.

Hicks-Beach the Coming Man

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—G. W. Smalley, after a lengthy holiday, has resumed his duties as London correspondent of The New York Tribune, and in to-day's issue has an entertaining letter on British politics. He says that Mr. Smith, late leader of the House of Commons, was admirably suited to his position. Of urbane disposition his only weakness was a tendency to put implicit confidence in the word of every man he met. This occasionally led to his confusion, but he preserved that characteristic to the last. To replace him will not be easy. Probably no successor will be appointed just yet; perhaps not till the House resumes next January. There are guesses, of course. If Mr. Balfour could be spared from the Irish Office he would be the next Leader of the House. But to govern Ireland and lead the House of Commons at the same time is a burden too heavy for any man. Mr. Balfour cannot well quit his present post till he has carried, or failed to carry, his bill for the local government of Ireland—one of the most complex of measures, bristling with difficulties in every clause. The chances are that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach will succeed Mr. Smith. He is a perfectly competent man, with a temper not always under control.

The Time to Settle Differences By Use of Great Names Has Passed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—At the fourth day's session of the Methodist Ecumenical Council Saturday, in the course of a discussion on "The Bible and modern criticism," Rev. Dr. Dewart of Toronto held that the great problem confronting the church was the necessity of reconciling the results of criticism and Christian doctrine. The time to settle differences by the use of great names had passed.

Rev. Mr. McLaren of Canada said that while scientists confined themselves to the discovery of the laws of nature there was nothing to say. The conflict between science and religion had come from scientists who were unsatisfied with their work.

—Father and Daughter Dying.

ST. MARY'S, Oct. 12.—A Mr. John Gibson, a farmer living about three miles from town, was driving into church yesterday and when descending the steep hill west of the Junction station his horses ran away. His son and two daughters, who accompanied him, as well as himself were thrown out of the rig, receiving serious if not fatal injuries. They were conveyed to a neighboring house, where Mr. Gibson and his daughter still lie in a critical condition.

Thanksgiving Day.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Thanksgiving day has been fixed for Thursday, Nov. 12, and a proclamation enjoining Canadians to observe it as such has been issued.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—An Ottawa couple will figure in a rather unsavory alimony case at the next sitting of the Chancery Court, which opens on Oct. 27. They are F. E. P. Aldrich, at one time clerk in the Militia Department, and his wife, Mrs. Jessie Aldrich. Named as co-respondents are J. Hedley Fairweather of the Postoffice Department and W. T. Boardman of the Department of Agriculture. It appears from Mrs. Aldrich's statement that the couple came to Canada in 1880, when Aldrich secured a position in the Militia Department, but lost it through intemperance in 1886. They then opened a boarding-house and secured several boarders. In 1889 a servant girl named Martha Skinner was employed by Mrs. Aldrich. Previous to this Aldrich, it is claimed, had acted very unkindly to his wife, beating her and otherwise maltreating her. His treatment of her became worse after the girl Skinner came, and finally, in 1890, he left with her for Montreal, where they lived together as man and wife. Aldrich denies ill-treatment of his wife and also denies intimacy with the girl Skinner, and charges his wife with criminal intimacy with the parties named.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT
TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

Tragic Death of a Septuagenarian Near Wingham—No Cause Assigned.

WINGHAM, Oct. 10.—A very painful tragedy took place at Whitechurch on Thursday morning. Thomas Champion hanged himself on a swing rope in front of the door of his daughter Mrs. Joseph Nixon's. His feet were resting on the ground when found by his daughter about 6.30 a.m. The old man was 78 years of age, was strong and robust and had shown no signs of despondency. He was in Wingham two days of the fair, came home on the 4 p.m. train Wednesday, somewhat the worse of liquor, but nothing was seen in him why he should commit so terrible a deed, and no one seems to know the cause.

THEY PLAYED CRAP.

One of the Losers Informs and All Are Heavily Fined.

ST CATHARINES, Oct. 10.—The police raided a gambling room in St. Paul-street last night and found several citizens indulging in a game called "shooting crap." The keeper of the resort was fined $50 and each of the frequenters $20. The information reached the officers through one of the frequenters, who had lost all his money and informed on his pals because they would not lend him money to continue the play.

STATE OF TRADE

The Export Demand For Wheat and Rye Continues a Feature.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. Telegrams to Bradstreet's report that there is a fair distribution of drygoods in the Dominion of Canada. In the Province of Quebec general trade is fairly active and moderately so in Ontario. The export demand for wheat and rye continues a feature. The Dominion reports 38 business failures this week against 29 last week and 30 this week last year. The total number, Jan. 1 to date, is 1378 against 1240 last year.

A PLUM STONE IN HER LUNGS.

A Listowel Woman Dying From the Effects of a Peculiar Accident.

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mrs. James Brisbin, who resides with her husband in Penelope-street, is in a precarious condition through swallowing a plum stone. While eating a plum the stone by some means got into the wind-pipe and from thence to the lungs, from where her medical attendants have found it impossible to dislodge it. Its presence has caused the lady, who is upwards of 70 years of age, a great amount of suffering and incessant fits of coughing. There is little hope that she will survive her deplorable situation.

ON ACCOUNT OF A WOMAN.

Why a Lanark Druggist Took a Dose of Poison.

MARATHON, Oct. 10.—D. H. Bosworth, a druggist, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by swallowing belladonna. Bosworth came to Marathon two years ago from Cortland and apparently had been living happily with his wife. This noon, however, Mrs. Bosworth found a letter in her husband's coat pocket from a well known woman of the village. She went directly to the store and denounced her husband in unmeasured terms, whereupon he at once went into the back room and swallowed the poison. It is said Bosworth was mixed up in a similar affair last spring. Bosworth is in a critical condition.

Killed by a Threshing Machine

RICHMOND HILL, Oct. 10.—A little girl six years of age belonging to Mr. Richard Wiles was playing around the threshing machine in her father's barn when her clothes were caught in the tumbling shaft, and she was dragged to the floor. The machine, which was being worked by horse power, could not be stopped in time to save her life. The child only lived a few hours.

Serious Runaway Accident.

GUELPH, Oct. 10.—James Love of Guelph Township was thrown from his buggy this afternoon and terribly injured. The large bone of the right leg was broken a little below the knee joint, the small bones in the shoulder blade were splintered, together with the thumb and three fingers of the right hand torn and crushed. Mr. Love is slightly cut on the upper and lower lip and on the right cheek. He bore up bravely.

Burgess May Be Reinstalled.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—Three clerks of the Interior Department, Messrs. Turner, Henry and Pereira, reinstalled yesterday, returned to work to-day. Mr. McCabe has also been reinstalled in the Agricultural Department. It is stated to-day that at the next meeting of the Investigating Committee Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, will be reinstalled.

An Ottawa Failure.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—A sensation was caused in civic circles to-day when it became known that Ald. O. Durocher had made an assignment of his boot and shoe business in Sussex-street to Mr. P. Larmouth for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities will be $9000 and the assets between $7000 and $8000. A meeting of creditors will be held Monday, 19th inst.

To Him That Asks Shall Be Given.

BRACEBRIDGE, Oct. 8.—Dr. Topp tells of a striking incident which occurred in the Township of Stephenson. A young lad had just recovered sufficiently from a severe illness to partake of a little nourishing food and expressed a desire to have some partridge. Only a few minutes had elapsed when a plump young partridge flew into the door and lit on the little fellow's bed. His wish was promptly gratified.

A Woman's Shocking Death.

MONO MILLS, Ont., Oct. 8.—Miss Huffman, housekeeper for Dr. Bonnar, was out driving when the buggy broke down and its occupant was thrown to the ground upon her head, sustaining a severe fracture of the skull, which resulted in her death within 24 hours after the accident.

Her Bridal Trosseau a Shroud.

COBOURG, Oct. 10.—The death is announced of Miss Kate Macdonald, eldest daughter of Angus Macdonald. Two days previous to her death she went out to her uncle's farm in Baltimore, but the journey proved too great a tax upon her already weakened system. She was shortly to have been married to Mr. McVittie of Barrie.

Found Dead by His Housekeepers.

WINGHAM, Oct. 10.—Walter Sloan, who has resided in Minnie street for a number of years, died under sad circumstances. Two young ladies, who work at the tailoring in town, kept house for him, and as he did not come down to his breakfast on Wednesday morning they thought nothing of it, but went to their work. On returning at noon and not seeing anything of him, they went to his room and found the deceased lying on the floor, where he had fallen, it is thought, the night before while preparing to retire to rest. Heart failure was the cause of his sudden demise. He was in his 75th year, and a native of Scotland.

Fall into Line.

Join the great procession! It marches to victory! It knows no defeat! Inscribed on its banners is the inspiring battle-cry, "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." Its line of march extends across the continent and around the world! A happy illustration of the popularity and success of this world-famed remedy. 'Tis everywhere relieving pain, inspiring hope, curing disease! For all blood disorders it is acknowledged the safest, the most thorough, the best! The liver and kidneys respond at once to the invigorating touch; through them the whole system is cleansed and built up anew.

If you are sick, indisposed, debilitated, weak, suffering from malarious or other poisons, you'll find the "Golden Medical Discovery" the remedy par excellence to restore you. a

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. d

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

The company composes, besides, Eugen Boegner the most gifted pupil of Joachim, the great violinist; Herman Diestel, a splendid cellest; Paul Henneberg, solo flute and viola, and Miss Marie Barnard, prima donna, a mezzo-soprano with a voice of rare quality, true, sweet and sympathetic to a high degree. Each of these great artists will be heard in solo, and the concerted playing of the club is the perfection of artistic harmony. Don't by any means neglect to take seats for this concert. Resolution of Condolence.

At the regular meeting of Carswell Lodge, No. 312, I. O. G. T. of Peterborough. The following resolution was adopted:—

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our late esteemed Brother William Smith, who for the time he had been with us had been an upright, honest member of our beloved order; Therefore be it resolved that in the death of our brother, the lodge has lost a firm and energetic member, and the cause a zealous advocate; that we deplore the loss with feeling of deep regret, and hope that his spirit is with those in a better world. Resolved, that we tender to his bereaved mother, sisters and brothers, our heartfelt sympathy at the loss of a loving son and affectionate brother, and we trust that what has been their loss will be his gain. Resolved that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the mother of our late brother, also recorded in our minutes. Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Michael Sanderson.

We are sure that the intelligence of the death of Mrs. Michael Sanderson, which event took place on Sunday, will be received with the deepest regret. Her death is peculiarly sad from the attendant circumstances—the venerable Mr. Sanderson being exceedingly ill from the results of the recent accident—and his condition had doubtless an effect in hastening the serious issue of Mrs. Sanderson's illness. Mrs. Sanderson was the eldest daughter of the late John Harvey, of Smith, and was born on Aug. 5th, 1824, at the Harvey homestead, and was therefore in the sixty eighth year of her age at the time of her death. In March of the year 1849 she was united in marriage to Mr. Michael Sanderson, when they entered the home where they have lived so happily till death invaded its circle. To this marriage were born one son and two daughters, who survive the mother who has passed to her heavenly rest. One daughter married to Mr. Wm Sackville, now resides in Texas. Mrs. Sanderson was of a very retiring disposition, being content to make home happy and attractive by ruling therein with gentle and affectionate sway. The thousands of friends of Mr. Sanderson, who now lies close to the verge of the land to which his wife has preceded him, will extend him their most heartfelt sympathy.

The funeral of Mrs Sanderson takes place on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock p.m., from the family residence, Communication line, Smith, to Little Lake Cemetery.

The Late George Bick, of Bobcaygeon.

The EXAMINER records with great regret the death of Mr. Geo. Bick, Bobcaygeon, on Saturday night. The deceased gentleman was well known in this district where he has passed many of the days of his life of 70 years. He has been an influential and highly respected citizen. He has filled the offices of reeve of Verulam and reeve of Bobcaygeon, and was for many years township clerk of Verulam. For nearly twenty years he had filled very effectively the position of assistant government forest ranger under Mr. J. B. McWilliams. In every way he was worthy of respect, as a citizen and official, and his numerous friends in every part of the district will feel deep sorrow at the intelligence of his demise—after a short illness.

Gone but not Forgotten.

Wm. Sloan, Salvation Soldier and Treasurer of the Prentice Boys. It is Alleged has Skipped With Large Sums of Money

William Sloan is now feelingly referred to as the "dear departed." His departure has been a dear job for his score or more of creditors. It is said he leaves debts behind him to the amount of between $800 and $1,000.

Sloan was a foreman in the Bridge Works until about five weeks ago. He was sober, industrious and apparently saving. He was married and had a family. Being a prominent member of the Salvation Army, and treasurer of the local lodge of Prentice Boys, he had a certain standing in the community and was generally regarded as an honest, respectable man. In the light of events which have recently transpired, however, the confidence of his friends in his integrity has been sadly shattered.

Five weeks ago William Sloan was discharged from his position as foreman of a department in the Bridge Works for negligence of duty. For a week or more he remained in town, and then visited Toronto in search of work, but could find any not that suited him. Three weeks ago he went away again, and is now working in Buffalo—safe from the pursuit of his creditors. His family is still here, but it is given out that Sloan does not intend to return.

The Prentice Boys' officers say that they are about $90 out on Sloan's account. Money given to pay for arches in connection with the 12th of July celebration, and other moneys entrusted to him, have been, they claim, pocketed, and no account given for them. The Prentice Boys feel pretty hot over the matter and there was strong talk of initiating criminal proceedings and having Sloan brought back to answer for his defalcations.

It is suspected by the Salvation Army officers that they, too, have suffered from Sloan's financing. Sloan took money at the door and frequently handled quite large sums for them. Though nothing can be proven against Sloan in this regard, it is openly asserted that his deficiencies there have amounted to a considerable sum.

But Sloan's forte seems to have been a penchant for borrowing from his friends and running store bills. His brother Orangemen and Foresters, and his fellow-workmen in the bridge works were, it would appear, bled systematically. One man in the bridge works is said to have loaned Sloan $50 in cash and signed a note for $100 more. The men employed there have reckoned the thing up and estimate that Sloan has taken about $150 in cash out of them in small sums borrowed at different times.

Several merchants in town have unpaid accounts against Sloan, reaching from $10 to $50. There is also some paper endorsed by by Sloan's friends which it is expected will never be redeemed by Sloan himself.

The parties interested have estimated that Sloan owes between $800 and $1,000 in town. The general impression is that Sloan took a lot of money away with him, as he has been a steady worker at a good salary and his living was frugal.

Such are the statements made by parties who claim to know, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Sloan will by explaining, or making good the losses claimed to have been sustained, restore the good reputation which he has at present forfeited.

A Presentation.

Saturday evening the eight boys who compose Miss Nellie Wrighton's class in St. Andrew's Sunday School, met at her home on McDonel street, and presented her with an address and a handsome perfume and manicure set combined. The address was made by Herb King, and the gifts were presented by Marshall Mulligan. Miss Wrighton has resigned her charge of the class, hence the presentation. Miss Wrighton made a suitable reply, and the boys spent a pleasant hour in the company of their former teacher. Miss Wrighton was well liked by her pupils, who all expressed sincere regret that she was leaving them.

Mark Street Methodists

Celebrate Another Anniversary—The Proceedings will be Concluded To-Night.

Another successful aniversary has been reached in the history of the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, and it is with swelling hearts the congregation of the snug little edifice across the river look back upon the past. The future before them is bright, too, therefore they have every reason to commemorate their anniversary with unusual emphasis.

The anniversary sermons were preached Sunday by town ministers, and to-night there will be a tea meeting. Tea will be served in the hall opposite the church, and a programme will be rendered, consisting of addresses by Rev. E. Roberts and others and enlivening music by the choir.

Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, Peterborough, occupied the pulpit in the morning and preached an excellent sermon to an attentive congregation which filled the house of God to the doors.

Rev. Mr. Edwards chose for his text the words:

"And Jesus answered and said unto them have faith in God."—Mark xi, 22.

The discourse was devoted to the theme of faith, the Rev. gentleman dwelling upon the importance of faith as the principal thing that had to do with a Christian life. He pointed out the wide difference between faith and feeling, saying that those men who acted on the latter impulse never accomplished much. He spoke of what faith was as represented in the Scripture, and hoped that all his hearers would have that true faith that maketh not ashamed.

The choir gave some special music appropriate to the occasion, which was rendered with spirit and evident carefulness of preparation.

EVENING SERVICE.

In the evening the little sanctuary was crowded to overflowing. Rev. A. McWilliams, the energetic young pastor of St. Andrew's church, occupied the pulpit. The choir rendered two anthems, in which several solos were interspersed, and the theme of the hymns sung was praise and adoration of the Almighty. Rev. Mr. McWilliams read as the lesson of the evening the 32nd chapter of Deuteronomy, containing Moses' song, setting forth God's mercy and vengeance, selecting for his text the eleventh and twelfth verses of this same chapter.

As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings;

So the Lord alone did lead him, and there was no strange God with him.

Rev. Mr. McWilliams said he did not intend giving a heavy doctrinal sermon but would speak on a simple subject which all might comprehend. The life of Moses, taken as a whole, was the most wonderful one in the whole Bible, and the career of this great man was briefly outlined with the object of showing that although Moses was chosen the leader of God's people we must remember he was not without sin, and for his sin of disobedience he was deposed from the leadership of the Israelites. The punishment of Moses, the child of God, conveyed a solemn lesson to those who are not God's children. If God punished one so near him, how will it be with us? So Moses out of the depth of his experience speaks to the Israelites in the words of the chapter quoted. From the text we are to learn something of God's providential dealings with us. It is said of the eagle that when she wishes her young to leave their nests she soars above them uttering a peculiar cry to coax them to follow her. If this fails she returns to the nest and tears out the downy lining until the young fledglings rest upon the hard twigs. If they still cling to the nest the parent bird will then tear the nest away until not a vestige remains, and the young eagles must either fly or be dashed to pieces on the rocks below. If they fly she flutters above them and leads them upward and outward, and if they become weak she gives them strength by bearing them on her wings. Moses had observed this characteristic of the eagle, hence the words of the text. This, as applied to Israel, is a beautiful simile. God stirred up the nest of the children of Israel. For two hundred years they had enjoyed a soft life in the land of Egypt, where Joseph had placed them. God thought it was time to stir them out of their nest. Pharoah and his taskmasters tore out the down and the twigs, and the children of Israel had to flee. But as the parent eagle watched over her young, so God went with the children of Israel. He led them, protected them from Pharoah's pursuit and from all their enemies. He fed them and strengthened them, and conducted them to the Promised Land. That was the interpretation of the text, and it had an application in our case as well. God sees us clinging to the pleasures of this life, and in order that we may soar aloft from these earthly things to things eternal, He stirs up the nest. He tells us not to centre our affections on things below but to strive first for the heavenly kingdom. These are His invitations. Are we stretching out our wings, and soaring aloft, or like the fledglings are we still clinging to the old nest? Disaster or affliction in one form or another overtake us. Some persons, no doubt, think that God is dealing harshly with them, but if they have a Christian heart they will see the meaning of it all. If we only accept Christ in faith let us remember He will lead us until we reach the Promised Land. If we soar away from the nest we still have the three fold enemy, the world, the flesh and the Devil to contend with, but God will give us His armor to withstand them. With this righteousness, this truth, this faith, we can go forward into battle with assurance of victory. Then let us know that God stirs up the nest. There is no such thing as chance, and if He stirs up the nest, God will be with us, He will guide us, protect us, strengthen us, and lead us to that better land, the New Jerusalem.

Ashburnham Bawdy Houses.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It is imperative that some action should be taken to remove the bawdy houses that are known to exist in this village, and which flaunt their vice in the face of decent citizens with their evil suggestiveness to our rising generation, both male and female. It is a shame and disgrace that such places should be allowed to exist—all the more because our authorities cannot be ignorant of their existence. We were willing that the absence of our Reeve, attending his Parliamentary duties at Ottawa, should be some excuse for a little dereliction in the matter of vigilance, but now that he has returned that excuse can avail no longer. I understand that some of our councillors are willing that vigorous measures should be taken, and it is to be hoped that there will be a general co-operation on the part of the authorities, and that these sinks of iniquity will be rooted out. It is a credit to Peterborough that it affords no quarter to such moral vermin, and it is a disgrace to Ashburnham that they should, when the town is made too hot for them, be allowed to take refuge in this village. The public sense of decency demands that prompt and vigorous action should be taken, and it is hoped that our village constable will see to it that they are removed at once.

Yours, etc.,
PATER FAMILIAS.
Ashburnham, Oct. 12th, 1891.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Football, Baseball and Lacrosse Matches.

The Edison Team Draw With the Peterboroughs at Rugby Football—The Edison Baseball Club Loses the Town Championship—The Juniors Win at Lacrosse in Hastings—The Collegiate Juniors Win at Association Football.

The Edison Athletic Association was well represented in different lines of sport on Saturday. Their Rugby football team played a draw with the town team, but their baseballers were pretty badly beaten. The Peterborough junior lacrosse team came out victorious at Hastings.

There were three different matches on the P.A.A.A. grounds Saturday.

At ten o'clock in the morning the second twelve of the Collegiate Institute (Association) football club defeated a team from Mr. Smyth's room in the Central School, by two goals to nil. The Collegiate lads had the best of the play all through.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASEBALL.

At half past two o'clock the Association and Edison baseball clubs met again. The latter had challenged the Association team to a match for the championship of the town, and the game was one of more than ordinary interest on that account.

Again the Association team "got there." The first two innings were decidedly in favor of the Edison's. Pomfret's delivery was puzzling at the start, but the opposing batters soon solved it and began hitting freely. Assisted by the numerous errors of their opponents, the Association team quickly ran up a score. Pomfret and Parks were a steady battery, but they were not well supported.

On the contrary, the Association team fielded up briskly and with very few errors. Heap pitched a splendid game, which was all the more remarkable that he has not had any practice this season. Scattering hits only were made off his delivery, and "Danny" was not required in the box.

O'Brien was behind the bat and did good work. Centre and left fielders for the Association team distinguished themselves by making two fine catches each.

Following is the score:

A ROUGH GAME OF RUGBY.

Rugby football followed on almost immediately between Peterborough and Edison teams. It was a very rough game. Two weeks ago the Edisonites were severely defeated by the town teams, and they were looking for revenge on Saturday. They had an advantage over their opponents in the matter of weight, and they played hard to win. Wiggett, Alexander, Taylor, Toel, Parks, Pomfret and Good played a rattling game. Pomfret scored a touch down for the Edisonites. They also scored a safety touch, making 6 points in all. They further claimed a goal, but the referee would not allow it.

For the town, Brennan, Parker, Heap, Montgomery, Dumble and Goldsmith did probably the best work, though the others also showed up well. The team was not as strong as it was a fortnight ago, Pakenham, Stevenson, M. Pousette, Johnston and the Boucher boys all being absent. The Edison team on the other hand had been strengthened, and they rushed things, having apparently the best of the play all through, but they were not fortunate enough to score very often. For the town team Dr. Brennan scored a touch down, and a safety touch secured within a few minutes of time call tied the score.

There was a fair crowd of spectators. The game was not nearly as good as the previous one, there being altogether too much wrangling and rough playing.

The teams may come together again this season to settle the question of sumpremacy.

Following were the players on Saturday:

THE JUNIORS WIN AT HASTINGS.

A team of young lacrosse players, assisted by two of the senior Peterborough team, went to Hastings Saturday and got away with the village team in great style. Their opponents were heavy, strapping fellows, the biggest team in the village in fact, but they lacked practice and the Peterborough boys waded right through the combination, winning by five goals to nil. Will Dumble scored three consecutive goals, the first in half a minute after play began, the second in fifteen minutes and the third in eight; then Joe Begley scored after twenty minutes' play and Howard Hughes put the last game through in seventeen minutes. The boys had the best of the game all through, and feel justly proud of their victory over the Hastings seniors. Following were the teams:—

Police Court.

MONDAY, OCT. 12.

The trial of an assault case, Mrs. Sarah Gibbs vs. Mrs. Carson, afforded considerable amusement. The two women live in the same building and the row was over their respective rights to make use of the hall. Mrs. Gibbs said Mrs. Carson called her bad names and struck her in the face. Mrs. Carson denied the charge and said she could not live any longer with Mrs. Gibbs and had decided to move out of the house at once. So the magistrate dismissed the case.

THREE CHARGES OF LARCENY.

Thos. Tully, the lad accused of several larcenies, was further remanded till Friday. Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the prisoner and asked to have his plea of guilty in the charge of stealing $30 from his grandmother withdrawn, on the ground that the boy did not know really what he had pleaded guilty to. The court was ready to allow the withdrawal of the plea if evidence could be produced to warrant it. Tully is further charged with the theft of $50 from John T. Tucker, but was not asked to plead to the charge today. Witnesses were ready to give evidence in the charge against Tully of stealing fifty cents from Mr. John Sawers, but the whole case was enlarged till Friday to allow of evidence to be put in re the withdrawal of the plea of guilty in the former charge.

SENT TO THE MERCER.

Mary Ailson, the seventeen-year-old girl who was arrested Friday night and held on a charge of vagrancy, was brought up again to-day. Her statement was that she had been assaulted, and a young man was put in the box to answer to the charge. The girl said she walked down street with the prisoner, and on Water street near King he had insulted her and threatened to shoot her, but was prevented from doing her injury by the arrival of P. C. McGinty. The constable stated that on Friday night he was informed a girl was being followed about the streets by a crowd of boys, and he went to look for them. He saw some fellows on King street, and on Water street came across the girl and a fellow, the latter running away as he came up. The girl did not scream or make any complaint. The prisoner stated he knew the girl to be a common prostitute and swore she did not object to his attentions in the least.

The girl's behaviour in court was such as to convey the impression that she was a strumpet and the magistrate committed her to the Mercer Reformatory for a year, the prisoner being discharged.

Mary Ailson has been in town about a year. She is said to have come originally from Norwood.

A Fearful Wound.

Jas. Tobin, a deck-hand on the steamer Golden Eye, met with a painful accident Friday evening. He, with others, was working a windlass which operated the saw-dust drag, when it broke, and the crank flying around struck him just over the eye and drove in his skull. The young man was brought to his home in Ashburnham, and will likely be removed to the hospital. It is expected the injured eye will be lost, but the young man's life is not despaired of.

Purify importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. Your There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, Blood thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

"IRELAND HAS LOST HER LEADER BUT HER CAUSE REMAINS."

No Union With the McCarthyites Will Be Considered by the Parnellites—A Meeting of Representative Irishmen to be Called.

LONDON, Oct. 13. Mr. Parnell's Parliamentary colleagues have issued this manifesto: "Ireland has lost her leader, but her cause remains, the duty to the living and dead to maintain erect and unsullied the flag of national independence. You, the people of Ireland, gave into the hands of Mr. Parnell and his Parliamentary colleagues the charge of your political interests and the honor and safety of the national cause. You asked us by constitutional means to restore prosperity, peace and freedom to our country, and animated by his spirit, guided by his clear intelligence and firmness of soul we carried the cause to a point at which the tower of victory could be seen by all men. But in an unfortunate hour a majority of the Irish representatives at the bidding of an English statesman broke our ranks, abandoned the flag of independent opposition and ranged themselves as followers and satellites of the [illegible] statesman. We refused to become parties to the treason, relying upon the national conviction, and maintained intact the allegiance to the independent national party in the conviction that the people would justify and support us. The great leader is dead, but the cause lives on. Relying on your devotion to Irish nationality we propose to carry on the struggles until the principle for which he lived and died triumphs and the national unity is restored. The Parliamentary party is pledged to work for Ireland under the flag of an independent opposition absolutely free from the control of any foreign power or party. This is our resolution. Its realization depends upon you. It needs sacrifices and struggles and we call upon you to make them."

In conclusion the manifesto states that it has been decided to call a convention of representative Irishmen to discuss the means to carry out the policy and program bequeathed by Parnell in dying, and says:

"To our ranks we shall welcome all honest men who believe that the political affairs of Ireland should be controlled and directed by the representatives of the Irish people alone; but with men who are immediately responsible for the disruption of the National party who, in obedience to foreign dictation, hounded to death the foremost man of our rank we can have no fellowship.

"There can be no safety between them and the men who stood true to the cause of National independence. Ireland must choose. On the threshold of the tomb the leader we mourn defined [illegible] in these imperishable words: 'If I am dead and gone to-morrow the men who are fighting against English influence in Irish public life must fight on still.' They can still believe in the future of Ireland as a nation and still protest that it was not by taking the orders of an English minister that Ireland's future could be saved [illegible].

"Fellow Countrymen, let it be the glory of our race at home and abroad to act up to the spirit of this message. God Save Ireland."

The manifesto is signed by Messrs. Blane, South Armagh; Byrne, West Wicklow; Corbet, East Wicklow; Conway, North Leitrim; Campbell, South Fermanagh; Carew, North Kildare; Clancy, North Dublin; Dalton, West Donegal; Fitzgerald, South Longford; H. Harrington, West Kerry; Timothy Harrington, Harbor Division of Dublin; Harrison, Middle Tipperary; Hayden, South Leitrim; Leamy, South Sligo; Kenny, South Cork; Maguire, North Donegal; Lalor, Queen's Leix division; Mahoney, North Meath; McKenna, South Monaghan; Nolan, North Louth; O'Hanlon, East Cavan; O'Brien, North Monaghan; O'Kelly, North Roscommon; O'Connor, South Tipperary; Power, Waterford; Redmond, North Wexford; [illegible], South Meath.

The absent members were McDonald, Queen's Ossory division; Leahy, South Kildare; Nolan, North Galway.

It is rumored that Pierce Mahoney, member for North Meath, will be selected as the leader of the Parnellites in the House of Commons.

A private meeting of the Parliamentary followers of Mr. Parnell was held to-day, at which it was decided to contest the seat for Cork, but allow the North Kilkenny seat, recently held by Sir John Pope-Hennessy, to go by default.

At a meeting of the subscribers to the fund which was being raised previous to the death of Mr. Parnell with the intention of starting two Parnellite newspapers it was decided to proceed with the production.

Thousands of persons yesterday crowded around the tomb of Parnell at the Glasnevin Cemetery. An immense number of floral offerings were brought and for a space of 12 feet around the grave the ground was covered with them.

At a meeting of the National Club in Dublin last evening the [illegible] of the proposed union with the McCarthyites came up for discussion, and after debate resolutions denouncing such union were carried.

A Plot to Kill the Czar.

LONDON, Oct. 13. The Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says: A conspiracy against the life of the Czar has been discovered at Kiev. A printing press used in the publication of seditious literature has been seized. [illegible] among the [illegible] of the [illegible], many of whom have been arrested.

Jumped From a Window to Death.

ST. [illegible], Oct. 9. [illegible] of Harrison street, about 70 years [illegible], last night jumped from a fourth story window looking out from his bedroom in the rear of the house in which he lived and was instantly killed. His legs were both broken, his head [illegible] together [illegible] seemed to have been terribly hurt. It is thought he got up in his sleep, and [illegible] from the window. He was of unsound mind.

DOWN AN EMBANKMENT

FIENDS WRECK A TRAIN ON THE CENTRAL PACIFIC.

Miraculous Escape from Death of the Passengers—A Pullman Car Topples 50 Feet and of the 10 Passengers on Board Not One Is Seriously Injured.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 13. The fast west bound express on the Central Pacific, which passed Colfax early yesterday morning on its way to this city, was wrecked between New England Mills and Colfax. The train passed through a deep cut and out on to an embankment which had been thrown to preserve the grade. The engineer did not detect anything wrong until the first two cars were slightly derailed. The baggage car and the two day coaches remained on the track but the four Pullmans and caboose left the track. The Pullman sleeper Santa Cruz turned on its side and rolled down the embankment for 50 feet before its progress was stopped.

In the sleeper were ten passengers, all asleep at the time of the crash. They were hustled about in a lively fashion, but miraculously escaped with a lively shake up. The only person seriously injured was the colored porter of the Santa Cruz.

Investigation showed that an attempt had been made to wreck the train. Spikes had been drawn from several of the outside rails on the outer edge of the embankment just at a point where the track makes a curve. No spot better adapted to the plot could have been selected, and it was evidently selected in the hope that the engineer, fireman and employes in the baggage and mail car would be killed as soon as the forward part of the train struck the loosened rails. Then these cars could be looted, and as they carried a great quantity of mail, the plunder would have been very profitable.

The passengers in one of the coaches caught a glimpse of one of the would-be wreckers, as he rushed off. Detectives are searching for the perpetrators. The Dalton gang are supposed to have had a hand in it. Much harm was done to the roadbed and rolling stock. The Southern Pacific has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties implicated in causing the derailment.

CALIFORNIA "SHOOK UP."

An Earthquake Creates Consternation Among the People.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 13. A severe earthquake shock occurred here at 10.27 Sunday. It lasted fully half a minute and was the most severe experienced in this city for a long time. As far as known, however, no serious damage was done.

NAPA, Cal., Oct. 13. The heaviest earthquake shock ever felt here was experienced at 10.34 Sunday. People rushed into the streets in their night clothes in great excitement. Chimneys toppled over and several buildings were shattered and badly shaken up. Drug store fixtures suffered greatly, bottles being thrown from the shelves to the floor and other damage was done. The Masonic Temple, a fine building, was shattered. At the State Insane Asylum great excitement prevailed, the patients being almost uncontrollable. It is reported the building cracked, and that other damage was done.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 13. The effects of the earthquake which visited some portions of North California Sunday night appear to have been greatest in Napa and Sonoma Valley, where the shock is described as being the heaviest experienced since the great quake of 1868. At Napa and Sonoma the walls cracked, chimneys were demolished and in some instances falling through the roofs. Window glass was broken, people were roused from their beds and many passed the night in the streets. The heaviest shock occurred at 10.30 Sunday night and lasted from 10 to 45 seconds, according to the localities where noted. The general direction seemed to be from the northeast to the southeast. On Polpula ranch, near Sonoma, which contains a number of warm water springs, the earthquake caused the water to gush forth in great quantities.

STANSBURY AND BEACH.

The Australian Oarsmen Coming to America to Row Hanlan and O'Connor.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13. William O'Connor, the oarsman, has received a cablegram from Sydney saying that Stansbury has left for San Francisco, accompanied by Beach. O'Connor is of opinion that Stansbury is coming to America in response to a challenge made by himself and Hanlan, to row against Stansbury and another oarsman, three races, one a double scull for the championship of the world and the other two singles, O'Connor to row Stansbury for the world's championship and Hanlan to row Stansbury's mate. O'Connor says he will row a race at San Francisco in two months, and will allow the Australian his own terms. O'Connor leaves for San Francisco to day.

DEATH CALLED A BRIDE

BUT NOT UNTIL SHE HAD ENDOWED HER HUSBAND WITH A FORTUNE.

The Love Romance of a New York Drummer—His Sweetheart Finding Death Certain Sends for a Clergyman, is Married and Makes a Will in His Favor.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—Married at 3 o'clock in the morning and dead at 1.30 o'clock the same afternoon is, briefly, the story of the woman who passed away as Mrs. Lewis P. Rollins of Somerville. Her maiden name was Kate E. Norcross, and her wedding to Mr. Rollins of Brooklyn, N.Y., a commercial traveler for a New York hardware firm, had been planned for a date later in the autumn. The wedding and death notices were published at the same time.

Behind them lies a story more often found in the works of the novelist than in the life of this busy nineteenth century; a story of love and devotion, a death-bed marriage and the disposition of property worth upward of $100,000.

The couple met four or five summers ago in the Maine town of Charleston, and the acquaintance formed there ripened into an engagement later. A week before the day she died Miss Norcross was taken with a severe cold, which rapidly developed into pneumonia, which increased with terrible swiftness until Monday night.

When the physician broke the news to her that she could not live, her husband that was to be was at the bedside, and in accordance with her wish Rev. A. F. Winship was hastily summoned.

"Miss Norcross and Mr. Rollins wish to be married at once; she is dying. Will you come?" was the startling message taken not very long after midnight to Mr. Winship at his Perkins-street residence. The bearer was the physician in attendance on Miss Norcross, and the clergyman, surprised though he might be, hastened to answer the summons. An hour later, having with him the marriage license, the clergyman stood by the bedside to which he had been summoned, and there, as the deep-toned church bells tolled the hour of 3, united in the holy bonds of matrimony those whom death was so soon to separate. A strange wedding. Sorrow had fast hold upon the hearts of the few witnesses, but the bride was cheerful through it all, believing that everything was for the best.

"It is not the sort of a wedding I looked forward to," she said as she smiled encouragement on those she was so soon to leave.

Then her will was drawn, and though she was growing weaker and her pulse was only a feeble flutter she signed it with a mind perfectly clear and a hand which seemed to gain strength and steadiness for that especial purpose. The will was witnessed by the clergyman, the physician and an attendant. It gives the bulk of the property, reputed to be worth not far from $100,000, to Mr. Rollins. The balance goes to the Charleston Men's Academy.

Then she gradually sank and passed away just ten hours after the weird ceremony was performed.

Her father was a well-known resident of Somerville. About 20 years ago he retired from a successful lumber business, and up to the time of his death was interested in literary pursuits. He is reported to have said, while in business, that he would retire when he made $50,000.

If that was the sum on which he retired no one doubts that it has grown by careful handling. In his will Mr. Norcross left the bulk of his property to his daughter. His estate is still unsettled, and one of Miss Norcross' motives in marrying was, undoubtedly, that everything might be properly looked after. She leaves no nearer relatives than cousins. To-day she was laid away in the little Maine town in which she lived.

NO CANADIANS NEED APPLY.

Buffalo Firms Will Only Employ United States Citizens.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 13.—Immigrant Inspector De Barry, stationed at Buffalo, has made a report of the operations of the alien contract labor law in that vicinity, from which the following statements are taken: The Union Dry Dock Co. discharged four Canadian carpenters last week and informed the inspector that they would discharge every alien working on their docks. The manager of the Western Transit Co., which employed a large number of men along their line, has issued a circular to their employes inquiring the citizenship of each and saying no man shall work on their vessels unless he is a citizen of the United States. It appears that until the Wagner Palace Car Co. employed Canadians, carpenters, painters, smiths, etc., were receiving $2.25 per day, while the Canadians now work for $1.60 per day. Last week the Wagner Palace Co. discharged 39 Canadians.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

Work of a Carolina Desperado—Fight With the Police.

RALEIGH, N.C., Oct. 13. Sherman Greer and his two crippled brothers lived with Rev. William Greer, their father, an aged preacher, in Wilkes County. Sherman and a friend went home drunk Friday and began shooting. Rev. Mr Greer ordered his son to leave the house and the young man shot him. Sherman's friend, Francis Wilson, caught the old man and Sherman again fired, killing his father. The crippled lads gave the alarm and pursuit was made. The desperadoes stole a horse and defied the posse. Many shots were fired, and Fayette Walsh, one of the posse, was dangerously wounded. Sherman and Watson escaped. The sheriff organized a posse and pursued them into Tennessee. At one point there was a battle, during which 40 shots were exchanged. The Tennessee authorities captured the fugitives and they are now in jail at Wilkesburg.

REVOLUTION IN URUGUAY.

Pitched Battle in the Streets of Montevideo.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 12.—There was a serious attempt at revolution here yesterday evening. The members of a revolutionary club in the suburbs of the city fired upon the troops stationed near at hand. The latter returned the volley with deadly results, several persons were killed outright and many wounded. Many of the ringleaders of the assault, including a priest, have been apprehended. Attempts were made to assassinate President Obes and to capture the members of the Junta, but they were unsuccessful. Subsequently the insurgents were dispersed and the city became quieted down. The troops in the neighborhood numbered about 800.

Montevideo is the capital of Uruguay, South America, 130 miles southeast of Buenos Ayres, and was made independent by treaty in 1828. It has a population of 105,296.

The outbreak originated with the Blanco party. The rising seems to have extended everywhere throughout the country districts, but was speedily and effectively suppressed.

Pity the Poor Cattle.

LONDON, Oct. 13. The steamer Bloor King, which arrived at Dundee from Montreal, lost 152 cattle on the voyage. A heavy sea was encountered and much water was shipped, necessitating the closing of the ventilators and battening down of the hatches. This prevented access of air to the hold and a number of the cattle in the stalls were suffocated. The stalls on deck were of the usual flimsy construction, and some of the seas which boarded the ship tore them to pieces and carried them and the cattle in them overboard. Others were so badly mutilated by the rolling and pitching of the steamer that they had to be killed.

Should Appreciate the Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. At the Methodist Conference yesterday, in discussing "the religious press and the religious use of the secular press," the Rev. Dr. E. H. Dewart, editor of The Christian Guardian, Toronto, Canada, held that the church had not yet formed a sufficiently high estimate of the influence of the religious press, and had not used it to its full capacity for good. The religious press should not be regarded as a [illegible]. It supplemented and [illegible] up [illegible] of the preacher. The [illegible] the use of the printing press [illegible] knowledge and [illegible] should be suggestive to [illegible].

AN ACTOR'S LUCK.

Singular Blending of Romance and Reality—Heir Found in Prison.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 13.—The heir to over $1,000,000 has been found in the Western Penitentiary in this city, and there is brought to light a romance in real life, the details of which are seldom surpassed by writers of fiction. Early in the '80's an actor, whose stage name was St. Rayn, but whose real name was James Edwin Ryan, became stranded with his company in New Orleans. He had the good fortune to rescue a wealthy Cuban, Louis d'Amboise and his daughter Edith, an only child, from a deadly assault by two villains.

In the struggle St. Rayn was severely injured, and the D'Amboises nursed him back to life. The young people fell in love; but the father demanded that the daughter marry a cousin, Horace Leigh. She refused. The lovers eloped and were married, and the father forgave them. St. Rayn frequently absented himself from home, which circumstance was taken advantage of by the discarded lover, Horace Leigh, and the latter conceived a scheme for getting even. As a result D'Amboise and his daughter were led to believe that her young and handsome husband was unfaithful. A separation ensued, and D'Amboise and his daughter, with a child that had been born to the girl, went back to Cuba. Leigh was soon after taken sick, and on his death-bed he confessed his deceit. The father and daughter also soon died, leaving an immense property to St. Rayn, who, after a year's search, was discovered to be an inmate of the Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary, convicted of a crime that had never been committed.

In his wanderings after his separation from his wife, St. Ryan worked at Jeannette, Pa., and became known to several people there. The efforts to trace him brought the agents of the estate in contact with a reporter for a Pittsburg paper, who aided them in discovering the identity of St. Rayn, or rather Ryan. Efforts are now on foot to have him set free on habeas corpus proceedings. Bascom and Lyn of New York have the papers in the case. Your correspondent went to Riverside Penitentiary, where he found that James Ryan, or J. Edwin Ryan, alias St. Rayn, had been sent from Westmoreland County about 18 months ago for an offence which he holds proofs, his attorneys claim, had never been committed. Without any prompting he told the story of his marriage, and gave, without suggestions, names, dates and facts which corroborate the romantic story of his life and prove him to be the heir to the D'Amboise fortune.

Developments show that the separation from her husband actually hastened Mrs. St. Rayn's demise, and it was even said among her friends that she died of a broken heart.

PRISONER LYNCHED AT OMAHA.

A Negro Taken From Jail by an Infuriated Mob and Strung up in the Street.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—George Smith, a young negro, who was arrested on Friday and confined in the city jail for assault on a 5-year old girl, was lynched by a mob about 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

Rumors of the intending lynching were current before nightfall, but it was about 9.30 p.m. when a crowd suddenly formed in the street without apparent leaders or organization and marched shouting to the jail. Inside were a few policemen and deputy-sheriffs who had been on duty at the hanging of Edward Neal. The crowd attempted to break through the South-street door, but was halted by a revolver in the hands of Captain Cormack. Then sledgehammers were found and the east door was assailed. This was built of strong steel lattice and inside were four more steel lattice doors. The hammers were useless against the steel bars.

About a block away was the power house of the Cable Street Railway Company. Near it were piles of rails and long, heavy steel bars. Half a dozen of these were borne up the hill. The telephone wires had been cut, and there was no communication with the jail. Ex-governor Boyd, at this moment pushed his way through the crowd to the jail door, and before a blow from the battering ram was struck he tried to speak to the crowd.

"It will be a disgrace to Omaha," he began. "I implore you to be quiet and desist from your unlawful efforts. Let the law take its due course; let——"

His words were cut off by a man with a sledge hammer, who said: "You are not governor here. Get out. Go attend to your opera house," and the steel rail crashed against the steel door. It yielded slightly and a yell went up from the men, who hurled the battering ram again and again against the door. In five minutes the door was open. Then there was a short parley and the second door was assailed.

While all this was going on a police force of 90 men was assembled, but the officers were lost in the crowd. Some one suggested that the fire department be called out and the hose turned on. The firemen came out and laid their hose, but the crowd carried off the lines and drove the firemen away.

After the second door was passed it did not take long to effect an entrance to the steel cage in which the cells are located. A howl of exultation was sent up when the negro was seen, and tools were called for to cut into the cage.

In the meantime the police, under Chief Seavey, undertook to mass at the jail entrances. The crowd surged up and forced the police to the edge of the yard and kept them from interfering with the work. Inside the cage the negro begged, cried, prayed and rolled on the floor in terror. At last the door gave way, and the negro shrieked as he was seized and thrust out through the corridor. Here men to identify him were called for. He was then driven for 50 yards to the intersection of Seventeenth and Harney streets, receiving blows without number, and was apparently unconscious. By the time the street was reached he was dead. A rope was thrown over an arm of a telegraph pole and the body was pulled up directly in front of the new Boyd's theatre.

Joseph Newshoffer, who led the mob, has been arrested and will be charged with murder, the only Nebraska statute covering lynchings prescribing that as the charge. Public sentiment is strongly in favor of sustaining the men who lynched the negro Smith. It is now proposed to liberate the arrested leader, Newshoffer, if he is not given a prompt trial. The county authorities are preparing to prosecute Newshoffer for murder, and have also issued warrants for the arrest of 15 more of those who participated in the affair. It is safe, however, to predict that no jury can be found in the county that willl convict any of them.

Arrested on Suspicion.

VIENNA, Oct. 13.—The police of this city have arrested a man named Steinart of Cracow. He is believed to be implicated in the recent bomb outrage at Rosentaal railway bridge in Bohemia, whereby the life of the Austrian Emperor was jeopardized.

STRATFORD, Oct. 12.—Yesterday, while engaged in feeding a steam thresher being used on his father's farm on the Huron road, near Kastnerville, Frank Richardson had his right arm so lacerated as to necessitate amputation above the wrist.

Resignation of Hon. Charles Clarke.

GUELPH, Oct. 12.—Hon. Charles Clarke has sent to the Speaker his resignation as member for East Wellington. Col. Clarke has been in the Local House since 1871 as member for East Wellington, which constituency he several times carried by acclamation. He was speaker of the Legislature from 1880 to 1886.

Why it is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

HEALTHY AND HANDSOME GIRLS.

The premonitory finger of the frost gives suggestion of the employments, duties and recreations of the coming winter. Necessarily occupation, whether in the matter of employment or recreation, must be largely of an indoor character. The recreation and amusement, that, during the summer and early fall, found their fittest field in the open air, must now be abandoned or their counterpart or substitute, transferred to the shelter of walls and roofs. And they cannot b abandoned without serious injury to the physical system. In this age of intelligence, argument to prove the importance of physical culture and systematic muscular exercise, is gratuitous; but there is danger that parents are apt to make their own power of enduring confinement and application, the standard for estimating the endurance of their children in this respect. This is, of course, fallacious, and such persons should remember that no child can be healthy in either its tender or maturer years, without proper exercise counterbalancing the results of necessary confinement in school. A noted medical authority writes:

> "Health should be the basis, and instruction the ornament of early education. The development of the body will assist the manifestations of the mind, and a good mental education will contribute to bodily health."

Not only is proper physical culture necessary to children, but it is decidedly beneficial to young persons of maturer years, especially young ladies These latter, particularly in winter, are deprived of opportunities of taking proper recreation, if the customs of society are accepted as a standard. That the average young lady should have proper physical culture and exercise is indisputable. There are thousands of young ladies in delicate health, stretching fatigued and enervated bodies on sofas, encumbering dressing tables with medicine bottles and drifting into hopeless and irritating invalidism, who would be handsome and hale Hebes if they would "throw physic to the dogs" and take a judicious and thorough course of physical culture and exercise. Hundreds of sensible girls would gladly do so if a proper opportunity presented, and for their benefit it may be suggested that there is a project on foot to meet a demand for the pursuit of physical culture under the best instruction and under nonexceptionable conditions. Sergt. Major Rundle is maturing a plan for the establishment of classes in calisthenics and more robust physical exercises, suitable to young ladies. He has excellent rooms centrally situated, in view, and, it is hoped, will receive the encouragement that will enable him to bring within the reach of our young ladies the opportunity of securing health-giving, and beauty giving, physical training—for a handsome girl and a healthy girl are synonymous terms. Grace, symmetry, good spirits, good temper, and, co-relative to the latter, good morals, are the certain fruits of a good sound physical development, which in turn depends upon systematic and well directed physical culture.

They Are Called Deceivers!

Some Lack Courage—Let our People Know the Truth—I Often Recommend it!

By special request we abstain from giving the name of a well-known Canadian doctor, who was lately interviewed regarding Paine's Celery Compound. He said:—"I am aware that your remedy is very popular with our Canadian people; indeed I often recommend it in cases of nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia and indigestion. Knowing well the properties of the various ingredients of which it is composed, I can speak confidently of its merits and powers. Physicians who speak against it know nothing of its worth, and deceive when they decry its value. Of course some doctors have not the courage of their convictions, and will not speak of it, as they are afraid of being ostracised by the profession.

I honestly think we physicians should at all times speak truthfully to our people, regardless of opinion. Be assured I will always say a word in favor of Paine's Celery Compound as it is the only reliable preparation I know of for the weak, nervous, sleepless and dyspeptic. I have been prescribing it for over year with success."

Onderdonkery Redivivus.

The Government papers announce that the award in the Onderdonk arbitration has been prepared and will be made public in a few days. It is well that the taxpayer should bear in mind that the Onderdonk contract was one of Tupper's exploits. Mr. J. E Collins, a writer of Tory leanings, in his book on Lord Lorne's administration gives the details very fully. The tenders for the work were to be in by Feb. 1, 1882. Fourteen tenders were received, the lowest being that of McDonald & Charlebois for $2,227,000, and the next lowest Onderdonk's for $2,486,000. McDonald & Charlebois had with the others deposited a check for $20,000. It was drawn on the Bank of Montreal at Montreal, was dated January 23, but was stamped "good for two days only." Mr. A. P. Bradley, Tupper's private secretary, who was suspended a short time ago for a gross irregularity amounting to boodling, called on the manager of the Bank of Montreal at Ottawa on February 4th and asked if the check was still good. The manager telegraphed to Montreal and at once received word that the check was good till paid. The stamp about its being good for two days only seems to have been put on through a blunder on the part of a clerk. Mr. Bradley put the answer in his pocket and went away. Nevertheless the next day, "with the full knowledge," says Collins, "of the contents of this despatch," Sir Charles went before the Privy Council and reported that "the tender of McDonald & Charlebois, which was the lowest, is irregular inasmuch as the check which accompanies it was marked by the Bank of Montreal as good for two days only, and the lowest tender made in conformity with the conditions is that of Mr. Andrew Onderdonk." Collins after referring to Tupper's defence in Parliament adds:—"It would give the writer the most profound pleasure to be able to supplement what to him seems Sir Charle's utterly insufficient defence with any grounds of justification, but unfortunately there are none at his hand; and he trusts that all who read this book will believe that he sought for them." Later on, Tupper paid Onderdonk an exorbitant price for a lot of old plant. The taxpayer is now about to be bled, probably to the extent of a million or two, for the "scamping" done by Onderdonk.

Mothers, have pity on your pale and suffering daughters. Their system is "run down," and if neglected the consequences may be fatal. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will bring back their rosy cheeks and health and strength. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

It is a mistake to suppose that a remedy for constipation, stomach and liver troubles, should be harsh or purging, as the great success of McGales' Butternut Pills fully prove. They are mild and natural in their action, prompt and effective in results, and are specially adapted to ladies, children, and persons of weak constitution. dw

Victory at Vivian.

"In our family faithful work has been done by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend true and faithful."—Mr. W. Bishop, Vivian, Ont.

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious evil ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

"I have been troubled with what I "call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, "and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit. WET WEATHER IN MANITOBA.

Threshing for Some Time at a Standstill—Much Grain Still in Stook

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—The wet season has apparently passed. Yesterday was clear and warm, the first really fine day for a fortnight. While the rain lasted threshing was at a standstill and in southern Manitoba, where, owing to scarcity of help much of the grain is yet in the stook, it is feared some damage has been done. If the weather continues fine it may dry out again.

Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, who has returned from a trip of inspection throughout the province, in an interview, speaking of the general result of the harvest as a whole, specially referred to the continued prosperity of the Mennonite farmers, which he attributed to their farming within their capacity and not sowing more than they could properly take care of. Nearly all of the wheat was stacked, while in many cases further west a considerable portion of the wheat is still in stook, and the recent rains will certainly not benefit the grade. Where the wheat is stacked it allows the grain to sweat properly and improves the color. However, Mr. Ogilvie feels that Manitoba is to be congratulated on the very large quantity of wheat raised this year. The quantity of good milling wheat is certainly far in excess of any previous year; but he thinks that the quantity of good wheat might have been still further augmented if less had been allowed to remain in the stook before the bad weather set in. He hopes that the farmers will not overlook the importance of sowing the very best seed.

Mr. Ogilvie was pleased to notice the very large increase in the number of cattle in the country. This trade, he observed, appeared to be developing rapidly and would no doubt, assume very large proportions before long.

Bridge Across Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 12.—There is a rumor afloat again that the Grand Trunk Railroad contemplates the erection of a bridge north of the Suspension Bridge. The increasing growth of traffic and other reasons necessitate the building of this structure. If the talk in the railroad circles amounts to anything the bridge will be built in the near future. The structure will probably be built of steel. Nothing has lately been heard from the Canadian Pacific Railroad bridge which was to span the Niagara.

To Decarbonize Coal Gas

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—Manager Littlehales of the Hamilton Gas Company works is said to have succeeded in solving the problem of how to volatilize all the carbon in coal. By the present process hardly more than a sixth of the carbon can be volatilized, or utilized for gas; but, by the process which Mr. Littlehales has invented, every pound of the 1800 pounds of carbon in a ton of coal can be directly converted into gas, leaving nothing behind but useless slag.

Found Dead Under the Gate

COOKSVILLE, Ont., Oct. 12.—The adopted child of Mr. Winters met its death in a manner which was most distressing to its foster parents. It appears that the little one, who was about two years of age, wandered out of the house while Mrs. Winters was preparing dinner, and when she went to look for it she found it apparently fastened under the gate. She ran to a neighbor's for assistance, but when the child was picked up it was dead.

Sudden Death in Elora

ELORA, Ont., Oct. 12.—David Foote, aged 68, attended the Fergus Fair yesterday and was apparently in his usual health. In the evening he started for his own home just north of the village. He did not go far before he was seized with a fit and fell by the wayside. His family felt alarmed as he did not reach home, and about 8 o'clock one of the boys went in search of him. When found he appeared to be in a stupor, but no serious results were looked for and he was put to bed. On going to his room this morning the family found that he was dead. Deceased was reeve of the village up to two years ago.

Choked to Death.

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—David Ross, driver of the steamer at the Central Fire Station, died yesterday. He got up to come to work, but on rising was seized with a fit of coughing, and a clot of phlegm off the lungs closed up the bronchial tubes and he choked to death before anything could be done to relieve him. He was appointed to the department in 1887.

Peculiar Case of Blood Poisoning.

ROCKWOOD, Oct. 12.—On exhibition day a little girl, daughter of Mr. George Bolton, got some advertising cards at the show. She had a scratch on her face at the time and one of the cards having come in contact with the wound a virulent attack of blood poisoning ensued. The little one's face is dreadfully swollen, her eyes being closed. Drs. McKinnon and Dryden are attending the little sufferer, but very faint hopes are entertained of her recovery.

Found Dead in the Woods.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 12.—Robert Milton, an old resident of Pittsburg, was found dead last night. Friday afternoon he left the house to gather hickory nuts and was absent so long that his friends went in search of him and found him lying beside a tree about 9 o'clock in the evening. He was over 70 years of age, was never married and lived with his brothers.

Banqueting the Ministers

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont., Oct. 12.—The Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Frank Smith, respectively Ministers of Customs and Public Works, accompanied by Dr. Ferguson of Niagara Falls, are here and have just inspected the construction of the ship canal at this point. Friday night they were banqueted at the Algonquin Hotel by the citizens of the town.

The Boys and the Cat.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 12.—At North Birmingham last night some boys saturated a cat with coal oil, set fire to it and turned it loose. The cat ran into the residence of a woman named Lindsay and set fire to the house, burning it to the ground. A. M. Ryder's house also caught and that was burned. Loss [illegible].

Missed the Target, Hit a Woman

[illegible], Ont., Oct. 12.—During the fair here Miss J. L. Fleigh was accidentally struck in the leg by a bullet from a gun in the hands of a youth, who was firing at a target. The bullet missing the target, passed through the agricultural hall, against the wall of which the target was placed, and struck the lady in the leg.

LEVEL CROSSINGS.

Questions Affecting the Grand Trunk and Canada Southern Before the Committee.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—An important meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council was held to-day, Hon. Mr. Bowell, Acting Minister of Railways and Canals, presiding. There were also present: Hon. Mr. Carling, Sir A. P. Caron, Hon. Mr. Chapleau, Sir John Thompson and Hon. Mr. Dewdney.

Mr. Schreiber, chief engineer, reported in regard to the narrow escape from a catastrophe at the crossing of the Canada Southern and London & Port Stanley Railways (G.T.R.) at St. Thomas in June last, and recommended that an interlocking switch be ordered to be put in.

Mr. Kingsmill stated that the Canada Southern Railway desired to put in interlocking switches on the entire line on condition that the railways affected would bear their share of the expense.

Mr. Charles Stiff, superintendent of the Great Western Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, said in this case the Canada Southern was the junior road, and under the previous decision of the committee they should bear the whole expense. He did not, however, consider that an interlocking switch apparatus was necessary, the traffic on the Port Stanley road not warranting it.

The committee ordered an interlocking switch and signal apparatus to be put in at the joint expense of the Canada Southern and Grand Trunk.

Mr. Kingsmill, on behalf of the Canada Southern Railway Company, asked authority for the proposed substitution of an air whistle for bell cord as the mode of communication with drivers, the company having come to the conclusion that the air whistle was safer. It appears that the particular mode of communication between conductor and engine-driver is not prescribed in the Railway Act. Such apparatus as will best afford sufficient means of immediate communication is allowed, and no order of the committee has previously been made restricting the mode of communication to any particular kind.

It was agreed that there was nothing in the act to prevent the Canada Southern from making the change. "But," added Sir John Thompson, "it will be at the company's risk."

In regard to the case of the city of Sherbrooke and the Grand Trunk and C.P.R. companies, the committee ordered gates and watchmen to be placed at different streets at the joint expense of the municipality and the companies.

Ages, Sages, and Wages.

If you have a wife and a half-a dozen daughters, you can keep them all well by very simple means. Let them use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is good for women of all ages. You will not need to spend all your wages for it. Those ancient sages, the M. D.'s of a century since, did nothing but dose and bleed their patients. We do better to-day: We use Dr. Pierce's remedies. For womankind, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is simply indispensible. The young girl needs its strengthening help at that critical period when she is blossoming into womanhood. The matron and mother find in it invigoration and relief from the numerous ills which beset their existence. And ladies well advanced in years universally acknowledge the revivifying and restorative effects of this favorite and standard remedy. b

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. d

Henry G. James.

Henry G. James, of Winnipeg, Man., writes: "For several years I was troubled with pimples and irritations of the skin. After other remedies failed I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and since then I have been quite free from my complaint. B. B. B. will always occupy a place in my house."

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

True Faith.

I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood purifier. I have taken three bottles for bad blood and find it a perfect cure. It is a grand medicine and I recommend it wherever I go.—Ida Sanderson, Toronto, Ont.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

DR. JAMES' NERVE BEANS.

NERVE BEANS are a new discovery that relieve and cure the worst cases of Nervous Debility, Lost Vigor and Failing Manhood; restore the weakness of body or mind caused by over-work, or the errors and excesses of youth. This remedy absolutely cures the most obstinate cases when all other TREATMENTS have failed even to relieve. They do not, like other preparations advertised for Lost Manhood, etc., interfere with digestion; but impart new life, strength and energy in a quick and harmless manner, peculiar to themselves.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

The Whistling Nuisance.

Town Clerk Macdonald has received replies to the resolution passed at the last meeting of the council, from the Superintendent of both the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railways. Both officials state that they will at once give orders to have all unnecessary whistling stopped.

Ensign Steele's Explanation.

Ensign Steele, of the Salvation Army, wishes to state in reference to a paragraph in yesterday's issue, that he has no knowledge or suspicion of any irregularity on the part of Mr. Wm. Sloan, in connection with the Army finances, and it is hoped that as satisfactory an explanation will be forthcoming in other respects.

Remember the Tower Concert

at the George street Methodist church on Thursday night. If a tithe of the people who have expressed their gratification at the erection of this tower would contribute their mite for its payment, the church will be crowded. Professor Arlige and his clever little boy artist and the brilliant Dr. Davies take part in the programme. 1d88

Death From Paralysis.

Mr. J. H. Stephens died at his home, Sherbrooke street, west, last evening at the age of 58 years. Deceased was stricken with paralysis Friday night last and never rallied. The late Mr. Stephens was well known in Peterborough, having lived here almost his whole life. The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon.

Burnt Cork Artists.

Guy Bros. Minstrels held forth at the opera house last night before a good sized audience, and the people enjoyed a good laugh. The old time minstrelsy never seems to grow stale. The songs, and dances and jokes are always appreciated, and Guy Bros. gave satisfaction in this respect. Their specialties were first-class—juggling, balancing, and feats of contortion, as well as the orthodox minstrel performance. Guy Bros. have a fine band and orchestra, and altogether the troupe appeared to please the audience immensely.

New Laundry Company.

The Persian Laundry company, lately carried on by Messrs. J. Graham & Co., and more recently by Mr. H. W. Stock, has been sold to a local syndicate of capitalists. It is the intention to put in the latest and most improved machinery, to establish agencies in the surrounding towns, to commence manufacturing shirts and other like articles and to run a dye works in connection therewith. The syndicate have sufficient capital to supplement the present business in these respects, and before long the Peterborough Steam Laundry and Shirt Company (L't'd.) will be one of the important industries of the town. Mr. H. W. Stock assumes the management of the new company, and he has the assistance of Mr. James Graham, late of Messrs. Graham & Co.

The Cheese Market.

The third attempt to sell the September and October cheese on the Peterborough board proved a failure to-day. Nearly 6,000 boxes was boarded, but the highest offer was 9⅞c. by Mr. Hodgson. Liverpool quoted at 46s. 6d. The salesmen were willing to sell for 10c., but the buyers would not touch that figure. Three weeks ago the salesmen were offered 10½c. for October, and 10c. for September, but they held out for 10½c. all round and would not sell. The market has gone down and to-day they would have sold for 10c. An adjournment was made for two weeks, when it is hoped prices will be up again. Mr. Cluxton did not attend to-day's meeting, the buyers present being Messrs. Cook, Wrighton, Hodgson, (Fitzgerald) and Flavelle.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club.

The reserved seat plan is filling up well for the concert of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club concert on Friday evening, Oct. 16th. No person who desires to hear the best music that can be produced should fail to attend this concert. The solo numbers will be superb, and of the programme generally the Portland Press says:—"The programme was a perfect gem, and it is difficult to say which number was best received. The Quartette showed an absolutely perfect blending of tones." It is seldom that the public have a chance of hearing such perfect music in Peterborough, and it will be some time before they have another opportunity, unless by a liberal patronage they show their appreciation of the concert on Friday night next. Reserved seat plan at the Peterborough Bookstore.

Personal.

Mrs. Walter, of Montreal, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Lech.

Mr. Robert Walton has returned home from a visit to relatives in Pullman, Illinois.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. dw

Opera and Party Fans. Just received at the Peterborough Bookstore, a fine selection of Opera and Party Fans. The latest most Fashionable Goods. Prices very reasonable. An inspection invited.—

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malarial or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Christian Endeavor Convention.

Some of the Prominent Persons who Will Attend—It will be an Important Gathering.

The time is drawing near for the holding of the third annual convention of the Ontario Union of the Y. P. S. C. E. Already over three hundred names have been handed in to the billeting committee and still there's more to follow. Torrance on behalf of the Christian organizations of Peterborough. The reply will be given by Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, B.D., of Galt, on behalf of the delegates.

The Anniversary Closed.

Tea Meeting in the Mark Street Methodist Church.

From five till eight o'clock last evening there was a clatter, and chatter, and confusion in the hall opposite the Mark street Methodist church, and scores of jaws worked with appreciative vigor, and bright-faced ladies hurried hither and thither, bearing viands to the hungry people who gathered to help along the anniversary, and get a good square meal. There was an abundance of provisions, and the tea passed off very satisfactorily.

At eight o'clock the guests repaired across the road to the church, where a meeting was organized with Rev. Mr. Thom, pastor, in the chair. The choir assisted by rendering a number of choice musical selections. Mr. H.S. Armstrong and Mrs. Boyes took leading parts.

Mr. Wm. Wand, treasurer of the church, made a financial statement concerning the debt of the church. He said the church was built about twenty years ago by the Bible Christians (the late Rev. John Batcher being the first pastor), at an original cost of $2,300, and there still remained a debt of about $450. During the past twenty years the interest on the debt had amounted to twice the debt itself, and it was hoped the debt would be wiped out immediately.

Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte Street Church, town, gave an address upon the subject of "Man," defining the two great forces which he possessed, moral suasion and physical force, and pointing out the better results attained by persuasion than compulsion in all lines of life.

Rev. E. Roberts, of Cobourg, next gave a humorous and interesting address, and concluded with a request for subscriptions to liquidate the debt on the church. Between subscriptions, Sunday collections and proceeds of the tea-meeting, over $400 of the $450 required was raised. The subscriptions reached a total of $350.

The tea-meeting was a most successful close of a successful anniversary celebration.

October.

The berries of scarlet, the leaves of red,
The amber, russet and gold,
Tell that the palmiest days are fled,
And summer is growing old.

The beautiful light of the sinking day,
As it gleams through sunset sash,
Heightens and brightens October's ray,
Its maple and mountain ash.

Alas! that the day with perfect array
Of loveliest, wealth and grace,
Lingers but briefly than passes away,—
And night comes on apace.

Oh, why should we miss the lessons that [gleam
In sunset's ruddiest glow,
In the rustling leaf, and the purling stream,
Or mightier river's flow?

Over and over the lesson is told,
In roar of cataract heard,
Flung out in letters of scarlet and gold,
Trilled in the song of the bird;

In the tenderest tints of vernal time,
In the summer's joy and bloom,
In the variegated autumn's prime,
And the winter's shroud and tomb.

Nature is telling her lessons to you,
Telling in voices and scene,
Wide and benign, like her canopy blue,
Countless as cloudlets between;

Changeful and brief is this living array,
Going, like sands in the glass;
The nearest and dearest idols to day,
Smile as they greet us, and pass,
And then, are hidden away.

What are we gleaning, while passing along,
Out of this living and thought?
Out of the toiling, the sorrow and song?
Only the good we have wrought.

Unerringly, a diamond pen
Records the real worth;
Eternity restores again
The only wealth of earth.

Weather Notes for September

Another month has come to a close. Whatever the consequences, time will wait on no man. September of 1891 will long be remembered as one of the hottest on record. Let us again go over the five hottest days for the benefit of your many country readers. On the 21st at sunrise the thermometer stood at 60°, at 10 o'clock up to 80°, at 12 to 84°, at 2 to 89°, at 3 to 90° at 5 to 83°. On the 22nd, at sunrise to 65°, at 10 to 75°, at 12 to 83°, at 2 to 87°, at 3 to 90°, at 5 to 78°. On the 23rd, at sunrise 62°, at 11 to 82°, at 1 to 89°, at 2 to 90°, at 5 to 80°. One the 24th, at sunrise to 60°, at 10 to 75°, at 12 to 89° at 2 to 90°, at 5 to 80°. On the 25th, our hottest day of the season, at sunrise to 60°, at 10 to 80°, at 12 to 98°, at 1 to 92°, at 2.30 to 94°, at 4 to 91°, at 5 to 85°, and at sundown to 83°, being the hottest day of the season, our next hottest being the 16th of June, at sunrise to 70°, at 9 to 84°, at 12 to 90°, at 3 to 93°, at 5 to 86°, and at 6 to 80°, the 25th September not only exceeding this in one degree, but taking any of the given hours we find a good margin in favour of September. The 17th and 18th of September were both hot days, but not nearly so high as the days mentioned above, the 8th being the coldest day of the month—sunrise 42°, at 2 p.m. 63°, at sundown 55°, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 60°. Rain fell on 11 days to the depth of 1 inch and 50-100 of an inch, our severest storm being on the 6th, from 6 p.m. to 5 a.m., falling 1 inch and a 10th, the balance being slight. We had twice thunder, but little rain; three times auroral lights, as follows: Once II, once I and once IV, with three times fog. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—South-west 7 days, south-east 3 days, north-west 15 days, east 1 day, west 1 day, north 2 days, and north-east 1 day.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES AT DRUMMONDVILLE AND NEWCASTLE.

Speculation as to the Probable Cabinet Changes—A Father's Unavailing Heroism—Interesting Case at Kingston Assizes—Another Coalition of Agricultural Implement Manufacturers.

DRUMMONDVILLE, Oct. 14. The undertaking establishment of M. Morse was destroyed by fire Monday night. Two horses were burned to death, but the hearse and most of the coffins were saved. The loss is $4000. The bones of the British soldiers taken from the trench in the sand pit a month ago were in the building, but were saved and will be buried by the military at the breaking of the camp at Niagara.

A Newmarket Fire.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 14. About 5.30 Tuesday morning a small tool shop in Botsford street, occupied by Travis & Hunter, and a stable belonging to John Eves were burned. Travis & Hunter's loss is about $200, no insurance. John Eves' loss is about $300, fully insured in the Western. The cause of the fire is supposed to be incendiary.

I WAS ALL IN VAIN.

A Father's Battle for Life in an Effort to Rescue His Son.

HALIFAX, Oct. 14. When the bark Stormy Petrel was five days out from St. John, N.B., en route to Dunkirk, Scotland, the 5 year old son of Captain David Douglas fell overboard. A terrible sea was raging and the waves were rolling mountain high, but on learning the facts Captain Douglas leaped overboard to the rescue. He reached and caught the little fellow, but by the time he had done so they were almost a mile astern of the ship. He started to swim towards the bark. Dozens of times the boy was washed off his father's back, and as many times did the heroic father again manage to catch the boy and continue swimming. Meantime a boat had been lowered from the bark, and an hour after the captain jumped from the bark he and his son were pulled into the boat. The boy, however, was dead, the exposure having killed him.

A TAILOR'S TALE.

Which So Impressed a Jury That They Gave Him $25.

KINGSTON, Oct. 14. At the Assizes Tuesday S. P. Fraser, tailor, sued Donald Fraser, banker, for assault. One Sunday morning in March the banker went to the tailor's hotel to get money, because he had heard Fraser was leaving for California. The banker admitted trying to secure the money by force. He told the tailor he was sorry for what had occurred and apologized. The banker said he had lost $645 in costs of a lawsuit through his relatives with Tailor Fraser. The jury gave a verdict of $25 to the tailor.

M.P. whose name has been mentioned in connection with a Cabinet portfolio is authority for the statement that the Minister of Railways and Canals has been selected. Hon. J. A. Chapleau gets the vacant position and Hon. J. A. Ouimet, late Speaker of the House of Commons, succeeds him as Secretary of State. Hon. Mr. Angers, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, it is further stated, enters the Cabinet at the close of his term in October next year and Sir Adolphe Caron succeeds him at Spencerwood. Also that in the event of the ministry deciding to give effect to the law creating the portfolios of Commerce and Solicitor-General, the latter will be given to Mr. D. Giroux, Q.C., M.P.

KINGSTON, Oct. 14. In the case of Coyle vs. The Corporation of Kingston and the Kingston Light, Heat and Power Company, for damages for injuries sustained while riding a horse in Princess street, judgment was entered for Coyle for $875 and full costs against the Light Company, and also costs of the city against the company.

Died While Reading a Son's Loving Message.

GUELPH, Oct. 14. Mrs. W. E. Clark of Durham street sat down last evening to read a letter which she had just received from one of her sons, and while reading all at once she complained of a terrible pain in the head and almost immediately expired.

The Team Who Will Play Against Lord Hawke's Eleven.

TORONTO, Oct. 14. The Western Ontario team who will battle against Lord Hawke's English cricketers were selected last night. They are as follows: M. Boyd, D. W. Saunders, P. C. Goldingham, W. E. Jones, F. S. Dickey, A. H. Collins (captain), Toronto; Dr. W. J. Stevenson and W. J. Fleury, Aurora; Rev. F. W. Terry and E. Hall, London; J. Bowbanks, Rosedale; and J. Lang, U.C.C. and Trinity College. Gillespie of Hamilton and H. B. McGiverin could not play, the latter on account of a sprained shoulder.

The Englishmen will leave Chicago on Saturday, and spend Sunday at the Falls. They will arrive here on Monday at 5.30.

The Ontario team is getting in shape and the match promises to be the best ever played in this country.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

WHO WILL BE THE NEW LEADER OF THE COMMONS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Publicly Announces That He Does Not Seek the Office, and Would Prefer That Someone Else Should Be Chosen.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking last evening at the union of the Conservative Associations in regard to the vacant leadership in the House of Commons, declared that he accepted the office most reluctantly in 1885 and insisted upon resigning in 1886 against the wishes of the Marquis of Salisbury and the remonstrances of Lord Randolph Churchill. He thought then and he thought now that another person would be better qualified for the post; therefore he neither expected nor desired to have it conferred upon him.

The meeting then passed a resolution to urge the Government to introduce a measure to reduce the Irish representation in Parliament to an equitable ratio to that of English and Scotch.

Unending Strife for Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting on the manifesto issued by the Parnellites, bitterly deplores their manifest intention to nurture the spirit of faction. "Unending strife," says The Journal, "is the prospect they place before the country. The program thus offered is the greatest act of cruel, senseless treachery ever perpetrated upon the Irish nation."

The National Press, speaking on the same subject, says of the Parnellites: "It is well known that they are now but the mere puppets of the secret societies."

Justin McCarthy in an interview to-day said that he did not intend to issue a manifesto or reply to the manifesto issued by the Parnellites last night. He also said his colleagues had hoped that over the grave of Mr. Parnell all differences would have been forgotten.

It is generally believed John Howard Parnell will contest for the seat in Parliament (Cork city) left vacant by the death of C. S. Parnell.

Mrs. Dickenson, the married sister of the late Mr. Parnell, has written a letter in which she says that much as her brother desired to see unity in the Irish Parliamentary party, she is certain he would never have sanctioned a union between those whom he regarded as the champions of Ireland's national honor and those whom he looked upon as its betrayers.

The Freeman's Journal says the manifesto of the Parnellites renders an honorable reconciliation impossible and that it is now under solemn obligation to advise the Irish people to drive from public life every man continuing in the minority party.

HORRORS OF RUSSIA'S FAMINE.

Endless Caravans of Fleshless and Hollow Cheeked Shadows of Men.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Daily Telegraph will print the following special from its St. Petersburg correspondent to-morrow morning:

"According to the latest accounts received here from the provinces, a very considerable portion of the population is now on foot, swaying hither and thither from town to town in the vain hope of escaping famine.

"Endless caravans of bloodless, fleshless, hollow cheeked shadows of men creep funerally along, seeking alms and work in every city on the way.

"A telegram from Stavropol, in the Government of that name, announces that a regiment of them entered that town, per[illegible].

"Through the city of Tiumen alone over fifty five thousand hungry jackals have passed, on the bodies of many of whom the ravens are now probably feeding.

"The sick list increases daily, and not only is medical assistance not to be procured, but there is no food for the support of life of these wanderers and no fuel or clothing to keep them warm.

"The despatches say that the frost is intense. Even St. Petersburg is beginning to realize that a famine is raging in the provinces. The price of bread has gone up considerably and is still rising.

"Detachments of pale, hunger-pinched countrywomen may be seen anxiously waiting before certain houses, parading the streets and offering their services as wet nurses.

"A semi-official journal warns the public that they are all from the famine districts, where their own babes died, and they have nothing to offer other children but a diseased secretion, the supply of which has been artificially kept up for the purpose of procuring employment and a meal.

"The story of the sufferings and makeshifts of some of these wretched wet nurses, who are ready to drop from weakness and exhaustion, would do more to give an idea of the extent and intensity of the famine than the most lengthy description.

"The newspapers until very lately were forbidden to speak of it, but they are now beginning to admit that deaths from hunger have occurred and are occurring.

"The Hebrews are still being hunted, seized and driven from Kieff, where they have no legal right to reside, and from the suburbs of Kieff, where they have the right, they are being likewise expelled.

"Astrakhan, Moscow and Odessa are compelled to swell the mournful cortege of famine stricken wretches, as if there were not enough recruits already."

Nearly Killed at His Father's Funeral.

CHATHAM, Oct. 14. While the funeral procession of James A. O'Keefe was passing King street a runaway horse dashed into the procession upsetting the carriage containing the mourners, and the dead man's son was thrown out and seriously injured.

Mr. Lister's Send Off.

SARNIA, Oct. 14.—The demonstration in honor of Mr. J. F. Lister, M.P., to-day was a magnificent affair. There was a monster procession. Mr. Lister was presented with an address, and reviewed the developments of the session. Speeches were also made by Hon. David Mills, Dr. Landerkin, Messrs. McGregor, Hyman, Armstrong, Sutherland and Campbell.

THE WILD WIND'S WORK.

GREAT STORM IN BRITAIN YESTERDAY.

Immense Damage Occasioned to Shipping—A Circus Wrecked and Many Children Injured—Fuller Reports of the Damage May Show Appalling Results.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Owing to a sever storm prevailing in England the telegraph wires in many places are prostrated and communication with the coast and between the larger cities is difficult.

The great storm Tuesday flooded the low lands of North Wales, causing great damage. The wind was peculiarly savage at and about Tamworth. It overturned a number of tents on the race track at Faxeley, a mile or so from Tamworth, while the races were in progress. Many persons who had sought shelter in the tents were severely injured.

The storm was specially severe along the English Channel. At Hastings heavy seas swept over the promenade and the damage there and at the other watering places along the eastern coast will be enormous.

A French brig has been stranded near Falmouth, where the force of the wind shattered her to pieces. No further details of her can be obtained. A Norwegian vessel loaded with coal is a total wreck off Kearney, county Down, Ireland.

Several collisions have occurred in the Thames and many vessels were driven ashore.

The gale demolished Batty's circus, which was giving an exhibition at Birr in Ireland. The tent was crowded with the village school children. When the wind struck it a wild panic ensued. Many persons, mostly children, were injured by the falling poles. The grown up people cut a way through the fallen walls and rescued the little ones.

CONVICTED OF SELLING TITLES.

A German Official Who Used His Office for Personal Gain.

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—A case on something of a parallel with the late French decoration scandal has just been concluded in this city. Herr Manche, the ex-chief of the civil cabinet of Emperor William I., was charged with accepting bribes for his services in return for procuring titles. A manufacturer named Thomas deposed before the court to his paying Aaron Meyer, an associate of Manche, 5000 marks to obtain for him the title of Commerzenrath (councillor of commerce). Afterwards he personally confided to Herr Manche 30,000 marks to distribute in various charities. Other witnesses gave similar testimony and Manche was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment, and his accomplice, Meyer, to four months' incarceration.

It's a Way They Have in Japan.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 14. Japanese exchanges received per Empress of India to-day relate that the bark Archus of New Chwang, laden with beans, was totally wrecked during a typhoon at the entrance of Nagaski harbor and all aboard perished. The crew were Chinese, but the captain and officers Europeans.

At Vladivostock about Sept. 14 16 Russian convicts working on a new railway attempted to escape. Two were shot down, but 14 escaped. These killed three inmates of a farm house to obtain their clothes. A French officer was killed for the same reason, and a Russian bandmaster returning from the funeral of the officer was also killed and the body stripped.

This Beats Mustard Poultices.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 14.—The Russian warders of Siberian prisons have discovered that the eating of herrings can be turned into a new means of punishment. When a prisoner refuses to betray his accomplices—or has none to betray—he is fed solely on salt herrings and is locked in a small heated cell with nothing to drink. This punishment causes violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the throat and stomach, the tongue protrudes like a bit of tanned leather, the bloodshot eyes start from their sockets and the skin bursts into agonizing boils.

To Disarm the Albanians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 14. The Porte with a view of preventing the bloody feuds and outbreaks of lawlessness which have occurred lately has ordered the Governor of Scutari to disarm the Albanians. The Governor declares that the scheme is well nigh impossible, that it is certain to lead to serious disturbances and probably end in revolution. The Albanians are well armed.

Russia in Pamir.

LONDON, Oct. 14. The Chinese Minister to Germany has arrived at St. Petersburg from Berlin, in consequence of sudden and urgent orders from Pekin regarding the Russian encroachments upon Pamir, the extensive tableland of Central Asia. The Chinese Government became alarmed over the advises that the Russians had penetrated far beyond the frontier of their district and the minister was instructed to proceed to St. Petersburg and obtain positive assurance with regard to the intention of the expedition. China and England are acting in concert in the matter, owing to trustworthy information to the effect that the territory of Afghanistan has also been violated.

Sir R. B. Morier, the British Ambassador to Russia, and De Staal, the Russian Ambassador to England, are now both in London and to-day had a long conference.

Another Alleged Plot Against the Czar.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—There are persistent rumors in Copenhagen that another Nihilist plot against the Czar has been discovered. The story is that there was a conspiracy to murder the Emperor at Elsinore on his return from attending the funeral of Princess Alexandra in Moscow. Everything had been arranged for him to land at Hunlebaeck, near Elsinore, about 40 miles from Fredensborg, but he suddenly changed his program.

Uncle Sam and Germany.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Herald's Washington despatch says: While the announcement of a partial reciprocity with Germany has not been made, the terms for an agreement have been practically concluded. The statement published yesterday that the basis of the treaty is the admission of all our cereals into Germany free of duty in consideration of the free admission of Germany's beet root sugar products into our ports, is slightly incorrect. This arrangement would be entirely too one-sided. The advantage would be entirely in favor of the United States. While the importation of beet sugar is a big item and forms a trade that Germany cannot well afford to lose, the opening of her ports to all our grain products would be an unequal exchange. The exact terms of the proposed treaty are kept secret, but it has been learned from reliable authority that the duty will be taken off wheat altogether and there is likely to be a modification of the duty on canned meats. It is said that the arrangements have been agreed to and documents signed and the official announcement of the treaty signed will be looked for any time.

LONDON'S WATER SUPPLY.

A New Scheme by Which It Is to Be Increased to Be Looked Into.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The County Council at its meeting to-morrow will consider some important propositions with regard to the water supply of the metropolis, which is satisfactory neither in quality nor quantity.

One of the proposals is to [illegible] as far as [illegible] for the service, because it is alleged this will suffice not only for the wants of London to-day but for all time.

On Saturday the council and a party of engineers and physicians inspected the [illegible] Valley scheme. This is a system of wells in the Chalk Belt, which, it is claimed, [illegible] an indefinite quantity, and it [illegible] advantage of not being far from the city.

Mr. [illegible] Webster, who is the backer of the enterprise, says that it can not [illegible] than 12,000,000 gallons a day, should that be required; while he believes there are enough wells all along the Chalk Belt to insure 240,000,000 gallons a day, which, as the present supply of the city is only 170,000,000 gallons, will allow a wide margin for errors of calculation.

Among the other schemes is one for a dual service of spring water for house use, and Thames and Lea water for flushing the streets and in case of fire.

WOMEN IN COAL MINES.

A Miners' Convention at Clearfield to Act on the Matter.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 14.—The 20,000 miners of the Clearfield district will to-day be represented in convention at Clearfield, and one very important and unusual question will be investigated. The fact that a number of miners at Houtzdale have had their wives at work in the mines nights clearing gangways for them to dig in by day, and have thus been making double time, while claiming extra wages, because of the thinness of the coal vein, has aroused both National President John B. Rae of the United Mine Workers and local Secretary Lemon. So the matter of working women in the mines is to be acted on at the convention, beginning to-day. Mr. Powderly will address the convention.

A BABY STOPPED THE PLAY.

Actor Willard Rung Down the Curtain During an Act.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 14.—An amusing incident occurred here yesterday at the matinee performance of Mr. Williard, the distinguished English actor. A baby in the audience indulged in fits of fractiousness, which became so annoying to Mr. Willard that, in the last act, he walked to the front of the stage and said:

"Either the baby or I must suspend operations, and as the baby doesn't seem inclined to give way, I suppose I must."

Thereupon he had the curtain rung down. The baby departed amid loud applause, the curtain rolled skyward, and Mr. Willard, with a wide smile on his face, resumed his playing.

A BRAVE GIRL KILLED.

Ruthlessly Shot Down While Trying to Defend Her Father.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 14.—Miss Lizzie Gossott, a girl of 17, was shot to death last Thursday night by her four cousins while defending her father. She was engaged to marry one of the young men who aided in murdering her. J. C. Gossott, the father of the murdered girl, is a planter. On an adjoining farm lives his brother-in-law, Edward Thomas, who has four sons. He has had trouble for some time with two of the Thomas boys, David B. and Jake. The four rode over to whip him Thursday about dark, and had him down when his daughter Lizzie, who had been out horseback riding, came up. Seeing four men beating her father she sprang from her horse, and grasping one of the assailants by the collar threw him upon his back. The flash of several pistols followed and the girl fell, exclaiming: "Oh, Cousin Dave. It was the bullet of Cousin Dave which has killed me." The murderers fled, leaving the girl and her father alone. During the night hundreds of people gathered to see the dead body of the girl who had died in defense of her father.

A Dakota Farmers' Alliance.

GRAND FORKS, S.D., Oct. 14.—The Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association has been organized in this city for the purpose of looking after the interests of its members in the disposal of their wheat and other farm products. It has a membership of over 800 in North Dakota and Minnesota. It has elected an agent or manager to be stationed at Duluth, who has given a bond of $75,000 for the faithful performance of his duties. He will receive and dispose of all the grain of its members at Duluth, or ship it too English markets. One leading object to be secured by this association will be in being able to ship the pure (No. 1) hard wheat, without any opportunity of mixing directly to the English markets, and by thus establishing their grade there, secure the highest market price, amounting in many instances to quite a percentage over that of the mixed wheat usually shipped. Many of the members have large farms with extensive tracts of grain, and it is claimed that the association will handle from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. They have one or two elevators now and are building others.

18 Members of One Family Hurt.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Four passengers of the steamer Augusta-Victoria, which arrived yesterday from Hamburg, have broken limbs to exhibit as a result of the severity of the voyage. A sudden roll of the ship on the wildest day of the storm threw down many of the passengers, and when picked up four were found to have broken arms and legs, while eight others were severely bruised. There were 18 members of the Epp family in the steerage and not one of them escaped without a bruise. There were more than 20 others who received bruises of various kinds.

"Pet" Mair Killed.

WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 14.—Charles Mair, a journeyman compositor, familiarly known all over the coast among the printing fraternity as "Pet" Mair, met with a severe fall and was taken to the hospital. It was there ascertained that his skull was seriously fractured and a day or two ago poor "Pet" ended his wanderings. The deceased had brothers and other relatives living in Napanee, Ontario, where he was born about 33 years ago. Mair Bros., Napanee, are proprietors of an iron foundry.

Diphtheria in Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—During the first two weeks of the present month there have been 64 cases of diphtheria in the city. The greatest number of cases ever occurring in the city during one month was 58, which were reported in November, 1887, so that the disease appears now to be worse than ever before. The wards of the hospital are full, and there are over 30 cases waiting for admission. Most of the sufferers are city patients.

The Jury Disagreed.

COBOURG, Oct. 14.—In the case of the girl Hearn, who was charged with murdering her illegitimate child, the jury could not agree upon a verdict. They were accordingly discharged and the prisoner was remanded to jail.

Why Mercier Asked for Police.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—The reason for Premier Mercier demanding police protection has transpired. It appears a riot was feared in the village of Ste. Anne de Perade over a "charivari," and the cure asked the Premier to call for assistance. All disturbance disappeared on the arrival of the police.

Cut Into Sections.

GORE BAY, Ont., Oct. 14.—Robert Srigley was killed by a freight train about a half mile from Spanish station. It is supposed he was asleep upon the track. He was mangled in a horrible manner, parts of the body adhering to the engines of two trains.

Well Known Guelphite Dead.

GUELPH, Oct. 14. James E. Warsted, aged 87, for many years in the customs and postoffice, London, and afterwards for 15 years landlord of the "Four Corners" hostelry in Eramosa, died to-day.

A Fatal Quarrel.

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 14.—As the result of a quarrel last evening Frank Castle was killed by Elmer Downs. Both were engineers employed at the same place.

Mr. Mowat at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—This morning Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, accompanied by Æmilius Irving, Q.C., saw Sir John Thompson and Hon. G. E. Foster and discussed matters in connection with the coming arbitration of the conflicting financial claims of Quebec and Ontario.

A Siberian Stowaway.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 14.—When the Empress of India, which arrived here to-day, was a short time at sea, a stowaway named Demetrus Kohoptitski, an escaped Siberian convict, was found. He had been sentenced to 16 years in Siberian dungeons, but after 6 years escaped.

Dropped Dead in the Street.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 14.—At 5 o'clock last evening Mr. R. M. Carter, aged 73, for several years car superintendent of the G.W.R. here, while walking along Huron street near his home, dropped dead of heart failure.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

ARE NOT a Purgative Medicine. They are a BLOOD BUILDER, TONIC and RECONSTRUCTOR, as they supply in a condensed form the substances actually needed to enrich the Blood, curing all diseases coming from POOR and WATERY BLOOD, or from VITIATED HUMORS in the BLOOD, and also invigorate and BUILD UP the BLOOD and SYSTEM, when broken down by overwork, mental worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions. They have a SPECIFIC ACTION on the SEXUAL SYSTEM of both men and women, restoring LOST VIGOR and correcting all IRREGULARITIES and SUPPRESSIONS.

EVERY MAN who finds his mental faculties dull or failing, or his physical powers flagging, should take these PILLS. They will restore his lost energies, both physical and mental.

EVERY WOMAN should take them. They cure all suppressions and irregularities, which inevitably entail sickness when neglected.

YOUNG MEN should take these PILLS. They will cure the results of youthful bad habits, and strengthen the system.

YOUNG WOMEN should take them. These Pills will make them regular.

MR. CHAPLEAU AND THE MINISTERS.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau, is evidently not satisfied with the stealings which the Government printing bureau furnished, but he is seeking a cabinet position with a boodle attachment. Sir Hector struck great "pay dirt" in the Railways and Canals Department and Mr. Chapleau evidently thinking that there should be something left for him, is bound to get at it. In this laudable pursuit he naturally resents any criticism that may affect his chances; consequently he is in high wrath with certain Presbyterian ministers, who have the effrontery to criticise his record. He assumes a lofty virtue, which his warmest friends would hesitate to reckon as part of his moral assets, and indignantly denounces the interference of the pulpit with politics. But he is getting back his own "with usury." In St. Andrew's church Montreal on Sunday night Rev. Elgar Hill, dealing with the parable of the "unjust steward" thus referred to the whitewashed and whitewashing cabinet ministers, Mr. Chapleau and his colleagues past, present and prospective:—"They are brazenly determined, apparently, to live the crisis down, and they are shameless enough to make light of the whole affair and abuse clergy who have been condemning their iniquitous conduct and stigmatizing the career of the corrupt as a rascal's choice." But though the master commended the adroit swindling of his steward, looking ahead to the day of his dismissal we know what our Lord thought of all deceit and wrong. And though the politicians in Canada combine they will not gag the Protestant clergy nor prevent them from condemning corruption in every shape and form. The pulpit is no place for politics properly so called. Indeed there is little danger of the clergy polluting their pulpits with the filthy subject of party politics as we see it on this continent. The clergy have not been preaching politics, they have been preaching on the old fashioned topics of honor and honesty and truth as their master preached. If politicians have been hit by such preaching, so much the worse for the politicians; and they may be forewarned that with a zealous Protestant clergy they must expect to be hit oftner abd harder still till they mend their ways. Concluding Mr. Hill said that the other churches may do as they please, but the Presbyterian clergy have been taught in a different school, and they cannot be silent in this great emergency of our country's fortunes without proving recreant to every page of Scottish history and denying the glories of a distinguished spiritual ancestry."

MESSRS. ABBOTT, leader of the fossil, and Thompson, leader of the servile, chamber, profess to be very anxious to punish the boodlers, especially the little ones. They begin by re-instating some suspended officials, and affecting a great indignation against some others whose guilt is confessed, but they exonerate and whitewash the chief offender. Sir Hector Langevin is not only whitewashed, but, it is highly probable, that he will be taken into the Cabinet and rehabilitated with a trust he has so shamefully and wickedly abused, but the subordinate officials he has used in his boodling operations are to be vigorously punished. Sir Hector is like a man who sits at his fireside and sends his boys out to rob his neighbor's orchard. He sits by the fireside munching the stolen fruit with sleek enjoyment; the boys are caught and must be punished and the father goes free, because he claims not to know that the fruit was stolen.

When the hair shows signs of falling, begin at once to use Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation strengthens the scalp promotes the growth of new hair, restores the natural color to gray and faded hair, and renders it soft, pliant, and glossy.

Simon the Poet, Feeds his Muse on Pork.

Here I am again and perfectly sane,
You know me! I'm Simon the poet;
I wear no disguise, and I never tell lies,
Yet really very few seem to know it.
Since I wrote up the "gravel" you tried to unravel,
Where Simon the poet had grown;
But still its unsolved, and I am resolved
My identity not to make known.

But guess away friends, for most everything ends,
Just about where you first started;
But whatever you do, remember its true,
That Simon is good and kind hearted.
For all the past week I've been trying to seek,
Some news to make up my rhyme;
But I find after all I can easily recall,
All that I heard in that time.

I got one scrap of news that will probably amuse,
Those who like a good "dig."
And mind its as true as I'm telling it to you,
Though its all about John Farmer's pig.
Mr. Farmer took a load, (each as fat as a toad),
Of porkers to town one day;
And what do you think! why just in a wink,
Out jumped one and away.

Then there was fun, when the pig on the run
Struck a 2.40 gait up the street,
Though closely pursued by labourer and dude,
Mr. piggie didn't suffer defeat.
He went north a block to the post office clock,
Then headed right straight for the east;
And, my, such a noise was kept up by the boys,
As they followed that now tired beast.

With a curl on his tail, he took a quick sail,
O'er the Ashburnham bridge I am told;
But where he then went no tidings were sent,
But I know he is not in John's fold.
Mr. Farmer will mourn for that pig now forlorn,
Though many are left yet at home;
But had that wee pig only stayed in the rig,
He wouldn't for his feed have to roam.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

It is a mistake to suppose that a remedy for constipation, stamach and liver troubles, should be harsh or purging, as the great success of McGales' Butternut Pills fully prove. They are mild and natural in their action, prompt and effective in results, and are specially adapted to ladies, children, and persons of weak constitution. dw

Victory at Vivian.

"In our family faithful work has been done by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend true and faithful."—Mr. W. Bishop, Vivian, Ont.

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious evil ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

"German Syrup"

A Cough and Croup Medicine. For children a medicine should be absolutely reliable. A mother must be able to pin her faith to it as to her Bible. It must contain nothing violent, uncertain, or dangerous. It must be standard in material and manufacture. It must be plain and simple to administer; easy and pleasant to take. The child must like it. It must be prompt in action, giving immediate relief, as childrens' troubles come quick, grow fast, and end fatally or otherwise in a very short time. It must not only relieve quick but bring them around quick, as children chafe and fret and spoil their constitutions under long confinement. It must do its work in moderate doses. A large quantity of medicine in a child is not desirable. It must not interfere with the child's spirits, appetite or general health. These things suit old as well as young folks, and make Boschee's German Syrup the favorite family medicine.

WRECKSTRAINSFORFUN

FIENDISH CAREER OF BARRAND, "THE MAN FROM PERU."

His Strange Mania for Destroying Human Life. A Wizard in Learning, He Puzzles Experts and Savants How He Played the Role of French Nobleman.

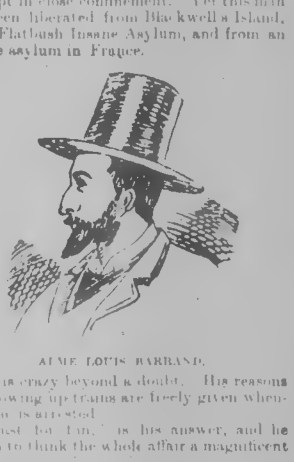
ELEVATING trains with dynamite is the favorite pastime of Alme Louis Barrand. It may seem a singular amusement, but Barrand enjoys it more than anything else in life.

He is never so happy as when sitting upon some elevation at the edge of a railroad, watching an express train coming thundering down the track right upon the dynamite cartridges he has placed there.

But his joy knows no bounds when the engine explodes the cartridges, and the scene of horror that ensues causes his eyes to blaze with pleasure.

This pastime of his is by no means theoretical either. He carries it into effect at every possible opportunity. Over and over again has he been caught in the act; and many a year of his life he has spent in prison.

He is no stranger to the insane asylum either. It is a wonder why he was ever liberated when once securely behind the bars, for his passion is a dangerous one. A man who habitually travels with a trunk ful of dynamite one would think ought to be kept in close confinement. Yet this man has been liberated from Blackwell's Island, from Flatbush Insane Asylum, and from an insane asylum in France.



ALME LOUIS BARRAND.

He is crazy beyond a doubt. His reasons for blowing up trains are freely given whenever he is arrested.

"Just for fun," is his answer, and he seems to think the whole affair a magnificent joke.

Barrand is now in jail at Belvidere, N.J., for wrecking the Lehigh Valley express, near Kennedy, on September 9.

He has many aliases. Louis Ramel is one, but he is best known as "The man from Peru."

This man has a wonderful history. It is checkered all over with the most atrocious crimes, if crimes they can be called, for there can be no doubt that he is not responsible for his actions.

Barrand was born in Switzerland in 1845. When he was only five years old his parents came to this country and made New York their home. While still a boy he showed remarkable aptitude for learning, and soon picked up not only several languages, but a thorough knowledge of the details of a number of mechanical trades. This knowledge has proved of great use to him in his fearful schemes for wholesale slaughter later in life.

At an early age he developed symptoms of insanity, and in 1866 he was sent to Blackwell's Island. There he stayed a year. His parents went to France and took him with them. On their arrival there they had him placed in an insane asylum. He was then twenty one years old, and his innate shrewdness enabled him to effect his escape.

Back to America he came at once and began a career of crime that has scarcely a parallel. For ten years he practised his profession of dead beat, spending his time alternately in jail and in clover. For Barrand had a peculiar faculty for ingratiating himself with wealthy people and bleeding them by the cleverest kind of swindles.

Every time he was liberated from jail he changed his name and began his career again. Both in New York and in Concord, N.H., he worked his games, posing now as a French nobleman, now as a scion of a noble English family, and now as a political refugee from Russia. The best people received him gladly into their houses—and repented of it. Jail had no terrors for him. He would spend a year there and quickly resume business under another name as soon as he got out.

Though it cannot be learned that he ever attended college, he had so vast a fund of information upon every conceivable subject that he was able to palm himself off upon expert machinists as an expert, and often gave them pointers. To a doctor he showed himself the possessor of a knowledge of surgery that astonished, to a lawyer he demonstrated his familiarity with the most delicate legal questions. A business man took to him at once from the keen insight into commercial and financial affairs that he showed. In short, he was all things to all men, and was never anything but an expert.

After a term in prison he reappeared as Henri de Courcelles, introducing himself as the director of the San Juan mines at Arequalpa, Peru. This earned for him the title of "The man from Peru." He interested capitalists in his mines and obtained money from them simply on his representations of what there was in them.

He got out of the Flatbush Asylum in some way, but his insanity was not cured. In fact, association with lunatics seemed to have developed it in an extraordinary manner, for it was only then, after leaving the asylum, that he became a fiend. Two days after escaping from Easton jail, in 1879, he had what he called fun on the steamer Drew. He boarded her at New York and went up the Hudson rationally enough.

There was a large crowd of people on board, among them being many women. When every one had retired to their staterooms, and supposedly to sleep, Barrand, with the hellish light in his eyes opened his stateroom door and exploded a large quantity of gunpowder. The report awakened everyone [illegible]. Of course there was a panic [illegible] and [illegible] was sick [illegible].

In the [illegible] all Barrand walked around enjoying himself. His eyes glittered with joy as he saw the frightened women and pale faced men. That was his idea of happiness. He was arrested at once and put in irons. The captain had hard work to prevent the enraged passengers from throwing him overboard. When asked why he did it, he replied nonchalantly:

"I wanted to see the women running around in their night gowns."

He was tried and sentenced to seven years in Auburn prison, and served the full term.

Apples for Export.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—The Canadian apple crop this season is said to be the "largest on record." However that may be, the export of this branch of Canadian produce has so far this fall been unprecedentedly large. For the week ending Sept. 30, the two railway companies brought to Montreal for export to Great Britain 15,000 barrels. That was just about the beginning of the apple shipping season, and the 15,000 barrels did not include those exported from the city. Since that time the two companies have been bringing our 30,000 barrels weekly for export and there are no signs of the quantity diminishing. The only thing to be regretted is that there will not be sufficient space before navigation closes to carry over Canada's surplus apples. Every inch of available space has been taken and shipments to some ports are being refused. The freight sheds on the wharves are literally packed with barrels. The steamship men are now perfectly happy. They can afford to smile benignly even on the cattle exporter. They have all the freight they want or are able to carry for the remainder of the season, and it is now their turn to dictate the terms upon which they shall carry cattle to the British markets.

Jemima's Beau.

Jemima, once she had a beau,
He didn't mind her name, you know,
Although it was so prosy.
She had catarrh, and had it so,
That he at last was forced to go—
The odor was no posy.

If she had been sage in time, she would have taken Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. An offensive breath is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted, if the person has any pride, but to those with whom he or she comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseparable, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases, as thousands can testify. $500 reward offered for an incurable case by World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. c

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. d

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME.

Aquatics on the Coast.

The Vancouver, B.C., Advertiser of Oct. 7th says:—Messrs. W. H. Kent and A. Marshall, of the Burrard Inlet Rowing Club, returned yesterday from Portland, where they had been attending the regatta. The rest of the club will probably return this morning, they having remained behind to endeavour to organize a North Pacific Rowing Association. Messrs. Kent and Marshall contested in the race for junior fours, and, as will be remembered, they won this race. All the members of the crew were presented with a very handsome medal as a prize. The medal is of gold, and consists of an arrow, to which is attached a pendant. In the centre of the pendant a scene representing a four-oared crew rowing is engraved, and at the back of this are a couple of oars crossing each other, while around it is a wreath. At the top of the pendant there is a small cup on which are the figures 1891. They report having had a very enjoyable time at Portland, and state that the club there did everything possible to make them comfortable. After the regatta a banquet was tendered them at the Hotel Perkins. A very friendly feeling now exists between the two clubs, and it is to be hoped that next year the Portland club will send up a crew to British Columbia

THURSDAY NIGHT.

The Late Mrs. Roper.

The death of Mrs. J. H. Roper this morning was not a surprise to the many friends of the deceased lady, for it was know that she had been in failing health for nearly three months past, and her demise was not unexpected. The sad occurrence will be none the less painful, however. Mrs. Roper was most warmly regarded by a large number of friends and acquaintances, whose regret will be intense that death has severed the ties of friendship. The deceased lady was 58 years of age at the time of her death. She was a daughter of the late Henry Vennor, of Montreal, and has lived in Peterborough the greater part of her married life. For 15 years past she has been a constant resident of the town, an active member of St. Paul's church, and highly esteemed by all with whom she came in contact. Thirty-two years ago she was married to her bereaved husband, Mr. J. H. Roper, one of our oldest and most respected citizens. A husband and family of four sons and two daughters are left to mourn the loss of an affectionate, faithful wife and mother. The entire community will heartily sympathise with them in their affliction.

The funeral takes place Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock from the family residence, Downie street.

A Farmers' Trust.

GRAND FORKS, N.D., Oct. 13—The North Western Farmers' Protective Association has been organized in this city for the purpose of looking after the interests of its members in the disposal of their wheat and other farm products. It has a membership of over 800 in North Dakota and Minnesota. It has elected an agent or manager to be stationed at Duluth, who has given a bond of $75,000 for the faithful performance of his duties. He will receive and dispose of all the grain of its members at Duluth or ship to English markets. One leading object to be secured by this association will be in being able to ship the pure No. 1 hard wheat, without any opportunity of mixing, directly to English markets, and by thus establishing their grade there, securing there the highest market price, amounting in many instances to quite a percentage over that of the mixed wheat usually shipped. Many of the members have large farms with extensive tracts of grain, and it is claimed the association will handle from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. They have one or two elevators now, and are building others.

Fishing With Gill Nets.

A Convenience for Fishermen Next Summer.

Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, Fisheries Inspector, in answer to his letters urging the matter upon the Government, has received the appended letter. This will apply to all residents in this district, and, of course, to campers who may wish to procure fish for food. Following is the letter:—

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES,
OTTAWA, 3rd Oct., 1891

SIR,—Having reference to previous correspondence on the subject of granting licenses to fish with gill nets in the Midland lakes of your division, for the purpose of enabling farmers and settlers to procure a few fish for their own use, I am to inform you that the Minister has decided that such licenses may be granted on the following conditions:—

1. None but actual farmers and settlers, or bona fide residents of the locality, will be entitled to a license.

2. These licenses will only be granted for the purpose of taking herring, salmon, trout or whitefish for home use and consumption, but not for barter or sale.

3. Each license will be restricted to a maximum of 100 yards of gill net.

4. The fee is fixed at $2 for each license so issued, and payable strictly in advance.

5. The period during which fishing will be allowed will be from 15th July to 15th October, so as not to interfere with the breeding of spring and fall fishes.

6. The size of mesh shall be as follows:—for herring, gill nets 3 inches extension measure, or 1½ inches square; for salmon, trout and white fish, gill nets 4½ inches extension measure, or 2¼ inches square.

The above license will not permit of fishing in any river or stream, nor within a radius of 200 yards from the mouth of any river or stream.

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN TILTON,
Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

A Splendid Holstein Purchase.

Mr. C. D. Moore, of Smith, Captures "Churchville Prince" at the Agricultural College Sale.

Mr. Charles D. Moore, of the Fourth Line of Smith, is known throughout the Midland District as one of the most advanced stockmen in the District, and he has perhaps fed the most and best stock for the shambles of any man in four counties. This department of stock-raising being somewhat depressed, Mr. Moore is turning his attention more to dairying, and he will be satisfied with none but the best. Accordingly he commissioned Mr. Joseph Redmond, the Durham cattle king, of Otonabee, who attended the thirteenth annual sale of pure bred stock at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on Oct. 7th, to purchase for him the pedigreed Holstein bull calf "Churchville Prince." The purchase was made and on Tuesday the beauty arrived in town by C.P.R., and came into the hands of his new owner, who is delighted with his purchase. And well he might be. "Churchville Prince" is a beauty, and, though he is only twelve months and eleven days old, he turns the scales at 895 lbs. He possesses all the good points which his high breeding should bring. Calved on Oct. 2nd, 1890, he was got by Harmonia's Mercedes Prince, 9841, his dam being Alvo, 13,396, H.F.H.B. His dam is in the milking herd of the Experimental Farm, Guelph, and though, only a three-year old, is the best milker in the herd. She gets this milking superiority honestly; for her dam, ("Churchville Princes" grand-dam), the imported cow, Lady Oesterzee, (387 H.H.B., 302, advanced registry), as a three year old, made a record of 51½ lbs. of milk in a day and 742½ lbs. of milk in 15 days, an average of nearly 50 lbs. per day. With such an extraordinary milking strain in his blood, "Churchville Prince," it will plainly be seen, is destined to exercise a powerful influence in improving the milking quality of the stock on the Fourth line and vicinity, and Mr. Moore has just reason to be proud of the splendid animal he is now in possession of. It is to be hoped that the farmers of the neighborhood will avail themselves of the opportunity which Mr. Moore's enterprise has placed within their reach, of improving the milking capacity of their herds, and show that they not only appreciate the enterprise of a neighbour, but the wisdom of the Ontario government in placing within the reach of farmers, at moderate prices, the best stock that is grown.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME.

One of the Freshest.

He Belongs to "One of the Finest" Company—Last Night's Performance and an Awkward Incident.

Edward J. Hassan's "One of the Finest" was presented at the opera house last night before a large audience. "One of the Finest" is a comedy of ordinary merit, but some of the special features are good. Mr. Elwin Ryan as "John Mishler," the Dutch policeman, made a great hit. Chas. H. Stanley in the roll of "Mort Devine," the flashy, fresh young masher, scored a success, as did Frank Burns in the character of Quincy Veal, the colored bootblack. Miss Frona McAllister as "Ruth Hickman," the injured wife of the villian, took her part well, and Mrs. Mishler, the wife of "One of the Finest," was also a good character. There was just enough of the plot apparent to keep the play well connected, but the comedy element superseded the dramatic, and it is on its humorous and special features that "One of the Finest" looks for popularity. The fifth tableau represented a pier in New York harbor, with a number of "wharf rats," young-ters in a state of nature except for trunks, plunging about in the river. This river was a large tank which had been built on the stage and filled with water by the firemen in the afternoon. The water was made lukewarm, and the "kids" disported themselves in it while the play was proceeding in front.

An unfortunate incident occurred to mar the entertainment. Butcher's orchestra was engaged to play the interludes, and accompaniments for the singers, of which the company boasted several. The Dutch policeman and his adopted daughter had given solos, and the exceedingly fresh young man who had the role of "masher" gave a rattling comic song, which was encored. The orchestra began to repeat the song for the recall, but the singer wanted a change. There was some delay in hunting up their music, and the loud young man on the stage remarked that he would get a chair and wait for them. Then the violinist started up the same old air, but "Mort" stopped him and said he wanted "No Deception," adding that he could sing without the music but "there was no use paying people for doing work unless they did it." This, in full hearing of the audience, was to much for Mr. Butcher, and he refused to play any further. 'Mort" then sang his song without any accompaniment. Shortly afterwards the orchestra, comprising six pieces, gathered up its paraphernalia and went out, followed by shouts and hisses from the gallery. But when the fresh young fellow who had caused the unpleasantness appeared again, he was greeted with such a storm of hisses and cat calls that it was almost impossible to proceed with the play.

The contretemps was unfortunate. It spoiled the show for every one. The songs were good, and there would have been more of them had the music been available. There is no doubt the "masher" was to blame for it, but the general opinion seems to be that Mr. Butcher acted too hastily in leaving the hall. He might have remained and played for the others, as well as carried out his contract regarding the overtures.

Cavan.

Highly Successful Church Opening.

The services in connection with the opening of the Fallis' Line Methodist Church, Cavan South circuit, held on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 11th and 12th, were splendid successes. Crowded congregations listened with great interest and profit to the sermons of Sunday. In the morning the dedicatory sermon was preached by the Rev. A. L. Adam, of Shannonville, a former pastor. The text was chosen from II. Chron., vi, 40, 41. The many friends who were gathered to listen again to their former pastor were greatly delighted and benefitted. God was with us to accept the offering. In the afternoon the Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., of Millbrook, preached from I. Peter, i, 19:—"The precious blood of Christ." Clearly, forcibly, and with perfect command of his thoughtful discourse the preacher spoke to eager listeners. In the evening the Rev. J. Kilgour, of Frazerville, preached. Text—Hosea, x, 1: "Israel is an empty vine, he brought forth fruit unto himself; according to the multitude of his fruit he hath increased the altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly images." With master y skill the downward course of Israel was depicted. Broad culture was brought to do service to Divine truth. Human nature was viewed in the light of that truth. The strong appeal for lasting character was such that none could hear unprofitted. God came down in mighty power and blessed the service.

On Monday the tea was held, and no better could be had anywhere than Cavan provides. The platform meeting was held in the new church, the pastor in the chair. The church was packed. There is good seating accommodation for 175 persons, but there could not have been less than 250 persons present to listen to the speeches. We cannot attempt a description of all the speeches made. All of them were of a high order. The speakers came in the following order. Mr. S. W. Clark, L.D.S., Mr. J. A. V. Preston, lawyer, both of Millbrook, next came Mr. T. Dixon Craig, M.P. who was compelled to take his departure early in the evening much to the regret of the meeting. Rev. A. L. Adam, Shannonville, then came forward and after a few remarks introduced to the audience that orthodox member of dedication ceremonies, the subscription list. Rev. Mr. McQuade, of Pontypool, then carried through the list after which he put up for sale an autograph quilt. The subscription and quilt were successfully attended to and the indebtedness on the church met. The next speaker to be welcomed by the audience was Mr. Elliott, Editor of the "Millbrook Reporter." Rev W. R. Young B.A., of Millbrook, was the last speaker, who because of the lateness of the hour spoke briefly, but well. Usual votes of thanks were given. The Kendal choir even surpassed the splendid reputation which they have throughout these parts as a first-class choir and we look forward to hearing them them again with great pleasure. Proceeds of Sunday and Monday about $170.00.

Keene's School Matters.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wish to draw public attention to a state of affairs that needs to be altered. Mr. Kenward Mark has been head teacher of Keene school for seven years, and during that time he has given great satisfaction. Our school has the best record of any in the county, the order is first-class and the average attendance large. Some time last month two of the trustees decided to put him away, and when this became known Messrs Jas. McNeil and Wm. Campbell went through the section with a petition, asking the trustees to re-engage Mr. Mark, and without any trouble obtained over sixty (60) names to it. This having failed to influence the trustees, a public meeting was called for Monday evening last in the school house. This meeting was as large a one as was ever held in this section. Mr. Geo. Read was called to the chair. The trustees were asked their reasons for not re-engaging Mr. Mark, and one stated that he would not give them, and that he intended to hold his office, the other gave a few objections which Mr. Mark explained to the perfect satisfaction of the majority of those present. Messrs. Jas. McNeil and Wm. Campbell explained their action as regarding the petition. The Rev. Mr. Andrews made a stirring speech on behalf of the wishes of the section, and Mr. Mark's re-engagement, and closed by moving a resolution that the trustees be requested to grant the prayer of the largely-signed petition, and re-engage Mr. Mark. This was seconded by Rev. Mr. Curts in a very quiet but earnest speech, and when put to the meeting was carried by twenty-seven against two, these two being the two trustees who are opposed to Mr. Mark.

If Mr. Mark leaves Keene he will do so against the wishes of a large majority of the ratepapers of school section No. 4, Otonabee.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space granted me,

I remain, yours truly,
A RATEPAYER.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine Without Avail—Gave Himself up to die.

Good Wife Suggests Cuticura Remedies—Used Them 7 Months, and is Entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1863-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience.

Buy Now, If at All.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly! Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Increase over 1889	75,649.65
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

ALMOST BEYOND BELIEF.

A Case Tried at Cobourg Yesterday Almost Without a Parallel.

Cobourg, Oct. 15.—At the [illegible] yesterday George Washington Hearn was placed on trial on a charge of incest, the complainant being his sister, Malvina Jane Hearn, who yesterday was acquitted on a charge of murdering her infant. The girl testified that on the night of Aug. 10, 1890, her brother entered her room and forced her to submit to him. A letter written by the prisoner to his sister while in jail was produced, in which Hearn tried to induce Malvina to say that one Jack Wicks was the party who committed the assault upon her. The father, mother and brothers of the prisoner attempted to prove an alibi, all swearing that George was not at home on the night in question. The jury found the prisoner guilty and he was sentenced to four years' confinement in Kingston Penitentiary.

"CLUTCH" DONOHUE'S WIDOW.

Jumps Into the Niagara to Drown Her Sorrows.

Fort Erie, Ont., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Eliza Donohue attempted to commit suicide by jumping into the Niagara River yesterday, but was rescued by her adopted son, a lad of 10 years, and a passer-by. A well-known Buffalo business man has been paying his addresses to Mrs. Donohue for some time and it was understood that a match was to be the result. It is said that both were very much in love. Lately, however, he has ceased his visits and it is believed that this has preyed upon the pretty widow's mind. In addition she [illegible] had a good deal of trouble [illegible], which [illegible] Fort [illegible] the [illegible] she owns was learned [illegible] work of an incendiary, and Mrs. Donohue began to show signs of great worry.

Mrs. Donohue is the widow of "Clutch" Donohue, the notorious express and bank robber, who stole $40,000 from the American Express Company at Susquehanna, Pa., several years ago and who was pardoned out of Kingston Penitentiary only to die outside the prison walls in the Hotel Dieu.

Donohue was concerned in many heavy robberies in Canada, but was never convicted. He was implicated in the robbery at the Receiver-General's office, Toronto, a decade since. In company with Mollie Matches, Joe Dubuque and Walter Jones he robbed the Molsons Bank in St. Thomas in 1881 and was twice tried for the crime, [illegible] disagreeing on both occasions. Of the quartet only Jones was convicted.

IN THE CYCLONE'S PATH.

GREAT DAMAGE CAUSED ON LAND AND SEA BY THE STORM.

Famine in Russia Invites a Revolutionary Society to Attempt a Revolt—The Authorities Break up Secret Literary Clubs—Fourteen Million People in Need.

London, Oct. 15.—The gale, which had quieted last evening, resumed the force of a hurricane at midnight. The area of the storm extends over the whole of Ireland and England and the southern portion of Scotland. A large number of coasters have been lost. The valleys of the Severn and the Dee and the low lying parts of the Midland Counties are flooded. At York the roof of a circus tent was blown off, killing a boy in the street. At Dublin the magnificent draperies of mourning displayed upon the occasion of the Parnell funeral have been entirely blown away, and the same fate [illegible] the floral decorations that have adorned the grave at Glasnevin. At Cardiff and its vicinity 11 coasting vessels are ashore. The crews were all saved.

At Folkestone, one of the landing places for cross channel steamers, the sea did great damage.

At Helensburgh, a watering place on the Firth of Clyde, the furious waves poured into the streets, flooding the houses and driving the inmates from their homes.

Two passenger trains running between Glasgow and Helensburgh were brought to a standstill by the water, which washed over and threatened to demolish the track; the fires of the locomotive were extinguished, completely stranding the trains and placing the lives of the passengers in peril. Escape from the cars was impossible, and all attempts made up to the present to reach the travelers have failed.

It is impossible as yet to give even an approximate idea of the damage.

Despatches received here from Dover, Kent, say that the hurricane is worse than the fearful weather experienced during the blizzard of March last.

The military camp at Shorncliffe suffered from the storm, buildings being partly or entirely unroofed. At Sunderland the hurricane unroofed a factory, the chimney of which fell upon a house and seriously injured four persons.

A telegram received at 3 p.m. from Folkestone says that a steamer flying signals of distress has been sighted off that port and seems to be in danger of becoming a total wreck. The local lifeboats have repeatedly attempted to put out to her assistance, without avail.

The list of vessels which have foundered during the gale is only beginning to be made out. Two coasting vessels, it is known, have foundered in Lochlong, a branch of the Firth of Clyde, and six men of their crews were drowned.

All the incoming steamers which have [illegible] to take port report having encountered fearful weather.

London, Oct. 15.—The gale has subsided. The passengers by the White Star steamer Majestic, which could not put ashore her mails at Queenstown yesterday because of the violence of the storm, arrived safely at Liverpool to-day.

ANGLO CANADIAN TRADE.

Steady Expansion of Exports and Imports Between Britain and Canada.

London, Oct. 15.—The Board of Trade returns show a steady expansion of Anglo-Canadian trade. Exports to Canada expanded 32.55 per cent. during September and [illegible] the nine months compared with [illegible] expanded [illegible] period. The aggregate [illegible] the nine months was £10,492,637 against £10,343,483 for the same period of 1890. The increases were fairly general through the list. There were enormous increases in British imports of Canadian wheat and flour in the nine months, namely, £1,412,205 against £568,073. Wood imports decreased from £2,738,000 to £1,890,000.

Russians in Need of Help.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—Medical councils have been summoned in the distressed provinces of the Empire. Scurvy and typhus are raging in the wake of the famine. The Novosti says the famine prevails in that [illegible] Governments of the country, and fourteen million persons are in urgent need of succor.

A revolutionary society at Kieff are endeavoring to take advantage of the prevailing famine to excite a revolt. Persons from Switzerland and France guided the movement. The authorities have broken up their secret literary clubs, prohibited all their meetings called for discussion and scattered their books to the winds.

The Government is negotiating for the purchase of large quantities of breadstuff in the United States.

M. De Giers, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Marquis Di Rudini, the Italian Premier, had a long conference at Milan yesterday. The conference, it is understood, has no special motive other than that attributed to the Czar's desire to show plainly that he is determined to maintain the peace of Europe if it is possible to do so.

Two apprentices of a tailor named Hellern at Eschwege, Germany, who had been thrashed for some infraction of rules, scraped the phosphorus from the tops of a lot of matches and put the poison in some beer, which their master drank. Hellern died soon afterwards, having suffered great agony from the poison.

An unknown man, supposed to be a German-American, has just committed suicide at a hotel in Soest, Prussia. The sum of 50,000 marks was found in his pockets. The stranger spoke both English and German fluently, but no one with whom he had conversed had gained any clue as to his identity or the place from which he hailed.

Died at Midnight.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Torrance, wife of Gen. J. T. Torrance, president of the Chicago Elevated Terminal Railway, was thrown from her cart while driving along Sheridan-road yesterday, sustaining injuries which resulted in her death at midnight.

THE ROYAL COMMISSION.

OPENING OF THE INVESTIGATION AT QUEBEC.

Threatening Letters Sent to Two of the Judges—The Examination of Witnesses Is Gone on With—Armstrong in the Box.

Quebec, Oct. 15.—An immense crowd attended the sitting of the Royal Commission yesterday. Hon. Mr. Mercier was among the many present.

Judge Jette announced that two of the commissioners had already been the recipients of threatening anonymous letters. "We are accustomed," he said, "to receive anonymous letters as judges, and I suppose we should not be surprised to receive them as commissioners, but though the commission may be revoked it cannot be intimidated or ruled."

Gustave Grenier, Clerk of the Executive Council, who, while acting as Deputy Lieut.-Governor, signed two warrants for $100,000 and $75,000 respectively, produced copies of orders-in-council authorizing these payments.

The next witness was C. N. Armstrong. The celebrated railway contractor then gave the story of his connection with the Baie des Chaleurs Railway as already published at length during the Senate inquiry. He spoke of the sub-contracts he gave, and produced his original claim against the company for $298,000, which he was afraid to lose, and only agreed to file after a solemn promise given him that it was to be returned. He also told of his difficulties in collecting the money due him, and said that when he was approached for a settlement he expressed his willingness, but agreed to be satisfied with $175,000, of which $50,000 was to be in cash.

In his recital he gradually came down to the point where he approached Mr. Cooper and told him that for about $280,000 all claims could be settled.

He stated that though he knew Mr. Garneau, Commissioner of Public Works, he did not approach him personally, but thought it was better to do so through an agent.

At this a titter went all around the court-room, Mr. Pacaud, to whom it referred, remaining perfectly impassive, however.

Mr. Armstrong recounted how he had come to an agreement with Mr. Pacaud and how the latter arranged the whole plan with the Government. He thought that $75,000 would reward Mr. Pacaud's service towards the new syndicate, and later on in a Pullman car on the Hudson and Delaware Railway, Mr. Pacaud hinted that he would give his services as agent for $100,000. Mr. Armstrong did not think it improper to give such a large sum, as he thought it would advance public interests as well as his own.

Hon. Justice Davidson: Did Mr. Pacaud suggest this method of making business to you?

Witness: No. I suggested it to him.

Judge Davidson: Did you know how this money was to be used by Mr. Pacaud?

Witness said he understood it was for his personal use.

Mr. Armstrong said that he went with Mr. Chrysostome Langelier and Mr. Thom to the National Bank in order to negotiate a letter of credit. He thinks it was Mr. Thom who told him that they (the Governments) were ready. The bank was closed but the back door was kept open by special request.

Hon. Judge Davidson: How do you expect to get your money?

Witness: Why, from Mr. Langelier. He holds my receipt for $175,000, and I intend to get $175,000.

Speaking of his (Armstrong's) going to Pacaud's office, witness said that he went to Pacaud's office because it was the most convenient place. He very likely had previous arrangements with Mr. Pacaud before Mr. Chrysostome Langelier was there. He was not quite sure whether he had the check ready. He received five checks of $20,000 each.

Hon. Justice Davidson: Were there any instructions given you?

Witness: No.

Mr. Langelier had the checks ready made out. Witness declined to say what he did with the checks after Mr. Langelier had given them to him.

Hon George Irvine objected to the manner in which Mr. Armstrong was examined. He claimed as Mr. Armstrong had a sum [illegible] which was uncontested he had the [illegible] of accepting the money and do with it whatever he pleased. If the amount due [illegible] too high it was nobody's business [illegible] who paid it.

Hon. Judge Davidson: Then you object [illegible] any enquiry being made into Mr. Pacaud's acquiring the money?

Hon Mr. Irvine: I do.

At 4 o'clock the commission adjourned.

HE WILL NOT HANG.

An Indian Murder of a Quarter of a Century Ago Reprieved.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The Minister of Justice has decided to commute to life imprisonment the sentence of death passed on the notorious Indian Enna, of the Stone tribe, in the Chilcotin country, B.C., for the murder of a Chinaman named Ahqua some 20 years ago. The authorities have been in search of Enna ever since the murder, but till lately he has baffled them. Thousands of dollars have been spent in several unsuccessful attempts to capture him. He was convicted mainly on his own admissions, having told the Chilcotin magistrate that he killed the Chinaman about 27 years ago, although the real date was 1872.

The Chinaman lived and mined in a lonely spot on the Fraser River, just below the mouth of the Chilcotin. The prisoner and a companion named Quilt reached the Chinaman's cabin at sundown in the month of June. They slept in one corner of the cabin, and during the night Enna arose and shot the Chinaman. The two Indians went back to the Stone Country; the prisoner [illegible].

The prisoner was found guilty of murder by the jury and was sentenced by the judge to be hanged on Oct. 29. He was perfectly stolid and indifferent from end to end of the trial.

He did not confess until after his capture. He stabbed another Indian lately, which caused the revival of the search for him. The captor got a reward of $600.

Peter Sharbot Acquitted.

Kingston, Oct. 15.—Peter Sharbot, an Indian charged with the murder of his infant child, was yesterday acquitted. The [illegible] evidence against him was that of his squaw, who claimed to have seen Sharbot kill the child.

Henry Bedoe, charged with rape, was found guilty and sentenced to seven years imprisonment.

Killed By a Cart.

Carleton Place, Ont., Oct. 15.—Mary, the 7-year-old daughter of Alexander Steele, was run over by a butcher-cart while playing in the street and instantly killed.

Kissed Waitresses and Shot Himself.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—A sensational suicide occurred to-day in the crowded Thiergarten. A dissipated youth who had taken five beer-garden waitresses out for a drive in a carriage gave each of them three marks and a kiss and on arriving at the Thiergarten [illegible], and telling the coachman to [illegible] girls home, drew a pistol as his [illegible] and [illegible] himself dead.

A paper was found pinned inside his coat bearing the following inscription: "Max Hindebrandt, Berlin. Having spent my fortune, this is the best end."

Mr. Balfour the New Leader.

London, Oct. 15.—The St. Stephen's Review claims that it has authority to state that the Marquis of Salisbury has offered the leadership of the Conservative party in the House of Commons to Mr. Balfour.

An Immense Cradle Factory Burned.

Brussels, Oct. 15.—The establishment of the Societe Anonyme de Stearine at Haeren, the largest cradle factory in Belgium has been destroyed by fire. The loss will be several millions of francs.

DISASTROUS WRECK.

Several Persons Killed and 23 Injured, Including Secretary Blaine's Son.

Hicksville, Ohio, Oct. 15.—The Baltimore & Ohio fast express was derailed near here yesterday. Three persons were killed and 23 others injured, all passengers. The private car of Emmons Blaine, son of the Hon. James G. Blaine, was in the wreck. Young Blaine was slightly injured. The third vice-president of the road was on the train, but was uninjured.

The ladies' coach, sleeper and Vice-President King's private car went over an embankment. The killed are: Thomas Waterstone of Bridgewater, Ohio; A. G. Mathers of Doon, Iowa.

Miss Cleveland's New Carriage from Her Mamma's Old Friend.

Buffalo, Oct. 15.—Little Ruth Cleveland is going to have a new baby carriage, for a big firm in this city has made one especially for her and shipped it to New York. A gentleman who saw the carriage before its shipment describes it as having a beautiful wickerwork body, resting on springs which respond to every movement of the weight entrusted to them. Its lining is of the most delicate tint of blue, with an adjustable canopy top of a darker shade, the whole set off with a dainty edging of lace, giving the effect of a fleecy cloud-lined bower.

More Big Scandals Coming Out.

Quebec, Oct. 14.—Ugly rumors are afloat in the Lower Town as to further boodle transactions on the part of the Mercier Governmen. It is said that another scandal that far surpasses that of the Baie des Chaleurs will be exposed as soon as the Legislature meets. It is in connection with the Montreal & Sorel Railway, which became insolvent and was taken over by the Grand Trunk. It will be remembered that when Sir Henry Tyler arrived here Mr. Mercier went and called on him, and, if current report is to be believed, begged him not to let the Montreal officials say anything about the matter. Sir Henry was compliant, the story goes, and nothing was said.

Mrs. Haggart to Sue For Divorce.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—John Haggart, Postmaster-General, is not in the city. Mrs. Haggart is in New York. To-day in the city of New York she entered an action for divorce from her husband, alleging adultery against him. Since Mrs. Haggart has been separated from her husband she has received from him $1000 every year as alimony. It was said to-night that Mrs. Haggart has been collecting evidence both in Ottawa and New York, on the strength of which she may make application in the Senate next session for a bill of divorce.

Yesterday's Cabinet Meeting.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The Cabinet sat yesterday and had for consideration, among other questions, that of the suspended clerks. It is understood that in all cases of extra pay for extra work the clerks will be restored where no other offence was committed, on the ground that heads of departments under Liberal and Conservative Governments alike were aware of and permitted the practice. As regards a reconstruction of the Cabinet nothing was done.

Both Feet Amputated.

Carleton Place, Ont., Oct. 15.—P. Lynch of Chapeau is 70 years old, yet he is recovering after a fifth amputation of the leg. Some time ago he was inflicted with decay of the bone, and first the foot and then portions of the leg, as the disease worked its way upward, were amputated, till four successive operations had been performed. Then the trouble broke out in the other foot. That, too, has been amputated and the old man is still alive.

Millions for the World's Fair.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Aside from the cost of the great World's Fair buildings, which will not be far from $7,000,000, the following are among the sums which have been or will be spent in preparation of the Exposition grounds: Grading and filling, $450,000; landscape gardening, $323,500; viaduct and bridges, $125,000; piers, $70,000; waterway improvements, $225,000; railways, $500,000; steam plant, $800,000; electric lighting, $1,500,000; statuary, $100,000; vases, lamps, etc., $50,000; lake front adornment, $200,000; water supply and sewerage, $600,000; other expenses, $1,000,000; total, $5,943,500. The total expense of organization, administration and operation of the exposition is estimated at nearly $5,000,000. This takes no account of the sums to be spent by the Government, the States or foreign nations.

The C.P.R. Extension.

Brantford, Oct. 15.—A letter has been received from Mr. Van Horne by Mr. Robert Henry stating that the money market is so much easier now that the directors of the C.P.R. hope to be able to float their securities for the cost of constructing the line from Woodstock to the Niagara River at an early date and upon favorable terms. It is understood that Mr. Van Horne is particularly anxious to have the line built in time to carry passengers and freight to and from the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893.

His Foot Ground to Pieces.

Carleton Place, Ont., Oct. 15.—William J. Bradley, while engaged in teaming for a threshing mill near Munster, had his foot caught in the gearing of the horse power and literally ground to pieces. Accidentally Shot the Guide Dead.

St. John's, N.F., Oct. 15.—The master, Annesley, of the British warship Partridge, with other officers, was deer shooting near Croque to-day. While he was creeping on a stag through some low scrub a twig caught the trigger of Annesley's rifle, which went off, killing instantly the guide, Moore, who was ahead.

Too Many Sects.

Georgetown, Oct. 15.—The Herald says: The Army has left Georgetown. For a number of years the officers have had an up hill time of it on account of the down hill tendencies of the class of sinners they had to contend with and who made up to a large extent their congregations. Georgetown has too many denominations. If the number were less and activity greater better results would be accomplished.

The Searles Will Contest Ended.

Boston, Oct. 15.—It is understood the Searles will contest is ended and that Timothy Hopkins will get between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 of the late Mrs. Searle's property.

Arson to Conceal Crime.

Washington, Ind., Oct. 15.—Auditor James C. Lavelle, A. B. Hawes, a prominent citizen, Basil Leadger and Samuel Harlimer, a laborer, have been jailed for burning the court house. The two latter were hired by the former to burn the building in order to destroy the records. All have confessed.

Killed By the Fall of a Cage.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 15.—The cageman at shaft No. 2 at the Niagara Falls tunnel lost control of the cage at 1 o'clock this afternoon and it fell, descending into one of the elevator carriages loaded with men. The names of the killed are Abraham Brown, a negro, and Saverio Chiavello, an Italian. One of the injured, John Brown, a negro, cannot live. The cage tenders were in danger of being lynched by the tunnel men and they were locked up in the police station for safety. Two topmen have been arrested, as it is thought the casualty occurred through their carelessness.

"Don't Care to Eat."

It is with the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache, and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes one "real hungry." Persons in delicate health after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

THE apple crop in Canada is so large that according to the Montreal Witness all the space in the vessels up to the time of the closing of navigation has been taken and still exporters are clamoring for more vessel accommodation. Considerable quantities of apples not up to the export standard will be left unmarketed and even unpicked. The apple crop will be a very important source of revenue and the success of this year will probably direct greater attention than ever to the growing of apples for export.

The Russian Situation.

It was in order to protect Turkey from the possibility of being surprised at her very capital by Russia that the latter was debarred from sending warships and war material through the Dardanelles. The nations guaranteed the enforcement of this as well as other provisions of the treaty, ostensibly, at least, out of consideration for Turkey. If Turkey therefore willingly annuls the provision the European powers could only acquiesce, unless their own interests are menaced. They do not apparently consider this to be the case, and as Great Britain evidently believes that she is able to blockade the Dardanelles in any case if she needs to do so, and is not directly interested in keeping Russia out of Constantinople, she simply protests against the new arrangement. Russia has attained what she sought as she generally does in the long run.

French-Canadian Fecundity.

L'Electeur publishes the names of 500 fathers who have reared twelve children or over and are, therefore, entitled to the Provincial grant of 100 acres of land each. Last year it published the names of about 1,000, so that in all 150 000 acres of the public domain will be ceded to these prolific sires if they choose to ask for it. This is a revival of Colbert's plan which gave cash bonuses to parents having large families and encourage early marriages in the colony by giving young brides and bridegrooms a prize of so many louis d'or. It would be well if somebody could devise a recipe for keeping the French-Canadians, young and old, at home. The Tories have tried to do so by increasing the price of the necessaries and conveniences of life through protection, and by getting into a war of tariffs with the United States which has resulted in the imposition of crushing duties upon all the coarse and bulky products which the French Canadian farmer grows, and which he must sell in the States if at all. That experiment, as might have been predicted, has simply helped to swell the exodus. It can be stated with confidence that the million and a half of people in French Canada have during the last ten years sent more immigrants to the United States than any other million and a half in the world. In the hope of checking the movement the Provincial Government, following the example of the men at Ottawa, has gone into [illegible] for subsidizing railways. It has done so much of that sort of thing, in fact, that it is now bankrupt, and population is likely to rush across the border in larger numbers than ever. The condition of Quebec is one of the gravest of the problems confronting the Canadian people.

You have catarrh, and other remedies have failed you—then give Nasal Balm a fair trial. There is no case of catarrh it will not cure if the directions are faithfully followed. dw

Hygienic Water.

A new domestic beverage which is becoming day more and more popular.—Water as often met with is very healthy. But even when good, too much should not be taken, as there is a danger of colic, which makes one regret not having been more abstemious. However it is necessary to drink at times, and when the weather is warm, the more one drinks the more one wants to drink, without being able to quench thirst. We give here a beverage easily made, and which cost next to nothing, one which quenches the thirst without producing any unpleasant results; on the contrary it makes a very healthy drink, and one which will save you much in the way of doctor's bills.

To every 3 or 4 pints of cold water, steep for a short while before drinking, a teaspoonful of Indigenous Bitters. These Bitters (if the Genuine, and not an imitation) contain roots of a warming nature, which render the water harmless.

A 25 cts. packet of the indigenous Bitters will thus give you several hundred drinks, agreeable to the taste, and much more healthful than pure water as instead of injuring, they stimulate the appetite, regulate the bowels, and strengthen the stomach, especially when used regularly. 1d

Jane Hearn's Disgrace.

A Young Girl Charged With Killing her Child.

COBOURG, Oct. 19.—This morning Malvina Jane Hearn, a young woman 21 years of age, was placed in the dock to stand her trial on the terrible charge that on May 25th last she murdered her illegitimate infant male child. The prisoner is a tall, fair young woman, not unprepossessing in appearance and of quick intelligence. Her parents live near Colborne. In April last she came to her brother's house in Cobourg, where she gave birth to the child. It was taken care of by the mother until the 25th of May, when it disappeared under circumstances which were stated in the evidence.

William Albert Hearn, a brother of the prisoner, said the last time he saw the child alive was in his house, just before we went away to work on the morning of May 25. He did not see the prisoner again until the evening of the next day, when she came in the house and said, "I am free." She said she had given her baby away to a lady back of Port Hope, and it would be better taken care of than if it was with her. On Thursday of the same week she went to work as a domestic servant at Mrs. Carpenter's on George street. On Friday, in consequence of his wife's suspicions, he took a pole and searched the well on his premises and fished out a baby's dress which the prisoner's child had on when he saw it last. He immediately went to see his sister and she then admitted that she had buried it between the cistern and the well under a woodshed adjoining the house. He could not say positively whether she said she had murdered the child. He told her she must go with him and take it up. She did so, and unearthed the little body. Shortly afterwards the prisoner was arrested. In cross-examination, witness said that some time before the child was made away with, the prisoner told him that her brother, George W. Hearn, was the father of her child.

Dr. Douglas, the Cobourg gaol surgeon, gave a report of the post mortem, in which he said death had been caused by strangulation.

Dr. Waters testified that it was possible for a mother nursing a child to smother it by pressing it too closely to her breast.

The prisoner made a statement that the child had died while she was near it and she had been too frightened to say anything about its death.

The judged charged against the prisoner, but after three hours' deliberation the jury disagreed. The prisoner was remanded to to the gaol and will be tried again at the next Assizes.

[The charge of incest against the prisoner's brother was proven. A report of the case appears in our telegraphic news.]

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Victory at Vivian.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower. Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." ④

Maher Wants to Fight.

Peter Maher, the Dublin pugilist who arrived in New York on Wednesday last, is anxious to arrange for a fight with Bob Fitzsimmons and James Corbett. If he cannot get either of them to make a match he will be satisfied with a "go" with any good man in his class. Billy Madden, who is managing his affairs, considers him the coming man and every bit the equal of either Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Jackson or Mitchell. Speaking of Mitchell, he said that Maher could easily down him, and he intends to challenge the Englishman just as soon as he arrives in this country.

In Pisa yesterday a mob attacked six Austrian pilgrims who were on their way to Rome and compelled them to cry out, "Viva il Re!" Professor Ackerie, who was one of the pilgrims, has since mysteriously disappeared, and it is supposed he was assassinated.

The British ambassador has delivered to the Porte England's reply to the latter's note in regard to the passage through the Dardenelles of vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet. The note differs essentially from the replies sent by the other powers, and enters into a full explanation of England's position.

The Minister of Justice is preparing a report to lay before the council refusing to acknowledge the claim for $19,000 for losses sustained in the Northwest rebellion by Mr. Bremner, the half-breed, whose furs Middleton was accused of taking, on account that the claimant aided towards his own losses.

Fall into Line.

Join the great procession! It marches to victory! It knows no defeat! Inscribed on its banners is the inspiring battle-cry, "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." Its line of march extends across the continent and around the world! A happy illustration of the popularity and success of this world-famed remedy. 'Tis everywhere relieving pain, inspiring hope, curing disease! For all blood disorders it is acknowledged the safest, the most thorough, the best! The liver and kidneys respond at once to the invigorating touch; through them the whole system is cleansed and built up anew.

If you are sick, indisposed, debilitated, weak, suffering from malarious or other poisons, you'll find the "Golden Medical Discovery" the remedy par excellence to restore you. a

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. d

Henry G. James.

Henry G. James, of Winnipeg, Man., writes: "For several years I was troubled with pimples and irritations of the skin. After other remedies failed I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and since then I have been quite free from my complaint. B. B. B. will always occupy a place in my house."

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

True Faith.

I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood purifier. I have taken three bottles for bad blood and find it a perfect cure. It is a grand medicine and I recommend it wherever I go.—Ida Sanderson, Toronto, Ont.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

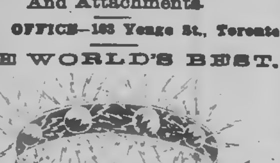
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod-w

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME.

A Bridge Being Removed.

The old Grand Junction Railway bridge, which did service for trains crossing the river at Campbellford, up to the time of the completion of the new bridge lower down the river in December last is being dismantled, says the Herald. It was built by Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie twelve years ago, when the first regular train service on this road commenced. A number of men were sent to work last week to remove the ties and rails, lift the timbers and pull down the whole structure, and they are still busy at the job and will be for some days to come. Its removal will give a clearer view of the river, but it will prove an inconvenience to scores of people residing in the north end of the town who used a "short cut" when business required them to pass from one side of the stream to the other.

When the hair shows signs of falling, begin at once to use Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation strengthens the scalp promotes the growth of new hair, restores the natural color to gray and faded hair, and renders it soft, pliant, and glossy.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

To Morrow Night's Great Concert.

No effort should be spared by lovers of first-class music, to attend the magnificent concert of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club and concert company in Bradburn's opera house to morrow night. A splendid programme of classical and popular music, vocal and instrumental will be given. Unless this fine company company is liberally patronized it will be a long time before any citizen will venture to bring an expensive and thoroughly first-rate concert company to town. The object of bringing the company here, is for the public benefit and enjoyment and the public should appeciate the privilege of hearing the best music that has ever visited the town. Let there be a full house at the concert on Friday night. Plan of hall at Peterborough Bookstore.

A Midnight Blaze.

Narrow Escape of the Occupants of the Building—Mrs. J. N. McCreary Falls and is Severely Injured.

Mr. J. N. McCreary, Singer sewing machine agent, and his wife had rather a startling experience with a fire this morning, which will satisfy them for the remainder of their lives. They have a shop in the Dunsford block on Water street, with living rooms behind and overhead. A few minutes after one o'clock this morning they were awakened from their slumbers. Dense smoke filled the room and they could scarcely breathe. Mrs. McCreary was the first to wake. She ran to the window and screamed "fire." Mr. McCreary jumped from his bed and groped his way downstairs, but escape was cut off there. The sitting room was black with smoke except for a lurid light in an upper corner where the flames were bursting through from the kitchen. Hastily retreating and closing the stair door behind him in order to shut off the draft, Mr. McCreary rejoined his wife upstairs. Then they sought another avenue of escape. They tore down the partition in the doorway leading into the apartments on the north side. These apartments are occupied by another family. But here too the smoke was stifling, and Mr. and Mrs. McCreary returned to there own quarters, where every moment the danger was becoming greater. The smoke was so dense respiration was almost impossible. Already its pernicious effects were felt, for Mrs. McCreary, partially blinded and suffocated, missed her footing in the darkness and fell down the long stairs from top to bottom, crashing against the closed door at the foot of the flight. Mr. McCreary heard her screams and went to her assistance. His wife was badly hurt, and scarcely able to move or breathe, but she managed to reach the upper rooms again. Unable to stand the suffocation any farther, the couple rushed to the front of the building, threw up the windows and thrust their heads out into the pure, fresh air. It was their only chance for their lives. The smoke rushed out in clouds through the opening, but by leaning half their bodies outside the almost strangled people were able to breathe. Meanwhile the alarm which had been given was heard by Constables McGinty and Stewart, and in a few moments after these events transpired Firemen English, Moore and Hayes were on the scene. A ladder was procured and placed against the front of the building. Mr. and Mrs. McCreary were rescued by Fireman Hayes in their robes de nuit, for they had not time to throw on any clothing.

It was found that Mrs. McCreary had sustained a severe scalp wound, a long gash being cut in her head. Several stitches of the surgeon's needle were required to close the wound. Besides, she was severely bruised, especially about the shoulders. It is expected that she will be around again in a few days.

The work of extinguishing the fire was of short duration. The firemen did not allow the blaze to gain any headway, and it was well it was so, for if a fire got good start in a large block like Dunsford's, it would be almost impossible to control it.

The fire, it seems, started in the kitchen alongside the stove, which had been used during the evening. The interior of the kitchen was badly burnt and a portion of the dining room. Considerable damage was also done to the household goods. All cases are covered by insurance.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. dw

AN EXCELLENT EXHIBITION

The East Riding's Signal Success.

Magnificent Weather—An Exhibition in Every Department to Match—Three Thousand Visitors on the Grounds—Remarkable Excellence of the Exhibits—A Farmers' Show in every Way—Something for the Society to be Proud of.

"It was a great success!"—"A splendid show!" "The best we ever had!" "We can take the shine out of Peterborough!" These are a sample of the congratulatory remarks that could be heard at frequent intervals on the grounds of the East Riding Agricultural Society in Norwood on Wednesday; and the event fully justified them, for the show was in all points a great success—the best ever held under the auspices of the Society, and one of the best ever held in the district. The directors may well be proud of the issue of their efforts.

The weather being practically perfect, there was an immense attendance, the receipts at the gate the largest of the series, representing an inflow of

THREE THOUSAND VISITORS,

Peterborough and the West Riding being numerously represented—the mid day C.P.R. train being so crowded that standing room in the aisles of the coaches was a privilege. There were several prominent members of the West Riding Society present.

The number of entries, though falling a trifle short of last year, represented a greatly improved quality of articles in nearly, if not quite, every department.

HORSES AND CATTLE.

The exhibit of horses, especially of single and double horses in harness, was deserving of special mention.

But it was the exhibit of cattle that made the great feature of the show. There was a large representation in five leading classes of stock.

The Jersey department was unusually replete with about 40 fine specimens of this diminutive, but creamy, class. A notable feature was the presence of the Jerseyhurst herd of Robert Reesor, Markham. The other exhibitors were Messrs. F. Birdsall & Son, A. Terrill, Wooler, and D. H. Ketcheson, Seymour.

In Ayrshires, exhibits were made by Mr. Henry Humphries, Mr. Adam Humphries, and Mr. A. Terrill, the latter showing an Ayrshire bull that had his stall blazoned with six first prize tickets and the silver medal at the Industrial, Toronto, for the best bull upon the grounds.

Holsteins were represented by the exhibits of Mr. T. B. Carlow, Percy; Mr. A. Cameron, Otonabee; Mr. A. Campbell, Roseneath; and Mr. R. Honey, Percy.

The fine exhibit of Durhams claimed as owners, Messrs. Knox Bros. and Mr. John Knox, Asphodel; Messrs. Birdsall & Son., Asphodel; Mr. John Douglas, Percy; and Mr. W. G. Paterson, Belmont.

SHEEP AND SWINE.

In sheep and swine the show was large, in the latter the pens of both long and short wools being excellently filled. In Oxford downs Messrs. Birdsall & Son swept the field of the prize list. Mr. T. B. Carlow's exhibit of a Lincoln shearling ram was an interesting innovation, the judges considering him the best sheep on the grounds.

There was a large row of creditably filled poultry coops.

MANUFACTURES AND IMPLEMENTS.

The weakest section of the outside exhibit was the manufacturing department, the number being very meagre. Messrs. D. J. Smith & Co., Norwood, showed two pumps and Mr. Henry Owens, of Peterborough had also on exhibition a force and a lift pump. Thos. Hendren showed two top buggies; Mr. Geo. McWilliams, Peterborough, a "Champion" fanning mill and bagger; Mr. J. H. Conners, of Ottawa, improved washing machine, warranted to wash anything clean but a boodling Cabinet minister; Mr. W. P. Plant, of the Norwood Foundry, showed a feed cutter, mower, root pulper, land roller, turnip seeder, and school desks.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT

was worthy of great praise. The show of roots and grains was very fine. There was a very large number of grain samples, and the quality was invariably excellent. The East Riding is noted for its monstrous roots and on this occasion it beated its old time reputation. The roots shown must have left a hole in the fields like the removal of a pine stump. There was a very excellent show of fruit, principally apples. Vegetables of all kinds made a fine showing. Domestic articles, pickles, preserves, canned fruits, bread, etc, were numerous and of fine quality. Domestic manufactures, quilts, flannels, socks, stockings, etc., made a splendid showing. There was a very creditable display of ladies' fancy work, and fine arts were not badly represented. In harness, Mr. T. Waller, Norwood, and Messrs. Frank Tyler and T. Howard, Hastings, were the contributors. Mr. R. J. Stewart, Norwood, had a nice collection of tinware on exhibition, and Mr. W. Ebb, Norwood a collection of shoe maker's work. Mr. J. H. Scriver, Norwood, showed an ingenious cut-fit for spraying fruit trees to destroy vermin. Mr. J. Hendren, Norwood, showed a Karn organ, and a Karn piano, and Mr. J. N. Ackerman, of the same place, a Dominion organ and two of the new Williams sewing machines.

THE SPEEDING IN THE RING

was the only department of the exhibition that did not reflect credit on the management. The green trot resulted in W. Comstock's "Minnie C" taking first prize and Geo. Lipsett's "Lady D" second prize. In the open trot Comstock's "Minnie C" also gathered in first money, but the horse that took second place in this event will not be known, till the Royal Commission that will have to be appointed to untangle the heats and throw light on the darkness, both judicial and actual, that enshrouded the last three heats, sends in its report.

NOTES.

The Norwood brass band was on the grounds and discoursed sweet music under the leadership of Mr. Archie Freeman.

The ladies of Christ English Church, Norwood, sheltered by one of Turner's tents, served excellent meals on the grounds and were liberally patronized.

A gallant bachelor from Peterborough remarked that he never saw so many pretty girls to the dozen as were on the fair grounds on Wednesday.

Altogether the directors have reason to form themselves into a little mutual congratulation society on the strength of the success of their show, and they will doubtless carry out the idea of adding five acres to the exhibition grounds.

In pleasant contrast to former years the evening was exceedingly quiet, the visitors, who felt so inclined, "filling themselves up" quietly and rapidly and and going peacefully home at an early hour.

"Not all is gold that glitters" is a true saying; it is equally true that not all is sarsaparilla that is so labelled. If you would be sure of the genuine article, ask for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and take no other. Health is too precious to be trifled with.

The Late Mrs. Yelland.

At one o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Wm. Yelland passed away after a lingering illness of nearly three months duration. The deceased lady has been in failing health for some time, and her death has caused her family and friends the keenest sorrow. The late Mrs. Yelland was 59 years and 1 month old at the time of her demise. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Sweeting. She was a daughter of the late Jonathan Sweeting, of Smith township. In the year 1857 she was married to Mr. Wm. Yelland, and has for 35 years been his constant helpmeet and companion. From their union a family of six children resulted. The sons, five in number, all live in Peterborough. They are, William G. Yelland, J. H. Yelland, Benjamin C. Yelland, Frederick Yelland and Dr. A. E. Yelland. Their only daughter, Mary (Mrs. Dr. Graham) lives at Fenelon Falls. The late Mrs. Yelland was a devout member of the Baptist Church, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will mourn her loss. To the bereaved husband and family the warmest sympathy is extended. The deceased lady was a kind, affectionate friend, a tender wife and a loving mother. Her loss will be keenly felt. Mr. Yelland is one of our most prominent citizens, noted for his uprightness of character and solid business standing, and he will be deeply sympathized with in the affliction which he is called upon to bear. The funeral takes place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, corner Murray and George street.

The Markets.

Grain Market.

Cables report the British markets a trifle higher and the continental markets a little lower. In Chicago better cables, a decrease of 2,500,000 bushels on passage and report of rain interfering with threshing in the Northwest helped prices, and December wheat closed ⅞ higher than yesterday. Corn closed ⅝c to 1½c higher than yesterday's closing.

Local grain dealers have received the barley standards from Oswego. They report that the standard of the grain is higher than it was last year.

Cables were steady to high on wheat and corn, and 2d lower on peas. American wheat was strong and advanced about a cent. In Canada, there was an active export demand for wheat at firmer prices; peas were irregular; barley dull; oats quiet, and rye firm; flour and bran were in fair demand.

According to the United States crop report for October the indicated crops are as follows:—Wheat 588,306 000 bushels, oats 758 176,000 bushels, and corn 2 065 675 000 bushels.

Country Produce.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Lard was 3d. cheaper in Liverpool to-day. In Chicago the market declined and closed 5c. to 20c. lower. This market is steady.

BUTTER.—The receipts of choice butter are small and the market is firm and wanted. The best sells at 15c. to 17c.

EGGS are scarce and firm, and it is difficult to get reliable stock below 15c.

POTATOES.—The market is steady. A car sold on track at 40c. Potatoes are selling out of store at 50c. to 55c.

DRESSED HOGS.—The receipts are not large. A few lots of hogs were received on the street market to-day by farmers' waggons, but they were mostly light stocks. A few heavy hogs sold at $5.75 to $6.

A Montrealer.

Overworked and Broken Down—A Faithful Wife Acts as his Physician—Friends Astonished—The Great Remedy Used.

He was a retail boot and shoe merchant on one of Montreal's principal streets. He was a practical man; commenced a small business on a very limited capital; but he possessed something, very often of greater value than a bank account—he was industrious and pushing. When he first opened up many predicted his early downfall and failure. His industry, hard work and constant application, however, worked out for him success in two years. Thus solidly established he worked on early and late, overcoming difficulties and building up a large trade which yielded handsome returns.

Five years of unprecedented success seemed to nerve him with renewed energy; he worked harder than ever before, but unmindful of the results. Nature was being trampled on, and at once her righteous and infallible laws demanded satisfaction. The merchant had grown careless and indifferent, and only succumbed when the hand of disease bore on him heavily. He overworked both brain and body, and was left an almost helpless wreck. He became nervous, sleepless, irritable and dyspeptic, and so weak and broken down that he was unable to walk across his room.

A faithful and wise wife, after a few visits of the family physician had been made without any good results, calmly and affectionately informed her husband that she would assume the responsibilities of doctor and nurse upon one condition, which was that Paine's Celery Compound must be used instead of powders, pills and drugs.

No word of remonstrance was uttered, the merchant having too much condidence in his wife's wisdom. Paine's Celery Compound was used, which, with proper dieting and good nursing, restored him in a short time to his usual good health and strength.

His friends were astonished beyond measure with his rapid and perfect cure, and, of course, talked considerably about the matter to friends, many of whom are warm supporters of Paine's Celery Compound to-day. This is by no means an isolated case in the city of Montreal. There are hundreds of others who could tell of similar cures effected by this wonderful Compound.

Growth and expansion are the rule with this thriving and energetic establishment.

The Bridge Committee Meets.

A meeting of the county Road and Bridge Committee was called on Tuesday to consider matters of interest. A claim of Dr. Stephenson, V.S., for damages sustained while crossing Taylor's bridge in Belmont was not entertained, it transpiring that the claimant crossed the bridge contrary to the warning of the man repairing it, who said it was unsafe. The Trent Narrows bridge matter was also considered, and the building of stone piers ordered. It was also decided to add an iron pier to Brown's bridge, Belmont.

We have now the names of 100 delegates who are still unprovided with homes or billets, and we take this opportunity of making an urgent appeal to the citizens of Peterborough to open their homes and so lend a helping hand to the good work. We are thankful to those who have done their duty in this respect, but the fact remains that one hundred more delegates must be placed somewhere. For the sake of the good name of our town, for the sake of the Christian community of Peterborough, for the sake of those who have charge of this very important work, we ask you to kindly lend any and all the assistance which lies in your power. It is a mistake to suppose that a remedy for constipation, stomach and liver troubles, should be harsh or purging, as the great success of McGales' Butternut Pills fully prove. Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

THE QUEBEC SCANDAL.

A STATEMENT WHICH CREATED A COMMOTION.

Pacaud Told Armstrong He Would Have to Account to the Premier For the Disposition of the $100,000. The Commissioners to Know All the Facts.

QUEBEC, Oct. 16.—When the Royal Commission opened its session yesterday Mr. [illegible] rose and announced that he and his colleague did not appear for the Executive but merely for the minister. He then announced that they not knowing what procedure would be followed had summoned a number of residents [illegible] the road [illegible] to the good condition of the road [illegible] of the work done there and as these people were anxious to return to their homes as soon as possible he would [illegible] convenient they might be examined at once.

Mr. Hall objected to this, the principal [illegible] objection being that these [illegible] were not competent witnesses [illegible] in deciding this point, [illegible] already stated the [illegible] of the commission could not be [illegible] on the subject.

Judge [illegible] Judge [illegible] yesterday afternoon. He pointed out that Mr. Armstrong had admitted the agreement to pay Pacaud $100,000 for his influence with the Government. Mr. Armstrong [illegible] that it was a thing on the [illegible] between McLaren and Pacaud [illegible] agreed to pay [illegible] influence [illegible]

Mr. Armstrong was thereupon put in the box to tell what he had done with the five checks of $20,000 each when he visited Pacaud's office.

He admitted having endorsed the checks for Mr. Pacaud and said he had always expected to do so, though it seemed from his evidence before the Senate Committee, quoted by Judge Davidson, that he was not satisfied at having to do so.

Being asked why he was so ready to pay the $100,000, [illegible] $100,000 and why he believed [illegible]

Witness replied [illegible] had great influence with the Government. He was a party manager, an intimate friend of the ministers, and [illegible] he has been acting as an agent for the other [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Pacaud [illegible] the delay he replied that he himself was very anxious to have the matter closed up as he had large accounts to pay himself, the total amounting to some $40,000.

After testifying that he had not paid either Mr. Pacaud or anyone else any [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] taking [illegible] story of his several interviews with Mr. Pacaud without eliciting anything new. Mr. Armstrong was asked if Mr. Pacaud had ever told him that he had to [illegible] $100,000 with others or had to [illegible] to any one.

"Mr. Pacaud never told me he had to divide the money with anyone, but he told me he had to account for it."

Mr. [illegible]: To whom?

Mr. Armstrong: I'd rather not answer that question.

He was finally compelled to answer, however, and the question was repeated to him. In a deathly silence, the answer came: "He told me he had to account to Mr. Mercier."

[illegible] "Yes, understood he referred to Hon. Mr. Mercier, Prime Minister."

Rev. M. [illegible], parish priest, was next examined. He recognized a petition sent to Mr. Mercier by him, in which he condemned the old company and asked the Prime Minister to dissolve the old company and form a new one which would meet the [illegible] requests of his parishioners. He did [illegible] the prov[illegible] himself. It was at the instigation of the Rev. Mr. Thiverge, [illegible] of Bonaventure, that he made the petition. He knew that the Rev. Thiverge was instigated to do so by Hon. Mr. Mercier himself. Dr. Crepeau of Percé was next examined by Mr. [illegible]. The people who had sold their grounds to the company to make the road and the workingmen were [illegible] paid in October, 1889. The people were generally dissatisfied.

Mr. [illegible]: In what state are the works now?

The work [illegible] pushed on vigorously [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] of Caplan [illegible]. He has been 18 years [illegible]. During the [illegible] company [illegible] At a public meeting in Caplan [illegible] was drawn praying the Government [illegible] take the company's charter since the company could not carry on the work.

A PIRATE KING

A Number of French Soldiers Killed by Pirates in Hong Kong.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—A Shanghai letter says a number of French officers and privates have been killed by the pirates in Hong Kong. Hanoi advices state a continuous warfare has been in progress between troops and large gangs of pirates. Captain Simon, in charge of the Biendong station, started with 200 riflemen to take a fortified position north of Biendong. They surprised the piratical stronghold and drove the enemy out about sixty strong. The retreating pirates took their dead with them. Capt. Simon and his men then occupied the captured position. The detachment charged with the protection of the party constructing the station of Donson was surprised by strong Chinese bands stationed during the night in the vicinity. The Frenchman in charge, Mr. Leveeq, and seven [illegible] partisans were killed. The gunboat Avalanche moved in front of Donson, fired two shots into the village of Yen-[illegible], where the Chinamen were in ambush. On the arrival of reinforcements the pirates fled into the mountains. All the dead and wounded were carried to Donson. The [illegible] came home from Schadelm mine where they had been feasting during the night. They had installed themselves in a wood 20 metres distant from the road and fired volleys from 100 rifles into the detachment of Leveeq when passing by. The French lost 13 killed and wounded, and [illegible]. The pirate beheaded Leveeq [illegible] of his men.

At an engagement at the village of [illegible] the civic guard drove [illegible] the pagoda, but had to [illegible] the military, which [illegible] found that nothing could be [illegible] against the improvised piratical stronghold without artillery, which did not arrive before night. The pirates profited by the darkness and escaped. Lieut. De[illegible], two tirailleurs and three military [illegible] were killed and 37 men wounded. A few weeks ago seven bodies were found on the bank of the Red River. They had been prisoners, three males and four females, who failed to pay ransom and were executed by the pirates.

Four pirates taken by the police of Bay Nay were executed.

[illegible] Railway Trip Leads to Death.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The fast vestibule train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road which left Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday was wrecked at 10 o'clock this morning at Crete, Ills. The accident was caused by the engine running into an open switch. The round house was struck by the engine and demolished, falling about the train and setting the baggage car on fire. The Engineer, Clark, was killed as were also three Chicago Inter Ocean reporters who were riding on the engine. Their names are L. W. Washburn, Jas. McCafferty and Fred Henry. They were riding on the engine with the intention of writing up the trip. The fireman jumped and saved his life.

Leonard W. Washburn was the sporting editor of The Inter Ocean. He was especially well known in baseball circles. James McCafferty came to Chicago about two weeks ago from St. Louis, where he had been employed in The Post Dispatch. Fred Henry was 37 years old and had been employed on The Inter Ocean for about two weeks, having come here from Louisville.

CLAIMED TO BE A NURSE

How a Confidence Woman Played Her Game Here Without Much Success.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Dolly Beelye was the name of a young woman who was sentenced to a long term in the Mercer Reformatory at Toronto as a confidence woman. She had ingratiated herself into the graces of some of Brantford's divines, and when opportunity afforded, and under false pretences, secured the [illegible]. Last July she was liberated, and, it appears, did not profit by the lesson her punishment should have taught, as several Toronto people now mourn for the money the wicked Dolly secured from them without giving value therefor.

Last Sunday the police department here were asked to look out for the woman. They learned that she came to South London and called on Rev. Canon Davis, giving her name as Miss Shaw. She represented herself as a sick nurse, trained at Guy's Hospital, in England. She said she had only recently come from the Old Country, and had been engaged in charitable work in Toronto, but had left there owing to a disagreement with Mr. [illegible]. Rev. Mr. Davis sent the woman to Mrs. Whitehead of Craig street and she was in turn introduced to many others, each of whom she swindled. $10 was the most obtained from any one individual. She is now [illegible] at least she purchased a ticket here to that city.

BALFOUR IS THE MAN.

HIS APPOINTMENT AS LEADER ANNOUNCED.

Important Speech of Mr. Goschen at Cambridge—Mr. Jackson, One of the Members For Leeds, to Succeed Balfour as Irish Chief Secretary.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Hon. George J. Goschen spoke yesterday at Cambridge. In his address he denied that the bye-elections furnished a forecast of a Liberal majority at the general elections. Sir William Vernon Harcourt's predictions about the matter were "mere chuckle and chaff." The Unionists were not despondent and had no reason for early dissolution. The Newcastle Liberal program, however, bristled with dissolution.

The vast constitutional changes approved by the Liberals would require a second appeal to the country if sincerely voted, but their object was to catch votes. He doubted the success of these radiant bubbles. The destruction of the two churches, Scotch and Welsh, would cost more than their would-be destroyers contemplated. If church disestablishment was to come only after Home Rule had been established were the votes of those in favor of the disestablishment of the Scotch and Welsh churches to be given "on tick?" Those churches would die hard and their fate would be submitted straight to the electorate.

If the House of Lords rejected Home Rule the Gladstonians did not intend to dissolve parliament but rather to try to tinker and fiddle with the constitution. The people ought to have an opportunity of declaring themselves on the subject of Home Rule as a straight issue.

In regard to shorter parliaments, he said the Newcastle system would help shorter parliaments in a perfunctory manner. Responsible Liberal statesmen proposed to deal with the House of Lords without anything to replace them.

They surprised him about the "one man one vote" idea. If it happened it must be accompanied by a redistribution of seats.

He raised a warning voice against the payment of members. They ought to be absolutely "the independent friend and not the servant of the constituencies." With short parliaments and paid members good legislative work would cease.

Regarding leadership of the House of Commons, he said that Mr. Balfour had triumphed over the Irish spectre. Nothing was more natural than that the most successful Irish Secretary should lead the Unionist host in the House of Commons in their coming battles.

This morning's Daily News says if Mr. Balfour accepts the leadership Mr. Jackson will succeed him as Chief Secretary for Ireland. Mr. Balfour's appointment as First Lord of the Treasury will not render necessary his re-election as a member of parliament.

In an editorial The News says that the rebuff to Mr. Goschen is a severe one. The jealousy and distrust of dissident Liberals which prevails among the Tories was seldom more strongly and strikingly exemplified.

The important statement made by Mr. Goschen in his speech at Cambridge to-day confirming the report in regard to Mr. Balfour and the leadership of the House of Commons was the direct outcome of the active negotiations which have been going on since Lord Salisbury's return to London.

MR. BALFOUR'S SUCCESSOR.

The new Chief Secretary is William Lawies Jackson, Conservative member for North Leeds. At the last general election he received 4301 votes against 3682 for Albert Oshff Rutson, the Gladstonian candidate. The seat, which will be vacated by the acceptance of office, is considered a safe one for the Government.

Mr. Jackson was born in 1840. He is the head of a large business as a tanner and leather merchant. He is also a director of the Great Northern Railway and of the Leeds Stock Exchange. He was Financial Secretary to the Treasury in 1886. He sat for Leeds from April, 1880, to Nov., 1885, having been defeated in Aug., 1876. He has been M.P. for the Northern Division of Leeds since Nov., 1885. He is an able business man and respected by all parties.

Earl Spencer Speaks.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Earl Spencer in a speech at Dumbarton Thursday said the Tories having adopted the principle which they formerly denounced of using British credit to buy out Irish landlords, it removed the main block to Home Rule. The cry of religious intolerance against Ireland was quite unjustified, for while Ireland had returned many Protestants to Parliament England and Scotland combined only elected four Catholics.

Asking Her to Keep Her Faith.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Oct. 16.—The letter of Balmaceda to his mother, written only a few hours before he committed suicide, has just been made public. The letter in full is as follows:

"DEAR MOTHER: I go on a long journey. No time remains in which to bid you farewell. My implacable enemies will not now succeed in condemning me. The only thing I recommend is that you maintain your religious faith. Your son, MANUEL."

Bishops Must Remain in Their Dioceses.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Cabinet to-day considered the protests of the Archbishop of Rheims and the Bishop of Angers against the Government order prohibiting bishops from leaving their dioceses without permission from the government. The order complained of was issued as a result of the recent disorders in the Pantheon at Rome, before the tomb of King Victor Emanuel. The cabinet decided that the order must be enforced by all possible means.

Another Dynamite Bomb.

VIENNA, Oct. 16.—A dynamite bomb was found on another railroad bridge at Reichenberg in Bohemia to-day in the near vicinity of the one recently placed which jeopardized the Emperor's life. These acts have excited indignation and alarm, and the authorities have instituted a searching investigation.

20,000 Carcasses Spoiled.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Oct. 16.—The steamer Paramatta from Australia reports that the crank shaft of her freezing engine broke while she was in the Gulf of Aden, causing its stoppage for twenty hours. The extremely hot weather caused the carcasses of 20,000 sheep in the freezing compartment to spoil.

French Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Chamber of Deputies reopened to-day. The deputies who expressed opinions on the subject in the lobby of the chamber were generally satisfied with the success of the foreign policy of the cabinet.

500 Students Arrested.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The government has closed the university of Kieff and placed 500 students under arrest. This action has been taken on account of the revolutionary behavior of the students.

Killed the Woman Who Teased Him.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—Hannah Short, daughter of John Short, aged 20, was shot Wednesday by a lad named Willie Coedy, aged 14, at the residence of Mr. Coedy, where she had dropped in to spend a few minutes. The young woman had been teasing the lad, which so provoked him that he took down a shot gun and discharged it into the [illegible] of the victim. The injuries proved to be fatal, death resulting at 1 o'clock this morning. The boy claims that he did not know the gun was loaded.

Seven Years for Manslaughter.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A sentence of seven years' imprisonment was passed upon Anthony Mansell Thursday by Judge McMahon for pushing Harry Pratt down a stairway in Labatt's brewery, causing his death.

Lord Airlie Will Guard His Sister.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The action of divorce brought for a second time by Capt. Hozier, secretary of Lloyds, against his wife, Lady Henrietta Blanche, has again been settled out of court through the efforts of the Earl of Airlie, who promises to guard his sister and prevent the occurence of further scandal.

It is not believed that any money consideration was paid this time to the gallant Captain, who threatens to pursue his wife relentlessly unless she reforms.

THE IRISH FACTIONS.

TIM HEALY SAYS HE FREELY FORGIVES PARNELL.

Meeting of the Irish National Federation at Cavan—Mrs. Parnell Seriously Ill—Bitter Denunciation of Gladstone by the Parnell Party.

CAVAN, Oct. 16.—A convention of Irish National Federation was held yesterday. There were numerous priests among the delegates. Timothy Healy, the member of Parliament for North Longford, presided. In his preliminary address he said the members of the Irish National party are not concerned with eulogies of the dead but the interests of the living. Let the dead past bury its dead. Mr. Parnell had gone to his account, and those honoring his services to the nation thought the best memorial would be to push on the work upon which he was engaged before the clouds intervened between his vision and the best goal of Ireland. Her real sons were not afraid to face the public clamor. Whatever happened he would never apologize for doing what he could against Parnell when he found that the country's interest demanded Parnell to retire from the leadership of the majority. He hoped that dissensions would be interred in his grave. The note for renewed war came from the minority and not from them. The majority continued to be willing to overlook the acts and calumnies of their opponents, because they were not fighting on personal questions but national ones. If Mr. Parnell knew where he was going in opposing the majority these men did not, nor did they know the forces they were unloosing or the consequences of their actions upon the destinies of their country. They said, "We cannot shake hands with you." They never seemed to contemplate the feelings of those offering to shake hands with them. We might be like those starving American trappers, who, you remember, could eat crow, but didn't hanker after it. If the minority felt unable to co-operate with us, let them resign their seats, giving way to men who are open for reunion. Ireland had given them no mandate to perpetuate feud. Their position was degrading, not only as defying the constituencies of Ireland, but in the fact that they had not even the prostitute's shame, because they gloried in their infamy. Their party consisted of knaves and fools, for these men declare that they despised Dillon and O'Brien. So stupendous was their audacity that he really began wondering where they were standing. He hoped that O'Brien would now publish to the world the whole story of the Boulogne negotiations. If the letters and repeated declarations of Redmond and Harrington now the drill sergeants of dissention were published he promised such an exposure as probably has never been known in regard to the public men and people of Ireland. He could forgive Parnell, indeed, he believed he had already forgiven him—[cheers]—but these men, pretending to be his political heirs and executors, had not the excuse of Parnell. They were acting solely in the interests of Dublin Castle and the Orange lodges, whom the people hoped to cast out as ulcers on the body politic.

Parnell Hunted to Death.

DUBLIN, Oct. 16.—John Redmond, M.P., who is spoken of as a possible successor to Parnell in the leadership of the Parnellite party, publishes a bitter letter in United Ireland. He says Parnell has been killed by the foulest slander and hunted to death that the virtue of Ireland might be vindicated to the satisfaction of the Pharisees and hypocrites of England. The scandal-mongers of Britain should now be satisfied. The English leader who struck the first blow may now be content. Another item has been added to the account Ireland has to settle. Some day, it may be in our time or it may be when we are in our graves, but so surely as the sun sets beyond our heart-broken land, the account will be settled. Ireland will pay the debt long due.

No Union With Gladdy.

DUBLIN, Oct. 16.—The United Ireland publishes a cartoon representing Gladstone pleading for the surrender of the Parnellites, and adds to it the following: "No, we cannot be friends with you. We cannot, must not, will not. No, by heaven, will not—not if England struck her flag to us and licked the dust in the presence of our assembled people, would we crawl through the shadows of Liberalism out into the light of our promised freedom."

Mrs. Parnell May Die.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Parnell has in no way recovered from the shock she experienced upon the death of her husband. She is in an extremely weak condition.

IT WAS A FAKE.

A Half Witted Cowboy Responsible for the City of Rome Rumors.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 16.—A despatch to The Colonist from Magistrate Carey at Trepassy says there is no truth whatever in the report that the steamer City of Rome was lost off St. Shotts. The story is a hoax perpetrated by a half-witted cowboy of the steamer Mendego, which was lost at Marine Cove Sept. 15.

The British Tempest.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—With the rising of the sun yesterday the storm resumed its awful violence. London is being deluged with rain, swept with fearful wind blasts, shaken by thunder and startled by flashes of lightning. Fearful weather is prevailing in the channel. The Boulogne packet boats are unable to put to sea. All along the coast the beach is strewn with wreckage, and at Dover a large quantity of material, evidently belonging to one or more wrecked ships, has been washed ashore.

A Cardiff coal laden steamer sank yesterday near Holyhead and the entire crew perished. The weather in the Irish Sea is the most severe experienced in many years.

Many vessels have been seen driven helplessly past Dungeness light flying signals of distress. The life boats were unable to be of any assistance, owing to the speed at which the vessels were being driven down channel by the storm.

An immense scaffolding erected about a building near Hyde Park gate collapsed under the pressure of the hurricane, burying in its ruins a number of persons who had sought shelter beneath it. One person was fatally injured and many women received severe cuts, bruises and other injuries.

The storm at Leicester wrecked a large menagerie, killing many of the animals and severely wounding a number of others.

Volcanic Eruptions.

ROME, Oct. 16.—There has been a succession of earthquake shocks felt at Pantellaria, an island in the Mediterranean which is wholly of volcanic formation. The inhabitants have become greatly alarmed and have fled from their dwellings, passing the nights encamped in the open air at a safe distance from any building.

Scalded to Death.

[illegible], Oct. 16.—Norah Heenan, aged five, daughter of Michael Heenan, fell into a boiler of scalding water, which had been left on the floor, and was so terribly parboiled that she died in a few hours.

To Make Good the Losses of Sealers.

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 16.—Richard Hall, secretary of the Sealers' Association, has received a letter from the Minister of Marine saying that the Dominion Government will pay any actual loss to sealing schooner owners caused by the closing of Behring Sea by act of Parliament.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

CABINET REPRESENTATION.

The Mail says:

Hamilton is anxious to secure representation in the reconstructed Cabinet. One of its newspapers says: "It has been a faithful supporter of the party in power, in sunshine and in rain, and if there is any reason why Cabinets should be organized and reorganized and Hamilton always be left out in the cold our people would like to be told what it is." Probably the Ambitious City would be satisfied with the Postmaster-Generalship. But it is not alone in its desire for Cabinet honours. Peterborough, for instance, wants an office, and is quite willing to take Kingston's vacant place in the Ministry. Other cities will doubtless be heard from, now that the filing of claims has begun.

We don't know who made the Mail so wondrous wise about Peterborough's aspirations. As Cabinet ministers go now-a-days, the honour is rather a doubtful one; but if somebody must fill the gap, there is no reason why Peterborough's claims should be overlooked. Of Ontario's share of Cabinet representation, Kingston is vacant, and it seems in the pending shuffle, Postmaster General Haggart will be sent to the dead letter office. Mr. Chapleau's dead set on Railways and Canals can best be settled, by giving the portfolio of railways and canals to one of the Peterboroughs, and giving the Postmaster-Generalship to the other. Our representatives may cry aloud and spare not at election times about the government's burning interest in the Trent Valley Canal, Premier Abbot may follow Sir John's example in promising appropriations, which turn out to be about enough to pay the salaries of the present officials, but we need never expect to see the Trent Valley Canal built under Conservative rule, unless we have the Minister of Railways and Canals living on the line of the canal, in the most important town on its route. The Government built the Tay canal to bring grist to Hon. Mr. Haggart's mill, and why should they not give Peterborough a Minister who would take active interest in a canal capable of carrying the immense grain products of the Northwest? Besides, Peterborough never got the senatorship which was her due, and now when Cabinet portfolios are [illegible] bution, her claims should not be ignored. If we are to be burdened with a Tory Government there is no reason why we should not furnish part of the crew to man the ship of state. We don't know what our [illegible] representative of conservatism [illegible] doing to a [illegible] vacant senatorship and [illegible] and the vacant cabinet positions be filled without regard to this county's claims. If they will leave the matter of selection to us, we will choose for the positions some good Tories, of which Peterborough has a larger share than any other town or county.

"UNCLE" Thomas McGreevy, who boodled and helped to boodle thousands of dollars from the people's pockets, and who was expelled from parliament, has the adamant [illegible] to write and ask for the balance of [illegible] money, $700. Arnoldi's [illegible] down and used [illegible] medal to "Uncle" Th[illegible] the same quality of justice that is meted out to the starving child who pilfers a loaf of bread, were shown "Uncle" Thomas, he would be dating his letters from the penitentiary; and Sir Hector, lauded to the skies for years as the most capable administrative head in the Cabinet, [illegible] he didn't know the stealing was going on under his very nose, should be in the Orillia asylum for imbeciles. However, he is more likely to be taken into the Cabinet again or appointed, a lieutenant-governor, Her Majesty's representative—and a nice representative he would make of a virtuous, high souled queen.

The terms of the following Lieutenant-Governors expire next year, reckoning five years from the dates of appointment:—

Lieut. Gov. Campbell, Ontario.....May 31
" Angers, Quebec.........Oct. 19
" Nelson, British Columbia Feb. 7

Lieutenant Governor Tilley's term expired in N[illegible], but he still retains the [illegible] pleasure of the Governor-[illegible]

AN "HONORABLE" HIGHWAYMAN.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau knows what he is about when he takes Premier Abbot by the windpipe and threatens to throttle the Government unless he (Mr. Chapleau) is given a spending bureau, for instance the department of Railways and Canals. Mr. Chapleau could not more plainly intimate his desire to load his itching palm with spoil, if he said so in express terms. His present portfolio carries with it as large a salary as any other, and far less responsibility, and should be a very pleasant berth, but its disadvantage in Mr. Chapleau's eyes is that it affords no direct opportunity for access to the public chest. But the department of Railways and Canals—a "spending bureau" that in the year 1890 disbursed ten million dollars—just suits his book. Therefore, he says, as in so many words, to Premier Abbot:—"If you don't put the portfolio of this department into my hands, and give me the same chance that Sir Hector had to plunder the public chest, I'll wreck the Government." And we call Canada a Christian country, and the Tory party claims to be a party of gentlemen! Yet we find a minister of the crown, an adviser of Her Majesty, and a conservator of her crown and dignity, using the devices of a footpad. Will Mr. Abbott yield to the bullying of Mr. Chapleau, or will he suffer a spasm of decency and moral compunction, and be a statesman? The Dominion Government is a bad case. They have become so habituated to crooked ways, that action, based on principle and a regard for the public interest, is a radicalism, abhorrent to the Tory mind. They are involved in such an intricate labyrinth of difficulties that there seems to be no way of escape except by the rear door to the treasury benches, which Mr. Chapleau will show them, unless his stand-and-deliver demand is complied with.

Mothers, have pity on your pale and suffering daughters. Their system is "run down," and if neglected the consequences may be fatal. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will bring back their rosy cheeks and health and strength. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

It is a mistake to suppose that a remedy for constipation, stomach and liver troubles, should be harsh or purging, as the great success of McGale's Butternut Pills fully prove. They are mild and natural in their action, prompt and effective in results, and are specially adapted to ladies, children, and persons of weak constitution. dw

Victory at Vivian.

"In our family faithful work has been done by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend true and faithful."—Mr. W. Bishop, Vivian, Ont.

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious evil ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine fortifies the system against attacks of ague, chills, bilious fever, dumb ague and like troubles.

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

For Coughs & Colds.

[illegible] Edom, Tex., writes: I [illegible] German Syrup for the [illegible] for Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best.

B. W. Baldwin, Carnesville, Tenn., writes: I have used your German Syrup in my family, and find it the best medicine I ever tried for coughs and colds. I recommend it to everyone for these troubles.

R. Schmalhausen, Druggist, of Charleston, Ill., writes: After trying scores of prescriptions and preparations I had on my files and shelves, without relief for a very severe cold, which had settled on my lungs, I tried your German Syrup. It gave me immediate relief and a permanent cure.

OLD WORLD GOSSIP

An Interesting Budget Respecting Royal Personages

LONDON, Oct. 15.—It is quite certain that preparations are being made for the reception of the Queen at Villa Palmieri, the Dowager Lady Crawford's residence at Fiesole, near Florence. No arrangements whatever have yet been made for the Queen's spring visit to the Continent, nor are her Majesty's plans likely to be settled for several weeks to come.

When the Emperor of Russia passed [illegible] through Berlin the other night he was attired in plain clothes, and it was the first time he ever appeared in public so arrayed. The Emperor's towering figure was not displayed to advantage in his loose suit of brown tweed, especially when contrasted with the splendid Russian uniform in which Prince Frederick Leopold appeared; and His Majesty was the only personage in plain clothes. The Emperor, who stayed for nearly an hour at the Stettin line station, dined on sandwiches, which he washed down with several bowls of tea well laced with rum, which was made on the spot by his own servants, with his own caravan tea.

It is rumored at the Austrian Court that the real object of Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Vladimir of Russia visiting St. Sebastian while the Queen Regent of Spain and her family are there is to endeavor to arrange for a future marriage between their eldest son, Grand Duke Cyril, aged 15, and the Princess of Asturias, who is just 11. It remains to be seen whether the Spaniards would approve of a marriage between the King's eldest sister and a member of the orthodox church, especially as she would have to change her religion unless the Czar, in consideration of the fact that the Princess will have a fortune of at least £200,000, relaxes his new rule on this subject.

There is to be a great function at Potsdam next Sunday, when the sarcophagus of the late Emperor Frederick, in the mausoleum which adjoins Friedenskirche, is to be unveiled. The sarcophagus, which weighs ten tons and is a single block of spotless white marble, arrived at Potsdam about a fortnight ago from Carrara. On the lid is a recumbent effigy of the Emperor, who is represented as in a cuirassier's uniform, reposing on a mantle and wearing the chain of the Order of the Black Eagle. His hands are folded over a laurel wreath. The coronation mantle is adorned with a crown and eagles. A monogram hides the feet and two eagles with outspread wings guard the head. The Symbolic church is shown as ready to lead the Emperor across the Stygian River, and Emperor William and Queen Louise are waiting for him on the other shore. This splendid memorial is the work of Professor Begas.

The principal dressmakers of Paris have been quite overwhelmed with a shoal of mourning orders from Russia. The imperial court has gone into mourning for three months for Grand Duchess Paul, and of course it will be de rigueur for all ladies in society to appear in black during that period. One Paris milliner received orders for 300 dresses. During the first month black woolen, with heavy crape trimmings, is worn; the second month allows the introduction of black silk and jet, and during the third month a little white or mauve is permitteed.

There is an immense stock of game at Windsor in the great park this season, and the covers on the Royal domain are literally swarming with pheasants, while hares are also abundant. There is no shooting at Windsor during the first six weeks of the season, except that the keepers go out about twice a week to obtain supplies for the larders of Balmoral, Claremont and Cumberland Lodge, and for certain privileged persons who receive periodical presents of game from the Queen. Prince Christian will begin regular shooting next month and will have the company of the Duke of Connaught and Prince Henry of Battenberg; but the Prince of Wales is not likely to have any sport at Windsor until January.

I do not know what the record may be in salmon fishing for a lady, but Mrs. Stewart Menzies of Aikenway must surely be not far short of it. On Saturday, Oct. 3, she killed a fish weighing [illegible] pounds in the Sandy Hills Pool, and then took four of 24, 23, 22 and 18 pounds out of [illegible] Trees Pool, just below it. The five fish averaged over 20 pounds. This, for any lady, is a wonderful performance, regarding strength as well as skill, and considering that the river was the Spey, one of the hardest in Scotland to fish, it is, I think, one of the best [illegible] I ever heard of.

The [illegible] Zaria, which has just been built at Leith for Count Stroganoff, is the largest private yacht afloat, her tonnage being 1012. She has arrived at Gosport, where she is to be furnished and generally fitted out for a lengthened cruise in Eastern waters. The [illegible] is to be entirely manned by Russians, and the captain and crew are expected shortly at Gosport to take charge of her.

Lord Portsmouth is one of the very few peers who have refused the Order of the Garter. Seven or eight years ago Mr. Gladstone offered Lord Portsmouth a vacant blue ribbon, but the latter declined it, on the ground that he had never rendered any service to the public which entitled him to such a distinction. Lord Portsmouth is an eminently practical man, and it doubtless occurred to him that, inasmuch as he seldom visited London and hardly ever went into full dress society, there would have been so few opportunities of wearing the Garter that it would be scarcely worth while to pay the fees and other preliminary expenses for it.

Of 100,174 regular soldiers serving at home on the first day of this year, only 12,893, the War Office returns show, were born in Ireland. At one time a third of the whole British army were Irishmen. The diminution which has taken place, while indicating that the lot of the Irish people has improved, also affords evidence that poverty is the best recruiting officer.

Human Discontent.

A rich man of Boston has one son. He led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the apple of his eye. The son became of age this summer. The father has no other occupation save that of nursing his income, and as he is a man of sense and liberal views he told his son that he must not stand idle, yet left to him the choice of business or profession. At the same time he wrote privately to twenty-four friends and acquaintances, asking their advice in the matter. The twenty-four were prominent, each in his own calling. And each replied in a letter [illegible] of his own [illegible], advising the father to seek [illegible] the future prosperity of the [illegible] was crowded, journ[illegible] little money, banking [illegible] through- [illegible] is still unde- [illegible] because no [illegible] contented with [illegible] fortunes of

ONLY A GRASS WIDOW.

At Least That is What Her Gay Deceiver Alleges.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 15.—There is every prospect of an interesting lawsuit arising out of a breach of promise of marriage being tried at the next assizes. The plaintiff is a young woman named Annie Hunt residing in Onondaga, while the defendant is a young man named Samuel Workman, also residing in Onondaga. Plaintiff is a widow and has five children. Her husband died some six years ago. Shortly after that time she met defendant, who, she alleges, promised to marry her. Defendant, it is understood, denies the promise of marriage and maintains that plaintiff's husband is still alive and is now in the penitentiary, and that therefore she cannot sue for breach of promise of marriage. The damages are not stated.

Ten thousand dollars worth of dresses, ball and party costumes were seized by the custom officials on the arrival of the steamer La Bretagne at New York yesterday. They were the creations of Worth, Felix and other Parisian dressmakers.

John Hoey, who for the last 40 years has been identified with the Adams Express Company and who for over three years has been its president, was yesterday discharged from his office by the unanimous vote of the directors on a charge of malfeasance.

Lord Salisbury's reply to the Porte's note sent to the powers regarding the Dardanelles incident politely informs the Porte that if vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet are allowed to pass the Dardanelles Great Britain claims the same right for her volunteer vessels.

The schooner Lottie Wolf, from Chicago, loaded with corn for Gooderham & Worts, Toronto, ran on a reef off Hope Island and will be a total wreck.

Four Hamilton undertakers want a brother Knight of the Doleful Countenance named Green to pay $10,000 because he accused them of being members of a "ring."

It is reported General Von Waldersee, German Minister of War, at a recent banquet of the officers of the Ninth army corps, said: "Possibly we shall meet in the spring for serious business."

Mrs Lucy Dreyfuss, 28 years old, in order to expiate imaginary crimes yesterday at Toulouse, France, saturated her clothing with petroleum and set it on fire. She is insane.

Ages, sages, and Wages.

If you have a wife and a half-a-dozen daughters, you can keep them all well by very simple means. Let them use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is good for women of all ages. You will not need to spend all your wages for it. Those ancient sages, the M. D.'s of a century since, did nothing but dose and bleed their patients. We do better to-day: We use Dr. Pierce's remedies. For womankind, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is simply indispensible. The young girl needs its strengthening help at that critical period when she is blossoming into womanhood. The matron and mother find in it invigoration and relief from the numerous ills which beset their existence. And ladies well advanced in years universally acknowledge the revivifying and restorative effects of this favorite and standard remedy. b

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

To Pay the Expenses of the By-Law.

Messrs. Patterson & Corbin, of St. Catharines, to whom the town voted a by-law to grant the use of buildings for their car works, have remitted a cheque for $200 to pay the expense of submitting the by-law. If this firm is content to vegetate in St. Catharines, it is to their credit that they have so promptly covered the expense of the by-law, whose advantages they so shortsightedly forewent.

The Storing of Oil.

Two new oil storehouses are being erected in the south ward, and the people are beginning to look up the law on the subject. An Order-in-Council says no places for the storage of oil shall be erected within 100 yards of any other building. The Royal Oil Company have put up a building for this purpose on Perry street, and McColl Bros., of Toronto, are erecting a small storehouse near the corner of George and Dalhousie streets. They claim they have the highest legal opinion that they may carry out their purpose and the town cannot prevent them. There is considerable talk about the matter.

To-Night's Great Concert.

The hall plan is filling up well for the great concert to-night in Bradburn's Opera House. And it is inevitable that it should be so, for no better musical organization ever visited the town or will be likely to do so in the future. A popular appreciation of high class music is an accompaniment of high civilization, and therefore, of course, Peterborough is certain to liberally patronize a musical entertainment like the Mendelssohn Quintette Club concert to-night. About fifty more seats were added at noon to the reserved seat plan, and there are yet a few good seats to be had. Plan of hall at Peterborough Bookstore.

A Thriving Business Firm.

The public attention is directed to the advertisement of T. Dolan & Co., which appears in another column of this impression. In the past years of its existence this firm has built up a large and thrifty business by virtue of upright dealing, keeping faith with its advertisements and keeping abreast of the times. The firm has secured the services of Mr. J. A. Gordon as cutter, who has had a large experience in one of the best tailoring establishments on King street, Toronto. Although Mr. Gordon came with the highest references the firm waited till he gave practical proof of his exceptional ability, and, having had the most convincing proof in this respect, they can confidently recommend as a first class cutter. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Anniversary at St. Luke's.

The annual anniversary services will be celebrated at St. Luke's on Sunday next, that being St. Luke's Day. The Ven. Archdeacon Allen will preach the sermons. He will also conduct the services as the Rector will be absent at Millbrook, taking the Archdeacon's Sunday duties in that parish. Mr. Allen is now a man advanced in years, full of successful labors, and his ripe experience well fits him to undertake such work. In addition to this it is his first visit to the church here since the honor of his present office was conferred upon him. The organist and choir are making commendable efforts to perfect the musical portion of the services and will no doubt meet with success. If the weather continues favorable good congregations are confidently expected.

Five Months in Gaol.

Thomas Tully was to-day tried on two charges of larceny. In the first case he was accused of the theft of fifty cents from Mr. John Sawers' residence, corner London and Aylmer streets, on Sunday, Oct. 4th. Tully was found by Mr. Sawers in his yard upon returning from church the Sunday morning in question. Tully said he wanted a drink, and he was given a cup of water. The doors of the house had been locked, but the back door was found open, and Mr. Sawers found the clothes tossed in his trunk. It was not till the next Tuesday that the fifty cents was missed from the sideboard. Then tracks were discovered on the lawn which fitted Tully's shoes. Mr. and Mrs. Sawers, a little girl named Vina Fair, and the police officers were witnesses for the prosecution. For the defence Donald Rose, a chum of young Tully's, said he and the prisoner had spent the previous Saturday night in Lakefield, and on the way home just before dinner they walked past Mr. Sawers's house. Tully said he wanted a drink, and jumped over the fence upon the lawn, while Rose sat down on the railing of the little bridge. He whistled two or three times for Tully, and then walked on slowly, Tully catching up to him at the corner of Bethune and McDonell streets. He said the prisoner was not away from him more than four or five minutes. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the Crown, and Mr. E. B. Stone for the defence. The magistrate held that the case had not been proven. He gave the prisoner the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case. This afternoon at three o'clock Tully's trial on a charge of stealing $50 from Mr. John T. Tucker was held. This charge was also not proven. The prisoner's plea of guilty to the accusation of stealing $30 from his grandmother was next brought up, and for this he was sentenced to five months in gaol at hard labor.

The Sacred Concert.

A Fine Programme of Sacred Music in the George Street Methodist Church

One of the best sacred concerts ever held in a Peterborough church was that given by the Tower Fund committee of the George street Methodist church last night. True, the audience was not as large as it ought to have been, or as was expected; but it was an intelligent and highly appreciative one at least, and from a professional stand point that more than makes up for lack of numbers. Another characteristic of the audience was its representative nature, every Christian congregation in town furnishing its quota of visitors. This was no doubt due to the fact that the performing talent was drawn from the different churches in town. It certainly was a pleasant and significant feature of the concert that the choirs and musicians of the other denominations lent their assistance so cheerfully to the George street Methodists. The co-operation of the choirs of the various churches is a good idea. It will have a strong influence towards the breaking down of the barriers of denominational differences, and the drawing together of the several branches of the Christian church.

The programme was opened shortly after eight o'clock by a chorus from the George street church choir, entitled "Blessed is the People," by Righini. The thirty voices combined in a magnificent volume of sound. The parts were perfectly balanced and the chorus well rehearsed. Mr. Seward scored another triumph for himself and his choir.

A flute solo by Prof. J. Churchill Arlidge (with piano accompaniment by Mr. Schneider) was rendered with beautiful effect. Prof. Arlidge's first number was a composition by Rode, entitled "Rode's air." In the next part Prof. Arlidge gave another selection on his flute, a fantasia "Rousseau's Dream," by Richardson. This latter piece was a series of variations upon an old familiar air known in the hymn books as "Greenville." The first name is the original and proper one for it. In both these numbers Prof. Arlidge exhibited rare skill with the flute, and his performance was followed with breathless interest by the audience, who, in spite of the foot note stating there would be no encores, recalled the Professor, who bowed his acknowledgements.

Mrs. Wilbur Daly, now of Napanee, but a former esteemed member of the George street church, was the next to appear. She sang sweetly and feelingly as ever. Her first number was "To thy Temple I Repair," by Matei. In the second part she sang Flotow's arrangement of "Rock of Ages," the air being that of "The Last Rose of Summer." Mrs. Daly also took part in a duet with Mrs. Seward. This was one of the gems of the evening. The ladies' voices blended beautifully in Campana's "Jesu Lover of My Soul." Mr L. Seward played the accompaniments for these numbers.

Following out the order of the programme in the first part, Dr. Davies, the brilliant organist of St. John's church, came next with an organ voluntary in which he displayed his talent to good purpose. Dr. Davies was down for another number in the second part, but not being satisfied with the condition of the organ he did not care to play again.

Number five of the first part was a quartette by Messrs. Manning, Matthews, Lount and Knowles, four young men whose voices showed up well in this selection. They sang "O Hail us ye Free," Mr. Fred. Clark accompanying them on the organ.

Then Master Arlidge, the clever little boy soprano, appeared in a solo, "The Valley of Silence," by W. O. Forsyth, his father accompanying him on the piano. Master Arlidge's singing is too well known to need any comment. His pure, fresh, boyish voice was very pleasant to hear. In the second part Master Arlidge sang "Night and Morn."

The first half of the programme was brought to a close by the St. Andrew's church choir giving a motet from Denk's "Zingarella," entitled "Go not Far From Me, O God." Though not strong numerically, the choir of St. Andrew's, under the proficient leadership of Mr. Ketcham, ranks high in musical excellence, and the number was greatly appreciated. Miss Clark presided at the organ. The second part of the programme was opened by a chorus by the George street Methodist church choir, which gave "O, be Joyful in the Lord," by Rossini. This chorus was even more acceptable if possible than the first, the melody being very fine.

A number of those already mentioned again appeared in the second half, the only new number being a chorus of mixed lady voices from St. Paul's church choir. They sang a selection from Newell's "Christian Pilgrim." St. Paul's church possesses a number of the finest soloists in town, and every voice being well trained, the effect was splendid. Prof. Arlidge accompanied on the organ.

This excellent sacred concert was closed by a chorus, "Good Night, Farewell," by the George street church choir. It is safe to say the audience was well satisfied with the musical entertainment provided them.

The Charlotte street church choir was down on the programme for an anthem, but on account of death in the families of some of the leading singers, they were unable to appear. The audience was also deprived by untoward circumstances from the enjoyment of a piano solo set down to Mrs. W. J. Morrow, whose brilliant performances on this instrument are much sought after. Owing to illness in her family Mrs. Morrow was also compelled to absent herself; in fact it is understood that she was unable to consent to appear, and that her name appeared on the programme through a misunderstanding.

Out of House and Home.

Harvey street was the scene of an eviction case yesterday afternoon. A deputy-sheriff with the inevitable Mr. Parrington and another assistant and a lawyer, walked up to a little house occupied by old Mrs. Newton. The house was not inhabited at the moment, Mrs. Newton being over to a neighbor's. The evictors put their shoulders to the door and forced it open, and then proceeded to empty the house of its contents, which they carried out and deposited on the street. Meanwhile the old lady had been informed of what was going on, and she valiantly returned to look after her property. She found the entrance blocked by the portly form of Mr. Parrington. She tried to force her way in, but the strong arm of the law, as personified in the "sheriff," prevailed and he kept her outside. Meanwhile a large crowd had gathered, for there had been rumours that Mrs. Newton intended to "brain" the first one who dared enter. It was said she had a musket ready for intruders. The spectators were rather disappointed that the event passed off so quietly, for the eviction had been tried before but failed. Once outside, however, Mrs. Newton could not get in again, and shortly afterwards a friend sent a carter for her goods and chattels and took everything away to another house, where she was installed as mistress.

Bell and Ottawa Companies to be United—The Legal Documents Prepared—Transfer Likely to be Completed at an Early Date.

A deal is at present in progress says the Ottawa Free Press, between the Bell Telephone company and the Wallace Telephone company, which when completed will result in the purchase by the Bell company of the plant, stock, rights and interests of the latter company. Meantime all transactions are strictly private, but from information gathered to-day it is only a matter of a lapse of a few days before the two companies will be one concern operated by the Bell company. One result of this change will be a considerable reduction of the number of poles in the city, a pleasing feature that has loudly been desired in aldermanic as well as general circles for a long time past. Mr. Ahearn, manager of the Bell Company, could not be seen by the Free Press whilst other officials were guarded in their remarks. Hon. R. W. Scott is acting for the Bell company.

HARD ON CANADIANS.

Read the United States Regulations and Stay at Home.

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—The Express says: Complaint has been made to the authorities at Washington that a large number of Canadian boatmen, dock laborers and others have declared their intention to become American citizens for the alleged purpose of securing employment in the United States and so avoid coming in conflict with the Alien Contract Labor law. It is said these boatmen are not in good faith making the United States their residence, being still residents of Canada.

Replying to this complaint Superintendent W. D. Owen of the Immigration Office at Washington has written as follows:

In reply I will say that our law requires not only a declaration of intention of becoming American citizens but it requires five years of continual residence in the United States to complete one's application before he can become an American citizen. A declaration such as you refer to is of no avail to the parties in the matter of securing employment in the United States.

Pursuant to due notice published yesterday Inspector DeBarry at an early hour yesterday morning stationed himself at the Ferry-street landing for the purpose of making note of the names of all Canadians coming over to work in Buffalo. He succeeded in recording the names of eight Canadians, who are said to be employed in different establishments throughout the city. They were subjected to a rigid examination by Mr. DeBarry in the Ferry-street custom house office, where note was made of their names, occupations and places of residence.

Mr. DeBarry says he is resolved to leave no stone unturned to unearth any Canadian who may be violating the Alien Contract Labor law in this city.

Church Choirs in Sacred Concerts.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—The prominently pleasant feature of the sacred concert in the George street Methodist church last night, was the appearance of the several church choirs on the programme. Apart from the excellence of the selections given, the contact of the choirs themselves, the retiring of one choir and the coming forward of another, had a very pleasing effect. Besides, the choirs were put on their mettle, and, of course, did their best, a result that must have involved more careful rehearsals and preparation, on the part of the several choirs, in view of the knowledge that they would, as it were, be pitted against other choirs—in friendly rivalry. A decided improvement would have been to close the programme with a selection rendered by the united choirs. The idea of getting several choirs to take part in a sacred concert is a happy one, and I hope the experiment will be repeated at an early date, and include all the choirs of the town, with the addition of closing the programme with a grand finale, contributed by the combined choirs.

Yours truly,
DIAPASON.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

THE QUEBEC INQUIRY.

AN IMPORTANT SESSION OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

Hon. Mr. Mercier's Deputy Tells the Commission How He Consulted Lieut.-Gov. Angers—How the People Regarded the New and the Old Company

QUEBEC, Oct 17. At Friday's session of the Royal Commission Judge Jette made a few remarks addressed to Le Canadien, which stated that the $200,000 claim of Armstrong was not worth the paper it was written on. He certainly hoped the writer would come up and back up his statement under oath.

Hon. Mr. Garneau looked slightly nervous as he entered the box. He pulled a legal looking document from his breast pocket, and asked that he be allowed to make a written deposition. There was considerable sparring between counsel as to whether or not this should be allowed, but the Commissioners decided that if it came in the shape of a statement it would be accepted. The statement was in French and immediately fyled as evidence. In the course of its reading he told how during the absence of Mr. Mercier he represented the latter and also Hon. Mr. Boyer. During that time he had several interviews with Mr. Thom and finally received the letter dated the 17th of March, which he discussed carefully with his colleagues and studied thoroughly himself. He took counsel with the Procureur General, but did not discuss the matter with either Mr. Pacaud or Mr. Thom, except on one occasion, when Mr. Pacaud told him that Mr. Thom was becoming impatient at the delay. The statement embodied all the letters of importance, and wound up by stating, to the best of his knowledge or belief, he nor any of his colleagues received any money or honors whatever for accepting the proposals of the company or any of their actions in connection with the matter.

He was questioned by Judge Baby. In the course of the evidence he stated that he did not remember that he had ever been threatened to the effect that they, his colleagues, would telegraph to the Prime Minister in Paris that he refused to comply with their wishes to sign the celebrated order in council. All he remembered was that he was told the Premier would be much disappointed if the deal between the Government and the new company was not closed up. He was very positive that no threat of telegraphing to the Premier was made. He never met Mr. Armstrong, except accidentally in the street. He did not exactly remember at what time he left his office on the day the transaction was closed. He thought it was about 5 o'clock.

He was then asked if the statement in the correspondence between the Lieutenant-Governor and Mr. Mercier, to the effect that he told the Governor that he had been menaced with a telegram to Mr. Mercier and that he had [illegible] the intention to resign, was true. The latter part he said was true; he had some doubts about the legality of the transaction at that time, but they were put at rest by the opinion of the Attorney General.

On the other point he gave the lie direct to the Lieut. Governor. It was possible that he had said that they spoke of telegraphing to the Lieut. Governor, but it was hardly probable, and if he did say so he never told him that they threatened him. He could not recollect which one of the Ministers spoke of telegraphing. All he could tell was that three of them, Messrs. Robidoux, Langelier and Duhamel, showed considerably more interest in the matter than did Mr. Ro[illegible]

Judge Baby then asked him why he was in such a hurry to pay the money and close up a case which to all appearances seemed so repugnant to him.

The reason, he said, was that the new company could do nothing unless it paid off Armstrong, and delay seemed dangerous to the best interests of the province and the completion of the road.

When Mr. Mercier went to Europe he left no special or written instructions, and did not refer to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway. Mr. Thom was the only person who spoke to him about the transaction, at any rate he did not remember having spoken about it to either Messrs. Langelier, Duhamel or Robidoux.

At the opening of the afternoon sitting Mr. F. Morean, Secretary of the Railway Department, was [illegible] as to certain [illegible] and he produced the bulk of the documents referring to the Baie Des Chaleurs Railway. Mr. Riopel asked to have [illegible] before the commission. Mr. Garneau resumed his seat in the box. [illegible] letters of credit because there were no funds available. These letters were paid [illegible] from the conversion of the 800,000 acres of the land subsidy. He did not remember having written a letter to Mr. Thom telling him that he would settle the whole business in three or four days, and Mr. Thom never remitted him a letter and never told him that his word was no better than himself. He got a letter from Mr. Pacaud about April 17, which said that it was necessary to settle the business at once. He thought it queer that Mr. Pacaud should write such letters and [illegible] it up. The letter made him [illegible] and he had feared the issue. Mr. Pacaud never showed him a list of amounts and of names, and he never told witness that he was short of money and had some obligations to meet. Mr. [illegible] supplied witness with a report on the legality of forming a new syndicate which was afterwards confirmed by Mr. F. Langelier, whose letter Mr. Casgrain [illegible] Mr. Robidoux's report was received on April [illegible] [illegible] were issued. Witness [illegible] Mr. Robidoux's report. Witness saw Mr. Thom very often; he knew that Mr. Thom was very active. Mr. Thom was speaking of leaving Quebec, but Mr. Garneau told him not to go. He would settle the matter soon. Besides Messrs. Duhamel, Langelier and Pacaud nobody else pressed him to settle that Baie des Chaleurs Railway affair.

The committee adjourned until to-morrow.

$10,000 WORTH OF GOWNS.

SEIZED TRUNKS FOR A FIFTH AVENUE DRESSMAKER.

Mrs. W. Minnick, Who Brought Them Over on La Bretagne, Said to Be a Saleswoman for Madame. The Dresses and Other Articles Valued at $10,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. The three trunks full of dresses seized by Chief Inspector J. H. Storey last Monday are, the Custom House authorities say, the property of Mary A. Connelly, dressmaker at No. 331 Fifth-avenue. Mrs. W. Minnick was the passenger on the steamship La Bretagne from whom the trunks were taken. It is said she is a saleswoman in the employ of Mme. Connelly.

Appraisers were at work on the dresses all day yesterday and found that the lot was worth a little over $10,000, home value. They are the finest lot of dresses ever seen at the Custom House, surpassing in every respect the famous Astor gowns.

Great care had been observed in packing the dresses originally, so that their presence would not be discovered when the trunks were examined. Many of them were placed inside of calico wrappers or soiled shirts, the ends of which were folded so as to conceal all traces of the fine gowns inside.

The employes of the seizure-room say that in spite of all their experience with closely packed trunks, they would never have believed it possible for any one to place so many articles in three such trunks as those confiscated from Mrs. Minnick.

The articles in the trunk, as given out by the Customs inspectors, are as follows:

Twenty-six costumes, worth from $300 to $400 each; seven ladies' coats and opera cloaks, some of them valued at 1,000 francs; one green velvet cape, nine wraps, one black satin wrapper, one silk crepe shawl, one embroidered silk night dress, thirty-nine yards of lace, one child's suit, six terra cotta toys, nine china toys, two perfume bottles, three silk dress fronts, one lace fichu, five pieces veiling, two pieces head trimmings, thirty-one pairs of ladies' kid gloves, one feather [illegible], one wool boa, two pairs of satin corsets, worth $25 each; three pieces fur trimming, an old skirt with fur trimming basted on, another old skirt with astrachan basted on and a lot of other small articles.

The dresses varied in size and were evidently made for different people. The duty on them averages 50 per cent. of the foreign value.

Mme. Mary A. Connelly is the wife of John A. Fitzgerald, one of the leading Democratic politicians of Boston. About 12 years ago she married Daniel R. Lyddy, a well known lawyer of this city, but a few years ago was divorced from him.

Mme. Connelly is reputed to be worth a million dollars, owning a fine estate at Elberon, N. J., a large house in Seventy-second street, this city, and also real estate in other parts of the city. She claims to be a business rival of Worth and Felix, but many of the gowns embraced in this seizure are the products of these foreign establishments.

The dresses will all be measured in a few days, as the Government officials have no doubt that the seizure will be fought in the courts.

Struck By a Beam

ARVA, Ont., Oct. 17. While removing a barn from the old Montgomery farm, Proof Line-road, north of St. Johns, yesterday, Mr. Bernard Flood was seriously injured. The tearing in the building loosened a heavy beam, which fell striking the man on the head, knocking him senseless and leaving the skull bare to a considerable extent.

Still Another Attempt.

MARKHAM, Oct. 17. Last night Markham station on the G. T. R. was again broken into, the third time within the past two months. Entrance was effected by breaking a window pane, unlocking the fastening and raising the window. The money drawer was pried open and its contents, a few coppers, taken. Some bloodstains on the broken window pane are evidence that the thief who broke the window cut his hand in the act.

HANGED FOR HIS CRIMES.

HOW A BANDIT REVENGED HIMSELF ON SENOR HERNANDEZ.

Hacked to Death With Matchetes—Children Vainly Plead With the Murderers to Save the Lives of Their Parents—Execution Promptly Follows Conviction.

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 17.—The story of the crime for which Bandit Manuel Garcia recently paid the penalty with his life at La Cabana Castle shows every evidence that the murder of Senor Hernandez and his wife was cold blooded.

The scene of the crime, La Conformidad plantation, is about one mile from the village of Quivican, in the province of Havana. The plantation is leased by Senor Acosta de Leon, who resides there with his wife and four children. Senor Pastor Hernandez was the lessee of a small portion. He was very poor and with his family, consisting of his wife, three sons, a daughter and an old aunt of his wife, occupied a small hut which stood a short distance from De Leon's dwelling.

Garcia, with two companions, supposed to have been Vincente Garcia and a negro named Placencia, entered the hut on Oct. 2 and demanded that Hernandez furnish breakfast for them.

"I have nothing to eat; I am very poor," Hernandez replied.

Garcia then declared that some yucca would be sufficient for them, adding, as he pointed to a neighboring field: "We will wait for it there."

Hernandez busied himself in preparing the meal and when it was ready he took it to the bandits. As he turned to leave Gracia said: "Now prepare dinner for us. Retire and do not reply."

Fled From the Bandits.

This new order filled Hernandez with terror, as he feared that he would be discovered and punished by the authorities for succoring the bandits.

He retired to his house and consulted with his wife. They agreed to flee to De Leon's house for refuge. They did so, leaving the old aunt to protect their humble belongings, as they believed that the bandits would do no harm to her. No sooner had the fugitives reached De Leon's house than Garcia sent word for Hernandez to send him the dinner he had ordered. Hernandez, upon receiving this order, exclaimed:

"I have nothing to give them and I do not protect bandits! They may kill me, but I will try to reach Quivican!"

In a short time he and his wife started for that village, arrived safely and informed the Alcalde, Senor Canga Arguelles, of what had happened. Senor Arguelles promised them protection, and the next day a body of troops was despatched to capture the bandits. No trace of Garcia and his companions could be found, however, and it was announced that they had left the district.

Hernandez believed that they had fled upon hearing of the approach of the troops and decided to return to the plantation. Señor de Leon urged him not to do so, saying that it would be safer for him to remain in Quivican, but Hernandez was determined. He and his wife arrived there at 2 p.m. and went to De Leon's house, where with the children of the two families about them they sat chatting with the De Leons. About 6 o'clock two of De Leons' servants were sent to Hernandez's house to care for the old aunt, who had been left in charge. When they arrived at a well situated a stone's throw from Hernandez's dwelling they were stopped by the three bandits, who had concealed themselves while the soldiers were searching for them and who had reappeared the moment they had left.

"Where are you going?" demanded Garcia.

"To Hernandez's house," responded one of the men.

"Well, you go back, and be quick about it," responded Garcia.

The servants went back to De Leon's house, closely followed by the bandits. In the meantime Hernandez had left the room in which the rest of the party were sitting and had gone into another room adjoining. Señora Hernandez was sitting in a rocking chair and had in her lap the youngest child of De Leon.

The Double Murder.

Suddenly the three bandits entered. "Everybody flat on his face!" cried Garcia, and all dropped to the floor with their faces down.

"Where are those people—Hernandez and his wife?" demanded Garcia, addressing De Leon. "Tell me or I will do to you and your family what I am going to do to them," and two rifles were pointed at De Leon.

"There," replied the terrified man pointing to the room to which Hernandez had just gone. In an instant Senora Hernandez, seeing that her husband was betrayed into the hands of the bandits, sprang to her feet, and with De Leon's child still in her arms ran to her husband's side. Senora De Leon grasped her child from Mrs. Hernandez, and calling to her other children fled from the room. The servants also ran away.

Senora Hernandez interposed her body to protect her husband from Gracia. Her children fell upon their knees and begged piteously for the lives of their father and mother. Drawing his machete, a knife weighing about 12 pounds and used by the Cubans for many purposes, Gracia threw Hernandez aside and hacked Hernandez to pieces.

negro Placencia attacked Mrs. Hernandez and killed her also. The murderers continued to shower blows upon the dead bodies. One of Mrs. Hernandez hands was afterward found lying between his body and that of his wife.

Before leaving the house Gracia wrote a letter, which he placed in one of Hernandez's pockets. It read:

"Senores Periodistas (Dear Journalists)—I am tired of so much suffering. I killed Hernandez because he betrayed me. We were friends since our early years. I harm only those who harm me. I killed his wife because it was she who suggested to him the treason. I never kill ladies, but Hernandez's wife was not a lady."

Universal satisfaction is expressed that Gracia's execution followed quickly upon his conviction.

Died From Its Effects.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 17. Mrs. Brisbin, wife of James Brisbin, sr., Penelope-street, who had the misfortune to swallow a plum stone which lodged in her lung, died yesterday morning after enduring great suffering. She lived about 12 days after swallowing the pit. The deceased was in her 74th year.

A Duty on Foreign Flour

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A deputation of the syndical chamber of the corn trade to-day waited upon M. Roche, the colonial minister, and urged the establishment of a duty upon foreign flower in order to prevent the excessive importation of American brands.

A Circular from the Pope.

ROME, Oct. 17.—The Pope in a note to the Powers says the recent Pantheon disorders were of extreme importance, and insists that it is impossible for both the Italian Government and the Papacy to remain in Rome. These manifestations, he says, prove the Italian Government's intention to sequestrate the Pope in the Vatican and not allow him free communication with the Catholic world. He also calls attention to demands of the advanced groups to abolish the law of guarantees.

The Coal Trade Paralysed.

LONDON, Oct. 17. Owing to the severity of the storm the coal trade at Cardiff is paralysed. There is a great scarcity of vessels adapted to the coaling business. Several collieries in South Wales on this account have shut done and others are on the point of so doing. Several thousand workmen are temporarily thrown out of employment.

PAT PURCELL'S WILLS.

Much Litigation Over the Dead Millionaire's Estate Expected.

CORNWALL, Oct. 17.—A curious complication has arisen over the will of the late Patrick Purcell, the wealthy Cornwall contractor, whose body was stolen from the cemetery shortly after the burial, and is supposed to be held in hope of a reward for its return.

It is probable that his vast estate, estimated at $1,000,000, will be involved in litigation for some time to come. Acting for Mrs. Purcell, McLennan & Liddell of Cornwall have issued a writ against John Bergin, one of the executors. The deceased made two wills, and the question to be decided is which is valid. The first was drawn on May 14, 1890. Under it various bequests were made to his wife, two children and other relatives. Besides large bequests were made to Roman charitable and religious societies and institutions. Nearly every society of the kind in that part of Ontario was remembered.

A second will was drawn on Jan. 10, 1891. Many of the bequests to charitable and religious institutions were lessened or revoked under this will.

However, the trouble arises over a codicil to the first will, which was drawn on March 16, 1891, and this was the final document of a testamentary character made by Mr. Purcell. The codicil merely removed James Stewart, an executor of the first will, and substituted the name of John Bergin, thus to all appearance reviving the first will.

As Mrs. Purcell is benefited more by the second will than the first, she has issued a writ against John Bergin to have the second will declared valid and the first set aside. It will be one of the most important cases of the kind that has been in the Canadian courts, and questions under the statute of mortmain will arise. O'Sullivan & Anglin of Toronto have been retained by the Dioceses of Kingston and Ottawa, and also represent the religious and charitable bodies, which are benefited so largely under the first will. The statement of claim is now being prepared, but it will be next spring before the case will be ready for trial owing to the great amount of labor there will be in preparation.

NO BONUS.

And the Lake Erie and Detroit Leaves Them Out of Its Extension.

WINDSOR, Oct. 17.—Yesterday engineers and staff began the work of the new survey for an extension of the Lake Erie & Detroit Railroad from Leamington east. Some time ago a survey was made, passing through Blenheim and Wheatly, but as these two places refused to vote in favor of a bonus to the road, the company has authorized a survey directly from Leamington to Ridgetown. This will leave Wheatley and Blenheim four miles to the south. As soon as the survey is complete, the work of construction will commence.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

A Hanover Carpenter Deliberately Drowns Himself While Disheartened.

HANOVER, Ont., Oct. 17.—Shortly after breakfast Andrew Shaufele remarked to his wife that he intended to go down to Peter McRichie's and buy a couple of cords of wood and would be home for dinner. This was the last time he was seen alive. Mrs. Shaufele became uneasy when her husband failed to return in the evening and started out to make enquiries next morning. A searching party spent two days looking for him and finally were rewarded by finding the body in about three feet of water in the muddy Saugeen. When the clothing was examined a new razor was found in one of the pockets. It was considered necessary to hold an inquest, as it was believed to be a clear case of suicide. Mr. Shaufele was a resident of Hanover for over 20 years, and has been engaged in the carpentering and contracting work during most of that time.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Tragic Death of a Young Lad Near Mount Forest

MOUNT FOREST, Oct. 17.—George, the 11-year-old son of John Cornish of Normanby, near Orchardville, was helping his brother Peter drawing some hay when he fell off the load on the tines of a fork, which penetrated his side and pierced his heart. Peter, on missing his brother off the load, looked back, and seeing him standing on the ground went to him, when the boy said, "I am hurt here," placing his hand over his heart. The older brother commenced to remove the clothing to see the extent of the injury, and noticing the marks of the two tines in the flesh remarked that he guessed it was only a scratch, when a tremor passed through the injured lad and he dropped over dead. At the time of the accident the boy's parents were in Mount Forest making purchases and otherwise preparing for the marriage of their eldest son, which was to have taken place yesterday.

Big Blaze At Ripley.

RIPLEY, Ont., Oct. 17.—Fire broke out in the Farmers' Hotel here early this morning, totally consuming the building and contents, together with John Martin's blacksmith shop. The contents of the latter, however, were partly saved. The hotel was owned and occupied by Robert Morgan.

Valuable Racers Burned.

SABINA, Ohio, Oct. 16. The stable of W. M. Morgan, breeder of trotting horses, was burned yesterday, destroying 13 valuable trotting and pacing horses and runners.

Shot in the Shoulder.

ORILLIA, Oct. 17. A son of Councillor Cleavely of Sebright was accidentally shot near Huntsville while strolling in the bush. A blacksmith in the camp was out shooting and the ball probably glanced from a young sapling, striking Cleavely in the shoulder. The wounded man was conveyed to Huntsville, where the bullet was extracted, but he is still very low.

The State of Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. Colder weather at many points east and west has stimulated sales of staple drygoods, clothings, woolens, shoes and hats, and special telegrams to Bradstreet's in a majority of instances make mention of the resulting improvements.

From the Dominion of Canada, Toronto telegraphic advices are of a larger volume of trade and firmer values. In the Province of Quebec less activity is noted and collections are not satisfactory. Hog products are firmer. The Dominion reports 50 business failures this week, against 38 last week and 29 this week last year. The total number Jan. 1 to date is 1428, against 1269 last year.

Wandered Away.

COLLINGWOOD, Oct. 17.—John Klippert, who resides on lot 30 in 6th con. township of Nottawasaga, wandered away from his home on Thursday last and has not returned. His friends are very anxious about him. When he went away he was dressed in a short sack coat with cloth cap. He is about 80 years old, grey whiskers and hair, and stoops when he walks and walks very fast.

Why the Bomb Was There.

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—An investigation made into the finding yesterday of a dynamite bomb on the Reichenberg Railroad bridge in Bohemia resulted in the discovery of an iron vessel which contained a quantity of loose dynamite, some dynamite cartridges, some gunpowder and some fuses. In addition to this another bomb with fuses attached was found in the frame work of the bridge. It is believed these had been concealed there in order to avoid seizure as a result of constant domiciliary visits which have been made by the police to the houses of people living in and about Reichenberg since the explosion which preceded the arrival at that place recently of the Emperor Francis Joseph.

Five Fatally Suffocated.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A tenement house in the dock district was burned early this morning. A woman 70 years of age and a young woman and three children were suffocated.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH,

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

"SHAKE OFF THE BARNACLES."

The Toronto News has been the thick and thin defender of the Government all through the recent boodle investigations, using all its ability to make black white in order to screen its friends. No other Tory journal scoffed more sceptically at the several charges brought. But the mass of evidence was too strong, and even the News has succumbed to its weight. It had faith to believe, however, that Hon. Messrs. Abbott and Thompson were in earnest when they said they were anxious to punish the boodlers, but their recent actions has shown the hollowness of their pretensions. The News inveighs in the following pointed manner against the Government, and calls upon them to "Shake off the barnacles:"

"While Parliament was still sitting the Premier and Sir John Thompson protested day after day their burning desire to ferret out all wrong doers, whether in the House, the contracting guild or Civil Service, and announced in advance their intention of punishing to the fullest extent every man found to have been guilty of crime against the public. An appearance of sincerity was given to these declarations by the suspension or dismissal of official after official, the enforced resignation of Sir Hector Langevin from the head of the Public Works Department and the formal expulsion of McGreevy from his place in the Commons. But how is it now? Have the early frosts chilled the righteous ardor of the two statesmen upon whom the honest people of Canada look as representatives of political purity in the Dominion? It would seem so. Officials suspended for sufficient cause while public indignation was at a white heat, have been reinstated after undergoing a merely nominal punishment; Chapleau is given ground for hope that he may yet gratify the ambition of his life by becoming Minister of Railways and Canals, and even Sir Hector's announcement of his intention to re-enter political life after a few months of fumigation has called forth no protest from the Government or its press. The head of the Cabinet and his lieutenant in the Commons cannot understand too clearly that the people of this country, irrespective of politics, are in no mood for trifling. Nothing less than full justice on every offender will suffice. Every official convicted of frauds upon the Treasury must go out and stay out; every thieving contractor must be made to answer in the courts for his offences; but, over and above all, it must be made clear to Sir Hector Langevin that there is no longer any place in the Conservative ranks for him, and Chapleau must be forced to walk the plank. The same reasons which called for Sir Hector's resignation call now for the removal of the Secretary of State. If it was right to decapitate the Minister of Public Works because he failed to prevent the wholesale robbery in connection with public works, it is equally proper to hold Chapleau to account for his failure to choke off Senecal when the latter was satisfying his abnormal hunger by blackmailing those who supplied the plant for the Printing Bureau. That the thieving was not as great in the one case as the other is merely due to inequality of opportunities; the offence was the same in both. Instead of being promoted to a department where his satellites would have greater scope for plundering the country, Chapleau should be deposed from the minor one, where some of the most scandalous transactions revealed during a session of scandal took place under his very nose. The Government must shake off the barnacles or the country will shake off the Government."

The Government may "lay this flattering unction to their souls," that the News in its remarks reflects the state of public opinion. Apropos, however, of the injunction to "shake off the barnacles", if this advice is followed thoroughly, not only will the barnacles go, but there will not be enough of the crew of the ship of state to mann a raft.

TRULY politics make strange bedfellows. If there was one journal more than another, says the Ottawa Free Press, that was supposed to stand by the whole Tory platform on the tariff question, that journal was the Canadian Manufacturer. But in these days of stress and trial for the Tory cause, the Manufacturer comes out with bitter denunciations of the law that enables Mr. Redpath, the sugar man, to pocket hundreds of thousands of dollars of the people's money. Nothing could be more surprising, except for the Empire to come out with a screed against Premier Abbott for his unrepentant attitude in regard to the Pacific scandal.

THE World's Fair of 1893 will pull the record of speed in travel down a notch or two. The Cunard Company is to build a fleet of new boats to make 21½ knots an hour. The New York Central is now carrying on experiments with a view to make the trip from New York to Chicago at the rate of sixty miles an hour, including stops.

Startling Facts!

Homes of Sorrow and Suffering—Many Trifle, With the Cause—A Malady That Often Leads to the Insane Asylum!

Matthew Henry says:—"Sleep gives some intermission to the cares and pains and griefs that afflict us; it is the parenthesis of our sorrows." Sweet, balmy sleep is that blessed agent which refreshes and strengthens the peasant as well as the prince. Sleep dispenses her bounties to the poor as well as to the rich, provided nature's laws are observed.

But alas! from hundreds and thousands of our Canadian homes we hear wails of sorrow, from sufferers who cannot enjoy the blessings of sleep. Nature's laws have been transgressed, and she is very exacting, and in these cases is demanding her severest penalty—insomnia or sleeplessness.

The causes of sleeplessness are many and varied. Continual headaches, irritated and weak nerves, feelings of exhaustion, overwork of brain or body, dissipations and irregular hours; all these contribute to that dreadful malady, insomnia.

You cannot afford to trifle with sleeplessness. Are you aware of the consequences? Do you know where it will lead you? If not cured in time, let us say that there is a great possibility of you becoming an inmate of one of our insane asylums, or it may lead you to a suicide's grave.

Think not of powerful opiates such as opium, chloral or bromides; these will only clog and deaden the brain, and weaken both mind and body. Physicians have at last, after many severe tests and trials, become convinced that the only remedy now lies in the use of Paine's Celery Compound. It is the acknowledged medicine for building up the body, strengthening the nerves, and giving sound, natural sleep. In this dreadful form of disease—insomnia, Paine's Celery Compound has a record of complete and astonishing successes.

Reader, if you are suffering from any of the symptoms which lead on to this horrible disease, go at once and take hold of that life-preserver held out to you in the form of Paine's Celery Compound; it has brought to the shores of peace, joy and pleasure, thousands in the past, and now will do the same good work for you. It is all-sufficient and powerful in every case of difficulty and danger, and holds out to you a guarantee of new life.

Mothers, have pity on your pale and suffering daughters. Their system is "run down," and if neglected the consequences may be fatal. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will bring back their rosy cheeks and health and strength. dw

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

It is a mistake to suppose that a remedy for constipation, stomach and liver troubles, should be harsh or purging, as the great success of McGales' Butternut Pills fully prove. They are mild and natural in their action, prompt and effective in results, and are specially adapted to ladies, children, and persons of weak constitution. dw

Victory at Vivian.

"In our family faithful work has been done by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend true and faithful."—Mr. W. Bishop, Vivian, Ont.

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious evil ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

Twelve years trial in English climate with increasing demand, proves the Royal Rheumatic Remedy to be the best remedy for rheumatism. For sale by W. R. Greatrex, druggist. dw

Would not be Without it.

Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for chapped hands for making the skin smooth and soft. Try it. Druggists keep it., W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6187

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take. dw

Worms cause much sickness among children. Freeman's Worm Powders prevent this, and make the child bright and healthy. dw

Beautiful Banff, N.W.T.

I was induced to use your Burdock Blood Bitters for constipation and general debility, and found it a complete cure, which I take pleasure in recommending to all who may be thus afflicted.—James M. Carson, Banff, N. W.T.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this. dw

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M.D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

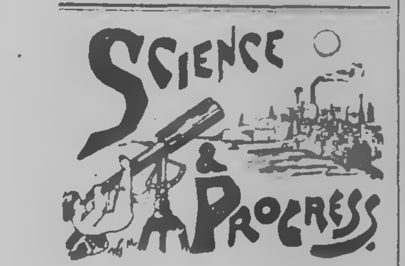
G. G. GREEN, Sole Manufacturer,
Woodbury, New Jersey, U. S. A.



An interesting trial of this torpedo, in which some improvements have been effected, was made at Willets Point, near New York City, on August 12, in the presence of many engineers and officers of the navy. The torpedo is a cigar-shaped copper cylinder about thirty feet long, adapted to carry four or five hundred pounds of a high explosive in its forward end, while about amidships it contains an electric motor and steering-device, with a coil of cable to be paid out as the torpedo moves, and keeping it in constant connection with the shore. The torpedo is propelled by a thirty inch two-bladed propeller, and is suspended about six feet below a yawl-like float, the deck of the latter being only about six inches out of water.

In the recent trial the compartment for the explosive was filled with gravel, and the whole outfit weighed about three thousand pounds. The machine was lowered into the water and towed to the end of a pier, when it was started toward a yawl a mile off, by the turn of a crank on a switchboard. Mr. W. Scott Sims directing its course, and making it turn to either side at will. The torpedo was sent around the yawl, and close to poles set up near it, being evidently under perfect control, and came back at high speed to the starting point, the cable being laid in a loop on the bottom. Mr. Sims stated that she had developed 32 horse power, instead of 52, for which she was designed, and that her propeller had made 700 revolutions per minute instead of 850. Her speed was given as at the rate of twenty miles per hour, though it is thought she can readily run at a twenty two mile rate, this being only the second trial of this boat. The amount of wire cable carried by this torpedo was 13,000 feet, the cable carrying two insulated conductors, one affording the power and the other connected with the tiller by which the device is steered.

When the torpedo was started by the turning on of the current, there was at first a slight strain on the cable and her nose plunged under the water several inches, while the froth came tumbling over the stern in a torrent. Then the slack ran out more easily, the bow came up and the stern dropped as does the stern of such a fast boat as the Cushing, while the water was thrown up in shining sheets more than two feet on each side of the knife-edged bow. On her return, after rounding the boat, a mile off, full power was turned on and the sight of the flying sheet of water and spray as she came driving in was thrilling. Arrived near the wharf, the bow was seen to be about a foot out of water, while about three fourths of the hull was submerged in the foam of the wake.

THE LADIES INTERESTED

In the Distribution of $1,500.

A Spirit of Friendly Rivalry Stirred Up—The Ladies Alive to the Great Importance of the Undertaking.

The ladies of Canada are delighted; husbands note with pleasure the smiling faces of wives and daughters; indeed, the whole country is stirred up with a pleasurable excitement.

It simply amounts to this—that the manufacturers of the celebrated and universally used Diamond Dyes have inaugurated a grand competition scheme known as the "Diamond Dyes Competition," which is freely thrown open to every mother, wife and daughter of our broad Dominion.

No less a sum than $1,500.00 will be distributed to the mothers, wives and daughters of Canada, in first, second and third prizes. This sum is really being returned to the consumers of Diamond Dyes. Every lady in Canada can afford to become a competitor, and has sufficient intelligence and ability to make up some of the articles mentioned in the long and varied list. Ample time is afforded to all for experimenting and becoming perfect as competitors for the large cash prizes offered.

It is an unprecedented act of liberality on the part of the wealthy manufacturers of Diamond Dyes, and never before attempted by any similar institution in the world; and the public have the most ample proof that every promise will be faithfully carried out.

During the season the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes have contributed liberally to country fairs, in order to encourage Household Economy and Art. Small and aimless unknown concerns have tried to stimulate this character of work, by the offer of insignificant sums of from one to three dollars, that would not in any instance defray cost of dyeing and the making up of goods called for. We fear these small imitators have not yet discovered the fact that the ladies value too highly their time and materials, to be lured by such trifling and miserly prizes.

The fairs of our country having closed for the season, the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes mean to keep the ladies busy during the long autumn and winter evenings, by offering large and substantial prizes in keeping with the character of work asked for.

The production of every competitor will form an exhibit in the large and well-equipped Diamond Dye establishment in Montreal, and three of the largest and best known Dry Goods firms in Canada have promised experts to award the prizes. These well-known houses are Henry Morgan & Co., Henry & N. E. Hamilton, and John Murphy & Co.

Graham & Co., proprietors of the Montreal "Daily Star," and "Family Herald and Weekly Star," have signified their willingness to act as judges on the various essays sent forward for competition.

Young and old, rich and poor, have an equal chance in this magnificent and novel competition scheme; therefore all should willingly enter. If you have not yet received a book giving full particulars of the scheme, write at once to the Wells, Richardson Co., Montreal, who will send it post free.

We are asked to remind our readers of the fact that all intending competitors should at once signify their intentions of becoming competitors by sending in the form, properly filled up, which is found on page 15 of the book referred to. We wish to impress upon our people the fact that this contest is absolutely free to all. There is no costs for books, no entrance fee, and no money to be sent forward; it is as free to all as the air we breathe. We trust our people will do what they can in this competition, and thus sustain the reputation of our women and girls as adepts in household work and art.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Jemima's Beau.

Jemima, once she had a beau,
He didn't mind her name, you know,
Although it was so prosy.
She had catarrh, and had it so,
That he at last was forced to go—
The odor was no posy.

If she had been sage in time, she would have taken Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. An offensive breath is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted, if the person has any pride, but to those with whom he or she comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseparable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases, as thousands can testify. $500 reward offered for an incurable case by World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. c

Do You Cough?

Don't delay. Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. It will cure coughs and colds. It will cure sore throat, or a tickling in the throat. It will cure pains in the chest. It will cure influenza and bronchitis and all diseases pertaining to the lungs, because it is a pure balsam. Hold it to the light and see how clear and thick it is. You see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Large bottles 50c and $1. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c. and $1 at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. d

Aunty's Advice.

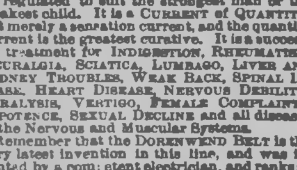
Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE
DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

A Religo-Maniac.

Barbara Ryan, a woman about fifty years of age, was arrested by P. C. Adams last night on complaint of Mr. T. Guerin, who stated he was afraid she would kill some of his children. At the police court this morning the woman was committed to gaol as a lunatic. Her mania appeared to be that there was a child starving to death in the neighborhood, and she was emulating her Lord and Master in trying to rescue the perishing. While in the cells her tongue seldom ceased its rattle. She was taken to gaol in a cab, and when being taken from the door of the station house to the vehicle she threw up her hands in a tragic way and shouted, "Glory be to God. I am going to gaol because I am a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ." All the way up Water street her head protruded from the cab door, her arms waved wildly in the air, and she harped away in the same strain at the top of her voice. Pedestrians stopped and stared at the sight. The prisoner was at one time a dressmaker. She lived near the cemetery.

The Mendelssohn Club at the Opera House.

Magnificent Musical Success of Last Night's Concert—An Excellent Programme Faultlessly Presented—An Appreciative Audience Listens With Delight to the Best Music that Can be Produced.

There was only a fair sized audience assembled in the opera house last night for the concert of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, but it was composed of our most musical citizens, who most thoroughly enjoyed the superb music furnished by the members of the company.

Previous to the begining of the concert Mr. Ryan, the silver crowned veteran, announced that Mr. Eugene Boegner, the violin virtuoso and soloist of the company, had an attack of acute rheumatism that would prevent his playing that evening. But he assured the audience that in spite of its necessary rearrangement, a programme would be presented that would meet their approval and the event fully justified his assurance. The programme opened with a Beethoven quartette, which was a marvel of faultless harmony, delicate shading, perfect phrasing and producing an ensemble that was inexpressibly charming. The dainty andante for Tschaikowsky's quartette in F was of a piece with the proceeding number, the delicate effects being produced with exquisite skill, and their closing number a rondo in which Mr. Ryan's clarionet was the principal instrument, forming a vivacious contrast.

Much was expected from the singing of Miss Marie Barnard, and here there was no disappointment. The exquisite interpretation she gave of the aria for Mozart's opera, "Cosi Fan Tutti," exhibited a finished method, a mezzo-soprano voice of great strength, evenness of register and exceptional sweetness. Her manner and style are unconstrained and unaffected, and her mastery of technical difficulties, gives the most delightful effects to the use of her splendid voice. It is needless to say that she was enthusiastically encored, and gracefully responded. Her second number, "When I am big I'll be a soldier," was sung with a dramatic pathos and expressiveness that took the house by storm, and for her encore number she gave "Comin' through the Rye" in so splendid a manner as to elicit a third recall. Mr. Ryan compromised with the audience, and later Miss Barnard sang the "Mocking Bird," in which she showed a remarkable technical ability, which, while it was not the highest form of music, showed a wonderful technique, which, used with her excellent judgment, contributes to making her the best mezzo-soprano now on the concert stage. Mr. Herman Diestel, in his magnificent violincello solo, Servais' "Morceau de Concert," showed a wonderfully mellow, full tone, sympathetic interpretation, and clean technique, that won him great applause. Mr. Paul Henneberg's flute solos, were magnificently unique. His technical ability is wonderful, and his tongueing a marvel of facility and endurance. His skilful performance in giving an apparent duet on a single flute, stamps him as artist of the highest degree. The veteran Thomas Ryan gave as his clarinet solo, Weber's Romance and Rondo in his unapproachable style, which age cannot stale. The enthusiastic encore produced Robin Adair, rendered with delightful pathos and sweetness.

Altogether the concert was, as a musical entertainment, a most satisfactory success. One regrettable feature of it was the attendance, this being numerically far short of the merit of the entertainment, consequently Mr. Thos. Dunn, who was instrumental in bringing the Mendelssohn people to Peterborough, will be compelled to contribute no little sum, representing a gap between expenses and receipts, for providing a first-class musical treat for the people of Peterborough. He deserved more liberal encouragement. He has been instrumental in the past in bringing the best musical organizations to Peterborough, and in his desire to promote the musical enjoyment of the people of Peterborough he brings only the be best. He is satisfied if he covers the expense involved, and the public should not be slow to recognize his efforts, and welcome the high-class entertainments he brings with liberal patronage. It is to be hoped that his future efforts to give the highest form of musical entertainments to Peterborough will be practically appreciated.

Induction at Centreville.

On Tuesday afternoon the Rev. James Drummond was inducted to the charge of the Presbyterian congregation at Centreville, the church being handsomely decorated for the occasion. Prominent among the ornamentations there stood out the words, "Welcome to our Pastor," the depth of the meaning of which was fully demonstrated by the large audience and hearty participation in the proceedings by all. Moderator Bennett, of Springville, presided over the ceremonies, and the Rev. Mr. Brown, of Havelock, preached the sermon. Rev. Mr. Torrance, of Peterborough, and Rev. Mr. Hay, of Cobourg, assisted in the proceedings. At the conclusion of these interesting services, tea was served in the town hall by the ladies—and it was such a tea as the ladies of this vicinity can serve. This part of the proceedings over an adjournment was made to the church, where short addresses were delivered by the above named rev. gentleman, and by the Rev. Mr. Pickey, of Baillieboro. The choir most admirably rendered several very excellent selections. The proceeds netted nearly $100.

A FLOURISHING INDUSTRY

A Glance at the Brooks Manufacturing Company's Works.

A Morning Run Through the Three Departments—The Furnace Works Booming—The Same Condition Prevailing in the Carbon Department—The Porcelain Works Ready for Operations—Brief Printer's Ink Picture of the Several Processes.

The manufacturing establishments of Peterborough are the pride of the people and press, and nothing gives the latter more pleasure than to be able to inform the former of their thrift and success. A reporter of the EXAMINER was this morning greatly pleased with a run through the triple establishment of the Brooks Manufacturing Company, especially under the genial chaperonage of the general manager of the works, Mr. J. W. Taylor. Everything was found humming. The first department invaded was the furnace department, where the Bolton Hot Water Heaters are manufactured. Here was found the greatest activity; every workman was found busy as a nailer. Unfortunately there was no sample of a heater to be seen, a fact the company bears without grumbling, for it means that the orders for heaters come so rapidly that to fill them the staff has to keep on the jump, and there is no time to manufacture stock. The growth of this branch of the business is exceedingly gratifying. Last year the total output represented only between $2,000 and $3,000. This year the output will amount to about $12,000, and next year, from the business now in sight, it is confidently expected that it will reach a total of $50,000. Up to last fall, only two hands were kept busy in this branch; now there are ten at work, and these are chiefly putting the furnaces together, the castings, which are procured by contract, representing the labour of several more men.

THE CARBON DEPARTMENT.

The demands of the electric lamps for the superior carbons now manufactured here keep the works running to their full capacity and the forty hands employed busy. The books of the company show that these works supply two thirds of the carbons used in Canada, with a prospect of the demand steadily increasing.

The process of making electric light carbons is simple enough yet it demands great care and expensive machinery specially adapted to the work. The base of the "carbon" is petroleum coke. This comes (from the refineries in Buffalo) in black masses, Canadian coke was found to contain sulphur in some form and was, consequently, unsuitable for "carbons." The coke is first ground in a mill that reduces it to grains about the size of peas. This is dumped into a retort and roasted for twenty four hours. The mass is then ground to the utmost fineness and bolted through a 72-silk bolter, like that for the finest flour. The other proper ingredients are then added and the mass thoroughly mixed in a large iron barrel revolving on a central arbour. The moulders next take the prepared ingredients in hand and carefully weigh a sufficient quantity and then fill the moulds. From the moulders the plastic "carbons" go to the hydraulic press, one of the most powerful presses of the kind in Canada. In this each mould of carbons is subjected to a pressure of from 200 to 400 tons, equal to a pressure of from 4,000 to 6,000 pounds per square inch, according to the kind of carbon required. The carbons, after having the "fins"—the line of protuberances left at the junction of the edges of the mould—scraped off, are placed in the furnaces. There are two large furnaces — of 80,000 carbons capacity each — one being filled while the other is burning the carbons. These furnaces are heated with fire supplied by the combustion of crude petroleum, the flame passing over the top and then underneath. During the burning process the carbons are subjected to over 210 square feet of heat of 3000° Fahr. The carbons after leaving the furnance are passed to the electro plating room to be coated with copper. The electricity required in this operation is generated by a small dynamo and the carbons are suspended on rods and plunged into the cells of the battery. This is the finishing process. The carbons are now ready for packing, shipping and doing their important share in furnishing the brilliant light that, in our towns and cities, turns night into day, so far as light is concerned.

THE PORCELAIN DEPETMENT.

Last spring work was begun upon the erection of buildings, joined to the then existing buildings, to give another outlet to the enterprise of the Brooks Manufacturing Company in the production of porcelain door knobs, and electric porcelain, such as insulators and the scores of delicate pieces of porcelain that help to make up an electric lighting or telephone plant. Any person not conversant with such matters, can form little idea of the large number of porcelain articles required, or of the consequent demand. To meet this demand these works were constructed, the buildings, machinery and elaborate kilns involving an outlay of over $25,000. The works are pronounced by experts to be, for their size, the most complete and best equipped of their kind in America. The work of manufacturing has been begun, and in a few days the porcelain works will be in full operation. The clay used is called China clay, and is imported in barrels from England. The clay is put through numerous processes to make it fit for its intended use. The most modern machinery and appliances are used in the various stages of mixing, straining, re-mixing, and similar processes for removing all possible foreign matter, and leaving the pure clay, which after undergoing these operations is piled in plastic masses on racks in the turning room. Here are several little lathes, working on the principle of the potter's wheel, and here the insulators and other articles of the shape adapted to turning, are produced. The "saggers" are next brought into use. These are vessels of a peculiar red clay imported from New Jersey. They are shaped something like a deif pudding dish, only with vertical sides. In these the porcelain articles are placed on little props made of red clay. After being filled the "saggers" are covered with clay like a pie, and placed in the kilns. There are two circular kilns, eighteen feet in diameter, supplied with fuel for heating through eight fire holes. Each is divided into upper and lower compartments, each of the latter being about 14 feet in height. The porcelain requires two burnings—once in the rough and once to set the enamel. The burning requires from a week to eight days, and the furnaces are used alternately, one burning while the other is being emptied.

This is only a suggestion of the process, space forbidding the entering into detail. It may, however, be stated that the works will employ when in full operation, which will be in the course of two or three weeks, from 35 to 40 hands. The commercial aspect of the industry is of the greatest interest. There can be little doubt that there will be a brisk demand for the products of the Porcelain Works. The Lock Works will required $10 000 worth of knobs per year, and the general trade will require about $10,000 more. It is stated that the demand for electric porcelain will amount to at least $180,000 per annum, which the Peterborough works expect to supply. Altogether, including the Furnace, Carbon and Porcelain departments, the Brooks Manufacturing Company expect next year to produce an output of $250,000. To do this they will employ between 75 and 80 hands. One of the conditions upon which a bonus was granted the company was the employment of 50 hands ten months in the year, and that this condition is so much improved upon. The works are prospering finely under the supervision of Mr. J. W. Taylor, general manager, assisted by, in the Carbon department, Mr. Joseph Cassell, foreman, and, in the Porcelain department, by Mr. C. H. Kimble, superintendant, while, for the present, Mr. Taylor looks after the details of the Furnace department. The EXAMINER congratulates the Brooke Manufacturing Company upon its enterprise and prosperity, and wishes an increased continuance of the success it is now meeting.

Death of "Mexican Joe."

A Hero of a Hundred Fights Dies in the Far West.

The tall, erect, distinguished-looking figure of the veteran drum-major of the 57th Battalion band will be remembered as a familiar sight by our citizens a few years ago. "Mexican Joe," as Mr. Graham was known on account of his war experiences in Mexico, looked every inch the veteran he was when he donned the Queen's uniform. In 1889 he and Mrs. Graham removed to the little lumbering town of Cloquet, Minnesota, where their sons lived, and where the deceased at once gained the good graces of the people, their family being amongst the most prominent in the place. Mr. Graham's many friends here, while regretting his death, will be pleased to read the subjoined notice and will be inclined to endorse the kind remarks of the Cloquet Pine Knot. The newspaper publishes a lengthy history of Mr. Graham's military life in Mexico, where he saw active service in 1847 in the American army. Concerning his death the Pine Knot of Oct. 10th says:—

Death has again entered our midst, and this time has claimed for its own a good citizen of Cloquet, an honorable man and a veteran soldier, who fought and bled for the country of his adoption. We refer to the death of Mr. Joseph Graham, whose spirit was called to another and better world Tuesday night of this week at about ten o'clock. Deceased came to Cloquet in the year 1889, and from the time of his entrance into Cloquet has been made the recipient of the good will and esteem of our people. He was a man of distinguished and marked appearance, his erect, military bearing always attracting attention from those who beheld him. He was also a genial, whole-souled gentleman, with whom it was a pleasure to converse or have dealings of any nature. As a member of the Presbyterian church, he was circumspect in all his actions, and revered devoutly the name of the Supreme Being. About a year and a half ago, Mr. Graham first experienced some of the ailments which at last brought him to a comparatively early grave, but it was only during the present year that his ailments, which were complicated stomach and liver troubles, assumed alarming symptoms. About two months ago he went to Duluth and entered a hospital, placing himself under the care of the best physicians, with the expectation of effecting a cure, but he speedily became worse, and after a few days' stay in the hospital he was brought home, taking to his bed, from which he never arose. The story of the life of the deceased gentleman would fill a large book full of interesting reading, but space will not permit of our going into details. He leaves to mourn his demise, an aged widow, five sons and two daughters, the latter being both married. For the bereaved household the warmest feeling of commiseration is felt. To the bereaved widow, who has long been the companion of the deceased, the blow falls the heaviest, and her head is bowed in a grief which cannot be conceived unless by those who have experienced a similar one. She has the great satisfaction of knowing that her lamented husband's last moments were peaceful ones, devoid of all ache and pain. He faced death calmly and steadily, as his old regiment used to face the wild charge of Mexican lancers, and it was with almost a smile that he went to meet his Maker.

The funeral took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, services being held in the house of mourning by the Rev. S. B. McClelland. The body was followed to the grave by a large concourse of friends, whose every word and action testified to the sorrow they felt in the sad event.

Blind Boone.

The Denver, Colorado, Times of Aug. 17th, 1890, has the following in reference to "Blind Boone," the successor and, it is claimed, the superior of "Blind Tom": The first of the Blind Boone concerts was given last night to an audience which thoroughly enjoyed the interpretations of the great masters. Boone is a musical genius whose great talents can scarcely be described. He must be heard to be appreciated. Stella May, the leading colored vocalist, assisted at the concert with her wonderful voice. Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday night, Oct. 22nd. 1d

The Lights Went Out

A young man named Thos. Ryan was called upon by the Police Magistrate this morning to account for his strange conduct last night. Patrolman Gordon found him inside the back entrance to the Palace Restaurant after midnight. Ryan stated that, finding the rear entrance open, he went in before twelve o'clock, sat down at a table, and was waiting for some one to come in and take his order when the electric lights went out. He then got up and was walking out when Mr. Gordon met him. The Magistrate accepted the explanation, but told Ryan it was not a good thing for him to be around in such a manner so late at night.

Editorial Amenities.

The newspaper fight between the Bowmanville News and Statesman goes on in slashing shape. In last week's News the following choice epithets are showered at the editor of the Statesman: "Base, mean, agitator, prevaricator, villifier, contemptible, low, pitiful Mose, traitor, champion calumniator, moral dwarf, better men have trod the gallows, unworthy of an honored grave, unscrupulous, greedy, miserly Mose, bitter, malignant, treacherous Mose, ribald, filthy, vicious crowl, Ananias, infamous tissue of lies, black-hearted villian, guilty doings, liar, swindler and public thief, low lived creature." If he's anything worse than this they might about as well tell it all, and thus allow the public to form it verdict with a full knowledge of the man's attributes and antecedents. He must be a terror anyhow, and it is little wonder he is silenced this week.—Whitby Chronicle.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine Without Avail—Gave Him self up to die.

Good Wife Suggests Cuticura Remedies—Used Them 7 Months, and is Entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1863-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience.

Buy Now, If at All.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

RE-INTERING THE SKELTONS OF THE HEROES OF LUNDY'S LANE.

Interesting Ceremony at Drummondville—A Young Woman Takes a Dose of Rough on Rats—Yachtsman Drowned Near Port Dover—General Canadian News.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. [illegible]—Lundy's Lane at Drummondville, Ont., historic for a disastrous battle fought there July 25, 1814, was the scene Saturday of an interesting event, the reinterment of the bodies of 11 soldiers unearthed by workmen Sept. 30 last while digging in a sand pit. Upon the discovery of the bones they were carefully picked up and arranged. Eight skulls were found. Saturday was one of general mourning in the village, the places of business being closed and an aspect of sorrow pervading the place. The occasion was under the auspices of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society. About 2 o'clock the line formed on Main street and marched to the Lane and thence to the cemetery. The casket containing the bones was escorted by the 44th battalion, a detachment of mounted cavalry and a band, and were followed by the Historical Society and school children of the place. Close by the [illegible] of the graves of hundreds of [illegible] fallen of that eventful battle a new grave had been dug, and in it the remains were placed. The Rev. Canon Bull, President of the Historical Society, and the Rev. [illegible] Fessenden of Drummondville spoke feelingly at the grave, and as the casket was lowered a salute was fired by a squad of the 44th Battalion. There was a large crowd present at the cemetery and the day was one that will long be remembered.

When picked up it was found that he had received a severe scalp wound, whilst his right hand was lacerated in a terrible manner. He was conveyed to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the hand at the wrist. His recovery is doubtful.

WINONA, Ont., Oct. 19.—Jane McIntosh, a young woman 25 or 26 years old, lived with her mother, who is a widow. She was weak minded. On Thursday she took a dose of paris green and became very ill, but she did not tell anybody about taking the poison until the doctor was called in on Friday, when it was too late to save her life. Postmaster Secord has received two letters, one from England and the other from Edinburgh, stating that a large fortune has been left the family and that the money will be forwarded forthwith.

She Wanted to Go Over the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 19.—Mary Aldrice, whose home is in Buffalo, was arrested for having suicidal intentions. She had not been there long before she asked a chambermaid and a bell boy to go over the falls with her.

A Religio Maniac.

PETERBORO, Oct. 18.—Barbara Ryan, a woman aged 50, was arrested last night as it was feared she would kill some of her children. Her mania appeared to be that there was a child starving to death in the neighborhood, and she was emulating her Lord and Master in trying to rescue the perishing. While in the cells her tongue seldom ceased its rattle. She threw up her hands in a frantic way and shouted, "Glory be to God, I am going to jail because I am a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ."

A Yachtsman Drowned.

PORT DOVER, Oct. 18.—Yesterday, as the yacht Bertha of Buffalo, N.Y., was going down the lake about ten miles from Port Dover lighthouse, the boat lurched in the trough of the sea and one of her crew fell overboard and was drowned. The body was not recovered.

Capt. Trowell Dead.

KINGSTON, Oct. 17.—Capt. John Trowell died at his home here this afternoon after a long illness. He was widely known in marine circles, having for many years being the commander of the steamer Algerian.

To Settle the Pamir Boundaries.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 17.—It has been proposed to appoint delegates from England, Russia, Afghanistan and China to settle the question of the Pamir boundaries.

MR. BALFOUR IS THE MAN

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS SELECTION AS LEADER.

G. W. Smalley and the Split in the Irish Parliamentary Ranks—The Prince of Wales Annoyed Over the Fact That Some One Is Making Him the Subject of Espionage.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—It is officially announced to-day that Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, M.P. for East Manchester and at present the chief secretary for Ireland has been appointed first Lord of the Treasury.

It is worth knowing how loyally other Tories with claims have behaved. To Sir Michael Hicks-Beach the First Lordship of the Treasury, with its great salary, would be welcome for more reasons than one. Mr. Goschen's ambition has long pointed to the leadership. Either is equal to its duties. But both step cheerfully aside for Mr. Balfour. Lord Hartington's name was mentioned. It is always mentioned. But Lord Hartington, who had twice refused to be Prime Minister, was not likely to accept this or any other office. He does not want office. He is content with power, and with a position of independent usefulness to his country such as few men have held. Lord Randolph Churchill's name has not been brought forward. He has taken himself out of public life. It is a far cry from Westminster to South Africa, and Lord Salisbury's hostility to his former colleague is implacable.

DID NOT KNOW IT WAS LOADED.

Young Powell of New York Shoots His Little Sister.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Capt. Powell and his family of New York are staying at a well known boarding house in Keppel-street, Russell square, much frequented by Americans.

This evening Mrs. Powell visited one of the theatres, leaving her family alone. During her absence her 16-year-old son attempted to clean his father's rifle, not knowing it to be loaded. Unfortunately the weapon exploded, sending a bullet into the left breast of his little thirteen year old sister. The missile pierced the lung and emerged at the back, the wound bleeding profusely.

Capt. Powell hastened for a physician, who, upon arrival, pronounced the wound very serious and ordered the little girl, who was in a critical condition, to be removed to a hospital forthwith.

FRANCE AND MOROCCO.

Sultan Muley Hassan's Attempt to Annex the Touat Oases.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The claim of Morocco to the Touat Oases, in Central Africa, is utterly repudiated by the French Government. France declares that these places are entirely within her sphere of influence, according to a recent agreement between her and the European powers to settle the question of the Hinterland of Africa.

The claim of Morocco is making a great stir in Paris. In an interview on the subject to-day, M. Ribot, the French Foreign Minister, said that the government was determined to maintain its position. It could not permit a commercial route of such importance as this to the French colony of Algeria to fall into the hands of Morocco nor could it allow peace to be disturbed there. He concluded with the significant phrase that he was determined to bring Morocco to reason.

Reported Seizure of Territory by Russia.

[illegible], Oct. 19.—A despatch from St. [illegible] of Ferghana in Asiatic Russia. The letter was first published in The Samara [illegible]. Its writer states that Khan [illegible] of Kuskand instigated England [illegible] Russian Ferghana, and that it became necessary, as a measure of protection, for Russia to annex adjacent Khanates, although it was known that England would protest against such annexation.

Sir Edwin Arnold Coming.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Sir Edwin Arnold sailed from Liverpool for the United States yesterday on the City of New York. He goes to America to give in the larger cities descriptive talks and readings from his poems and prose writings. The author of "The Light of Asia," "The Light of the World," etc., will open his tour at Philadelphia and will deliver his lecture in New York at the New Music Hall on the following evening.

A Bride for the Czarewitch.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—It is reported that a marriage has been arranged between the Czarewitch and the Duchess Elsa of Wurtemburg.

The Duchess Elsa Mathilde Marie of Wurtemburg is the twin daughter of the late Duke William Eugene, who died in 1887, and of the Russian Grand Duchess Vera. The Duchess Elsa was born in 1876.

The Costly Famine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The Government estimates that 183,000,000 roubles will be required to meet the necessities arising from the famine.

Stage Robbers Captured.

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Oct. 19.—At Lakeview, Oregon, 13 men have been arrested, suspected of participating in the late robbery of the stage running between Lakeview and Linkville. Among those arrested are the Howard brothers. The officers found in the possession of the men arrested several personal notes and money orders.

Jewish Persecutions.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A despatch to The Standard from Odessa says: "Orders have been received here for the suspension of the operation of the anti-Jewish measures. Emigration from South Russia is diminishing."

Settled on the Quiet.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The action for breach of contract recently brought against the Countess of Clancarty, formerly Belle Bilton, by Sir Augustus Harris, manager of [illegible] and Drury Lane Theatre, has been compromised.

QUEBEC INVESTIGATION.

A PRIEST SPRINGS A SURPRISE ON MERCIER.

But It Proves to Be One of a Very Agreeable Character—He Says the Riopels and Robitailles Have for Years Been Considered Public Nuisances in the District.

QUEBEC, Oct. 19.—The Rev. Mr. Thivierge, well known on account of his political tendency, sprang what must have been an agreeable surprise for the Government when at the sitting of the Royal Commission he was put in the box Saturday, by singing the praises of Mr. Mercier in a most unequivocal manner. One peculiar answer the cure gave was that Robitailler and Riopels had been for years considered public nuisances in the district.

Mr. Garneau then was called again into the box and testified that he had received a letter from Mr. Mercier expressing satisfaction with the general manner in which he had settled the Baie des Chaleurs matter. The letter was gone for the present; at any rate, he could not find it just now. In the course of the morning Mr. Garneau for the first time asked for the protection of the court. In reply to Mr. Beique, he denied positively that any illegitimate pressure had been brought to bear on him in the matter, and stated, for the purpose no doubt of excusing his bad memory, that he had too great a responsibility on his shoulders at that time and that his health was far from good. The Commission adjourned at 12.

MACHINE TYPESETTING.

Interesting Tests in Chicago—A New Process of Stereotyping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The private test of typesetting machines held in The Chicago Evening Post building, under the auspices of a committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, closed last evening. The test has been very satisfactory in many respects, and the report of the committee will give newspaper publishers a definite idea as to the work which can be done by the various machines. For three hours this forenoon the machines were worked by two members of the Typographical Union, who had never before seen them, to show the capacity of beginners who are practical printers, and for three hours this afternoon they were worked by girls familiar with the Remington typewriter key-board to [illegible] what could be done upon the machines by those who are suddenly called upon to operate them.

MRS. ALESHIRE SAW A GHOST.

Then Fell Into the Cellar and Broke and Scalded an Arm.

WASHINGTON, O., Oct. 19.—The Aleshires resided until to-day in a house in Washington avenue that has for years been supposed to be haunted. A young woman died in the house under mysterious circumstances and successive occupants have testified to seeing strange and uncanny sights.

Last night Mrs. Aleshire was in the act of starting downstairs into the cellar when a mysterious form resembling a woman in black rose up apparently through the cellar floor and faced her. Mrs. Aleshire was carrying a kettle of boiling hot apple butter, and at sight of the "ghost" she fell senseless down the long flight of stairs to the bottom and lay in this state until neighbors were called in by her little daughter.

Investigation showed that one arm was burned by the apple butter almost to the bone and that one leg was broken. To-day the family moved out of the house.

"MAMMA'S DEAD!"

The Startling Discovery of a Little Schoolboy.

MIDDLETON, Oct. 19.—"Mamma's dead." was the startling announcement which Arthur, 8-year old son of Noah Gregory, a prosperous farmer, living about two miles from this city, made to his father yesterday afternoon. The boy then told how on returning home from school he found the side door open as usual, but there was something pressing against the door leading from the kitchen to the sitting room. He pushed the door open and found his mother's dead body lying on the floor, while the carpet was saturated with blood and blood was spattered all over the walls of the room.

Mr. Gregory and his other son, Wilbur, had left the house at 3 o'clock to do some work in one of the fields, and it was barely 4.15 when little Arthur told the shocking story. They hurried to the house and Mr. Gregory entered the sitting room and, lifting his wife's body, which was still warm, discovered that her skull had been beaten in. "She's been murdered," was his cry to the frightened boys in the other room. He sent the younger boy to arouse the neighborhood and the older one to notify the coroner and Middletown police.

Neighbors flocked to the scene and the police soon reached the house. An examination of the premises showed that robbery was the motive of the crime. Mr. Gregory was collector of taxes for school district No. 10 in the town of Wallkill, and had over $100 of school money in the house. This he kept in a closet in the bedroom off the sitting room, while Mrs. Gregory kept her money in a bureau in the same room. The contents of the closet and bureau were scattered all over the room. All the school funds, a few dollars belonging to Gregory and quite a sum of Mrs. Gregory's money was missing.

Dr. Struble examined the body and found that the skull had been so pounded with a piece of bedroom crockery that the brains had run out on the floor. Powder burns were on the face and there were two bullet holes in the skull.

Mrs. Gregory was a large woman of very strong physique, and it is supposed that in trying to prevent robbery she met her death. A few hairs were found tightly clinched in her hand and this may prove an important clue, for, when examined under a microscope, some of them were found to be short and stubby like those from a man's beard.

A man named Maguire, living in the neighborhood, was arrested on suspicion last night, but after examination was discharged. The Middletown police and the county authorities have been hard at work to day but have accomplished nothing.

The generally accepted theory is that the crime was committed by some one who knew that Gregory had school money in the house and was acquainted with the premises.

Jack Tars Fight It Out.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Oct. 19.—Three, perhaps four, American man-of-warsmen were killed and several others were more or less seriously wounded in a desperate fight in the street here yesterday afternoon with a crowd of Chilian sailors.

Russian Wheat and Potatoes.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A special to The Times from Myslowitz, Prussian Silesia, says the Russian authorities will prohibit the exportation of wheat at the end of the month. The exportation of potatoes across the line to Prussia has already been stopped.

The Government Defeated.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 19.—The Government Saturday opposed a motion to the effect that the Government bill regulating mining laws should be returned to the committee which had considered it so that an eight hour labor clause which it contained might be eliminated. In spite of the stand taken by the Government the motion was carried by a vote of 47 to 41. It is understood that in consequence of this defeat the Cabinet will resign.

The Czar and the President.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to The Daily News says the Czar designs going on a tour through the Mediterranean on the yacht Polar Star. He will start from Copenhagen probably. It is contemplated to meet President Carnot, the President of France, at some French Mediterranean port.

Corsets Attract a Magnet.

[illegible], N.Y., Oct. 15.—The weather observers in the Government building here are amused yesterday to see a modest looking woman attempting to approach a large magnet in the office. Every time the woman moved toward it the sensitive magnet swung toward her as if trying to shake hands. She grew very uneasy, and at last gave up in despair. She did not know, as was the fact, that the steel in her corsets excited the big needle.

THE SPLIT PERMANENT.

G. W. Smalley's Review of the Irish Situation—No Prospect of Union.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—G. W. Smalley cables to to-day's Tribune: There is not the slightest sign of reunion between the Parnellites and McCarthyites. There are many signs that the struggle between these two Irish factions, so far from ending with Mr. Parnell's death, is embittered by it, and will be prolonged to a more bitter end. Parnellism does not die with Mr. Parnell any more than Gladstonism would die with Mr. Gladstone. There is a vital principle in both. Parnellism stood for all there was in Home Rule about which the Irish people most cared. When the majority of his followers deserted him, they thought they were going to get what they wanted by desertion. Mr. Parnell himself believed they would find out their mistake and come back to him at the end of two or three years. The great outpouring of people at his funeral last Sunday, and the passonate demonstration of grief by great Irish multitudes, showed how little he had lost his hold on Dublin and other cities.

The priests were powerless to stop this demonstration. They are powerless in other directions, strong as their grip is on the more ignorant masses. They can raise no money, or almost none. They still have to conduct a great political campaign next year without capable political leaders, and without funds. They are in alliance with an English party which in its soul distrusts them and despises those who either trust or submit to them. Mr. Parnell's guiding principle in Irish politics was total independence of English parties. He enforced it relentlessly. Who can enforce it now? Who doubts that certain well-known men in the anti-Parnellite group stand ready to make terms with the English leaders and to accept English bribes? Nor is it certain that in this respect and released from Mr. Parnell's iron hand the Parnellites themselves will prove incorruptible. There never has been a period in Irish history when corruption in one form or another did not play a great part, the Parnell period alone excepted.

All these are so many reasons for assuming that the split in the Irish Home Rule ranks is likely to be permanent, and that other splits may follow. Nobody seems to know what may happen in Cork itself when Mr. Parnell's seat has to be fought for. A triangular contest seems likely, between a Parnellite and an Anti-Parnellite and a Unionist, and all calculations or conjectures as to the result are vain. So of all Ireland. Forces are at work of which few know the strength. Mr. Parnell thought he might lose nearly every seat, yet remain a power and subsequently recover all and more than all he had lost. Those who stood by him are not strong men. Yet Parnellism seems stronger than they. Mr. Pierce Mahony, as leader, is in most respects an odd contrast to Mr. Parnell. But he had something in common with him socially; as so few others had of that band.

The two new papers they propose to start show that they mean fighting.

English people read these lyrical outbursts in United Ireland with some amazement, rather wondering what would happen in Ireland if the Government of Ireland were turned over to the authors of them. They wonder, also, what would have happened, as between Parnellites and anti-Parnellites, these last few months, had there been no imperial police to keep both of them in order. On the whole, none of these recent events, nor all of them together, seem of good omen for Home Rule.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—John Dillon in a speech at Dungarven yesterday explained that he and his colleagues were absent from Mr. Parnell's funeral in order to prevent unseemly disorder. He charged that his opponents hired men whom they plied with drink to publicly call him a "murderer." He regretted that such devices had barred him from the funeral of the great illustrious leader, whom he loved more than those loudest in their professions of grief and who in spite of the events of the past year would hand down his name to be remembered in remote generations of Irishmen. He denounced those who are making on a fresh grave a platform of infamous gospel and national dissension. He hoped that the bitter attacks upon Mr. Parnell's memory, such as had been printed by The Irish Catholic, which were uncatholic and a disgrace to Irish journalism, would not be repeated. The latter remark created a sensation.

Timothy Harrington, M.P. for Dublin, replying to the revelation of Mr. O'Brien, said that the followers of Parnell never made the assertion that O'Brien was not sincere in his desire to secure a settlement at the Boulogne conference. He denied that the negotiations were based on the absolute retirement of Parnell, and added that the sooner O'Brien published the text of the negotiations the more delighted the followers of Parnell would be. No better testimony could be offered to the marvelous [illegible] and statesmanship of the dead leader and the puny insignificance of the party which rejected his leadership.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The corporation of Kilkenny has prepared an address of welcome to William O'Brien, M.P., upon the occasion of his visit to that city.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—Delegate Ziemanski arrived here to-day from Warsaw, bringing with him a handsome wreath to be placed upon the grave of Parnell. Ziemanski says it was intended that he should be present as representative of the nationalists of Poland at the funeral of the Irish leader, but the Russian Government did not allow the date of the funeral to be published in the Polish newspapers. The wreath is composed of laurel leaves, entwined with the Polish colors, and with broad silk bands bearing inscriptions expressing sympathy with the deceased's friends and the cause for which he fought. The Poles who sent this testimonial of their regard and appreciation of the work of Parnell were obliged to smuggle it across the frontier.

Threats of violence having been made by certain Parnellites against Timothy Healy, the police have furnished that gentleman with an escort of three officers in plain clothing, who accompany him wherever he goes.

Several eminent French lawyers have been consulted upon the matter of the release of the fund of the Irish Parliamentary party. They believe that the first step must be an application to the Court of Chancery by the heirs of Mr. Parnell. The French judges will not act, probably, contrary to the decision of the English Court unless in declaring themselves incompetent to adopt it. This would cause prolonged trouble. If the money goes into the Caisse des Consignations, it is lost to all but the French treasury. Legal proceedings will serve to keep it from everybody for many years and then it will fall to the state. Meantime Messrs. Munro & Co., the Paris bankers, have funded the whole insecurities, bearing 5 1-2 per cent interest, realizing £2500 annually. This amount, added to the fund, [illegible] a large total before the vexed legal question can be settled.

Well Known Author Dead.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Oct. 19.—James Parton, the well-known author and writer, died this morning.

A Terrible Death.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A sawmill owned by the Petrolea Oil Company on the 10th con. of Brooke was the scene of a terrible accident yesterday morning, which resulted in the death of a young man named James Whalen. It appears that Whalen was taking away slabs from the saw, and [illegible] engaged stumbled backward [illegible] belting, in which he was caught and carried like a flash through the pulley. The belting and gear was smashed and the saw went up through the roof in pieces. The young man never spoke after being relieved. He presented a horrible appearance, being terribly crushed and mangled. His legs were ground to a pulp, one arm was broken in several places and his body laid open. Mr. Whalen was 32 years old and unmarried.

Sudden Death of a Priest.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—Rev. Father Firmin Vignon, S.J., died at the Hotel Dieu to-day, aged 73 years. He had celebrated his golden jubilee and only last Tuesday preached at a retreat.

What Does it Mean?

"100 doses one dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

HAMILTON'S PROGRESSIVENESS.

The Hamilton Herald calls drill exercises in the public schools, "tomfoolery," and adds:—"Why the lads of a peacefully disposed country like Canada should be encouraged to turn their minds in the direction of warlike pursuits is one of tho things which, as Dundreary used to say, 'no fellow can find out.'" The Herald talks just like a newspaper published in a community that tolerates that ricketty relic of mediævalism, the toll gate. Properly conducted drill in public schools, such as is given in Peterborough, has not for its object the turning of boys' "minds in the direction of warlike pursuits" The military feature principally serves to redeem from monotonous irksomeness a course of physical training that will develop boys into men of sound serviceable muscle, instead of allowing them to grow up with the flabby muscular systems of invalids, or Hamilton newspaper men; to give them an upright, buoyant, manly carriage; to give a robustness of physique, without which the best cultured mind is like an ocean steamer's engines in some dilapidated hulk that will fall in pieces with the working of the machinery; to provide sound bodies for cultured intellects, and, though they may not be required to shoulder their muskets in actual warfare, to equip them with hardy, bodily conditions to fit them for the battle of life in the thousand forms that confront them. The man that disparages the utility of physical culture is a fossil; we need to train up a generation of able-bodied, strong limbed, deep-chested boys and girls to be the fathers and mothers of the men and women of the future to replace the men and women whose minds are developed at the expense of their bodies, till they are lapsing into book-wormy, bigheaded valetudinarians, with disordered livers like the poor, bilious fellow who unloaded his bile in the paragraph referred to above.

THE cost of taking the United States census will be about seven million dollars. The numbering of the people of the Republic will soon be almost as expensive an undertaking as providing pensions for the men who incurred permanent disability by toying with southern whiskey during the late unpleasantness.

GIVE your own country fair play," says the Empire. "We don't want anything else." If that is all the Empire wants, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, it ought to have said so long ago. People were under the impression that it wanted to maintain a robber tariff, a piece of foul play from beginning to end; that it wanted a boodle administration headed by a graduate of the Pacific Scandal; that it wanted government subsidies for itself, and couldn't get along without them. But if it only wants fair play for the country, why, of course it will from this time out go in for extended trade and decent administration.

A marked result of the famine in Russia, as was to be expected, is great stagnation of commerce, which makes it difficult to obtain subscriptions to the relief fund. In localities where the famine prevails, the price of provisions has gone up sometimes to nearly double. The estimate, which is coming from Italy, puts the number of destitute Russian peasants at 32 000 000, must surely be far in excess of the truth. It would not be possible for charity to feed that number for six months. The Novosti admits that there are fourteen millions of people who require the aid of charity; the government, which is said to be making large purchases of breadstuffs in the United States, has a weighty task on its hands. There can scarcely be a doubt that a state of things exists in Russia which would compel the Czar to keep the peace for the present if there were no other causes operating, even if he were ready for war, which he is not.

Butternut was well known and appreciated by our grand parents for its medicinal qualities. In fact the nuts in an unripe condition were largely used for habitual constipation, liver troubles and foul stomach. The great difficulty was the necessity of preparing from the fresh green nuts which could only be done in small quantities, as the medicinal strength weakened from keeping. Mottat's Butternut Pills are prepared with a concentrated extract made from the Butternut head in combination with other valuable and purely vegetable ingredients, as the uniform strength is retained for any time in any climate. They are the best liver and stomach pills in the market.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price 25 cents. dw

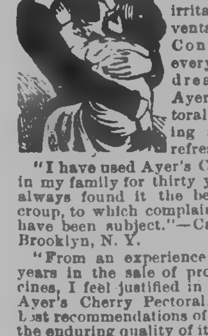
"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.



"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

"German Syrup"

G. G[illegible] Druggist, Watertown, Wis. [illegible] is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." D

What Shakespeare Might Have Said

To take or not to take: that is the question.
Whether 'tis better for a man to suffer
The pangs and torments of indigestion,
Or something take, and, in its taking, end them.

Shakespeare didn't say that, but very likely would have something similar, if he were living in this 19th century, when so many suffer untold agonies from indigestion. Of course he would have gone on to say that man must be a fool not to take the "something" which would put an end to the "pangs and torments" spoken of, if he could get it. Now it is a fact that weakened, impoverished blood brings on indigestion, which is the cause of dyspepsia, constipation—a poisoned condition of the whole system—and it is a fact, also, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will so purify blood and enrich it that all all the weakened organs are revitalized and strengthened. It is guaranteed to do this. If it doesn't, your money will be returned to you. a

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Millers Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Millers Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Store's dw

For several years I was persistently annoyed with an excessive accumulation of Dandruff and although using various preparations recommended and shampooing regularly once a week, no material relief was realized until my attention was called to Anti-Dandruff, which has produced unlooked for results in my case, four applications removing every particle of Dandruff and as a specific for this trouble it certainly has no equal.

Henry G. James.

Henry G. James, of Winnipeg, Man., writes: "For several years I was troubled with pimples and irritations of the skin. After other remedies failed I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and since then I have been quite free from my complaint. B. B. B. will always occupy a place in my house."

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

True Faith.

I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood purifier. I have taken three bottles for bad blood and find it a perfect cure. It is a grand medicine and I recommend it wherever I go.—Ida Sanderson, Toronto, Ont.

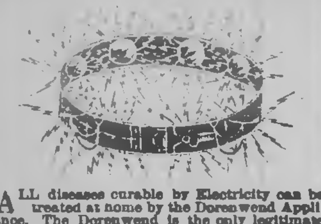
THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

The Accident was Fatal.

The accident to Wm. Higgins, which occurred on the Lakefield road one day last week, has proved fatal, the young man dying at Buckhorn Friday night. Deceased was a son of the well-known Mr. Farley, Ashburnham, and was a quiet hard-working man. The remains were interred in Little Lake Cemetery on Sunday, the village paying the expenses of the funeral.

With reference to the paragraph which appeared in the EXAMINER the other day concerning the sudden departure from town of Wm. Sloan, we notice that sale bills are out for the disposal of the furniture in the house on Stewart street where he resided. The hopes of his creditors that his absence was only temporary and that he would return and settle his debts are not likely to be realized. Sloan's name does not appear on the sale bills. It is now said by those who know that Sloan's deficiencies in town amount to about $1 200.

Mr. Wm. Chowe has received from his brother Christopher, who is working in a gold mine in Alaska, a copy of the Juneau City Mining Record. It is printed weekly on toned paper, consists of eight pages 12x8 inches, with a clean typographical appearance. Mr. Frank Myers is publisher. The newspaper's contents deal largely with mining interests. It has a good advertising patronage. The stores in Juneau City are mostly "general," and there is a good supply of saloons, hotels and professional men, according to the "ads." There are some peculiar features about the advertisements. For instance, the proprietors of the Franklin hotel announce that "parties furnishing their own blankets will receive board and lodging for $7 per week." Again, an N.B. to Decker Bros.' Bazaar announcement reads:—"Goods delivered free of charge by canoe or wheelbarrow." Mr. Christopher Crowe, who sends the paper, is expected home next spring.

Sympathy for a Brother.

The following resolution of condolence was adopted by Peterborough Lodge No 155, A. F. & A.M., at its last meeting:—

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to take to himself the Rev. Geo. H. Davis, the father of our esteemed brother, Alfred L. Davis, whose labours for Christ during a period of many years in Peterborough, have been felt and appreciated by the whole community. Therefore be it resolved that we members of this lodge place on record and extend to brother Davis and the sorrowing relatives our heartfelt and fraternal sympathy on the occasion of the great loss they have been called upon to sustain, and while we are touched with the spirit of brotherly sympathy, we would supplicate the Grand Architect of the Universe to grant the consolations of His divine grace to the family of the deceased in this their great bereavement.

Signed on behalf of the lodge,

The Lights o' Peterborough.

There was considerable profanity in the air Saturday evening on George street. Consternation prevailed amongst the merchants whose stores were illuminated by incandescent electric lamps. The light has not been good for some time past on account of the excessively low state of water in the river, which had scarcely power enough to run the electric light machinery. On Saturday evening, however, the light failed entirely in some cases. Several stores were left in darkness, whilst in others the lamps burned very dimly. This only applied to the smaller lamps, those stores supplied with the larger size not being affected. Old kerosene lamps that had been shelved for months and years were resurrected and fitted up for use again, and even lanterns were impressed into service, but it was a very unsatisfactory arrangement for all concerned. The Light and Power Co. state that they cannot remedy the trouble until the water rises or their new wheel is ready for operation. Alterations are being made preparatory for the introduction of the all night service. The low water is caused by the mills at Peterborough and Lakefield closing up their sluices in the evening to fill up their own ponds for the next day's work. There is a scarcity of water in the lakes above on account of the dry fall and summer.

The great Dr. Boerhaave left three directions for preserving the health—keep the feet warm, the head cool, and the bowels open. Had he practiced in our day, he might have added: and purify the blood with Ayers Sarsaparilla; for he certainly would consider it the best.

Y.P.S.C.E. Notes.

From the different pulpits of the town Sunday, announcements were made relative to the third Provincial Convention of Y.P.S. C.E. which opens in St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening next.

Urgent appeals to the members of the congregations were made, asking them to accommodate as many delegates as possible, and those who had not yet signified their intention of doing so, were asked to take one or more so as to assist the committee who have charge of the matter.

President Colville received a telegram from Rev. A. Sutherland, D.D., of Toronto, Missionary Secretary of the Methodist church of Canada, stating that he would be present on Friday evening and address the Convention. This fact will be hailed with delight not only by all Christian Endeavorers but by every citizen, as the Rev. Doctor is well known in Peterborough as one of the most eloquent platform speakers in the Dominion.

Every citizen who has a flag or Union Jack or bunting might display the same during the time the convention is in progress. As there will be many present from all parts of the Dominion, we want to make our town appear to the best advantage.

Many people have been enquiring about the services which are to be held. We may state that all the public services will be held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, except the social tea on Thursday evening and the great gathering which will take place on Friday evening.

—That tired feeling now so often heard of, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives mental and bodily strength.

Very Important.

"Indigenous Bitters" really contain nothing dangerous or hurtful, no metallic salt or mineral medicine, in fact nothing which could injure the constitution, by a too long use or excessive doses. It is a purely vegetable preparation, so that too strong a dose though it may act more powerfully than that given in the direction, yet no matter how large the quantity which may be taken no dangerous results will follow. 14

St. Luke's Fifteenth Anniversary

Celebrated Very Successfully on Sunday —Large Congregations Join in the Services and Listen to the Sermons of Ven. Archdeacon Allen, the Preacher—Liberal Offerings.

On Sunday, October 18th, St. Luke's day, the congregation of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary in a most successful manner, which was in keeping with the prosperity that has attended the church since its opening.

There was a large congregation assembled in the beautiful little church for the morning service, which was conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon Allen, of St. Thomas' church, Millbrook. There was a full choir and excellent music appropriate to the occasion was given under the leadership of Mr. Fred Clark, organist. The Venerable Archdeacon took for the text of his sermon, the 13th verse of the 15th chapter of St. Paul's epistle to the Romans:—

Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

The venerable preacher pointed out that without God there was no other source of hope. The Gospel of mercy begot the gospel of hope. The wonderful comprehensiveness of the prayer contained in the text was dealt with and the hope of earthly peace and an eternity of peace which its answer implied, elaborately considered. The sermon, while of a general character, was sound in doctrine and well matured in the treatment of its premises and conclusions. The preacher announced that the special sermon in reference to the anniversary occasion would be given in the evening.

THE EVENING SERVICE AND SERMON.

In the evening the church was again filled with a very large congregation, and the service was especially hearty and profitable. The Venerable Archdeacon preached from the Holy Scripture found in the eleventh verse of the fourth chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to Timothy:—"Only Luke is with me." The preacher began by describing the position in which St. Paul found himself when he wrote this epistle. He was deserted by all save Luke, and in his isolation of soul, as far as earthly companionship was concerned, he suffered that loneliness and sequestration of spirit which has been the lot of all great philanthropists who have been above and beyond their age. His yearning for companionship was satisfied by the comforting fact: "Only Luke is with me"—that was the bright side of the picture. St. Luke clung to the great apostle till his death, cheering, comforting and sustaining him with the human companionship, which the greatest and most heroic do not willingly forego. The preacher sketched the life of St. Luke. He is supposed to be a native of Antioch, the centre of learning of that day—the city noted as the place where Christ's followers were first called "Christians." It was also the centre of the missionary work in Apostolic days. St. Luke was the writer of the Gospel that bears his name and also the writer of the Acts of the Apostles. He gave us the most graphic and complete of all the Gospels, and his narrative of the Gospel was supposed to be the earliest written of any of the four Gospels. St. Luke is supposed to have died the death of a martyr in the province of Achaia. Attention was called to the fact that he in life comforted the solitude and ministered to the wants of St Paul. St. Luke was not only an evangelist—he was described by St. Paul as "the beloved physician" and his faithful companionship with St. Paul was an instance of the Divine care for the greatest of the Apostles. What better companion could have been chosen for St. Paul than the "beloved physician," who could not only give comfort and consolation to the Apostle, but give that attention as a physician which St. Paul's bodily infirmity—his "thorn in the flesh"—required? The preacher said to the congregation that as they had called their church St. Luke's he thought its anniversary a fitting time to bring before them something of

THE LIFE AND CHARACTER OF ST. LUKE.

He pointed out that as a congregation they could best justify their claim to the title they had given their church; by being faithful to the truth he had recorded and to the example of the life he lived. In the former St Luke had tried to set forth the universality of the Gospel, and the people of St. Luke's church should be especially faithful to that feature of it. Referring to the truth the speaker pointed out that in the development of great truths, they must necessarily suffer the modifications of their environments, but the Truth remained the same. The congregation was urged to be faithful to the great essentials of Truth—not to criticise or quarrel about trifles—the cut of a surplice or the colour of an altar cloth, but to be faithful to the great cardinal truths of the Church, which was only another way of saying, be faithful to the truth as recorded by St. Luke. St. Luke was a physician, and there was need for Christians in these days to exercise his tender and sympathising offices in relieving distress and suffering. The proudest feature of the great city of Toronto was her numerous hospitals, churches and institutions for relieving and alleviating human suffering and sorrow. This was a practical preaching of the Gospel, which was most grateful to Christ, who regarded with favor a kindly act done not only to "one of these the least of my little ones," but to the most debased. The preacher, after referring to the work of the Prison Gate Mission, in Toronto, in the care and guarding of criminals coming out of prison, said he cared not whether the people who did this work were called the Salvation Army or not—they were doing Christ's work, and he wished them God speed. He closed by urging the people to be not only kind and generous in their own acts, but to also encourage every honest attempt to do good—not to criticize but to lend a helping hand.

The anniversary services were in every way successful, large congregations, spontaneously, hearty services, excellent sermons and a liberal offertory, for the building fund, at each service.

The music was a special and pleasing feature of the proceedings. In the morning the choir sang "Send out thy Light," by Gounod; in the evening Ambrose's arrangement of "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Miss Long gave a solo, Bunnet's "Magnificat." The choir and organist acquitted themselves most creditably.

To-night an entertainment will be given by the young people of the church. A good programme is prepared.

The Harvest Home.

A Time of Rejoicing at the S. A. Barracks —And a Big Coal Bill Met.

The aggressive coal bill assumes an ominous importance in these chill autumnal days, and the provident man layeth in a sufficient stock of the black diamonds while yet the prices are down and there is money to be saved by buying early the whole season's supply of fuel. This matter is a burning question just now with the Salvation Army. The cool weather is fast approaching, and they have to raise the smoke somehow. Some money had already been subscribed for the purpose, so to make up the balance of $120 required Ensign Steele bit upon the idea of a Harvest Home festival as being an appropriate means of liquidating the coal bill. A three days "special go" was arranged for Saturday, Sunday and to-night. As a result the soldiers will during the long, hard winter to come, be able to enjoy an agreeable artificial aid to the "fire within" which will keep them "happy all the day" and quite comfortable physically as well as spiritually. The coal bill being provided for, contentment reigns within the barracks.

Harvest Home festivals are not Harvest Home festivals unless accompanied by a lavish display of the earth's abundance of good things. The barracks was decorated for this occasion in the regular way. Over the platform was an artistic arch of evergreens, bearing the motto "Harvest Home," surmounted by a portrait of General Booth, draped in red, orange and blue, the colors of the Army. The arch was garnished with miniature sheaves of grain and small fruits and vegetables; while at its bases reclined huge samples of the lordly pumpkin and squash, bags of potatoes and apples, etc. On the west side were were some barn-yard representatives in cages, the festive turkey, the sleek rabbit, the fat pullet and a pair of cooing pigeons being highly suggestive of thanksgiving—dinner. In front of the platform was a table which groaned beneath the burden of nature's choicest products with which it was encumbered. (Who ever heard of a table that did not "groan" under such circumstances.) The succulent onion reposed gracefully alongside the mammoth mangold wurtzel, conscious in its strength though overwhelmed in size. Potted plants spread their foliage as a background to the bright bouquets and the vari-colored ripeness of the fruits which were stocked up on the table. Apples, pears, grapes, vegetables of all kinds were there in profusion. Between the pillars were suspended strings of them—ears of corn, cucumbers, carrots, turnips and such like. There was the huge cabbage head and the blood-red beet—some of the exhibits were prize-winners at the recent fall fairs, and they seemed to look down with contempt on the inferior specimens around them. Never was there such a display of the products of garden, field and orchard in the barracks before. The friends of the Army had assisted nobly in their contributions. But the exhibit will be turned to practical account, for, after it has done service at these meetings, the flowers, and fruits, and vegetables will be sold off and the proceeds applied on the aforesaid troublesome coal bill.

The meetings were of a special nature, and the enthusiastic red-jerseied soldiers rendered thanks and praise to the Almighty Giver of our abundant harvest in their own vigorous, earnest way. A special attraction also was provided in the musical Green family, from Sterling, comprising father, mother and three children, the youngest being a boy not over ten years old, the others a daughter and son in the adolescent period. On the street the family play brass instruments, and in the barracks on violins and other instruments. The little boy manipulates a small cornet with power and skill that is remarkable in one so young. He works in all the trills of which cornetists are so fond, and altogether made the other blow-hards present envious of his ability. The lad also played on the clarinet with considerable skill, and the piano as well. The family compose quite an orchestra, and sing as well as play.

At Saturday night's meeting there was not a very large crowd present. Ten cents admission was charged. A short street parade was held in which the local band and the Green family took part, also some lassies wearing white sashes. At the barracks the meetings were led by Ensign Steele. There were songs, and prayers and testimonies, interspersed with music by the Green family and the local band, all carried forward with an enthusiasm and energy characteristic of the blood-and fire warriors.

On Sunday, when there was no dime demanded at the door, there were larger crowds in attendance. The usual proceedings took place morning, afternoon and evening.

To-night there will be another big meeting to wind up the special time. There only remains a small balance to be made up, and to-night's proceeds will surely complete the figure. The soldiers contributed $28. There will be a grand illuminated street parade, with transparencies and torches, followed by a hallelujah meeting in the barracks to-night, when the fruit will be sold off for the benefit of the Green family.

Mr. F. B. Cummer, from "War Cry" headquarters, is taking part in these meetings.

Sports and Pastimes.

The Juniors Win Again at Lacrosse—Several Foot Ball Games.

A team of the junior lacrosse club went to Lindsay on Saturday and easily defeated the seniors of that town by four goals to one. The teams were short a player each. The Peterborough boys went up with only nine sticks in the morning, and telegraphed for two more of their players to come by the noon train.

The Peterborough Juniors had to face full grown men, but they ran away from their opponets in good style. Following were the teams:

LINDSAY.		PETERBOROUGH.
Hamilton	goal	Dobbin
Sadler	point	Mein
Buchanan	cover point	Adams
Eaton	first defence	Hughes
Finlay	second defence	Belknap
Ritchie	third defence	Borland
Elliott	centre	Begley
Gould	third home	Minore
Kesser	second home	Galley
Short	outside home	Heap
Malcolmson	inside home	Wasson

The Juniors were assisted by Joe Begley of the senior Peterboroughs, who of course played a good game, but Hughes, Wasson and some of the other juniors also showed up well.

The first game was scored by Minore within half a minute of the face; the second by Heap after 15 minutes' play; the third by Wasson in 15 minutes; the fourth by Malcolmson (Lindsay's only goal) in 20 minutes; and the fifth by Galley in 30 minutes.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL

The Collegiate Institute Football Club went to Cobourg Saturday and met disaster at the hands of the Victoria College team. The "Vics" scored eight goals in an hour and a half's play to their opponents' nil. This result was not unexpected, for the Institute team was composed principally of boys under eighteen years of age, some of them never having played football until this year; while the "Vics" as a rule were older and seasoned players. But experientia docet. There is material in the Collegiate Institute for a good football team, and they learned a good deal about the game last Saturday. The boys were immensely pleased with their trip and the way in which they were treated. Following were the teams:—

VICTORIA COLLEGE.		COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
Sargeant	Goal	Dodds
Langford Allin	Backs	H. Burnham Drope
Cruso Burwash Livingston	Half backs	T. Burnham Torpey Edmison
Shephard Hudson	Right forward	Goldsmith Porter
Godbold	Centre forward	McNulty
Kerr Hayden	Left forward	Heap King

Score—8 to nil.

OTHER GAMES.

Junior teams from the Edison Works and the Collegiate Institute played a football match on the P.A.A.A. grounds Saturday. The first half of the game was Rugby, in which the Institute boys scored eight points to their opponents' none. Neither side scored in the second half, when Association football was played.

An exciting and stubbornly contested football match was played on Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon between teams representing Mr. Smith's room in the Central school, and Mr. McKay's room in the South Ward school. The southerners took the first game, then the Central school next, and thus the tide of victory and defeat flowed side by side till two games each had been scored, when the contestants, both wearied with their struggles retired from the field, to renew the battle at another time.

The above version of the game comes from the south end team. The central boys claim that they won the game by two goals to one, and that the referee so decided it.

Baseball Averages.

Secretary McCabe has made out the averages of the baseball players of the season, showing the standing of the different players in batting and fielding. Other men have played with the team, Pomfret, Parks, Sweetlove and Johnston, for instance, who all made good records, but as they belonged to the Edison club their averages is not included here. Following are the records:—

Trotter, pastor of the Murray street church here, attended, on Sunday evening preaching in the College street church, Toronto. His Peterborough pulpit was occupied Sunday by Mr. R. J. Colville.

The Wrong Person.

It was a case of mistaken identity with reference to the gipsy tinker arrested at Alton last Friday. Chief Roszel went up Saturday, but found the prisoner was not the man wanted. He did not at all correspond with the description sent out, and the western police could not have been very careful in making the arrest.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. John Fair.

Intelligence has been received of the death on Sunday, Oct. 18th, of Mrs. Fair, relict of the late John Fair, of Cavan. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late Capt. Huston, land surveyor, who will be well remembered by all the older residents of the district. The funeral takes place on Tuesday next at 2 o'clock p.m., from the family residence to the English church burying ground, 4th line of Cavan.

The Late Robert Peters.

This morning at 7:30 Robert Peters died at the residence of his grand daughter, Ashburnham, at the advanced age of 88 years. The deceased, who was the father of Mr. George Peters, Librarian of the Mechanics' Institute, was a native of Perth, Scotland. He served for twenty-five years in the Regular Army, fifteen years in the 93rd Highlanders and ten years in the Royal Canadian (Prince of Wales) Rifles. He was for some time stationed in the West Indies and served in the Rebellion of 1838, having been in the affair at Windmill Point. He left the army in 1851 and entered into business in Toronto. This he followed for many years, when he took up residence in Springville where he resided for fourteen years. Four years ago, soon after the death of his wife, he removed to Ashburnham. There are two surviving sons, Mr. George Peters, town, and Mr. James Peters, Toronto, besides a large number of grand children and great grand children. Mr. Peters had a wide and varied experience and enjoyed high respect in the community where he passed the years of his civilian life. The remains will be laid in the Necropolis, Toronto, whither they will be taken on Wednesday morning, by 7.10 C.P.R. train.

Police Court.

MONDAY, Oct. 19.

John Fry, Joseph Cunningham and Hector Baker, three Bacchanalian graces with big heads, the result of their Sunday night's spree, occupied the grand stand this morning. All pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, their offence being aggravated by the fact that it occurred Sunday night, they were each fined $5 or 20 days in gaol. The trio went up on the hill.

A PUBLIC BURDEN.

An imbecile youth, who was laughing and shouting idiotically on the street, was arrested by P. C. Adams Saturday night. The boy had arrived on the C.P.R. train. He was apparently of French nativity, but the only words he would speak was his name, which sounded like El White. No information could be gained from him as to where he came from. Peterborough has enough to do to look after her own paupers, so the lad will be sent back on the train in the direction from which he came.

THREE MONTHS AT HARD LABOR.

Samuel Herron, a young man who has been employed at the Edison Works for a few weeks, was accused of stealing a silver watch valued at $25 from Robert Morrison, a farm laborer from Otonabee. It seems that on Sunday Morrison was lying drunk in a room at the "Hub" where Herron went through him. When Morrison sobered up sufficiently he complained to the police, and Chief Roszel took the case in hand. Morrison could give no description of the man who had robbed him, but the chief ferreted out the criminal. When arrested Herron denied the crime, but subsequently confessed and told the chief how to recover the watch. This morning the prisoner pleaded guilty, and said his only excuse was that he was drunk when he committed the theft, or he would not have done it. The magistrate said drunkenness was no excuse, and sentenced the prisoner to three months in gaol at hard labor.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Yelland Saturday afternoon was an exceedingly large one. The deceased lady and her bereaved family were well known far and near, and the universal commiseration felt for them was evinced in the large attendance at the funeral. It must afford some consolation to the bereaved ones to realize that they have the public sympathy in their sorrow.

New Pulpit for St. Peter's.

A beautiful new pulpit, the gift of Mr. Edward Phelan, to St. Peter's, was put in position yesterday and used for the first time, his Lordship preaching the sermon from it at the 10:30 mass. He referred in the course of the sermon to the beauty, appropriateness and timeliness of the gift, and expressed the thanks of himself and the congregation for the handsome donation of Mr. Phelan.

All on Account of the Pig.

On Monday last, while Mr. Peter McAuliffe, of lot 29, con. 9, township of Emily, was proceeding to Peterborough with two live pigs in his waggon, one of the porkers attempted to get away, and in his efforts to hold it Mr. McAuliffe fell to the ground, when, either by a kick from the horse or the wheel passing over him, one of his legs was broken below the knee.

A Bad Fall.

Mr. Len. Hall, an employee of Mr. Geo. Hutchison, tinsmith, fell from the roof of a house in Ashburnham, which he was assisting in eavetroughing Saturday afternoon. The young man fell a distance of about twenty-five feet and received severe internal injuries, suffering a rupture of the right kidney. His condition is better to-day than yesterday, and if inflammation does not interfere his recovery is probable.

Had Seen Better Days.

The Napanee Beaver says:—The cold weather of the past week has forced many tramps to police headquarters for a night's lodgings. Amongst them, on Monday night, was Charles Dolan, who has quite a history could it be obtained. He came to this country with Lord Dufferin, is a Master of Arts and was for a time principal of a collegiate institute, and taught in Peterborough and Lindsay.

DIED.

PETERS—At Ashburnham, on Monday, Oct. 19th, 1891, Robert Peters, in the 89th year of his age.

Funeral private.

Purify The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. Your There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Blood Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

Buy Now, If at All.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

SUN LIFE
ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurances in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355.92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372.84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599.15
Increase over 1889	2,268,888.60
Cash income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325 938.35
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514.19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47

Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97

TERRIBLE COLLIERY EXPLOSION IN BOHEMIA.

Fifteen or Twenty Miners Killed Strangled her Children and Then Suicided Dillon Guarded by Police The sarcophagus of Emperor Frederick

BERLIN, Oct. 20. The sarcophagus of Frederick was placed on the tomb yesterday with considerable ceremony, this being the birthday of the late Emperor. The figure of the dead Kaiser lies stretched on his cloak in the uniform of his cuirassiers, the body protected by the cuirass, on which the chain of the Order of the Black Eagle is visible. On the left arm rests the sword, covered with palms, while the hands are crossed over the breast and hold the Empress's wreath.

Over the feet and falling to the ground in artistic folds is spread the Russian coronation robe ornamented with its crowns and eagles. At the other end of the sarcophagus, which bears the inscription, the eagles keep watch at the corners.

On one side there are three medallions Charity with two children, Pallas Athene giving the young warrior a sword, and the same goddess teaching the youths the arts of peace; on the other side Justice, with her scales and a long relief representing Charon taking the deceased across the River Styx to Queen Louise and the Emperor William I., who are represented as awaiting him.

The Empress Frederick was present, also the Kaiser and other members of the royal household.

THE SYSTEM OF ST. CECILIA.

It Bids Fair to Do Away with All Drowsy Drugs

LONDON, Oct. 20. St. Cecilia's ancient soothing system of healing the sick by music has had a success as marked as unexpected. The success of the late experiments have been indorsed by even The British Medical Journal, which says:

"So far, the virtue has been tested chiefly in cases of insomnia; and it must, we think, be admitted with decidedly satisfactory effect. That a whole ward full of patients should have been soothed to slumber by a lullaby, that even the medical man who watched the proceedings should have felt it hard to keep awake, are striking testimonies to the soporific power of the performance. The results would doubtless have been better but for the disturbing influences of one or two accidents, and we congratulate Canon Harford and his devoted band of fellow workmen on the success they have achieved, hoping that they will be encouraged to push their musicotherapeutical conquests still further.

"The medical profession would hail with satisfaction anything that promised to deliver the victims of insomnia from the dangers and degrading thraldom of morphia, chloral and the whole catalog of drowsy syrups."

JOHN DILLON.

Friends Believe He Will Be Assassinated Unless Protected

DUBLIN, Oct. 20. Mr. John Dillon, as well as Mr. Healy, is under police protection. Their friends believe they will be assassinated unless every precaution be taken to prevent it. When Mr. Dillon arrived at Waterford from Dublin he was met at the platform by District Inspector Seymour and a force of 20 police constables. [illegible] Mr. Dillon [illegible] down the platform to an omnibus. After a few [illegible] as no one else [illegible] the conveyance, the driver asked him to take a seat outside. This he did and drove away by himself, followed to the terminus of the Waterford and Dungarvan Railway, a mile distant, by Inspector Seymour and the police.

The Pamir Encroachments

TIEN TSIN, China, Oct. 20. A frontier officer at Chang reports that he recently met a Russian expedition descending the Alai Plateau, near the confluence of the Murghab and Aksu Rivers. The officer adds that he protested against this invasion of Chinese territory, but the Russians being in greater force than the Chinese disregarded the protest and continued their march. One division of Russians proceeded to [illegible], in the Pamir territory, and another division marched towards the great Pamir territory.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20. Novoe Vremya says that a meeting between the Russians and the British in Pamir was inevitable, adding, "British incursions and Afghan and Chinese raids violating the conventions forbidding their access to Pamir now make it imperative to determine the exact frontier." Russian diplomacy would find no difficulty in establishing suzerain rights over the territory.

Scalped By a Lion

BUDA PESTH, Oct. 20. A panic occurred yesterday in a menagerie here. A lion became enraged at the teasing he was subjected to by a boy who was standing close to his cage. Suddenly the lion thrust one of his forepaws between the bars and aimed a blow at the boy's head. The lion's paw struck the boy on the head, tearing the scalp completely off. The lion's growling, the shrieks of the wounded boy and the sight of the blood caused the spectators to become panic stricken and running for the exits, many persons were seriously injured.

CAVE IN COLLISION

Two Crowded Passenger Steamers Collide and Cause a Panic

[illegible], Oct. 17. Two mail steamers, each crowded with about 200 passengers, collided in the harbor this morning. The shock caused a terrible panic among the passengers, several of whom were thrown into the sea by the violence of the collision, and were with difficulty rescued. Both steamers were badly damaged and were only kept afloat long enough to enable the passengers to reach the shore in safety. The captains of the steamers blame each other for causing the accident. An investigation is in progress.

DECEMBER IS THE DATE.

FOR TESTING THE CANADA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

As a Route For the Transportation of Imperial Troops Arrangements Completed Between the Railway Authorities and the British Government.

LONDON, Oct. 20. Arrangements have just been completed between the C. P. R. Company and the British director of transports for the trial of the Canadian Pacific as a route for the carriage of imperial troops. The trial takes place in December, when detachments of about 700 marines and sailors, each with others, will be exchanged between Halifax and Vancouver and vice versa. The imperial authorities accepted the company's terms to-day. The necessary preparations will be made forthwith. This is the first full formal recognition of the Canadian Pacific for Imperial military purposes and is sure to attract world-wide attention to the route as a British highway to the east and a rival to the Suez Canal. The force to be transported westward through Canada will comprise the usual reliefs for the fleets on the Pacific and China stations, and that coming eastward will comprise men whose terms of duty on foreign stations have been completed.

ONLY BY AN INSTANT.

Unique Question Involved in a Johnstown Flood Suit.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 20. A $3000 estate willed to Mrs. Conrad Hoffman by her husband, who died just before the famous flood, is tied up in an unprecedented tangle of litigation. Mrs. Hoffman and her seven children were all drowned in the flood. If it shall be found that any of her children survived her, by even so much as a moment, then Mr. Hoffman's collateral heirs can get the estate, which they claim. If the mother survived all her children, though only by an instant, then her collateral heirs will inherit. They also claim the estate.

A Lover's Murderous Deed.

McGREGOR, Ia., Oct. 20. Henry Hahn, who has been paying attention to Mary Otto, a beautiful young girl living near here asked her to become his wife. She refused. He went crazy, and procuring a revolver went to her home and called for her. Fearing harm she refused to see him and her father went instead. Upon the appearance of the father Hahn drew the revolver and shot him through the head, inflicting a mortal wound. William Otto, the wounded man's brother, hearing the shot rushed to the door and was at once shot in the heart by Hahn, dying instantly. Hahn then made an ineffectual attempt to kill himself and then fled to the woods. The city marshal summoned a posse and started after the murderer. Miss Otto is prostrated, and it is feared she may lose her reason.

"The Rev." Sam Small Arrested.

BOSTON, Oct. 20. The Rev. Sam Small is in trouble, and so is the Prohibitory State Committee. Small was imported to speak for the Prohibitionists. But he has been arrested on a civil suit brought by the Rev. Mr. Munro of Newton, who says he sent $1000 to Small a year ago to invest in Ogden, Utah. He is not satisfied with Small's report of his stewardship, and hence the charge of swindling.

Mr. Mulock Will Keep His Seat.

AURORA, Oct. 20. The trial of the election [illegible] of William Mulock, Q.C., M.P. for North York, was opened Saturday before Justices Ferguson and Robertson here. Counsel on behalf of the petitioner against Mr. Mulock stated that he had no evidence to offer in support of the petition. The judges, therefore, dismissed the protest and awarded Mr. Mulock the seat.

A Scarcity of Threshers.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20. It is evident that although scores of new separators have been brought into the province this autumn there will not be enough threshing outfits to thresh the grain out in reasonable time. A Morden paper says that 500 additional threshing outfits could find profitable employment for the whole winter and urges the C.P.R. to give special rates to induce Ontario men to bring threshers in here for the season.

Forty two Feet From a Tree.

HAMILTON, Oct. 20.—John Tutty, who resides at No. 81 Gore street and is one of the fast riders of the Rambler Bicycle Club, climbed a tree near the sulphur springs to gather chestnuts. When at the height of 42 feet from the ground he lost his hold and fell. There was nothing to break his fall and he came heavily upon his left side and shoulder. He was seriously hurt.

Mistook Acid for Whisky.

COATICOOK, Que., Oct. 20. S. Lemoine, a bailiff, while disinfecting a house in which a death from diphtheria had taken place, took a swallow of carbolic acid in mistake for whisky, and though assistance was promptly obtained he died in about an hour.

The Commons Leadership.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Conservatives today received with a shock of disappointment telegrams from Mr. Balfour denying that he had been offered the leadership.

Akers Douglas, Conservative whip, speaking as to Mr. Goschen's announcement at Cambridge last night connecting Mr. Balfour's name with the leadership, says Mr. Goschen spoke without authority from Lord Salisbury.

Mr. Akers Douglas denies that the Premier has yet definitely offered the vacant post to any member of the Cabinet. The truth of the position, as known to the inner official circles, is that Mr. Balfour wants the Marquis of Hartington to become the leader with the reversion of the post to himself. He pleads excessive work in connection with the Irish Local Government bill, which he desires to pass during his term of office as Chief Secretary for Ireland.

THE CANADIAN RECORD

ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBERY NEAR BRANTFORD.

The Small-Pox Cases in Quebec—39 Cases Arising from the Kindness of a Passenger to a Varioloid-Marked Girl—Killed on the Track.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20.—Charles Kinsella left New Durham with a young lady intending to drive to Harley, and his experience is told in the following blood-curdling narrative:

When opposite the residence of Mrs. Levi Dean, about three-quarters of a mile along the Norwich-road and west of Harley, three men suddenly sprang out from the thick clump of trees that hide Mr. Dean's house from the highway. One of the men seized the horse by the bridle while the others got on both sides of the buggy. One of the men drew a revolver and, pointing it at Mr. Kinsella's head, demanded "Your money or your life," while the other held aloft a bright knife and threatened to stab the young woman if she uttered a single sound.

Mr. Kinsella drew his heavy driving whip and struck the robber across the head with it, breaking the whip off midway towards the top. The remaining part of it was wrenched from his hand and he was told to fork out his money. He had something like a dollar and a few cents of change, which he gave them, and was then allowed to drive on. Half an hour later, it is alleged, Charles Griswood was held up in the same manner and relieved of $10.

'TWAS A FATAL TEST.

Peculiar Death of a 16-Year Old Amateur Contortionist in St. John.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 20. James McCarthy, a boy of 16, son of Joseph McCarthy, coachman, died at 2 o'clock this morning under peculiarly sad circumstances. Early in the evening he went out to attend a rehearsal, at the house of a friend, of a play in which a number were to take part. While there he stood upon a chair and bent backwards to show some of his companions how they did on the stage. He returned to his home about 10 o'clock and after retiring his mother heard him breathing heavily and went to his bedside. Dr. D. E. Berryman was summoned and attempts made to save the little fellow's life, but they were of no avail and he died in a few hours. It is supposed that his death was caused by the straining of a vein near his heart.

MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED.

What the Coroner's Jury Think Respecting the Man Found Near Dorchester.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—No further light of any consequence was thrown on the mystery surrounding the finding of the dead body of a man in a culvert near Dorchester Station last week by the enquiry instituted by Coroner S. S. Murray of Thorndale Friday evening at Dorchester Station.

The coroner's jury returned this verdict: "We find that deceased, a man to the jury unknown, came to his death from suffocation, indirectly caused by a blow on the back of the head, from sources unknown."

With the body was found four sacks, with a white patch inside, with "No. 33" stamped on white belt, resembling a military belt; a Strathroy Age, dated Sept. 10, 1891; pair of glasses with leather case; two shirts, stamped "33"—one blue flannel, other cotton checked; black soft hat with broad brim, checked tweed pants with name of David Thorp, June, '88, carefully wrapped up in pants pocket, also a red cotton handkerchief.

THE JEHU WAS KILLED.

Terrible Death of an Industrious Brockville Cabman Last Night.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 20.—As the watchman at the C.P.R. dock was going his rounds last evening he was horrified to find the dead body of Michael Connors, one of Brockville's oldest and best known cabmen. Connors had some business at the ferry wharf and when a little west of the freight shed he must have tripped over some ties lying between the wharf and the tracks. He had an ugly gash in his forehead as a result of his heavy fall, which no doubt caused his death. Connors was a sober and industrious man.

A VERDICT FOR $1000.

An Action for Breach of Promise at Perth Assizes.

STRATFORD, Oct. 20.—At the assizes yesterday the suit was tried of Hames v. Hastie, an action for breach of promise brought by Annie Hames, a farmer's daughter residing near Gorrie, against James Hastie, a young farmer who resides between Gorrie and Wroxeter. The plaintiff alleged that she was seduced under promise of marriage by defendant while in the service of his father and had a child. The defendant afterwards married another girl hence the action. The jury gave her $1000 damages.

THE QUEBEC MALADY.

A Woman's Warm-Heartedness and Its Results—39 Cases of Smallpox

QUEBEC, Oct. 20.—Dr. Beaudry, Provincial Health Officer, returned to town from his rural visit after the smallpox scourge yesterday morning. There are 27 cases at St. Paul de la Croix, a parish 10 miles north of Isle Verte; six cases at St. Thomas, one case at Pabos and four at Ascot, near Sherbrooke, with that of Quebec, making in all 39 known cases in the province.

The cases originated with a girl named Bujold, who in a far gone state of varioloid took the train at Levis and started for Dalhousie. She was very sick on board the cars and a lady, who was traveling from Montreal to St. Paul with her two children to spend the winter with her father, acted the good Samaritan and attended on her wants, giving her water to drink out of her own cup and doing other small acts of charity for the suffering girl. Little did she think she was nursing a smallpox patient, and much less did she think that ere a few days had passed she and her two little ones would be lying low in their coffins. Such, however, was the sad end, and to-day a broken-hearted father is wailing in anguish for his beloved ones. With the deaths of these three victims the dread disease is not exterminated and out of the numerous friends who called to see the sick ones 27 are to-day developing the poisonous symptoms, and it is not likely they will all survive its fatal results. This is the manner in which the smallpox reached St. Paul. In the same way it was contracted and brought to St. Thomas by a family who also lent the unfortunate girl their aid while on the train. This family was on its way home from Louisville, Ky., where the members had been for the last three years.

He Only Lived a Few Hours

ATHENS, Ont., Oct. 20. Ebenezer Rockwood, a workman on the Brockville, Westport & Sault Ste. Marie Railway, fell off a gravel train near this station. He struck the ground directly on his face, smashing it terribly. He lived about five hours.

RAINMAKERS SCORE A HIT.

Texas Ranchmen Dancing Fandangos in Pools of "Concussion" Water.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A special to The Sun from San Diego, Texas, says: The Government rainmakers are the heroes of the hour here. The experiment, which was begun Saturday evening and continued during the night, was entirely successful. At 4 o'clock Sunday morning rain fell in torrents in the camp and soaked the ground. Never before were men so glad to get a wetting. They yelled and hurrahed and danced fandangoes in the mud. The people of San Diego and the surrounding country are astonished at the result. When they went to bed at midnight the moon was shining in a cloudless sky, and there was no sign of rain anywhere. Four hours later they were awakened by the pattering and pouring of the rain on the roof, and in a few minutes it came down in torrents. The rain continued for nearly an hour, when it ceased. The rain guage showed that half an inch had fallen in this place. Telegrams from stations along the line of the Mexican National Railroad say rain extended about 40 miles to the northeast, 108 miles to the west and 30 miles to the southwest. It did not rain either to the east or to the south at a greater distance than 10 or 15 miles. The water is standing in pools all over the ranches, and the cattlemen are delighted. They estimate that the rain is worth to them at least half a million dollars. It is also worth much to the cotton growers. The entire cost of the experiment was about $2500, and they regard it as one of the best investments they could possibly have made. The scientific value of the success cannot be estimated, of course, but it will undoubtedly lead to many more tests of the concussion theory. Already offers are being made to the rainmakers to go to Mexico and experiment there.

CRUSADES AGAINST IMMORTALITY.

Emperor William Said to Favor the Lash in Certain Cases.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The case of Heinze, charged with the murder of Night-Watchman Braun, has been brought to the knowledge of the Kaiser. It has given His Majesty another opportunity of showing his deep interest in all that concerns his people's welfare, for he has become aware of the painful impression produced by the increasing number of cases of public immortality.

He at once sent orders to the hunting chateau of the Minister of Justice, Dr. Von Schelling, at Rominten, to take drastic and effective measures to remedy the existing evil, and above al to clear the town of those whose misdemeanors have been flagrantly open.

In pursuance of these orders a conference has been held at the Ministry of Justice, attended by the heads of the Berlin police and the Minister of the Interior. The result has not been made public, but those who claim to know say there will be a vigorous campaign against immoralty, and criminal prosecution of people living immoral lives.

It is said that a proposition was made that the magistrates be empowered to order the lash in certain cases, and that the Kaiser favors it.

Should Parsons Smoke.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Sir Morell Mackenzie writes a letter on the prevailing discussion, "Should parsons smoke?" He says: "To me it seems the parsons themselves are the best judges whether smoking is inconsistent with their cloth. The only thing that concerns the laity is the kind of tobacco used by the clerical devotees of the weed when they smoke in public. To my mind there would be nothing unseemly in the spectacle of any archbishop smoking a cigar like Mr. Spurgeon to the glory of God in Piccadilly; but I should consider him a public nuisance if he insisted on poisoning the air with the acrid fumes of a 'penny pickwick.' The question of the propriety of clergymen smoking was discussed in France not long ago. The feeling among the laymen who took part in the debate was almost unanimous against it, but why in the name of common sense should a parson not smoke. Snuff has been regarded by many learned divines as useful in clearing and stimulating the brain and it has been held to be a valuable aid to thought, an opinion which has the support of so practical an authority as the First Napoleon. Of the two chief ways of using tobacco, why, to quote Sam Weller, should the clergy be restricted to the dirtiest 'vun of the two.' The herb nicolain is a 'potent sedative. If the clergy of all denominations would meet and smoke the calumet of peace together while discussing their little differences the union of Christendom might be brought about without much trouble."

A Marriage of Deaf Mutes.

TRENTON, Oct. 20.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gulick of No. 825 Robling-avenue, on Wednesday evening last, Louis F. Garreston and Miss Virginia Atkins, deaf-mutes, of Trenton, were married. The Rev. D. R. Foster tied the knot. Mrs. E. T. Davis interpreted for the benefit of the silent ones. Her sister, Mrs. Gulick, is also a mute, hence her fitness for the work. The bride looked lovely in cream cashmere trimmed with white silk and point lace. The bridegroom has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad for nearly 22 years, and is the only deaf-mute employed by the company. A number of railroad employes and their wives attended the wedding, coming from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Tullytown. Letters of regret were read from Professor J. R. Atkins, father of the bride, who is State Geologist of Virginia, and Thomas S. Atkins, Judge of the Hustings Court Richmond, Va., and his associate, Albert Blair, uncle and cousin respectively of the bride. Many useful and pretty presents were received. The newly-wedded pair took "the Owl" for Philadelphia, where they will pass their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in this city.

WOODBRIDGE, Ont., Oct. 20 Preparations are now all completed for the great Woodbridge fair on Tuesday and Wednesday. Entries in horses, cattle, sheep, dairy produce, fruit, vegetables and ladies' work excel all expectations. A special train leaves Toronto at 12.30 noon Wednesday.

Killed on the Track.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—John Rorke, who boarded at 35 Simcoe-street and worked for McIntosh & Son, 524 Yonge street, was helping to erect a derrick on the C.P.R. siding at North Toronto yesterday. A part of the derrick fell and struck Yorke on the head, killing him instantly.

Lost His Hand.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20. George Smoke, employed at the Grand Trunk Station, was engaged in coupling some cars which belonged to a down freight when his left hand was caught and crushed to a jelly. He was immediately taken to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the wounded member.

Nickel Armor Plate Trials.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The armor plate trials at the Indian Head proving grounds will commence in about 10 days and will cover three or four days at intervals of a day or two between a series of shots. The eight plates represented at this trial include nickel steel and all steel—part treated by the Harvey process and part not treated. A 6-inch breech-loading rifle, 40 calibres long, and an 8 inch rifle, 35 calibres long, will be used, four shots being fired at each plate from the former and one each from the 8 inch.

The End Justifies the Means.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 20.—A bull fight under the patronage of President Diaz was given here yesterday for the benefit of the Spanish flood sufferers. The best of order prevailed. It is estimated over $25,000 was received for admission fees, there being about 12,000 persons present. Nine bulls of celebrated breed were killed amid the bravos of the spectators. Many of the matadors had narrow escapes.

What Does it Mean?

"100 doses one dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Butternut was well known and appreciated by our grand parents for its medicinal qualities. In fact the nuts in an unripe condition were largely used for habitual constipation, liver troubles and foul stomach. The great difficulty was the necessity of preparing from the fresh green nuts which could only be done in small quantities, as the medicinal strength weakened from keeping. McGale's Butternut Pills are prepared with a concentrated extract made from the Butternut held in combination with other valuable and purely vegetable ingredients, as the uniform strength is retained for any time in any climate. They are the best liver and stomach pills in the world. dw

"In our family faithful work has been done by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhœa, dysentery, and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend true and faithful."—Mr. W. Bishop, Vivian, Ont.

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious evil ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

Mrs. George Rendle.

Mrs. George Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house." Fowler's Wild Strawberry, price 35c.

His Family did not Know Him.

A Belleville man has for many been bent and crippled with a lame back, but after trying the OR, Kidney cure, he could walk like a boy again and his neighbors could hardly recognize him. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and the OR, Kidney Company, Belleville. dw

Those unhappy persons who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price 25 cents. dw

I was induced to use your Burdock Blood Bitters for constipation and general debility, and found it a complete cure, which I take pleasure in recommending to all who may be thus afflicted.—James M. Carson, Banff, N. W. T.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Leaf by leaf the roses fall;
One by one our dear ones die.
O, to keep them with us still!
Loving hearts send up the cry.
Wife and mother, O how dear,
Fading like a mist away.
Father let us keep them here.
Tearfully to God we pray.

Many a wife and mother, who seems doomed to die because she suffers from diseases peculiar to women, which saps her life away like a vampire, and baffles the skill of the family physician, can be saved by employing the proper remedy. This remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest boon ever conferred by man on suffering, despairing women. It is a specific for all phases of female weakness, no matter what their name. b

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

Makes Flesh and Blood.

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Millers Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Millers Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Store's dw

For several years I was persistently annoyed with an excessive accumulation of Dandruff and although using various preparations recommended and shampooing regularly once a week, no material relief was realized until my attention was called to Anti-Dandruff, which has produced unlooked for results in my case, four applications removing every particle of Dandruff and as a specific for this trouble it certainly has no equal.

Yours truly, W. T. ROBERTSON,

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

True Faith.

I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood purifier. I have taken three bottles for bad blood and find it a perfect cure. It is a grand medicine and I recommend it wherever I go.—Ida Sanderson, Toronto, Ont.

Henry G. James.

Henry G. James, of Winnipeg, Man., writes: "For several years I was troubled with pimples and irritations of the skin. After other remedies failed I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and since then I have been quite free from my complaint. B. B. B. will always occupy a place in my house."

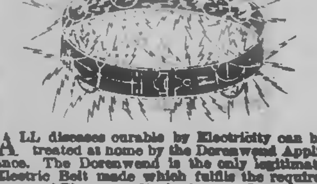
BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

A Treat for Oddfellows.

Monday night's meeting of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows was one of unusual interest to the brethren, of whom there was a large attendance from both lodges. The array of notabilities present was one rarely seen in a subordinate lodge. There were in the room three Past Grand Masters—Rev. Jas Kines (Quebec), Dr. R. W. Bell and J. R Reid, (Ontario); Grand Chief Patriarch D. H. Moore, (Ontario), and about ten Past Grands of different lodges. Rev. Jas. Kines, of Kingston, a P.G.M. of Quebec Grand Lodge, gave a stirring address which was full of information and counsel for Oddfellow. Others also spoke a few words, and a vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Mr. Kines. The meeting was a very interesting one to Oddfellows.

Ayer's Pills, being convenient, efficacious, and safe, are the best cathartic, whether on land or sea, in city or country. For constipation, sick headache, indigestion, and torpid liver, they never fail. Try a box of them; they are sugar-coated.

A White Deer.

Messrs. Paterson & Son have received at their tannery the pelt of a fawn as white as the driven snow. It is the spoil of the rifle of Mr. W H Casement, Lakefield, and as great a rarety as a white blackbird.

No Misfits.

No misfits in your suits, gentlemen, if you leave your measure with CAMERON & Co. Give us your order for a fall suit or overcoat and see if you don't get "a dead pure fit." 434 George street is the safe place to come to. Strangers and visitors always welcome. d93sodtf

Molten Metal on His Feet.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Callahan, a moulder at the Lock Works, had his foot severely burned by the upsetting of a ladle of molten metal. Mr. Callaghan will be laid up for some weeks. Frank Logan also had his foot burned, but less severely.

Coal Stove Gas and Diphtheria.

There is a popular idea, which is worth considering at the beginning of winter, that the gas that escapes from improperly run or out of order coal stoves is productive of diphtheria. There is, however, no doubt, whatever, there is any stove in the market that will not make a first class beverage from hawley bros.' splendid teas. dw

A War of Reprisal.

A report is current that a town deer hunting party is in some trouble in the north country. A local farmer shot two of their hounds for trespassing on his demesnes, and one of the party, in reprisal, shot two of the farmer's dogs, and now that the supply of dogs is run low it is hinted that the latter will have to shoot bigger game to get even.

The great Dr. Boerhaave left three directions for preserving the health—keep the feet warm, the head cool, and the bowels open. Had he practised in our day, he might have added: and purify the blood with Ayers Sarsaparilla; for he certainly would consider it the best.

Funeral Notice.

Members of the Orange Order, True Blues and Prentice Boys, are requested to meet at the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, to-night at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for attending the funeral of the late brother, James Noble, late secretary of L.O.L., No. 49, on Wednesday at 3 o'clock p.m. By order.

A Welcome Announcement.

Those who have tested it say that for the grippe, and especially for the cough that hangs on after the disease itself seems cured, there is nothing equal to Kemp's Balsam, the specific for all throat and lung diseases, and the best cure for coughs and colds. The first dose will convince you of its excellent effect. All druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a bottle. dw

The Two John's.

J. C. Stewart's newly constructed comedy of "The Two Johns" will be the attraction at the Opera House on Friday evening next. The company for this year is said to be in every sense, far better than that of any preceding season. In addition to "The Two Johns" and the many comedians and soubrettes, the management have engaged as a special feature, the Cassie Sisters (European character dancers) whose rhythmic grace and charming costumes are dreams of enchantment. 5193

Seasonable Attire for Ladies.

Ladies are always looking for the neatest and prettiest things they can get to wear. No need to look far, for Miss E. Delaney has a superb stock of fall and winter goods on hand, comprising millinery, mantles, mantle cloths, etc. In these lines Miss Delaney has a specially fine display. Her sealettes are particularly attractive, and they are made up and finished in first-class style. Tailor made mantles and costumes are a specialty, and cannot be beaten for style or price. Miss Delaney asks the ladies to call and inspect her stock. 3deod93

Y. P. S. C. E.

The social committee are working hard to have the social tea to the delegates on Thursday evening next in George street Methodist church a big success. Will the friends kindly send in their baskets of provisions to the George street church on Thursday afternoon not later than one o'clock. Remember that there are 800 or 900 delegates to provide for. Remember the great convention opens in St. Paul's Presbyterian church tomorrow evening with a song service, in which the leading vocalists of the town will take part under the leadership of Prof. Ketcham.

Members of the Baptist church Endeavor Society who have not already received copies of the convention programme and badge can obtain them at St. Paul's church, Wednesday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, from the corresponding secretary. As that will be the only opportunity for members to receive them, all should make a point of being present.

Entertainment at St. Luke's.

A very successful entertainment was held in St. Luke's Schoolroom, Ashburnham, last evening. The Rev. Mr. McCleary, occupied the chair, and introduced the various numbers on the following programme :—

Instrumental—violin and piano...Miss and Mr. Wilson.
Song ....Miss Lily Jackson.
Address..............Ven. Arch-Deacon Allen.
Vocal Duet..........Miss Tivey and Mr. Clark.
Song..............................Mrs. Stapleton.
Song.....................................Mr. F. Lount.
Instrumental............Miss and Mr. Wilson.
Vocal Duet..Miss Fawcett and Mrs. Stapleton.

Mrs. Jarley's waxworks then followed, in which a number of the young people of the church took the parts of wax figures, and at the instigation of the proprietress, the notorious Mrs. Jarley, were wound up and set in motion by two of her employees. The figures seemed to need a great deal of lubrication, their joints apparently being very stiff. Among the representations were :—Mrs. Winslow, Jack Spratt and his wife, Signorina Squallina, the Chinese Giant, the Welsh Dwarf, the Giggler, an old-fashioned sewing machine, Little Red Riding Hood, Casabianca, Blue Beard and his seven wives, stabbing scene from "Macbeth" and others. The parts were well carried out, and Miss Tivey as Mrs. Jarley acquitted herself very creditably. The proceeds amounted to about $20, and will go towards reducing a debt on the schoolroom piano.

Blood Supply.

To one cupful of boiling milk add same quantity of St. Leon water "cold." Drink before, with or after meals freely as necessity requires. You will feel such a glow, inconceivable warming and thrilling the pulses, such bracing of nervous power, such elevation of vital and mental force inconceivable, surpassing all preparations to supply life ever discovered. We possess overwhelming authority.

M LACHANCE.—Sir, it is with pleasure that I certify that Dr. Sey's Remedy which you sold me, has cured me of chronic constipation which had caused me much suffering. In addition, I have for some time suffered from heaviness of the head, &c., due to my age; these symptoms have disappeared after a few doses of the remedy. For ladies at the turn of life, there certainly is not a better medicine.

Skating and Curling.

The Skating Rink Company and the Curling Club Held Their Annual Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club took place last night, and at the same time the Rink Company met, the latter being practically incorporated in the first.

SKATING RINK COMPANY.

The financial report of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Rink company showed receipts and expenditures about balanced. These officers were elected :

PRESIDENT—W. G. Ferguson.
SEC.-TREAS—C. McGill.
DIRECTORS—The above officers and Dr. Boucher, Adam Hall and R. S. Davidson.

CURLERS IN COUNCIL.

Immediately following this the Curling Club met, Mr. Davidson in the chair. Those present were the Secretary-Treasurer, C. McGill, Dr. Boucher, D. W. Dumble, Adam Hall, W. G. Ferguson, Geo. Edmison, Alex. Strickland, R. M. Dennistoun, J. H. Connal, D. C. King and T. Ferguson.

After the minutes had been read the officers and skips were elected as follows :—

PATRON—Judge Weller,
PATRONESS—Mrs. Weller.
PRESIDENT—R. M. Dennistoun.
VICE PRESIDENT—D. W. Dumble.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—C. McGill.
COMMITTEE—W. G. Ferguson, T. E. Bradburn and W. H. Budden.
CHAPLAIN—Rev. A McWilliams.
REPRESENTATIVES—Dr. Boucher and E B. Edwards.
SKIPS—T. Rutherford, S. Ray, W. G. Ferguson, T. E. Bradburn, Dr. Boucher, Judge Weller, W. H. Budden, T. P. Attrill, J. B. Pentland, R. M. Dennistoun, C. McGill and J. H. Connal.

A letter was read from Lindsay stating that they wished to change the number of matches to be played in the challenge cup series this winter, to the best two or three, as they would be unable to play any more. This will probably be agreed to by the Peterborough club.

Another circular from the Secretary of the Provincial club contained a draft of the club groups for this winter's playing, for ratification or otherwise by the club. Peterborough is placed with Whitby, Oshawa and Lindsay. The Provincial Board of Directors meet in Toronto today, to finally affirm the list, and Dr. Boucher, President of the Ontario club, will represent Peterborough. This arrangement will not be objected to. Group No. Two is comprised of Bobcaygeon, Millbrook, Campbellford, Keene, Port Perry and Lakefield. Group No. One takes in frontier towns from Bowmanville to Ogdensburg.

On motion of Mr. Dumble, it was decided that the committee should appoint some member to canvass for new members; and it was also decided that in future no one is to be permitted to use the ice until he has first paid his membership fee. The caretaker will be instructed to enforce this rule.

Mr. Dennistoun's resolution that the club competition for the President's medal be carried out on the same system as the bonspiel, the winners of the successive draws to play each other to a final, was adopted.

The Vice-President's medal will this year go to the winner of a points game to be played on the same principle as the regular points game for the cup. This will make two series of the same match.

On motion, it was decided to form the rinks as last year, the skips to meet and choose vice-skips, and then fill up their rinks by lot.

The meeting then adjourned.

Personal.

P. C. Adams has been called away by the death of his mother in Belmont township.

Messrs. T. P. Attrill, J. E. Belcher, Dr. Bonnell and Wm. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, are away on a hunting expedition in Victoria county.

The Association Sympathizes.

To Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Fitzpatrick and family :

DEAR FRIENDS,—At the last regular meeting of the Patrons of Industry, of Fairplay Association, the following resolution of sympathy was passed :—

Whereas, that it has pleased God in His infinite wisdom and love to remove from you, and from among us, your beloved son and brother by death, we, the officers and members of Fairplay Association, tender to you our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the severe trial you have been called upon to pass through, and may God sustain, comfort and strengthen you to bear it. We know his place will be hard to fill, as few have the free, easy and pleasant manner that have endeared him to us so much, but we have this consolation, that our loss is his gain.

Signed on behalf of the Association,
GEORGE PETERS, President,
JOHN G. SPEIRS, Secretary, of Fairplay Association, No. 219.

Dwelling Destroyed Near Norwood.

NORWOOD, Oct. 16.—The fine brick dwelling owned and occupied by W. H. Breathen, farmer, living about a mile from Norwood, was entirely consumed by fire this afternoon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Breathen were absent at the time it was first noticed; and nothing was saved except the piano and a small quantity of furniture. It is reported to be insured for $900 and was worth over $2000. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective chimney, as there was no fire in the stove at the time.

Obituary.

The Late John Walton.

The sad event, not unexpected however, of the death of Mr. John Walton, took place at his residence Hunter street this morning at 7 o'clock. Mr Walton who was 84 years of age, was a native (born in 1807) of Cumberland, England, whence he came with his father and family in 1818. The family first settled near Newmarket subsequently removing to Cavan. Afterwards they removed to the township of Smith. On the death of his father, Mr. Walton became virtually the head of the family and shortly after his father's death Mr. Walton purchased 200 acres of land on the 2nd concession, where he remained over half a century till his removal to town where he has passed the closing years of his life. Mr. Walton in 1831 married Miss Jane Hall, daughter of Mr. William Hall, and sister of the late Mr. William Hall. To this marriage were born seven children of whom only three survive—Mr. William Walton, Regina, N.W.T., Mr. Jos. H Walton who lives on the homestead, and Miss Walton who remained at home, to cheer the declining years of her parents lives, a duty which she has performed with a fidelity, patience, tender sympathy and solicitude and filial piety, for which no earthly reward is adequate. In 1877 Mr. Walton removed to town occupying his handsome residence Hunter street, where he passed in retirement many well earned years of leisure and rest. For his was an active life, not only in the arena of his business but in the domain of public duty. He was for many years connected with the township council as reeve of the municipality, and for one term at least, warden of the county. In politics he was a life long and active Reformer, and in religion a member and official of the Baptist church. His aged helpmeet is still living at an advanced age, though not in the best of health. Mr. Walton leaves behind five brothers, Mr. Joseph Walton, town; Mr. William Walton, Essex county, Ont; Mr. Matthew Walton, of Bowmanville, and Mr. Robert Walton, township of Smith. In Mr. Walton's death there passes away one of the pioneer residents of the county, whose industry has done so much to bring the county up to the advanced position it now occupies. In his industry, integrity, enterprise, public spirit and moral characteristics, he leaves behind him an example which the rising generation may follow with profit, and his memory will be held in the highest esteem by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The funeral takes place from the family residence, Hunter street, on Thursday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Oct. 20th.

Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, a domestic employed at Mrs. Scully's boarding house, corner Aylmer and Simcoe streets, was charged with the larceny of $22 from Wm. J. Scully, the landlord. Mr. Stone appeared for the prisoner, who pleaded not guilty and was remanded till Friday for election.

Matthew Wynn was again brought before the magistrate and remanded also till Friday, when he will likely be asked to plead to the charge of feloniously wounding Walter Kerr.

An old man named John Boyd was sent up for six months as a vagrant. The poor old fellow has been in gaol different times. He has no other home.

BRADBURN VS. CARTON.

Messrs. Thos. Bradburn and Michael Carton were again in court this morning. Since their fracas three months ago bad blood has existed between them, and another encounter occurred on George street yesterday about one o'clock, which resulted in Mr. Bradburn laying a charge of assault against Mr Carton. At the trial this morning Mr. R E. Wood, appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. E. B. Stone for the defendant. The evidence was very contradictory. The parties had two meetings, once in front of Giles' store, the other south of the opera house on the east side of George street. The plaintiff swore that Carton first assailed him, called him a "d——old scoundrel," "a bear," and said he would kick his internal economy out of shape. Carton also, he said, raised his arm to strike him, but he got out of the way. Witness denied being drunk.

His evidence was largely corroborated by Thos McMullen who was with him at the time, McMullen stating that Carton was the aggressor, and used all the bad language ascribed to him, McMullen said he himself was perfectly sober.

The defendant on the other hand flatly contradicted the previous witness, swearing that Bradburn followed him planted himself in front of him and called him a "d—— scoundrel," etc. Witness said he did not use an oath or say any such words as were ascribed to him. He simply said he did not want any impudence and waved his hand in the air (not threatening to strike) and told Bradburn to "go on." He further said Bradburn shook his fists and squared up to him in front of the C.P.R. office, then followed and abused him with his tongue. When witness started for the police station, Bradburn and his companion followed him. The latter stated they were on their way to lodge complaint with the police, and overtook Carton. At the station Bradburn damned him, and this statement was verified by another witness.

Three other witnesses were examined. Annie Emmerson, clerk in Giles' store, saw Mr. Carton and Mr. Bradburn on the street. She said she heard Mr. Bradburn using profane language, but all she heard Mr. Carton say was, "go on." Mr. Bradburn shook his fists and his head at him.

Mr. Barney, clerk of the Grand Central Hotel, saw a part of the row, but did not hear what passed. It appeared to him that Mr. Bradburn was the aggressor.

The magistrate said that on the evidence he could not make a conviction. It was very contradictory, and one person's word was as good as another's.

Mr. Bradburn was not satisfied with the result, and said he would at once have Mr. Carton bound over to keep the peace.

Buy Now, If at All.

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

BAIE DES CHALEURS CASE.

Banker Webb Takes the Stand and Tells His Story

QUEBEC, Oct. 21. At the sitting of the Baie des Chaleurs Commission this morning Mr. Burroughs made an application to appear before the commission in favor of Edward Garneau, son of Hon. P. Garneau, whose name has been mixed with the Baie des Chaleurs Railway. His Honor Judge Jette objected to such proceedings, for the present at least, as Mr. Garneau is not included in the present case, but later on, if circumstances necessitate such a step, the commission will grant the request.

Hon. P. Garneau was then called to the witness box. He read a letter written by him to Mr. Thom. He was questioned again by Mr. Casgrain as to his hesitation in issuing the letters of credit, and finally Mr. Casgrain asked that certain documents be produced. The witness said he would produce them.

Mr. Fauvel, M.P. for the county of Bonaventure, was next sworn as a witness. He said work on the railway was started in 1887 and continued only in the summer until 1889. The bonds issued to the laborers by the contractors were often offered at 50 per cent. reduction. Witness himself was offered some of these bonds but refused them. He would not have given 10 cents for them. There had been several rows and strikes among the laborers. The old company was the cause of the whole trouble. Last Thursday witness visited the works and he said that all the works are being pushed on most vigorously. The bridge on the Grand Cascapedia is nearly finished, and will shortly be used to carry railway material over. People down in Bonaventure are satisfied and thankful to Mercier for having taken the matter in hand.

Mr. Webb, cashier of the Union Bank, was examined again. He was shown a list of amounts, mostly notes, by Pacaud, which the latter said he had to meet shortly. Pacaud had stated that he was in great want of money. The witness did not remember having seen any names on the list. This was at the Union Bank.

Witness said that he (Pacaud) drew $50,000 for his own personal use and $20,000 of the balance went to Mr. Robidoux and to Mr. Charles Langelier, but witness is not sure whether it was $20,000 or $10,000. Pacaud said he owed some money to Mr. Robidoux and this was to repay him. The first letter of credit he saw was for $175,000. He does not remember if it was signed by Mr. Garneau. Witness informed Pacaud that the bank would not pay the $175,000. The letter of credit was then given to Mr. Pacaud, who returned with it and tried to have it negotiated. Mr. J. C. Langelier went to the bank then and endorsed the letter of credit. Yet Mr. Webb did not care about accepting a letter covering such a large amount and he referred to Mr. Machin, asking him to show witness the orders-in-council referring to the amount authorized by the council. Mr. Pacaud told witness that he was urging Mr. Garneau to issue the letter of credit, and if Mr. Garneau did not do it in a short time he would cable Mr. Mercier, who was in Europe. Mr. Pacaud brought letters of credit to the bank before to be discounted.

The commission objected to this way of putting questions. Mr. Hall, who questioned witness, said that he wanted to prove Pacaud's intimacy with the departments. Pacaud never spoke to witness about the enquiry that was going on at Ottawa, nor did he mention the inquiry that was to take place here. The commission adjourned at 1 o'clock for lunch.

After lunch Mr. Webb resumed his evidence, which contained nothing very startling, it being a straight relation of the business transactions he had had with Messrs. Pacaud and Garneau with regard to the letters of credit.

THE OLD MAN DIED.

A Stalwart Youth Mauled Him for Fun and Broke His Spine.

NEWINGTON, Ont., Oct. 21. An inquest was held on the body of the late John Robinson, aged 70 years, at the residence of W. J. Robinson, son of the deceased, Williamsburg, last night by Coroner Ault of Aultsville. The circumstances of the case, as brought out by the evidence at the inquest, went to show the deceased, who was living near the village of Avonmore, when he came into the village the boys and some men would tease and torment him. Monday, Oct. 3, the night in question, he got into a scuffle with one James Shaver, who pushed him down in the ditch. Shaver then caught hold of his legs and doubled him up and fell on him. The medical testimony went to show that general paralysis resulted immediately. Robinson died at 2 o'clock Friday morning. The jury brought in a verdict that Robinson's death was caused by having a scuffle with James Shaver. A warrant has been issued by the coroner for Shaver's arrest.

EAST WELLINGTON ELECTION.

The Writs are Issued and the Poll Takes Place on Nov. 10.

FERGUS, Oct. 21. John Anderson, registrar, Arthur, and returning officer for East Wellington, has received the writ for holding the election for the Legislative Assembly to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Col. Clarke. The nomination takes place at Fergus on Thursday, Nov. 3, and the election is to be held Nov. 10. The Reformers meet here on Friday, Oct. 23, to select a candidate. Rumor has it there will be no scarcity of candidates for the position, as several names are spoken of who are anxious and willing to serve their Queen and country. The Conservatives have not yet named their man.

Horse and Man Wanted.

HAMILTON, Oct. 21. Mr. John Temple, livery stable keeper, reported to the police to-day that a man who said his name was R. J. Tremble hired a chunky black horse about 15½ hands high from him yesterday, promising to return it the same day. A black painted buggy and rubber mounted harness went with the horse. This morning Chief McKinnon received word that the man had had the horse and rig at Spence's livery stable, Toronto. Information has been laid against Tremble.

A RUSSIAN BLOW OUT.

The Grand Czar Invites His People to be Glad for Once

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—The capital of Russia is en fete to-day, for the Czar has decreed that this the 54th anniversary of the battle of Navarino, where in 1827 the combined British, French and Russian fleets under Sir Edward Codrington, the distinguished British admiral, annihilated the Turkish and Egyptian navies, should be celebrated with special pomp and significance. The occasion for this special celebration was the launching of three new Russian ironclads, one of them, the Navarino, being a battle ship of immense size and power. These launchings took place in the presence of all the foreign naval attaches and crowds of people. Among the spectators was Admiral Count Heyden, who fought at the famous battle which is being grandly celebrated. The launch of the new naval monster was successful, and there is now floating in these waters a barbette battle ship said to be at least equal in size, strength and speed to anything of same class possessed by any navy in the world. The other two vessels launched to-day are belted gun vessels, heavily armed, of considerable speed and are designed for coast defence purposes.

Bound to do up the Jews.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—In view of possible complications with China in regard to Pamir and other territory, which it is claimed has been invaded by Russia, the Governor of trans-Baikalia in Eastern Siberia, has ordered the removal of all Jews residing within a hundred kilometres of the frontier. This action is taken, it is claimed, in order to prevent Jews from acting as spies for China. Families of exiled Jews will be sent into districts permanently assigned to their race.

It Is War to the Death

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the National League to-day John Redmond, M.P. for North Wexford, presiding, the members present repudiated the suggested reconciliation with the McCarthyites. Michael Davitt has been selected as the anti-Parnellite candidate for the seat in Parliament for North Kilkenny left vacant by the death of Sir John Pope Hennessy. If Davitt refuses to stand a local candidate will be chosen.

The Edam Sick at Sea.

LONDON, Oct. 21. The steamer Edam, from Rotterdam, Oct. 3, for New York, reported spoken with her propeller gone and in tow of the steamer Scythia from Boston for Liverpool, was seen 900 miles west of Queenstown, to which port the Scythia will attempt to tow her. The steamer Rotterdam, belonging to the same company as the Edam, will leave Amsterdam Oct. 23 for Queenstown, where the passengers of the Edam will be transferred to the Rotterdam and taken to New York.

Gladstone and Chickens

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Arthur J. Balfour, the new Parliamentary leader, addressed his constituents at Manchester this evening. In the course of his speech he said that he quite coincided with those who said that the success of the Government policy toward Ireland was due rather to strokes of good fortune than the merits of the members of the Administration. One of the greatest pieces of good fortune was that he had good workingmen behind him. In regard to the general election he rallied Mr. Gladstone because of his predilection for "counting his chickens before they were hatched," and twice over at that.

Redmond Will Lean on Cork

LONDON, Oct. 21. John Redmond, M.P. for North Wexford, has resigned his seat for that constituency in order to stand for Cork city and fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Parnell. Messrs. Pierce Mahony, Edward and Timothy Harrington, Kelly and other followers of the late Mr. Parnell will open the canvass at Cork to-morrow.

To Settle by Arbitration.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The carpenters of London, after a strike lasting six months and costing £30,000, have resumed work. They have submitted their dispute to arbitration.

Fatal Fires.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The town of Rockow has been entirely destroyed by fire. Five children were burned to death. The inhabitants most of whom lost all they possessed are camping out in the fields.

SLAIN BY AN OLD FRIEND.

Dr. Seymour Bullock Cruelly Murdered Near Mobile.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 21.—Dr. Seymour Bullock of this city was killed yesterday at Navy Cove by Thomas P. Brewer, also of Mobile. The two were for years intimate friends, but of late they have not been on speaking terms.

Yesterday morning Dr. Bullock was in his boat removing some shingles and Brewer was on Little Island fishing. It is said that Brewer had been warned that Dr. Bullock was going to kill him on sight. Two shots were fired in quick succession and Dr. Bullock fell dead in the boat. Brewer came up and helped to remove the body from the boat. Then he surrendered to Dr. Fowler and is now under arrest at Navy Cove awaiting the arrival of the sheriff of Baldwin county. The verdict of the coroner's jury is that he fired the shots.

Dr. Bullock was born and raised in Wayne county, Mich.

POET WHITTIER ILL.

He is Too Sick to See Even His Friends—A Cold on His Lungs.

AMESBURY, Mass., Oct. 20. John Greenleaf Whittier, the famous Quaker poet, is so ill that even his close friends were debarred from seeing him to day, on the order of his physician.

Mr. Whittier had been ill for a long time, but was recovering. On Wednesday he walked out of doors for the first time in many weeks. He caught a severe cold, which has settled on his lungs, and he is again confined to his room.

SENECAL LODGED IN JAIL

SIR JOHN THOMPSON CLOSES IN ON THE HUNGRY ONE.

The Minister of Justice on Behalf of the Country Prosecutes Him for Damages—Steps Said to Be Taken Against Murphy and the Connellys.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The news of Andre Senecal's arrest in Montreal created some excitement here last night. Sir John Thompson on being informed of Senecal's arrest said he could give no particulars of the indictment against Senecal. The Government had instructed Mr. Hamilton of Montreal to effect Mr. Senecal's arrest on a charge in connection with his acceptance of commissions as Superintendent of the Printing Bureau. From what Sir John said it is inferred that actions both civil and criminal have been taken against Senecal. Mr. W. D. Hoag, Q.C., general counsel for the Government, has been sent to Quebec to cause the arrest there of O. E. Murphy and the Connollys on a charge of conspiring to defraud the public revenue.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The Citizen last night said: News of the arrest of Mr. Andre Senecal, ex-superintendent of the Printing Bureau, reached the city last evening, but not too late to be the common subject of conversation in the clubs and hotel corridors. The prosecution of parties implicated by evidence given before the Parliamentary committees last session was generally looked for in view of the Government's promise and the passage of the act under which such prosecutions could be taken. But it was not the general impression that the ex-superintendent of the Bureau was to be the first to be proceeded against. Public opinion seemed to favor some of the principals in the Quebec Harbor frauds for first place. However, in maintaining absolute secrecy as to those against whom prosecutions were intended to be taken the Government has manifested an earnest of its determination to carry out to the letter its pledge to the people that none against whom suspension has been directed will be shielded, or even afforded an opportunity to escape trial.

Instructions, it is said, were given by the Minister of Justice a week ago to a well-known lawyer of Montreal to take proceedings against Mr. Senecal in connection with the commissions received by him from firms supplying the Printing Bureau with material. His arrest yesterday was in accordance with these instructions. The indictment is made under the Act passed last session, and the proceedings will, it is said, take the form of a civil action. When in Ottawa last week Mr. Senecal did not appear to be unduly concerned about the possibility of being prosecuted, relying upon the evidence of all the agents called as witnesses before the Public Accounts Committee, to the effect that his commissions did not increase the price to the Government of any of the plant supplied to the bureau. This will likely be his defence in his action. The question now is, Who next? It is expected that all implicated in the alleged conspiracy, will now be arrested.

THERE IS NOTHING IN IT.

Sir Hector Langevin Cannot Be Appointed to Spencerwood.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The big talk here is the story now set going that it is settled that Sir Hector is to be the next Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, succeeding Hon. Mr. Angers, who comes into the Cabinet. There is very good reason to state that if anything of the kind has been arranged it must have been between Sir Hector and Hon. Mr. Angers themselves and that none of the ministers are at present committed to any such solution, whatever may be the case later on.

A suggestion was once talked over that Sir Hector be made Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec in case of his resignation. It was immediately pointed out to the Premier that if such an appointment were decided on it might have disastrous consequences in Dominion politics. It is not by any means sure yet that contractors have no further revelations to make. It would be a pretty reflection in the event of such revelations and their even remotely touching the late Minister of Public Works if that gentleman were actually in office, the representative of the Governor-General and the ultimate constitutional authority in the political complications that might ensue. The same series of events that bar Sir Hector out of the Dominion Cabinet are consequently held to bar him out of Spencerwood.

Taken Suddenly Ill.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, is seriously ill at his residence. He was stricken with heart failure in the State Department to-day. His condition is giving alarm. Dr. Church is in attendance. Mr. Chapleau will be unable for several days at least to return to his official duties. When the attack first came on he lost consciousness for ten minutes.

The Award Handed in.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—It is understood that the arbitrators between the Government and the firm of Barber Bros., who made a claim for a breach of contract regarding paper which they were to supply to the Government, have rendered an award of $38,000 in Barber Bros'. favor. This was one of the arbitrations interrupted by the Parliamentary session. Another was the arbitration on the claim of McLean, Roger & Co. which is now being resumed.

Sir George Baden Powell and Dr. Dawson, the British Behring Sea commissioners, are expected home to-morrow morning. They are coming in a private car.

The Woodbridge Fair.

WOODBRIDGE, Oct. 21.—There is an unwonted stir in this community over the annual fair which takes place to-morrow. In this have been 200 entries made, and everything promised will be exhibited. The show this year is expected to be the largest and most successful one on record. Hon. John Carling telegraphed to-day that he will be present. A train leaves Toronto to-morrow at 12.30 and will arrive here in plenty of time to allow those coming from the city an admirable chance of viewing the various exhibits. That the turn-out will be very large is assured.

Two Schooners Wrecked.

HALIFAX, Oct. 21.—The schooner Maggie Blanche of Fortune Bay, Nfld., is ashore at Baughton Island, near Murray Harbor, P.E.I. She will likely be floated again.

This morning the schooner Barbaronie of Carbonear, according to a despatch from Cow Bay, C.B., went ashore, was badly broken up and will be a total wreck. The crew reached shore on a life-line.

Big Wine Blaze.

PASSAIC, N.J., Oct. 21.—The warehouse of the Speer New Jersey Wine Company was burned this morning. Loss $100,000; partly insured.

Smuggling of Rye.

VIENNA, Oct. 20. A scheme for the wholesale smuggling of rye across the Russian frontier has been discovered at Czernowitz, Austria. Cargoes of the grain were floated down the River Suczawa to the mill of one Meskner. An accomplice of Meskner, failing to receive as large a portion of the profits as he thought himself entitled to, informed the authorities, and two men connected with the operations have been arrested, but Meskner escaped by flight.

A Couple of Long Termers.

MAUD S. IS BEATEN.

THE GREAT SUNOL MAKES THE SWIFT TIME OF 2.8¼.

After Being Six Years Queen of the Turf Maud S. Finds Her Record Beaten by Bonner's Sunol on the Track at Stockton California.

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 20.—Sunol beat the world's record on the Stockton track to-day, making a mile in 2.08¼, beating Maud S.'s time by ½ a second. It was a fast mile from the start and the mare finished strong. After warming her up in three miles, jogging and rubbing down, Marvin came out at 5 o'clock this afternoon to go against the record. At the first attempt he nodded for the word and she ran away alone. The runner was waiting at the half for her. She went the first quarter in 31¾, half 1.04 flat, three-quarter in 1.37 and came home strong and scored in 2.08¼. There were six timers and every watch was the same. The crowd went wild when the time was made known.

Madison-square Bicycle Race.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—There was no material change in the relative positions of the bicyclists at Madison-square Garden during the afternoon. Martin maintained his advantage. He finished his 500 miles at 4.30 p.m. amid great cheering. He was then 33 miles ahead of Ashinger.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this evening a five-mile race match was rode by O'Flanagan and Lumsden. The latter was defeated by one second. O'Flanagan made the distance in the fast time of 16 minutes and 42 seconds. Eddie McDowell then tried to beat the one-mile record, which was 3 minutes and 5 seconds. He succeeded and lowered the record to 2 mins. 57 secs. Five thousand people were present at the time. The score at 9 p.m. stood: Martin 556, Miles Ashinger 523, Shock 504, Lamb 500, Edlen 484, Robb 484, Albert 424, Boyet 442, Stage 378, Lumsden 261, Wood 281, O'Flanagan 157.

THE ANNUAL STATEMENT.

Tyler's Visit Was Vain—The Grand Trunk and C.P.R. Not in Touch.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—The Star's London correspondent cables to-day: "The Grand Trunk report was issued this afternoon. Alexander Hubbard, deputy chairman of the Great Western Railway of England, is suggested in the report as director in place of the late Mayor Dickson. The report notes with pride the opening of the St. Clair tunnel, but says nothing resulted from Sir Henry Tyler's visit to Canada, nor from the negotiations relating to relations with the Canadian Pacific Railway."

BURIED THE BODY

Of the Murdered Girl in a Pile of Refuse.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—Annie Kodatz, a 15-year-old, weak-minded girl was murdered Oct. 7 by Albert Kohls, a 16-year-old boy. Kohls worked for her father and put poison in the soup from which the family ate. He had previously effected her ruin, and she was about to become a mother. Annie disappeared the same day, and it was supposed that she had done it.

Kohls confessed to having killed the girl while nailing boards on a fence. She was helping him when he struck her over the head with the hammer. He then buried her in the manure pile.

The body was found to-day in a rotten condition. Kohls does not seem conscious of committing any crime.

HE IS A BAD MAN.

But He Was Acting As a Minister of the Gospel.

BLUE EARTH CITY, Minn., Oct. 21.—Rev. Albert E. Cline is a very bad man. He is a forger, a horse-thief and a bigamist. He has skipped town just in time to escape arrest.

About a week ago he changed pulpits with a Methodist pastor at Winnebago and was identified by the latter as a horse thief in Indiana, at whose trial the pastor had acted as juror.

He has also been proved to be a forger to some extent. He has left a wife and two children. Another minister who knew him in Indiana says he also has a wife there.

Toronto Topics.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the City Council last night a communication was read from Mr. T. Trodeau, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals of the Privy Council stating that the question of erecting a high level bridge over the Don at King-street would be settled as soon as the City Council was prepared to appear before the committee and have the application heard. The City Solicitor is instructed to have the case prepared at once.

Coroner Johnson held an inquest into the death of John Rourke, the young man who fell from a derrick at North Toronto station a couple of days ago. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. The young man's father telegraphed to have the remains sent to St. Gabriel station, Quebec, which was done.

At the Baptist conference the following ministers were elected secretaries for the local associations: Brant, Rev. C. H. Emerson, Onondaga; Canada Central, Rev. J. W. Weeks, Smith's Falls; eastern, Rev. L. S. Hughson, Coaticook; Elgin, Rev. D. Spencer, St. Thomas; Middlesex, Rev. W. M. Walker, London; Midland, Rev. D. G. McDonald, Stratford; Niagara, Rev. The Cricket Match.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—The great cricket match between Lord Hawke's team of English cricketers and an eleven chosen from the Western Ontario Cricket Association is now under way at the Rosedale grounds. Yesterday the Englishmen put up a fine game making 181 runs in their innings. The Canadians followed and when play ceased at 5 o'clock had 82 runs on the slate. Some excellent play was shown by the visitors, and by a few of the home men. It is probable that the game this morning will take such shape that the Canadians will have to follow on. This is not thought so very discreditable, as the English players are famous men, and have the scalps of the best American teams dangling from their belts.

Stage Robbers Again.

REDDING, Cal., Oct. 21.—Postmaster Hoe of Millville brought word this morning that the Redding and Alturas stage had been robbed by two masked men. The express box and mail bags were rifled, but the loss is unknown. Two men have been arrested on suspicion of being the robbers.

The German Harvest.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—According to completed official estimates of the harvest in Germany, wheat is 18 per cent. below the average yield, and rye 20 per cent. below, while barley is 5 per cent. above the average and oats 12 per cent. above. The deficiency in rye is greatest in East Prussia, Saxony and Hanover. The officials hold that the general result does not warrant fears of wide spread distress.

Fatal Explosion of Firedamp.

PRAGUE, Oct. 20. By an explosion of firedamp in a pit at Brux, Bohemia, yesterday, three men were killed outright and 10 others received injuries from which they have since died. Several more were less seriously injured.

Earthquake on the Island of Pantellaria.

ROME, Oct. 20.—The earthquake shocks at the island of Pantellaria and its vicinity continue. A volcano has arisen in the bed of the sea off the coast of Pantellaria, which ejects masses of stones to a great height.

J. J. SHEEHY'S ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC OF PETERBOROUGH.

Six Years ago I started in Business in this Town with a Small Stock of Dry Goods and a Smaller Capital, but buoyed up with the hope, that by Diligence, Energy and the Strictest Possible Attention to Business, that business would grow and prosper as the town progressed, and I am delighted to be able to say, that my fondest hopes in this respect have been realized, for, as Peterborough has gone ahead (which fact there is none to dispute and the evidence of which we see around us on every side) so has my business progressed, and to-day I am in a position to ask the purchasing public to call and examine a Stock of General Dry Goods, which for Variety, Quality and General Excellence is not surpassed by any in the Town of Peterborough. Now, bear in mind, that I do not for one moment pretend to say that I carry the largest stock of Dry Goods in town; but this I do state most emphatically, that, to any purchaser starting out with a view of purchasing their Fall Dry Goods for cash, be that purchase One Dollar or One Hundred Dollars, there is no establishment in the Town of Peterborough that is in a better position to offer Greater Inducements than I offer to the general public to-day. As my business has grown in the past, so I intend it shall in the future, if any efforts on my part will have the desired effect, and in order that the month of October may become the Banner Month of the six years, I propose making the following Offer. My Stock throughout the entire store has been bought at the closest possible figures. My entire stock has been marked at the lowest living prices. Now this is my offer: during the month of October, to every purchaser of One Dollar or upwards, I offer a Discount of FIVE PER CENT.

I extend a cordial invitation to every one of my old customers who have dealt with me steadily during the past six years, and also to those whom I might call my occasional customers; and finally to those with whom I have not yet had the pleasure of doing business. Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

Wheat—Its Present Condition and Prospects.

The following delivery on the condition of the wheat market, the supply and the probable effects on prices, is taken from the circular of the commercial department of the well known banking house of Henry Clew's & Co., New York :—

NEW YORK, Oct. 17th, 1891.

The wheat market for the greater part of the week, with the exception of occasional spurts of activity, has presented a rather tame appearance, and the net changes in prices do not vary much from those recorded a week ago, although the market has been made to move up and down with considerable irregularity in response to the counteracting influences at home and abroad. With each successive report issued by the Government Agricultural Bureau this year, the crop estimates have been raised ; taking into consideration, therefore, the glowing reports sent out by the different States showing the increased yield per acre, the last statement ought not to have created so much surprise. It was generally expected that the report would make a favourable showing; the bulls, however, were totally unprepared for the figures that followed, indicating as they did a crop of 588,300,000 bushels from an area of 39,220,000 acres, making the average yield per acre 15 bushels. When it is taken into calculation that this means an increase of 189,000,000 bushels over last year, and 76,000,000 bushels more than the largest crop ever harvested, it will readily be seen what an enormous crop we really have, but what is bringing woe and dismay to the bulls is the now almost recognized fact that the figures presented by the Government are still below the mark, it being conceded on nearly all sides that the crop will pan out at least 600,000,000 bushels and probably 650,000,000, while not a few are counting on even greater results. These estimates are based on the truly marvellous returns which are coming in from some of the prominent wheat-growing States, showing in some instances extraordinary gains over previous estimates. This means much to the farmer who for years has been hard pressed with mortgages and notes continually hanging over his head, and to the country at large, which must be greatly benefitted by such a prodigious yield ; but to the speculator who has been counting on famine prices owing to the shortages abroad, it portends something not so pleasant. The farmer is entitled to a fair price for his grain and will undoubtedly get it, but the talk of holding back grain for the purpose of manipulating prices, which it is said the Farmers' Alliance is counselling, appears to be most unwise, and it is to be hoped that such bad advice will be disregarded. In this connection it is also worth noting that the advices from the other side concerning the crops there present a somewhat more favourable aspect. For instance, the French crop is now estimated at 75,000,000 hectolitres, against a low estimate of 64,000,000 made a short time ago. German advices are more favorable, and it is now thought the damage to crops has been exaggerated ; and Italian crops are believed to be fairly satisfactory. Austria-Hungary cables report weather fine, and say that late crops have done well, while the advices from Bulgaria state that the cereal yields are excellent, with the exception of maize, and that the wheat crop will be fully 9,000,000 bushels larger than last year. The reports from Great Britain are somewhat less favorable than those received a month ago. The worst accounts, however, come from Russia, where there is undoubtedly cause for great alarm. It is stated that 25,000,000 people will be unable to pay their taxes this year, and that the harvest has failed completely in thirteen governments and partially in eight others. In view of the fact that so much has been said about famine on the other side, it is interesting for the sake of comparison to place the latest estimate of the world's wheat crop alongside of last year's figures, which are 2,260,000,000 bushels this year against 2,234,000,000 bushels in 1890. The rye crop will probably fall short of an average by 260,000,000, but the oat and corn crops on the other hand, are several hundred millions more. The above figures do not certainly indicate famine prices from actual necessity, and Europe, who is in a better position to judge of the actual state of affairs, evidently does not believe in them either, as is evidenced by the free selling by Continental houses here during the week, and the reselling of some cargoes that had been engaged for export. There has been little news of importance during the week, excepting the renewed reports that Germany would reduce the import duties on grain and a story that Russia had prohibited the exportation of corn. The former item had considerable to do in keeping prices fairly steady in the face of the increased crop estimates, but the market throughout presented a rather uneasy feeling. Receipts of spring wheat have improved owing to better weather in the Northwest, and recent rains in the winter wheat region have favored seeding, and at the moment the outlook for next year is promising. The Cincinnati Price Current says the general position has improved, and that the European bread grain shortage is practically limited to the rye deficiency, which conforms with the figures given herein. The visible supply increased 1,602,325 bushels, and clearances show a falling off from last week. For the immediate future, the certainty of an extraordinarily large crop on this side is likely to outweigh all other influences, and consequently will have a tendency to depress prices.

A comparative statement shows that the surplus of wheat available for export in 1890, was thirty-nine million bushels, and in 1891 two hundred and forty million bushels.

Butternut was well known and appreciated by our grand parents for its medicinal qualities. In fact the nuts in an unripe condition were largely used for habitual constipation, liver troubles and foul stomach. The great difficulty was the necessity of preparing from the fresh green nuts which could only be done in small quantities, as the medicinal strength weakened from keeping. McGale's Butternut Pills are prepared with a concentrated extract made from the Butternut held in combination with other valuable and purely vegetable ingredients, as the uniform strength is retained for any time in any climate. They are the best liver and stomach pills in the world. dw

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine ; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

An Episcopal Rector.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior. ⑦

A Man Thermometer.

Lean men make the best thermometers. Fahrenheit never invented better ones. If the weather is warm and sunny, they are cheerful. If cold and frosty, they are irritable and snappy. If damp and cloudy, they are downcast and gloomy. But if either lean or fat men are suffering from biliousness, headache, constipation, or indigestion, the weather will always be damp and cloudy in their locality, unless they use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These Pellets are small, sugar-coated granules, calculated to start the liver and digestive organs into healthy activity, and thereby raise low spirits, and dispel gloom. c

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

For several years I was persistently annoyed with an excessive accumulation of Dandruff and although using various preparations recommended and shampooing regularly once a week, no material relief was realized until my attention was called to Anti-Dandruff, which has produced unlooked for results in my case, four applications removing every particle of Dandruff and as a specific for this trouble it certainly has no equal.

Yours truly. W. T. ROBERTSON,
Can. Pac. Rys. Telegraph Co, Montreal, P. Q. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. d

Aunty's Advice.

"My brother had summer complaint about a year ago and no remedies seemed to relieve him. At last my aunt advised him to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was completely cured."—Adelaide Crittenden, Baldwin, Ont.

I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. FOR INTERESTED PARTIES!

AN Assessment Society was organized in Indiana, in 1869, called the Masonic Mutual Benefit Society. Its business has been confined to the Masonic fraternity for the benefit of the familes of deceased members, and has been conducted at a low rate of expense. The operation of the inevitable law of mortality has, however, caused steadily increasing assessments during the past four or five years, until last year the aggregate assessment on the 4,000 remaining members was $240,229, or $60.05 per member, and there remained besides $19,500 unpaid death claims. The new policies have from time to time been reduced in amount to $2,000 and to $1,500, so that the probable average to each member is less than $2,000, showing that the cost has become considerably more for this waning, precarious term insurance than the level premium charge for a whole life policy at age 40, without profits, and nearly twice as large as a fifteen year term policy taken at the age named. Thus, as we pointed out in our last issue in connection with the experience of the United Brethren Mutual Aid of Pennsylvania for 21 years, assessment life insurance, under the most favorable circumstances, is the dearest kind known.—Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

The Two John's.

J. C. Stewart's newly constructed comedy of "The Two Johns" will be the attraction at the Opera House on Friday evening next. The company for this year is said to be in every sense, far better than that of any preceding season. In addition to "The Two Johns" and the many comedians and soubretter, the management have engaged as a special feature, the Cassie Sisters (European character dancers) whose rhythmic grace and charming costumes are dreams of enchantment. 5193

Another Close Call.

Yesterday the level railway crossing at the junction of Simcoe and Bethune streets, nearly made a bloody record. A North Ward councillor and a prominent business man were driving along Simcoe street, and were about to cross the track, when, without a whistle or shout of warning, a heavy freight car, propelled by a vigorous flying shunt, dashed across the street. The horse, by suddenly and vigorously jumping to one side, and nearly overturning the vehicle, escaped the car. Unless a strong hand had been at the reins, a serious runaway would have resulted, and if the vehicle had been its length farther across the railway track, there would have been a terrible event to record. Now that a town councillor has had a close call for his life, perhaps he will stimulate his colleagues to take decided action in compelling the railway companies to provide gates for the level crossings on both the railways. This will, of course, involve some expense, but what is a little expense compared to the saving of life and safety of the community which such gates will effect. The railway companies, of course, look out for their own interests, and feel justified in saving all possible expense, but the town council has the interests of the citizens to look after, and, if they guarded these interests as carefully as the railway companies guard their own, gates would have been put up at the level crossings of both railways years ago, and if their heads were as level as the crossings the gates would be placed within a fortnight.

Conclusion of the Harvest Home.

The Salvation Army had a grand wind-up to their Harvest Home proceedings Monday night. A street parade took place in which torches and colored lights figured, the procession being led by two officers mounted on horses. This last is a decidedly new feature of Army tactics. At the meeting the fruit and vegetables were auctioned off and a good sum raised for the musical Green family.

Canadian Universities.

A large sheet on which will appear, artistically grouped, beautiful engravings of all the universities of Canada, will be one of the four magnificent supplements to be presented with the Christmas number of the Dominion Illustrated, now being prepared, regardless of pains or expense. This one supplement will alone make the number of great value, especially to send abroad, giving strangers a clear conception of the advantages for higher education which Canada possesses. This Christmas number will far surpass anything of the kind ever issued in Canada.

The Late James Noble.

Jas. Noble, an old resident of the town, died Tuesday morning at the age of 63 years. He was a native of Kingston but has lived a long time in Peterborough, following the profession of bookkeeper. For some years past he has been in failing health from pulmonary trouble. His wife conducted a successful dressmaking establishment on Water street, where the late Mr. Noble died. The funeral took place this afternoon under Orange auspices, deceased having been secretary of L.O.L. No. 49. The Orangemen, Prentice Boys and True Blues took part.

Battalion Additions.

Several officers of the 57th Battalion attended the rehearsal of the regimental fife and drum band at the drill shed Tuesday night. The band numbers 21 members, though they were not all out last night. They play very well indeed, and next year will be a valuable acquisition. During the winter also the bugle band will practice and by spring will be in good shape. The officers propose to buy braid for both these bands to give them the regulation uniform. Negotiations are also going on for the purchase of material for an ambulance corps and a pioneer corps, which will be established next year.

Police Court Paragraphs.

"Long Jim" Welsh contributed $2 to the civic exchequer this morning for so far forgetting himself as to get drunk and be out in the rain last night. James was found by P. C. Stewart about half-past six last evening lying stupidly drunk on George street at the burned marble works building, without any protection against the drizzling rain. The officer kindly ran him in, and this morning Long Jim was as dry externally as he was internally.

Fred Baker and Jas Rose are charged with being drunk and disorderly on Sunday. Their case was enlarged till to-morrow, when if they do not appear a warrant will be issued for their arrest.

Curlians.

The semi-annual meeting of the Representative Committee of the Ontario Branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was held Tuesday in Toronto. Dr. Boucher, President, occupied the chair. There was a large attendance of club representatives. In the allocation of district medals Campbellford was pitted against Lakefield, with Mr. R. S. Davidson, Peterborough, umpire. In the grouping for the Ontario Tankard primaries, the following plan of local clubs was adopted: Group No. 2.—Bobcaygeon, Millbrook, Campbellford, Keene, Port Perry and Lakefield (covener.) Group No. 3—Lindsay, Whitby, Peterborough, Scarboro' Maple Leaf, and Oshawa (covener). Dr. Boucher, the retiring President, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

Ladies who are suffering from suppressions, bearing down pains, nervousness, or any form of female weakness, will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an infallible cure. Try them. dw

The Game of Hockey.

A hockey club has been talked of for the winter season, and a number of young men have taken hold of the project. It was thought if the skating rink could be got on easy terms there would be no difficulty in organizing a hockey club with a good membership. At the meeting of the Rink company the other night the matter was broached. The terms proposed by the company were, that each member of the hockey club should buy a skaters' season ticket ($3 00), and pay $2 00 further for membership in the hockey club, the club to be allowed the exclusive use of the rink two nights a week. This, with the other necessary expenses in connection with the purchase of material, would make hockey playing rather costly. It has been suggested as another alternative that the drill shed be procured if possible and flooded, which would probably be cheaper and more satisfactory, as the members of the club would then be able to practice every day and night.

THE ENDEAVORERS COME.

Arrival of the Delegates by Every Train.

To-Night the Great Convention Will Open—The Programme Will be Carried out to the Letter—Our Guests are Settled as Fast as They Arrive.

The third annual convention of the Ontario Provincial Union of Y. P. S. C. E. opens to-night in St. Paul's church. Delegates began arriving last night, and every train to-day brings its quota of visitors. By to-night they will nearly all be here. The list published yesterday does not by any means represent the total number of visitors who will attend the convention, as besides the accredited representatives there will be a large number of Christian Endeavorers from the various branches who will attend as interested auditors. It is expected that in addition to the hundred or two voting delegates (of whom each branch sends one) there will be as many more people attend the convention for the purpose of hearing and seeing all that goes on. Between six and eight hundred visitors are looked for.

Mr. A. J. Hamilton, who has charge of the Reception Committee, with his assistants met all incoming trains and welcomed the delegates to Peterborough. A number of boys acted as pages to conduct the visitors to their billets. To-day the streets are fluttering with badges and the town appears to be in the hands of the invaders.

The programme will be carried out as published. The opening session takes place in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church to-night. At 7.30 there will be a song service under the direction of Mr. J. H. Ketcham. At eight there will be devotional exercises led by Rev. Jos. H. Locke, pastor of the George Street Church, followed by an address of welcome on behalf of the town by Mayor Stevenson, and on behalf of Peterborough's Christian organizations by Rev. E. F. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's. Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, B.D., Galt, will make the reply on behalf of the delegates.

The real business of the convention begins to-morrow.

At 6.30 a.m. there will be a sunrise prayer meeting, led by Rev. A. S. MacWilliams, pastor of St. Andrew's.

The programme for the morning and afternoon sessions is as follows:—

FORENOON SESSION.

9.30 a.m., Devotional Services, led by T. G. Anderson, Esq., President Toronto Local Union.

9.45, Rev. J. A. R. Dickson, B.D., Galt, in the chair. Organization, appointment of nominating and other committees.

NOTES

Mr. Schaffer, the local agent of the Bell Telephone Co., has kindly placed an instrument in the Information Bureau of St. Paul's church for the use of delegates and others. The telephone is No. 297.

Following is the musical programme for to-night:—Song service begins at 7.30 sharp. The friends will find leaflets which are loaned them in the pews. Quartette, Messrs. Manning, Lount, Nelson and Matthews. Miss Anna Fawcett will sing "Behold Thy King." Miss Wrighton, organist, will play the overture to Stradella, by Flotow, as the concluding voluntary.

The speakers at the convention will be confined to their stipulated time. A bell will be rung when each speaker's time is up.

The local committee of management of the convention deserve unstinted praise for the highly successful way in which they have have made all the arrangements. Woman Weak and Frail!

A Miserable Existence—Give Heed to the Warning—Life Can be Made Joyous.

Fainting, or syncope, as it is professionally called, very often attacks the individual without warning, though at other times, and in those subject to these distressing symptoms, fainting is preceded by well-defined sensations, such as a feeling of distress, langour and sickness; the sight becomes dim, and the eyes appear covered by a film; a dark circle appears round the orbits, a buzzing or low singing noise is heard in the ears; the face and lips are pale; a cold perspiration breaks out over the skin; the pulse sinks to a mere flutter, and finally ceases; the body totters, and, unless upheld, falls to the ground. This state lasts from five minutes to half an hour, and, when prolonged, it may terminate in epilepsy or convulsions.

The causes that predispose to faintings are: an intensely nervous state of the system, a delicate constitution, and extreme debility, from whatever cause produced. Females are more subject to fainting than males, hence amongst young girls and women we find the wakeful, the sleepless, the excited, the irritable and morbidly inclined.

The nerves, debilitated, sleepless and irritable woman leads a terribly miserable life. She is a burden to herself and a great care to her friends; with her, life is uncertain, and the light of the lamp may go out any time. She is aware of this and her friends know it, yet in many cases there is no sure and sensible effort put forth to change existing circumstances.

The family physician is consulted, and views with apparent gravity the situation, and a small measure of assistance is temporarily given, but no permanent cure is affected.

The foundation for a perfect cure must be commenced by strengthening the body. Every nerve and muscle must be strengthened, the blood increased, circulation properly regulated, and a healthy appetite and good digestion produced. Then, and only then, will sleeplessness, excitement, irritability and morbidness be banished.

Experience for some years past has clearly demonstrated the fact that there exists but one true and reliable remedy for this class of sufferers. It is admitted by those who know best that Paine's Celery Compound is the great agent for all who are subject to weakness and fainting spells. It quickly builds up the whole body, restores the whole motive power that the healthy body should possess; it stimulates every organ of nutrition, invigorates the nervous system, and gives strength to the exhausted and waning powers of life.

No system of medical treatment can equal the effects produced by Paine's Celery Compound. This fact is well known to physicians who are now successfully prescribing it. No other medicine in existence is now so popular with the women of Canada, and a trial is urged in every case of bodily weakness, nervousness and sleeplessness.

Personal.

Mrs. Playfair, of Lindsay, and Miss Maggie Moorecraft, of Bowmanville, are visiting Mrs. Wm. Ferguson, Water street.

The many friends of Mrs. Donald Baillie will be glad to hear she is recovering from a severe attack of congestion of the lungs.

Among the Queen's College notes in the Whig is an item to the effect that G. D. Fitzgerald, Peterborough, has, among others, been appointed a demonstrator of materia medica under Dr. Herald.

Fair Play.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR—I notice that almost daily there appears in the Morning Times an editorial or a local of some sort, directed against the Chief of Police, who, I think, the respectable portion of this community consider a man who is trying to do his duty without fear or favor, and whose control has made the town more peaceable and orderly than we had previously experienced. Now, Mr. Editor, what I want to know is, are the writings above referred to through a desire on the part of the editor of the Times to better the police force, or is it the promptings of another official of the town, holding a responsible position, and whom the police have had occasion to place behind the bars (on the quiet) and whose conduct of late has had to be reported by the police on more than one occasion? If you will kindly take the trouble to look into this matter, you will confer a favor on

FAIR PLAY.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$6,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine Without Avail—Gave Himself up to die.

Good Wife Suggests Cuticura Remedies—Used Them 7 Months, and is Entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1862-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience. C. L. PEARSALL,

EVERY day makes more apparent the fact that the town is going ahead rapidly. Numerous changes have taken place in the way of ownership of property. Many workingmen are buying houses and lots, or lots on which to build. One of the most suitable locations is that known as the Erin property, at the west end, owned largely by Mr. Wm Fitzgerald. This week he has closed the sale of a very desirable house and lot, and has several eligible lots on this property to dispose of. Property in this neighborhood is rapidly being built up, and it will be well to have a look at the situation if one is at all disposed to buy. The terms are very favorable and especially low for cash, though payment on time may be arranged.

SUN LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA.

The attention of our Policy-Holders is directed to the following summary of the leading items of the present report, which speaks for itself as to the progress and prosperity of the Company:—

Life Assurance in force, 1st January, 1891	$16,759,355 92
Increase over previous year	3,421,372 84
New Applications received in 1890	6,371,599 15
Increase over 1889	2,268,588 60
Cash Income for year ending 31st December, 1890	889,078 87
Increase over 1889	325,938 25
Assets at 31st December, 1890	2,473,514 19
Increase over 1889	687,691.47
Reserve for Security for Policy-Holders	2,109,222.68
Increase over 1889	567,732.71
Surplus over all Liabilities and Capital Stock	232,175.69
Increase over 1889	75,649.05
Death claims fallen in during 1890	143,961.65

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history, and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are, moreover, of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small, and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The SURPLUS accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly THREE TIMES as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The following are the figures:—

" " " " 1886, "	89,452 97
" " " " 1890, (four years)	232,175 69

The Coalition With the Conservatives Has Been Productive of Good Results—What He Thinks of the Parnellite Assurances.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Joseph Chamberlain delivered a political speech in Sunderland this evening. "I do not believe," he said, "that the coming general elections will give Mr. Gladstone a majority of the members of Parliament. I almost wish they might give him a majority in order that the country might again see what an awful mess he would make of our affairs. Six months of Mr. Gladstone's government would involve us in disastrous foreign complications, plunge Ireland back into anarchy and let loose the petty jealousies that have been repressed while the party has been in opposition. The course of events has justified the action of the Unionists and proved that the Parnellites lied when they said that Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill of 1886 would be accepted as final."

NOVARINO ANNIVERSARY.

Russia Takes This Occasion to Hurt the Feelings of the Sublime Porte.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A despatch from Constantinople says that the Turks feel very deeply the celebration by Russia of the fearful defeat which the Turks suffered in 1827 at Navarino. Among naval officers here the celebration is looked upon as a piece of assumption on the part of Russia—England and France having played a more conspicuous part on that occasion, when the naval power of Turkey was crushed out forever, than the Russians. It is, however, one of the few naval victories in which Russia has had any part, her naval record generally being a monotonous record of defeat. The celebration is looked upon, however, as having another and more important aspect—that of hostility to Turkey. In view of the fact that Russia's share in the victory was not of sufficient consequence to justify much rejoicing over, it is considered that the Czar choose an occasion to make a display to his people and to all the world of his dislike for the Turk and of unalterable hostility toward the "sublime porte."
